GCC Offering Saturday Classes

To accommodate persons who work during the week and who cannot or do not wish to take evening classes, Garrett Community College is offering three credit courses on Saturday mornings during the spring semester. According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, these courses will meet from 9 a.m. to noon, beginning January 26 and ending May 4, omitting March 30, Easter weekend.

SPC 101 Basic Speech presents fundamentals of interpersonal communication through small group discussion, informative and persuasive speaking. It is a course required in most academic programs.

CS 105 Introduction to Computers teaches a student about the anatomy of a computer, terminology, and fundamentals of computer use needed to function in today's world.

Psy. 102 Human Growth and Development presents the principles underlying human behavior and development from conception to death, with primary emphasis on the understanding of school age children.

Students can register for one of these courses at the Registrar's Office of the college Monday-Friday, January 7-11, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Monday-Thursday, January 14-17 until 6:30 p.m., and Friday, January 18 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Anyone desiring further information may call the Student Assistance Center at 387-6666.

An Outdoor Education course, OED 165 Rafting and River Guiding, has been scheduled for Saturdays later in the spring. This course will begin April 6 and end May 4. It will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Persons desiring information about it should call Mike Logsdon at 387-6666.

PORTRAIT OF BEAUTY — Mother Nature, in all her splendor, can be witnessed and enjoyed every day of the year at Swallow Falls State Park in Garrett County, where Muddy Creek Falls is among the attractions. Because of the lack of extended sub-freezing temperatures, the falls has yet to don its icy winter beauty. The above photo was taken by Craig Phillips, of The Republican staff.

Criticism Of State Growth Plan Is Voiced By Local Residents

Criticism was leveled yesterday at officials representing the Maryland Office of Planning by Garrett County residents who strongly oppose the recent recommendations made by the Governor's Commission on Growth that seeks to curtail the "sprawling growth" reportedly taking place throughout the state.

William R. Atkinson and Al Feldstein, both regional planners for the Western Maryland Regional Office of the Maryland Office of Planning, were on hand at a public meeting held Wednesday in the Garrett County Courthouse to field questions and concerns from residents who, in large part, voiced concern and outrage over the commission's recommendations to limit growth throughout the state. Atkinson and Feldstein then relayed those concerns and recommendations for changes back to the Governor's Commission On Growth, which met Wednesday evening to review concerns from the local faction. As of press time, no word had been received as to whether or not those recommended revisions had been accepted, according to Garrett County Planning and Zoning Director John Nelson.

The gathering yesterday, with approximately 50 in attendance, consisted of county officials, planners, farmers, developers and others, who complained that the measure, intended to save the Chesapeake Bay from further pollution, strips them of local authority over land use, undermines landowners' rights and forces state zoning to be implemented in a county that has no county-wide zoning.

Garrett County Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II, who also serves as an ex-officio member of the Planning Commission, stated, "You can talk about the details all day but our greatest concern is that this has every appearance of being a clear state intervention of the local planning process."

Another complaint voiced by several residents and county officials was that not enough time had been allowed by the growth commission to review the report or to implement changes necessary to accommodate the plan.

Under the draft legislation issued by the growth commission, new residential developments would be required to have a density of at least 3.5 homes per acre, rural areas would be restricted to no more than one residence per 20 acres, and development in environmentally sensitive areas would be completely halted.

An official response to the county's appeals for revisions or exemption is expected by the first part of next week. County

Garrett Nat'l Bank Board Elects New Chairman And Director

Max A. Messenger
Chairman

Ralph M. Burnett
Director

The Board of Directors of Garrett National Bank, at its regular meeting, held December 17, 1990, elected Max Allen Messenger, chairman of the board, effective January 1, 1991. Also elected as a new director was Ralph M. Burnett. The election for chairman and director was necessitated by the retirement of W. Dwight Stover, who had served as a director for almost 25 years, and as chairman since January, 1990.

Chairman Messenger has been a member of the Garrett National Bank Board of Directors since April, 1970, and director of WM Bancorp since October, 1986.

Messenger is a native of Terra Alta, W.Va., and a graduate of Terra Alta High School, Potomac State College and West Virginia University, where he earned a B.S. degree in industrial management and economics. He entered the U.S. Army in 1957 as a second lieutenant and served a tour of duty in Korea. He was discharged from active duty in 1959 as a first lieutenant. He served in the West Virginia National Guard at Camp Dawson near Kingwood until 1968 when he resigned his commission at the rank of captain.

After attending the National Hardwood Lumber Association Grading School in Memphis, Tenn., Messenger returned to Oakland in 1960 to start a lumber business. That business, known as Wood Products, Inc., is family-owned and operated and Messenger serves as president.

Active in the community for many years, he is a member of Garrett County Economic Development Corporation, Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and charter member and past president of the Southern Garrett Athletic Association. He is also a member of the Maryland Forest Association, the National Hardwood Lumber Association and member/sponsor of the Governor's Conference on Trees and Forests.

Messenger is a former member of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, a founder of the area's youth football league program, and served a five-year term on the Garrett County Property Tax Appeals Board. He is a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church. He and his wife Louise reside on Dennett Road in Oakland.

Ralph M. Burnett, senior partner of the law firm of Burnett, Eiswert, Janes, Conger and Green, has practiced law in

Local Inn, Garage Destroyed By Fires; Damages Total $300,000

Two structure fires resulting in a total of approximately $300,000 in damage occurred this past week, as a restaurant along Rt. 135 just east of Mtn. Lake Park was gutted early Monday and a two-story building along Rt. 38 at Sand Flat was leveled early this morning.

Oakland, Deer Park, and Gorman fire fighters were called to the Trottin' Inn at 1:02 a.m. Monday and, upon their arrival, discovered flames coming from the rear of the one-story structure.

The blaze was discovered by the owner of the establishment, Vicki Berry, 42, who resides in a house behind the Inn. She told fire investigators that she was awakened by a crackling noise. She looked out the window, saw the fire, and called 911 for assistance.

Firemen brought the blaze under control in about less than an hour and kept most of the fire from spreading into the front dining area of the building. However, there was extensive heat and smoke damage in that area, while the kitchen was totally gutted.

Berry told James Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, that she had closed the business at 8 p.m. Sunday. Martin determined that the fire was accidental in nature and probably was caused by combustible material located too close to a wall heater in the "coffee room."

Property loss was estimated to be $175,000. Martin said Berry has insurance.

Also responding to the scene was the county air cascade vehicle, currently being housed at Bittinger VFD, and the Southern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

The same fire departments were summoned this morning at 2:24 a.m. to the residence of Gerald Broadwater after a passerby noticed that Broadwater's 40-by-42-foot, two-story garage was ablaze. By the time it was discovered and fire fighters arrived on the scene, the wood-frame structure with metal siding was fully involved in flames and about halfway down.

Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, said this morning that the only heat source Broadwater had in the building was a wood stove.

"There were a lot of materials in the building that could have caused flammable vapors, or possibly some other combustibles nearby were ignited by the heat from the

1,000 Points Of Light Given To Grantsville By Former Resident

The Grantsville cemetery came to life with a thousand points of light one recent Yuletide evening as a result of a former resident's gift to the town.

William Grimm, a former Grantsville High School teacher, conceived of, inspired, and financed the community project of lining the mile-long roadways to and throughout the cemetery with 1,000 gleaming candles, each anchored by sand inside a translucent paper bag, imitating the Mexican custom of "Lighting the way for Christ."

The project planning began in November at St. John's United Church of Christ. In the afternoon of December 22, about 30 volunteers gathered at the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad station to assemble the individual luminary units, which pickups and station wagons then transported to the cemetery.

After the units were placed and lit, Cemetery Road was closed to vehicles. Throughout the evening, sightseers on foot inspected the display close up. The tranquil glow from the endless, intertwining roadways pierced the night for hundreds of yards all around, seemingly symbolizing eternal values.

Grimm, now residing in Hagerstown, sparked the project by purchasing candles, cups and bags, even though he himself could not attend the event. Keystone Lime Company donated sand.

Project volunteers afterwards enjoyed refreshments at the residence of Lynn and Carol Newman.

A SPECIAL GIFT to the town of Grantsville by a former resident came to life over the Christmas holiday when "1,000 points of light," or luminaries made of sand bags and candles, were constructed and placed along the mile-long roadways in the Grantsville Cemetery. Above, Grantsville residents conduct an assembly-line operation to prepare the luminaries.

Search Warrant Executed; Three Arrested For Theft

Two men from West Virginia and one Maryland man were arrested Tuesday after police executed a search warrant and stolen merchandise was discovered.

Arrested on theft charges were Michael C. Amoroso, 29, Piedmont, W.Va., Christopher B. Beavers, 19, Keyser, W.Va., and Edward L. Wilson, 24, Westernport.

Dep. J. Sowers of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and members of the Piedmont, Keyser, Westernport City Police, and the West Virginia State Police executed the search warrant at Amoroso's residence. Several leather jackets were discovered at the home, reportedly stolen from Brodak's Clubhouse on Dec. 1 during the Bausch & Lomb Christmas party.

Stolen jackets had been reported by seven individuals after the party, and a three-week investigation by the Sheriff's Office led to the search warrant and arrests. The value of the jackets was placed at $1,300.

All three defendants were released on bond, according to an office spokesperson. (Bond amount was not specified.)

Edward R. Friend, 29, Oakland, was arrested on Dec. 23 on charges of child abuse and battery, according to reports. Friend apparently arrived home intoxicated on Dec. 22 and grabbed his nine-month-old son and threw him down. He also threw his two-year-old son down on a bed, and the child apparently struck the wall.

Police found no visible marks on the children after the altercation, but Gloria Friend, Oakland, who reported the crime, told police

Special Visit Of Bloodmobile Slated Jan. 7

The Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross is conducting a special community blood drive on Monday, January 7, from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the Grantsville Fire Hall.

"Historically, the community of Grantsville has been very supportive and made the community blood drive a success. Blood donations during January are extremely important, due to a usual decrease in donations during the winter holiday months. In addition, accidents increase during the winter, which further escalates the need for a steady supply of blood to accommodate emergency situations as well as the ongoing needs of patients in our local hospitals," said Ed Majoris, donor resource consultant for Garrett County.

According to Majoris, all types of blood are needed and asked to be donated on January 7. However, type O negative is always on demand because it can be transfused to all types. Also, a type O recipient can only receive type O blood, which further increase the need for type O blood.

Individuals age 17 or older, who weigh at least 110 pounds, and are in good health can

Commissioners Propose Legislation; Braskey Seeks Limited Sunday Sales

During a meeting held this week between the Garrett County Commissioners and District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards and District 1 Senator-elect John Hafer, legislation was proposed by Commissioner John G. Braskey to institute limited Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages in the county.

Braskey cited the fact that Garrett is the only county in the state that does not have some form of Sunday alcohol sales, and stated that tourism promotion was a factor in the initiative, which would allow for only limited alcohol sales on Sunday in restaurants and clubs.

The initiative was opposed by Commissioners Brenda J. Butscher and Elwood L. Groves II.

Braskey also stated that if the legislators felt it should be placed on a referendum, he would like to see it introduced by districts.

Delegate Edwards stated that he would give the initiative some consideration, adding that the only way he would consider its introduction would be by referendum. Senator-elect Hafer was in agreement with Edwards about the manner in which the proposal should be introduced. "I campaigned on that and I guarantee that it will only be done by referendum," he said.

A legislative initiative was requested by all three commissioners that would provide for a member of the Board of Garrett County Commissioners to serve in the ex-officio capacity on the Garrett County Board of Education.

Under the proposal, a commissioner serving in that capacity would have no voting power but would be allowed to sit through executive sessions.

The proposal was introduced by Commissioner Butscher, who stated, "I promised this in my election campaign and feel it's important — especially in regard to financial matters. The reason I came up with this idea was the constant bickering between the two boards."

Braskey and Groves were in full support of the proposal. "There is definitely a need on the part of both entities to work on better communication and coordination. We have similar mechanisms in place on other county boards, and we have found it to be a real asset," stated Groves.

Two other legislative initiatives proposed by Butscher were not met with agreement by Commissioners Braskey and Groves. The first would limit the number of consecutive four year terms that a member of the Board of Garrett County Commissioners can serve to two, and to place on referendum during the 1992 Presidential Legislation a proposal to cap the commissioners' salary at the present salary level of $23,000 per year.

"This would allow the voters to participate in deciding if the commissioners' salary would eventually get to $28,000 per annum in 1994, as scheduled," stated Butscher.

Both proposals were opposed, not only by Commissioners Braskey and Groves, but also by Delegate Edwards, who addressed the limitation of terms proposal by stating, "Although I support limitation of terms for executives, such as the president and the governor, I oppose such a proposal for this type of position. An executive can gain a lot of power and authority but one county commissioner has no more authority than another."

Edwards added, "The process works. The people wanted a change here and they got one."

Braskey also stated his opposition. "The people have the right to limit the terms through the voting process," he said.

Groves added, "I also oppose the measure. Voting is the main essense of democratic government. The artificial mechanism of limiting the terms limits the choices of the candidates. I consider it an unnecessary restriction."

Regarding the initiative to cap the commissioners' salaries, Butscher stated, "I think the salary increase for county commissioner to $28,000 is just totally outrageous and too much, and I would like to see legislation to put the commissioners' salary increase on the 1992 ballot and let the people decide if they should make that much or possibly even cap it at $23,000. The voters should make the decision, not the commissioners."

She added, directing her comment to Delegate Edwards, "I'm aware of your Salary Review Commission and I think we should be exempt from it."

Edwards responded by stating, "First of all, let me clarify that it was not my study commission. It was established during the 1970's, and the main purpose of it was to get public input and a broad public perspective into the process. Prior to that time, one delegate and one senator decided what the salaries would be."

Edwards added that, too often, people tend to look at the personality of the person holding the position instead of looking at the position itself and what its monetary worth is.

Edwards stated that he felt the commission had done a "thorough job" but he would look into the possiblity of broadening the base of the review board to include more local input. He also stated that he would try to redirect the commission's recommendations to the local, instead of the state, level.

He noted that it would also be unconstitutional to change the salaries during a current term.

Butscher argued that the job of county commissioner should be seen as "a public service, not

Pittsburgh Man Pleads Guilty To Drug Charge

A Pittsburgh, Pa., man recently pleaded guilty to possession of cocaine to Fred A. Thayer, judge of the Garrett County Circuit Court.

Richard R. Trueman, 34, was charged with the drug violation in April when a Maryland State Police officer reportedly stopped the vehicle in which Trueman was riding for a traffic violation. During the arrest procedure, quantities of cocaine and marijuana were apparently found in the possession of Trueman.

Judge Thayer accepted Trueman's plea, and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Other charges of possession with intent to distribute, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia were not prosecuted.

Representing Trueman was R. Steven Friend.

Visitors From Brazil Must Bid Farewell To Snow, Swings, County

by Craig Speicher

When she says goodbye to snowmen and playground swing rides in just several days, 7-year-old Rebeca Faustino will possibly see neither one again for the rest of her life.

Along with her mother, Valdinia "Boda" Faustino, the two Grantsville residents will soon leave the continent — and their family — to return to their native Brazil.

After two years of life in America, the Faustinos have been notified that their visas will expire on January 10. Before then, they will be airborne for a country that never sees snow, a country where only private clubs — accessible to the wealthy — have playground-like equipment that is considered standard to most American school grounds.

The Faustinos came to Grantsville in January 1989. Before ther, they resided in South America as part of the household of Brazilian missionaries Thomas and Elizabeth Anne Fife, both native Americans. Thomas is from Houston, and Elizabeth Anne is from Grantsville. Typically of missions families, the Fifes had essentially, if not legally, adopted the Faustinos years ago.

In 1987, Elizabeth chose to return to Grantsville to care for her ailing parents. Two years later, with Elizabeth's father Emmons Warnick, failing rapidly, Boda and Rebeca moved to Garrett County, where Boda's assistance in caring for Emmons grew more crucial each month.

When the Faustinos arrived here, U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service initially informed them that they could reside here for six months. When that period expired, Elizabeth, who by then was joined by her husband in Grantsville, called upon U.S. Representative Beverly Byron in requesting repeated extensions of the original visa term. Through Byron's recommendations, Immigration ultimately granted three extensions of six months each, for a total residency of two years.

During that time, the Faustinos adapted to American life at different rates. Boda eventually became fluent enough to converse in rudimentary English without having one of the Fifes interpret for her.

Rebeca, though, quickly acquired more than enough language skills to beneift from school, or order fast food at McDonald's, one of her favorite treats. Things looked especially bright for the perky pixie on December 17, 1990. That day, Elizabeth ("Grandma" to Rebeca) met with school officials to approve a special educational regime for Rebeca.

"We had worked out an excellent program for Rebeca — it was wonderful," said Elizabeth.

But within 24 ironic hours, trauma invalidated the program, when Immigration informed the Fifes that Faustinos' visas would expire January 10. And now, even Representative Byron's hands were tied.

After countless frantic phone calls, "we finally realized that nothing anybody could do, would keep Boda and Rebeca here this time," explained Elizabeth.

Only a month earlier, the family had weathered the death of Emmons, and now misfortune struck again.

As if there weren't enough surprises already, Boda responded with a remarkable calm:

"As a Christian, I feel that since things happened this way, it must be God's will for us to go back to Brazil."

And Elizabeth points out that travel arrangements for the Faustinos' return trip have gone unusually smoothly.

"Everything seems to be working out," she said. "It all seems like God has it planned."

The entire household is visibly pained to even think about the Faustinos' future, particularly now that Brazil is in a severe economic crisis.

A farewell party by friends has helped soften the blow somewhat, but for Rebeca, at least, life has become just a little more difficult to comprehend.

"Why can't I just stay here, forever?" she asks.

Thomas Fife is the only one who ventures a reply to the many perplexities:

"We have no answers — only questions."

BRAZILIAN VISITORS MUST RETURN HOME — Snow and swing sets are two things that 7-year-old Rebeca Faustino never experienced before coming to Garrett County two years ago, and it will probably be a long time before she enjoys such things again, as she and her mother, Valdinia "Boda" Faustino, were notified this past week that their visas will expire on January 10. The Faustinos have resided in Grantsville since January of 1989 with Thomas and Elizabeth Ann Fife, local missionaries to Brazil. See story. Photos by Craig Speicher.

stove," Carola said.

Broadwater said he had been in the building until about 10 p.m. last night.

Among the items lost in the fire were a 1984 Chevrolet Citation, a 1978 Dodge pick-up, a snowblower, numerous tools, and some antiques. The loss of the structure and contents was estimated to be $125,000. Carola said Broadwater had no insurance on the property.

Firemen remained on the scene for about two and one-half hours. Also responding were the county air cascade vehicle from Bittinger VFD and the Southern Rescue Squad. Bittinger also sent a crew to stand by at Deer Park's station. There were no injuries reported.

Friendsville, Deep Creek, and Accident fire fighters were called to a residence along Trap Run Road near Friendsville last Thursday at 1:24 p.m. after what began as a flue fire became a structure fire.

The firemen removed a portion of the wall around the flue and quickly extinguished the blaze, keeping damage to a minimum.

Oakland since 1972. A native of Seneca Falls, N.Y., he attended Dickinson College where he earned a B.A. in English literature. He served in the U.S. Army from 1966-68 before attending the University of Baltimore where he earned his law degree in 1972 and graduated fifth in his class. He began the practice of law in Oakland in 1972 in association with Fred A. Thayer.

Burnett served as state's attorney from 1974-78 and is a member and past president of the Garrett County Bar Association. He also served on the Board of Governors of the Maryland Bar Association and as Commissioner of the Mt. Top Oldtimers Softball League. Currently, Burnett serves as chairman of the Garrett County Economic Development Corporation and chairman of the board of the Salem Children's Home. He is also past master of Oakland Lodge 102, AF & AM. He resides in the Swallow Falls area with his wife, Lucille, and his two children.

a way to make a buck," and added, "We're free to come and go as we please — no one has to be accountable."

Edwards countered that, in order to "do the job right and to keep on top of things, it would be necessary to devote an average of 40 hours per week (in or out of the office) to the job. "I'll be very surprised if you put less time than that into the job," he said.

He added, "If you're going to be fair to the position, you have to put a price on it that will attract the right person. The choices will be too limited if you don't."

A proposal was also suggested by Commissioner Groves to bring the Garrett County Sanitary Commission under more direct authority of the Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

"The Sanitary Commission has existed since 1959, and they have gradually moved from a construction phase to a day-to-day operational phase."

He stated that he felt it was important for the commissioners to be involved in the operational phase of the commission. Several mayors and town councils have recently requested the commissioners take authority of the Sanitary Commission for various reasons.

The commission is the only one in the county that is autonomous in nature.

Both Commissioners Butscher and Braskey stated they would need more time to consider the proposal before deciding to lend their support.

Groves noted that a meeting with the commission will be held this week to discuss the proposal.

Finally, a legislative initiative to intitute a two-day limited bear season in Garrett County was proposed by Commissioner Butscher and supported by both Braskey and Groves.

"I came up with this one based on my talking to several sportsmen in the area — and we do have an overpopulation of black bears in the county," stated Butscher.

Butscher added that both West Virginia and Pennsylvania have bear hunting seasons.

Edwards responded to this request by stating that he had tried, unsuccessfully, before to pass this type of legislation. "I put a bill in two years ago and it didn't get very far. I have also tried for the last three to four years to get compensation for crop damage by bears. That didn't get very far either," he said.

Edwards noted that Garrett is the only county in Maryland that has a problem with the bears, and that unsuccessful attempts have been made by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources to transport the bears to other regions of the state. "Some have been trapped and moved eastward, but they've made their way back here," he said.

Edwards stated that he would first see if DNR would agree to implement the two-day season through regulations, and that he would put the bill in only as a last resort, noting that the measure would have a better chance in the regulatory rather than the legislative process.

Bloodmobile

donate blood. It is an easy and relatively painless process which takes less than an hour.

"Giving blood is an excellent way to begin the New Year. Only about half of the population meets the age and medical eligibility requirements to give blood. Therefore, it's important for everyone who can give blood to do so. It is too late to recruit blood donors and collect blood once an accident or disaster happens. An adequate blood supply must be available every day of the year," said Majoris.

Garrett County Chapter is a part of the Johnstown Region Blood Services. Blood collected in the Johnstown Region is separated into its component parts, so that one donation can help three or more patients. The unit is then sent to Johnstown to be tested for hepatitis B, HIV (AIDS), hepatitis C, HTLV-I, non-A, non-B hepatitis and syphilis.

In a Red Cross blood region, everyone who needs blood gets it — automatically, equally, fully, and whether or not they are able to donate, Majoris said. Everyone who needs blood gets it without the need of credits or other pre-established requirements. Individuals served through the Johnstown Region are not required to replace the blood they use; however, family and friends often give blood to replenish the community blood supply so that blood is available for the next person in need.

Search Warrant

that Friend had thrown the two-year-old in September as well, and the child had to be taken to Garrett Memorial Hospital at that time. Dep. C. Nolan made the arrest.

In a separate case, an arrest warrant was issued for a Swanton man on a theft charge. David Shaffer, 32, allegedly stole logs and siding from Linda James, Oakland.

Shaffer was arrested on Dec. 26.

Ervin E. Sliger, 42, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of four bench warrants, according to the police report. Sliger has failed to pay deferred payments in four Garrett County District Court cases. The total amount owed by Sliger is $2,525.

THEFT

Michael P. Goodfellow, Deer Park, reported an apparent theft to the Sheriff's Office. Goodfellow told police that on Dec. 26 he left his gray Nordica ski boots near the entrance to the McHenry House at the Wisp Resort. They were there for a short time while Goodfellow looked for his son. When he returned to the entrance area, the ski boots were gone.

The theft occurred at 4:45 p.m. The boots are worth $315, according to the report. An investigation is continuing.

INJURY REPORTED

A 14-year-old Swanton male was treated for second degree burns to his face at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital after he apparently put a lit match to a small amount of gun powder, causing it to explode. The youth and another 14-year-old obtained the powder at the home of a relative on Dec. 30, and the mishap occurred at 4:15 p.m.

The youths first told police that the youngster had been injured by a stray gun shot while the two were out walking, but the victim then admitted that he had caused the explosion.

The teenager was treated and released, according to the police record.

Stover Retires As GNB Chairman And Director

W. Dwight Stover, local attorney and president of the law firm Stover and Sherbin, Chartered, retired on December 31 as active director and chairman of the Board of Directors of Garrett National Bank. Stover has been a director of Garrett National Bank since 1966 and served as chairman since January, 1990. He also served as bank counsel for many years.

Stover is a native of Garrett County and a graduate of Oakland High School. He received his law degree from the University of Baltimore. He served in the U.S. Army during W.W. II and was discharged with the rank of captain.

He began the practice of law in Oakland in 1946 and during his law career served as state's attorney for 11 years, county attorney for over eight years and served as the attorney for numerous municipalities throughout Garrett County. He is a member of the Maryland Bar Association, the American Bar Association and member and past president of the Garrett County Bar Association.

Stover is a former member and past president of Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club and is an elder at the Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church. He resides in the Oakland area with his wife, Mary Elizabeth.

Md. State Police Arrest Pa. Man In D.O.P. Case

The Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack, arrested a Bridgeville, Pa., man late Saturday after he allegedly damaged a vehicle parked at the Stray Cat Cafe, Deep Creek Lake.

Michael A. O'Connor, 24, was taken to the Garrett County Jail where a bond hearing was held. He was then released on his own recognizance. He was charged with malicious destruction of property.

Police reports stated that O'Connor allegedly damaged both outside mirrors on a 1990 Chevrolet Astrovan owned by Denise A. Hartman, who lives above the establishment.

State Police are also investigating another destruction of property report that occurred early Sunday. Thomas L. Fike, Friendsville, reported that he returned home at 1:30 a.m. and discovered that a windshield wiper had been torn from his vehicle. The locking gas cap has also been forced off, but Fike could not determine if gasoline had been siphoned.

The theft of an Arctic Cat snowmobile was reported Saturday by Jack D. Blaha, McKeesport, Pa. He told police that someone stole the snowmobile from his summer cottage on Lake Shore Drive sometime between December 27 and December 29.

Tfc. John E. Foley is investigating the theft.

David Lebowitz, 63, McKeesport, Pa., reported to police that someone damaged two steel-belted radial tires on his vehicle while it was parked in a driveway at Sky Valley.

The destruction reportedly occurred on December 18 between 6:15 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is investigating.

State police are also investigating several reports of stolen skis in the area this past week.

Robert A. Morrow, 14, told police that someone stole his Atomic Arc skis that were located outside a building at the Wisp Resort. The theft occurred on December 27 at about 2 p.m. Sgt. G.F. Johnston is investigating.

Demetrious D. Sclavounos, Silver Spring, reported that his K2-TRC Comp skis were taken that same day at about 4:30 p.m. Sgt. Johnston is also investigating that theft.

Yet another ski theft was reported that day when James T. Braswell, Kensington, told police that someone had taken his K2-TNC skis with Tyrolia bindings from the west side of the Wisp Resort. Tfc. P.R. Brown is investigating.

John C. Frank, Deep Creek Lake, reported to police that a pair of K2 Gyrator skis were taken from either his vehicle, his residence, or from the Wisp Resort sometime Friday or Saturday. Tfc. Foley is investigating.

Tfc. J.K. Moore is investigating the theft of gasoline from the Grantsville Market. It was reported that a white female obtained over 10 gallons of gasoline on December 21 and left the establishment without paying for it.

Two Swanton Men Injured In One-Vehicle Accident

Two Swanton men were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were traveling swerved to avoid a disabled vehicle, skidded out of control, and struck a tree.

Joseph P. Franklin, 57, and William Savage, 52, were both transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad. Franklin, the operator of the 1986 Oldsmobile, was treated for injuries and then released. Savage was admitted to the hospital for various fractures and released on Sunday, according to a hospital spokesman.

Tfc. P.R. Brown investigated the accident which reportedly occurred one hour before the men were found at about 1:30 a.m.

Two West Virginia men escaped serious injury Sunday when the pickup truck in which they were traveling blew a tire and careened out of control before flipping over on its top.

The driver of the 1971 Chevrolet truck, Roger G. McCutcheon, 26, and his passenger, Robert McCutcheon, 30, both of Shinnston, were heading east on U.S. Route 48 near the Bittinger Road exit when the accident occurred, according to a report filed by the Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack.

Both men were transported to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad where they were treated and released, according to a hospital spokesman.

Grantsville volunteer firemen were also dispatched to the scene by Garrett County Emergency Management.

A 23-year-old Somerset (Pa.) woman lost her life Monday when her car collided head on with a tractor-trailer in Brothers Valley Township, Pa., according to Pennsylvania State Police.

Dianna J. Harshbarger was pronounced dead at the scene in the 9 a.m. mishap. She was reportedly ejected from her car.

Harshbarger was traveling north on the Garrett Shortcut Road when her vehicle traveled across the center line and struck a rig operated by James Yoder, 37, Grantsville.

Police said Yoder was hauling a load of railroad rails that slammed through the cab of his truck, pinning him inside.

He was initially taken to Somerset Community Hospital, but was later transferred to Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital in Johnstown, Pa., where he is listed in "fair" condition, according to a nursing supervisor.

Caseload Light In District Court Over Holidays

No criminal cases were heard in Garrett County District Court last week and the caseload was light for the previous week, according to records filed at the court building in Oakland.

An Oakland man was found guilty of one count of petty theft, while four counts each of bad check charges and theft were placed on the stet docket.

Stephen F. Durst, 37, Oakland, was given a one-year suspended jail sentence, ordered to pay a $100 fine, and placed on one year of supervised probation by Judge Jack R. Turney.

Durst had been charged with the theft of a $14 item by Patricia Brutt on June 16. The other charges against him were filed by OakView Motors early last year.

In other District Court news, two Cumberland women, as the result of a plea agreement, had charges against them placed on the stet docket by Judge Turney.

Cheryl L. Yonker and Kristi L. Dougherty, both 19, had been charged with one count each of burglary, breaking and entering, and theft.

Charges had been filed against them as the result of a September 9, 1990, incident at the William Bever residence in Bloomington.

In the absence of Judge Turney, other District Court cases two weeks ago were heard by Judge Timothy Finan from Allegany County District Court.

Kenneth L. Stinson, 32, Mtn. Lake Park, had two counts of battery against him placed on the stet docket by Judge Finan at the request of the victim, Dana R. Stinson.

Stinson had been charged as the result of August 26 and September 9, 1990, incidents.

Stinson pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty by Judge Finan of battery on Calvin Stinson. He was also found not guilty of disturbing the peace and trespassing on the property of Juanita Stinson.

Those charges had been brought against Kenneth Stinson as the result of an August 11, 1990, incident.

On a counter charge, Calvin Stinson, 29, Manassas, Va., was found not guilty of battery on Kenneth Stinson.

Randy L. Skeweris, 23, Deer Park, was found not guilty of assault on William D. Welch. He had been charged after an alleged fight at Table Rock on May 27, 1990.

Roy R. Rinker, 23, Bayard, W.Va., was found not guilty of battery on William D. Welch stemming from the same May 27 incident.

William D. Welch, 18, Silver Spring, was found not guilty of battery on Roy Rinker. Charges had been filed against Welch as the result of an August 5, 1990, incident in Oakland.

TREASURER SWORN IN — Garrett County Treasurer Patty L. Glover is shown above left as she is sworn into office by David K. Martin, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. Mrs. Glover, who was sworn in on Wednesday, ran unopposed in the 1990 Primary and General Elections. She has begun her second term of office as treasurer, a term which lasts four years.

Miss Hartsell Becomes Bride Of Mr. Arnold In December Ceremony

Traci Dee Hartsell and Nicholas Robert Arnold were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony that took place December 8, 1990, at the St. John's Lutheran Church at Red House, with Pastor Richard Rutkauskas officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mike and Donna Hartsell, Aurora, W.Va., and the groom is the son of Clifton (Buck) and Deanna Arnold, also of Aurora.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father.

Serving as maid of honor was Deanne Terrant, Marshall, Va., friend of the bride.

Serving as best man was Jeffrey Cole, Aurora, friend of the groom.

Serving as ushers and acolytes were Michael Hartsell, brother of the bride, and Chad Arnold, brother of the groom. Amy Hartsell, sister of the bride, attended the guest book.

Phyllis Vandevender, friend of the bride, was the organist. William (Bink) and Anna May Sisler, cousins of the bride, were the vocalists. Selections included: "Looking Through the Eyes of Love" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Aurora Fire Hall. Dean Sisler, friend of the bride, baked and decorated the three-tier wedding cake with a fountain. Serving the cake was Lois Quisenberry, aunt of the bride. Serving the punch was Blondell Sisler, great-aunt of the bride.

The bride is a 1990 graduate of East Preston High School. The groom is employed by Cherry Creek Enterprises. The couple is now residing at Eglon, W.Va.

Just Be Quiet . . .

While we certainly recognize the value of our freedom of speech in this nation, we are greatly irritated this week by certain elected officials who have been grand-standing and giving us their opinions on the Middle East situation, whether we want them or not.

The "esteemed" U.S. Senator Edward Kennedy took microphone in hand yesterday to tell us (and Sadaam Hussein) that President Bush has no constitutional authority whatsoever to declare war on Iraq without the consent of the Congress.

This morning on ABC's "Good Morning, America," another of our Democrat leaders in the Senate stated that, even when the January 15 deadline arrives, President Bush will not have the support of Congress to launch an attack on Iraq. He said that the majority of Congress will want to "wait for the economic sanctions against Iraq to work" before resorting to force.

It is the hope and prayer of the vast majority of Americans that war will be avoided. Making a decision to go to war would be the most agonizing nightmare that George Bush would ever experience. What infuriates us is not the anti-war opinion of Kennedy and the others, but simply their decision to speak out with words that undermine the president's effort to pressure Hussein into withdrawing from Kuwait.

We are in no way suggesting that freedom of speech, or any other right guaranteed by our constitution, should be taken away from Kennedy and the others under any circumstances. We just believe that it is irresponsible for them to state publicly, over worldwide television, that the president does not have the support of Congress in this effort. To do so plays right into Hussein's hands. This is GOOD news to Hussein. It buys more time for him. Now he can just ignore Bush and his threats. Thank you, Ted Kennedy.

It would be far better for these elected officials to simply keep their thoughts to themselves, at least until the January 15 deadline. When questioned about their stand, they could respond, "I believe that it is in the best interest of our country right now if I withhold my opinion on such matters, at least until January 15" or "I wish to defer commenting on this right now because doing so might undermine the president's effort to convince Hussein to withdraw from Kuwait."

Would responding in such a manner be so terrible, Ted?

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is in reply to the letter written by Mrs. DeWitt regarding her child being denied a school lunch because the child (or parent) failed to provide money.

Mrs. DeWitt stated how upset she was over the incident. If she and other parents were so concerned about their children missing lunch, why don't they make sure their child has his/her lunch money before leaving the house or better yet, give the teacher $5 to keep on hand for such an emergency?

I think it's time for parents to stop blaming their inadequacies on other people, such as those hard-working individuals at the school system.

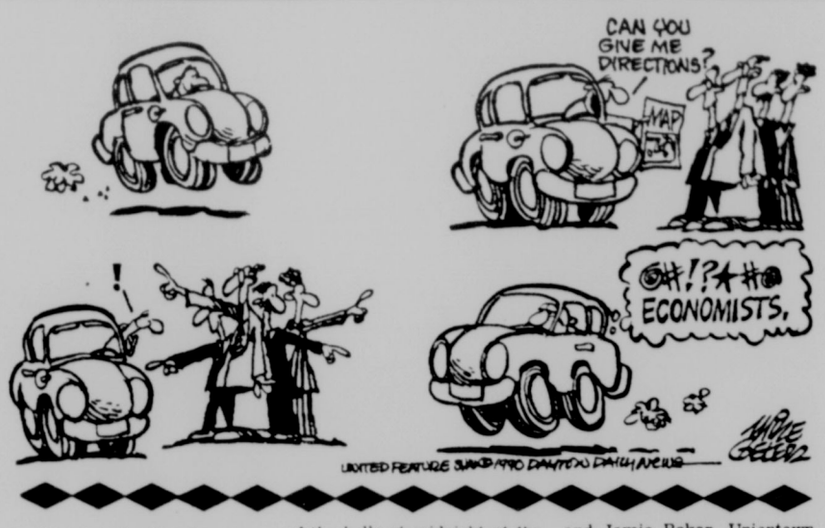
The reason this rule was adopted was due to the much abused "charge" system in existence before, where neglectful parents failed to pay up.

So parents, pay up, pack your child's lunch, or go to McDonald's. Do you think you can charge your lunch there?

A Concerned Parent
Teresa Schroyer

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to a letter to the editor by Trina McKenzie (12/27/90) regarding an auto accident involving Melissa Fazenbaker. It was not clear from Ms. McKenzie's letter just how the accident occurred, although it apparently involved a fallen tree along Route 40 in Grantsville.



It is obviously tragic when a young person with her entire future ahead of her is involved in a serious accident. Although I do not know Melissa Fazenbaker, I am certain that our entire community shares Ms. McKenzie's concern for this young woman, and we join her in wishing Missy a speedy recovery.

I guess what I find puzzling about Ms. McKenzie's letter is the implication that the Sierra Club is somehow responsible for this accident because, according to Ms. McKenzie, we are pushing for legislation that would establish a 200-foot wooded buffer on public as well as provide lands along Maryland highways. As Conservation Chairperson for the Western Maryland Group of the Sierra Club, I am not aware of any such ongoing legislative effort. As has been reported in this newspaper, we are pursuing legislation to constrain logging on public lands and to ensure public participation in the management of our State Forests and Parks. Perhaps Ms. McKenzie got this mistaken impression from criticism leveled at the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service for ignoring their own guidelines for "buffer zones" in State Forests along "travel influence zones" such as New Germany Road.

All of us who appreciate the scenic beauty of Western Maryland know that it is our vast forested areas that make our region special. Throughout Allegany and Garrett counties our forests grow right up to the edge of many roads, and we have all seen fallen trees across our roads, particularly after heavy winds.

Fallen trees and, more frequently, deer kills do contribute to automobile accidents and occasionally someone does sustain serious injuries. Still, it is difficult to imagine any practical way to eliminate such risks. It is the arbitrary, fateful nature of such accidents that give us pause to consider the possibility that it could have been us or our loved ones injured. I think for this very reason such incidents touch our hearts.

Sincerely,
Glen Besa

QUILTING WITH NATURE
by Kathie Smith and Ella Jones

The world of nature has been the source of inspiration for man's creative expressions since the beginning of time. Whether it be drawings, stories, or the many forms of stitchery, the central theme often can be found focusing on "Mother Nature." Flowers, animals, and trees, just to name a few, are always before us in many art forms reminding us of our relationship to nature. Just as important are the many colors that nature provides for us to use in our attempt to portray the beauty in the world around us. Gardening, whether vegetable or flower, has always made man aware of the importance of planning for the best results from nature. One art form, quilting, expresses the relationship between man and nature by the numerous designs that can be found throughout the centuries.

Quilts and gardens are planned for both physical needs as well as creative expression. The art of quilting can be traced to the Middle East in the 11th Century. It was in the 14th Century Europe, during the period of time known as the "Great Freeze," that a change in winter climate took place. The need for added warmth — both in bedding and clothing — became the basis for increased quilting. Flowers, leaves, and vines were introduced by the women of France in their appliqued works. By the 17th Century, the craft of quilting was a popular form of creative stitchery. This art form came to America with the settlers and has continued to blossom.

There are numerous quilts with design names that reflect our natural habitat. One quilt design is "The Laurel Wreath." It is patterned after the laurel plant which is native to the Mediterranean and represents victory and merit. "A Basket of Flowers" is another popular design allowing for many colors or just one flower color depending upon what the designer may want. The "Wild Rose" pattern brings to mind the colors of deep rose or yellow as they are found in nature. A favorite design in Canada is the "Maple Leaf." The quilt can vary in color depending upon the season it is to represent. There are quilt designs too numerous to name that reflect stars, animals, trees, and anything that can be seen in the world around us.

Today, quilts are prized very highly for their unique design and the statements that they can make. Locally, quilts have been made depicting places found in Garrett County. One group in Idaho, the Boise Peace Quilt Project, recently presented a quilt to John Jeavons and Ecology Action. The quilt depicts many flowers, vegetables, and animals, and a quote in stitching says "Nothing happens in living nature that is not in relation to the whole." The quilt was given in recognition of contributions to world peace through gardening.

Gardens and quilts have been a part of man's creative expressions and utilitarian needs for centuries. Whether it be a quilt of a garden or a garden well planned, both may be meaningful expressions of our love of nature.

NEW Arrivals

The births of two infants this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesman.

A daughter was born December 31 to Bruce Edward and Susan Jane Gaither Slaubaugh, St. George, W.Va.

Admissions were listed at 53 with 36 discharges. This morning's census shows 48 patients.

AND THE WALLS CAME A TUMBLIN' DOWN — Ringer Oil, Inc., located along Oak Street in Oakland, recently built a new building behind their old one, and this week had the old structure razed in a matter of minutes to make way for new self-serve gasoline pumps. The building, which was built in the early 1900s, formerly housed Ringer-Tri-State Oil Company, a firm purchased a few years ago by present owners/managers, Dan Swank and Bill Steyer. Besides installing the new gasoline pumps, the company will continue to provide other fuel products, such as home heating oil.

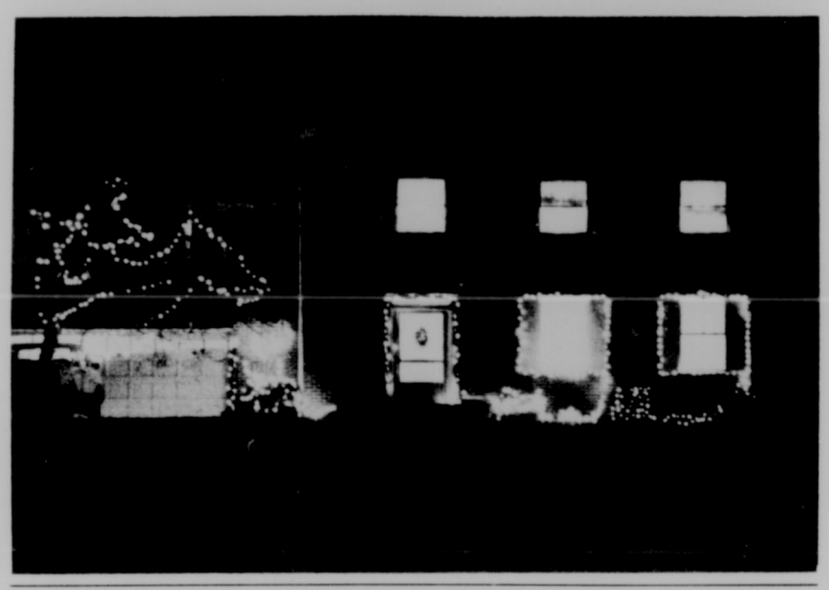
Middle School Students Plan Annapolis Trip



Local middle school students and parents who attended the meeting at Garrett Community College on December 7 were "very enthusiastic" about attending the Computer Math and Science Fair sponsored by the Maryland Division of the AAUW, American Association of University Women and set for March 2, at the Annapolis Mall, according to an AAUW spokesman.

Students from across Maryland will be encouraged to stay in school, take college and technical preparation courses, increase their self-esteem, and visualize rewarding and self-reliant futures. The computer, math, and science role models will focus on career aspirations, targeting the middle school students, ages 11 through 14. Early introduction of career choices helps both parents and students learn about the many options available. Hopefully, it will also help improve attitudes toward rewarding non-traditional jobs for the 21st century, the spokesman said.

Some of the Garrett County families intend to drive to Annapolis, while others are arranging for a bus. The cost of the bus is $10 per person. Parents are welcome to accompany their children. Ben Thorne, Southern Middle School counselor, will collect the money. Seating will be on a first come, first serve basis. In order to arrange for enough buses, money must be in the guidance office by January 15.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

In lieu of a Christmas program at The Underwood United Brethren Church this holiday season, a group of members met and travelled in the local area caroling. They came from the Gortner and Underwood area and totalled about 30 carolers who visited and sang for the Peck Callis family, Ida Carr, Anna Matthews, Thelma Glotfelty and Bessie Canan on Saturday evening.

On Christmas Eve the Matthews family and friends met in the home of Shelly and John Matthews. George Snyder and family of Fort Leonardwood, Mo., were home for the holidays with Mildred Peterson and attended the occasion. Refreshments were served.

On December 23 the Milton Canan family of Accident arrived at the home of Milton's mother, Bessie Canan, with a carry-in dinner plus a birthday cake for Mrs. Canan's recent birthday. Larry and John Canan, Lynne Brenneman, Marylyn Canan and Eric Paugh joined them for the evening.

Christmas night the Matthews families and several friends assembled in the home of Mildred Peterson for a fellowship and late supper.

Keith Cummings had Christmas dinner with his family in the home of their father, A.D. Cummings, Backbone Mountain. On Wednesday Erma Marshall of Montpelier, Ver., was a supper guest of Keiths and Ivadine Cummings. Becky and Scott Rush, Elaine and Michael Bernard and son, Matthew, also attended the dinner.

Bessie Canan accompanied her family to Accident for the holidays. On Monday they all were dinner guests of Mrs. Dawn Canan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sibre Skipper, near Deer Park. Roger and Connie Skipper and sons and Eric Paugh and Marylyn Canan were also guests.

George White was able to come home from Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Monday and spent the Christmas with his family. He is showing a little improvement in his illness, but remains bed-fast.

Regina and Stephen Sandberg of Nicholasville, Ky., arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Canan, on Wednesday to spend their remaining school break at home. They spent Christmas day with Steve's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sandberg, in Freesburg, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Dodge, formerly Caroline Canan, are on extended trip in the western states for a delayed honeymoon. They plan to stop off at his parents in Kansas before continuing on to other sites of interest.

The Larry Canans were Christmas day dinner guests of Lorraine's grandmother, Mrs. Cecelia O'Haver. Others attending were Dan and Larry LeFort of Greenbelt and Gene and Gloria Edge and daughters, Annapolis.

Christmas day dinner guests in the home of Clifford and Patty Graham were her father, Earl Friend, sister, Linda Spink, and family, Robin Schroyer and family, John and Clifford Graham Jr., Tom and Daisy Graham. Earl visited his mother, Mrs. Florence Webb, in a nursing home in Elkins one day this week, accompanied by his daughter, Patty Graham.

John Canan, Shaun Friend, Lori Edge and Lynne Brenneman were overnight guests of friends in Spence, Va., on Friday and Saturday. Lori is spending this week during school break with her Grandmother O'Haver and the Larry Canan family.

Ashley Nicole, young daughter of Ronald and Danita Jo Rhodes, is quite ill with the flu.

KITZMILLER

The Kitzmiller Civic Association has announced Christmas Lighting Contest winners.

The Association sponsored the contest for its second year. The judging took place on December 17 in the town of Kitzmiller and surrounding areas. There were a total of 107 homes judged.

First place went to the residence of Greg Jones and Wayne Bray, located on Route 38 and Park Street. The decorations were in place for the memory of Marcelline Burgess. In second place was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee, Route 38, and third place to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kellner, Route 38.

Three homes were given "honorable mention." They were the residences of Jim and "Peanut" Droppleman, Willow Street; Walter and Catherine Phillips, Shallmar; and Brian and Cookie Noble, Route 38.

The first place winners received $25.00, second place, $15.00, and third place, $10.00.

Serving as judges this year were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lake, Betty Crosco, and Betty Tasker.

The Civic Association noted its appreciation to the many residents for participating, and to the town of Kitzmiller for the new town Christmas decorations that were displayed this year.

Rice Nets 33 Points, But Rams Topped By Frankfort Falcons, 66-59

Despite a nine-point first half lead and a 33-point performance by Brett Rice, the Southern Rams were defeated last night by Frankfort, 66-59, in the Rams' first home game of the season.

The loss was only the second in nine starts for Coach Tom Bosley's squad, while the Falcons improved their record to 5-1.

The senior-dominated Frankfort team was paced by point guard Cory Giffin, who finished with 17 points and hit three three-pointers to spark a rally in the second quarter. The Rams held a 15-11 lead at the end of the first period and stretched that advantage to 26-17 before the Falcons erupted for 16 unanswered points and led at halftime, 33-28.

The Rams stayed close throughout the third period and were down 46-43 when the final stanza began.

A bucket by Rice at the 2:38 mark of the fourth quarter gave the Rams a one-point lead, 53-52, but Andy Scott, the Falcons' 6-11 center, quickly responded with an inside shot to give Frankfort the lead for good.

A pair of free throws by Scott and a bucket by Greg Whiteman made it 58-53 with 1:25 remaining. Two free tosses by Rice cut the lead to three again, 58-55, but the Rams could get no closer.

Scott and Whiteman each finished with 13 points.

Also reaching double figures for the Rams was Richard Beckman, who recorded 14 points and pulled a game-high 16 rebounds.

Bosley said that the Falcons' height and experience advantages were what made the difference.

"Their experience down the stretch is what really made the difference," he said. "They didn't make the mistakes when we needed them to."

The Rams will travel to Northern this Friday evening.

In the preliminary contest, the Southern junior varsity was defeated by the Frankfort jayvees, 56-39.

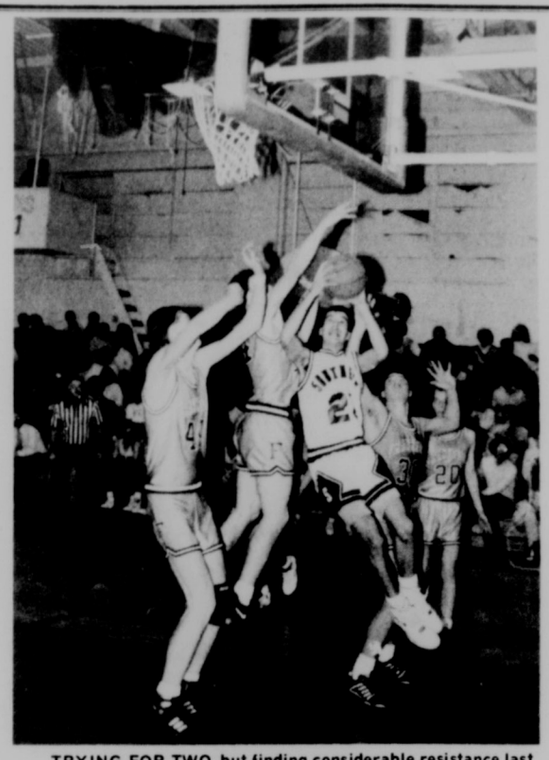
Mt. Top League Results Reported

Buffalo Coal stayed within reach of the Mt. Top Basketball League leaders as they defeated D&C Video, 99-77, at The National Guard Armory. Brian Selders (23), Danny Bosley (22), and Paul Lewis (20) led the Buffalo scoring. D&C, which lost its seventh game in a row, was led by Mel Evans with 27 points.

Miners & Merchants Bank rolled to a 105-63 dismantling of The National Guard. Allan Selders paced the Miners' attack with 30 points and Jerry Myers added 21. Marshall Pike led The Guard with 22 points.

G&H Masonry doubled up an outmanned CMC Enterprises, 149-64. G&H had all five starters hit double figures with Bill Braithewaite leading all scorers with 49 points. Bryan Wilt added 37 and Gary Paugh 36 points to the G&H deluge. Rick Minnick led CMC with 37 points.



At the college Thursday, Video Connection, down 42-32 at the half, came back to defeat The Curve Tavern, 83-80, in overtime. John Harmke scored 35 points to lead the Video attack. Greg Harvey scored 32 for The Curve.

Martin's Auto Glass evened its record for the season by knocking off a pesky Fairfax Stone, 104-91. Fairfax had cut the lead to five points with less than four minutes remaining, but could get no closer. Martin's was led by Dennis Gibson's 32 points. Tom Stem and Poke Winters added to the Martin's scoring with 21 points apiece. Pat Adams had 19 points to lead Fairfax.

Mike Fazenbaker hit both ends of a one-and-one with three seconds remaining to push Deep Creek Pharmacy past Levi Sunglasses, 62-61. It was the Pharmacy's only lead of the game, as Levi jumped out to a 6-0 lead to start. Levi was able to get a shot off at the buzzer, but Doug Fields' three-quarter court shot hit the back of the rim and bounced out. Jerry Herpel led the balanced Pharmacy attack with 15 points. Levi's Paul Barnhouse led all scorers with 25 points.

In Sunday action at GCC, Niner Construction/A&A kept its perfect record intact with an 80-67 win over Miners & Merchants Bank. Steve Liller and Tom Panther each scored 21 to lead Niners. Delbert Napper scored 19 to lead The Miners.

Westvaco knocked G&H Masonry from the ranks of the unbeaten as they slipped by G&H, 99-90. Bill Mayles scored 34 points to pace the Westvaco attack. Rob Morris added 22 for the victors. Gary Paugh and Davey Moore were high scorers for G&H with 19 points.

TRYING FOR TWO, but finding considerable resistance last night from several Frankfort Falcons, is Southern High School's Brett Rice, the area's leading scorer. Rice finished the contest with 33 points, but the Rams went down to a 66-59 defeat. It was their second loss in nine games so far this season. Pictured at left is 6-11 Frankfort center Andy Scott. Rams Defeat Elkins To Capture Snowball Classic Championship

The Southern High Rams recorded their six and seventh victories of the season last weekend by winning their own 15th annual Snowball Classic tournament. The Rams, under Coach Tom Bosley, whipped Waynesburg in the first round of the tourney Friday night at Garrett Community College, 61-46, and then rolled over Elkins Saturday evening in the title game, 80-61.

The Northern Huskies also participated in the event, but lost both their opening round contest, 62-45, to Elkins and were then edged in the consolation game on Saturday by Waynesburg, 41-39.

Southern's Brett Rice, the area's leading scorer, was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, as he paced the Rams with 16 points in the game against Waynesburg and netted 34 against Elkins to give him 50 for the tournament.

Against Waynesburg, the Rams led 10-6 at the end of the first quarter, were on top 25-18 by halftime, and led 39-31 going into the final eight minutes. They took a 12-point lead at the 3:58 mark of the fourth period.

While the Waynesburg defense played well against Rice, Britten Martin came off the bench to net 13 points, nine of which he hit in the fourth quarter. Rice and Richard Beckman each grabbed seven rebounds.

Mike Cook was the only Waynesburg player to reach double figures, as he finished with 12 points. Waynesburg dropped to 3-6 on the season.

In Northern's contest against Elkins, the Huskies were ahead by a point, 11-10, at the end of the first period, but were then out-scored in the second stanza, 20-9, and trailed 30-20 at halftime. They were down 44-35 after three quarters.

Jon Houser led the Huskies with 16 points, while Brandon Thompson paced Elkins with 24 points, Shane Meade recorded 15, and Clint Crosstan added 12.

Rice was virtually unstoppable in the title game against Elkins, as he connected on 12 of 20 field goals and made good on all 10 of his free throws.

The Rams led by four, 20-16, at the end of the first quarter, stretched their advantage to 43-30 by halftime, and were on top 61-45 at the end of the third period. Rice recorded 22 of his points in the first half.

Once again Britten Martin provided most of the fourth quarter scoring for Coach Bosley, when he netted eight of his 11 points.

As a team, the Rams connected on nine of 12 foul shots in the fourth quarter, as Elkins was forced to foul in the late stages of the game.

Elkins (3-3) was paced by Brandon Thompson, who finished with 29 points, and Clint Crosston, a 6-6 center, who recorded 16 points.

Jeremy Bosley also reached double figures for the Rams with 11 points, and was credited with five assists and three steals, while Richard Beckman pulled down a dozen rebounds to go with his eight points.

Coach Bosley noted the overall strong defensive effort of his team and particularly the play of Beckman in defensive rebounding.

The Northern-Waynesburg consolation contest was a defensive effort, as the Huskies led the low-scoring contest most of the way, but were defeated on a last-second shot by Aaron Huffman.

Coach Dave Bender's Huskies were on top 11-6 at the end of the first quarter, led 23-17 at intermission, and were in front 35-31 after three periods. They led by as many as 10 points in the third quarter.

But Waynesburg's defense held Northern to just four points in the final period. They tied the score at 39-39 in the final minute and then set up for a final shot by Huffman.

Houser again led the Huskies with 12 points, while Dan Baird paced Waynesburg with 16 points, nine of which came on three-point goals. Huffman finished with 10 points for the winners.

Named to the All-Tournament team were Rice, Martin, and Beckman of Southern, Houser of Northern, Thompson of Elkins, and Huffman of Waynesburg.

The Rams returned to action last night in their first home game of the season against powerful Frankfort (see separate story).

Wildcats Maul Huskies To Repeat As Snowflake Classic Champions

The Westmar Wildcats successfully defended their Southern High School Snowflake Tournament title last Thursday night by crushing the Northern Huskies in the championship game, 71-21.

The Southern Rams, who were topped by the Huskies the previous evening, were downed by Fort Hill in the consolation game, 47-38.

Dawn Sloan, the area's top player, paced the Wildcats with 27 points and was named the Most Valuable Player of the tourney, while teammate Lisa Green netted 17 against the Huskies and received the Most Outstanding Player award.

Sloan, a junior guard/forward, recorded her points on 11 field goals and five of eight free throws. Marcie Wildman added 10 points for the state champion Wildcats, who upped their overall record to 6-1.

The Huskies were held to just four field goals and connected on 13 of 23 attempts at the line. Cara Wachter and Laurie Stanton each finished with six points.

Heather Shepherd paced the Fort Hill Sentinels (4-4) over the 0-5 Rams in the consolation contest as she finished with 14 points.

Leading the Rams' offensive effort were Michelle Duling and Shelly Cannon with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The score was tied at 19 apiece at the end of the first quarter, but the Sentinels moved out to a 22-19 halftime lead and were on top 34-27 after three periods of play.

Named to the All-Tournament team were Audra Speicher of Northern, Duling of Southern, Shepherd and Michelle Clise of Fort Hill, and Marci Wildman of Westmar.

The Northern High junior varsity team won the jayvee championship by toppling Westmar, 29-21, as Lisa Stephens netted 12 points for the Huskies. She was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Janelle Muir paced Westmar with eight points.

In the jayvee consolation game, Fort Hill defeated Southern, 40-31. Becky Slagle led the Rams with 10 points.

Named to the All-Tournament junior varsity team were: Wanda Swartzwelder of Northern, Ingrid Carlson of Southern, Jennifer Quinn and Muir of Westmar, and Krista Smith of Fort Hill.

GOBA Meets At Cornish Manor

The regular monthly meeting of the Greater Oakland Business Association was held recently at Cornish Manor. President Jack Jones presided.

Janna Kight, of Allegany Hearing and Speech, was welcomed as a new member.

Teresa Feather presented $1,400 to Jones which was made on the Christmas promotion.

It was noted that construction on the Oak Street bridge that crosses the railroad tracks will probably not begin for at least five years. Jones showed preliminary sketches of the proposed new bridge that will be constructed by the State Highway Administration. Persons with suggestions and comments about the proposed project should contact Jones.

Linda Sanders, secretary, and Robin Witt, treasurer, have submitted their resignations and GOBA is seeking persons to fill these positions.

A committee meeting for the new CDMA will be held this month at the Courthouse and an all-member meeting will be held in February for the adoption of the by-laws.

It was noted that the members of the Monte Vista 4-H Club have been on Second Street with GOBA helping to promote the "Buck a Bulb" promotion.

The next meeting of the Association will be Tuesday, Jan. 8, at 1 p.m. at Cornish Manor, Oakland.

Are You Applying Too Much Nitrogen on Field Corn?

I think many times we have a tendency to think that heavy applications of nitrogen fertilizers is the key to high yield corn. Long-term corn yield plots have indicated that it takes one pound of actual nitrogen to produce one bushel of corn. What many farmers fail to do is to take into consideration all of the other environmental factors that affect the growth and yields of corn. As we know, the average climatic conditions in Garrett County are not ideal for producing high yields of corn grain. The cool climate slows the germination and growth of corn. Also, the types of soils that are found here are not the types that provide high yields year in and year out. You must also take into consideration the availability of other major and minor elements that are in the soil. Over the past few years I have seen above-average yields obtained with a minimum of nitrogen. I have also witnessed the exact opposite. Fields that continually receive applications of manure are going to have a reserve of nitrogen released as the organic matter decays. In summary, set your yield goals after considering all factors and apply nitrogen at one pound per one bushel of corn with good management practices in place.

Raising Fish!

Would you like to look into the possibility of raising fish commercially? If so, mark the evening of January 29th on your calendar. We are going to hold a workshop on the principles, economics and equipment needed to raise trout and channel catfish. That evening program will be conducted by two aquaculture specialists who have had considerable experiences in raising fish commercially. In case of snow, the workshop will be held the following evening, January 30. During the next couple of weeks we will be getting out more information on the particulars.

More Than Enough Milk

Milk producers keep pouring it on. November production was 3.8 percent over a year ago, continuing the trend of the last six months. The extra output has quenched the fire that had been under milk prices last year and into 1990. The November U.S. price for manufacturing milk was $10.50, compared to $14.90 a year earlier. In the months ahead there is a good chance that prices will fall to support levels. Cow numbers have, at least temporarily, stopped going down, and with the 1988 drought behind us, productivity is likely to continue to improve. So there will be more than enough milk.

NEW YEAR SEES OLD GATT

The world's best negotiators failed to improve the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the law governing international trade among nearly 100 nations. Their failure means we keep operating under the flawed rules we already were following. Farm Bureau hoped that fairer trade would be the result of this Uruguay Round of GATT negotiations.

From one standpoint, no new rewrite is a victory for American agriculture. In previous agreements, farmers' concerns took a back seat to those of other trade sectors, such as manufacturing, services, textiles, labor, etc. This time, U.S. negotiators, working under the direction of U.S. Trade Representative Carla Hills, defended agriculture. Early on, they promised they wouldn't sell us out and they didn't. They refused to compromise our principles.

We have until March 3 before the round is officially dead. That's when U.S. discussion-enabling legislation expires. Congress could extend the deadline. But I wonder whether there's any reason to expect another year of negotiations to move us any further than we got with the previous four years of talk.

Europe refused to compromise

Blame the Europeans for blocking improvements in world trade rules for farm goods. Either European farmers are very strong or their politicians are very weak. EC negotiators, cowed mainly by Germany and France, ignored four years of earnest negotiations and discussions.

I believe European negotiators had no intention of adopting rules that would promote more open markets. Those in government never prepared European farmers for change. In fact, negotiators promised to impose new import restrictions on our soybeans and corn products if any agreement was to be signed.

Any advance now depends on the EC. They must show a greater willingness to reduce export subsidies and import barriers. Otherwise, talks are fruitless. I doubt if other European trade sectors will be able to apply enough pressure on their negotiators to budge the farm bloc heads.

No good alternative to multilateral agreement

Many nations are now exploring independent avenues to improved trade. We could see bilateral trade pacts flourish. Our talks with Mexico certainly will move much faster if the Uruguay Round officially expires. There's talk of creating a Southeast Asia common market. There's also talk that some lesser-subsidizing nations might sign preferential bilateral agreements to move their commodities, even to the EC.

While promoting specific trade, such individualized agreements don't eliminate recognized problems, such as EC export subsidies, for example. Bilateral agreements breed increased protectionism by those who are shut out. With increased protectionism comes retaliation, counter-retaliation and counter-counter retaliation. The U.S. has been sitting on some serious complaints against other nations, waiting for the Uruguay Round to correct inequities. Now, those complaints will be addressed.

The EC must stop its illegal oilseed processing subsidy. It's costing American farmers $2 billion a year — that's more than what they ship to us each year in cheese and wine. USDA Secretary Clayton Yeutter probably will accept any rice industry petition complaining of Japan's closed market. And, our export enhancement program should be augmented. We may see a boost in the $475 million currently authorized to subsidize our exports in response to the EC's $12 billion worth of subsidies. I am confident our export subsidies can be geared to recover market share taken from us by the Europeans.

Fair trade benefits all

We don't want trade wars. We don't need them. We need trade reform. One study estimated a successful Uruguay Round would have boosted our gross national product by 2.5 percent, about $130 billion. More than 2 million jobs would have been created. That's just here.

Other countries also would gain as money was shifted from protectionist subsidies to the purchase of goods and services. Europe could gain $175 billion from a successful GATT rewrite, while Asia could benefit by more than $200 billion. This is what is so sad. All nations, at all levels of development, would benefit from the shot in the arm a new, improved GATT offers.

Farm Bureau is working with U.S. government trade representatives, farmers in other nations, American industrialists, in fact, with anyone who wants progress. We want trade reform, reform that is good for agriculture, just as I said four years ago at the beginning of these talks.

Statewide Organic Food Workshop Set For Jan. 12

The Maryland Organic Food and Farming Association (MOFFA) will hold its second annual statewide workshop on January 12 at the Maryland Department of Agriculture Building, 50 Harry S. Truman Highway, Annapolis. The meeting will begin with registration from 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. and concludes with a catered dinner and social from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture will unveil its Organic Certification Regulations for Maryland growers and food handlers at the meeting. In addition, the workshop will feature sessions on soil fertility/manure management, marketing, foliar feeding, and computer modeling for organic production. There also will be time for a business meeting and standing committee work.

MOFFA is a state-wide organization of consumers, retailers, and growers working together to make organically produced commodities more widely available in Maryland. The association has been working closely with the Maryland Department of Agriculture to develop an organic certification program for Maryland and to provide technical assistance to members. The organization also sponsors public education and outreach projects.

Cost for attending the workshop will be $5 for voting members and $10 for supporting members and non-members. The dinner will be $8.

For additional information, those interested may phone Marty or Eric Rice at 301-371-4814 or Suzie Harrison at 301-841-5770. The snow date will be January 19.

The college reserves the right to cancel classes due to insufficient enrollment.

The college does not discriminate on the basis of age, sex, color, religious belief, national origin, race, marital status, or handicap in its admissions and student-related policies and procedures.

CREDIT/NON-CREDIT COOPERATIVE OFFERINGS

Courses with titles and course numbers listed in italics are credit courses which are open to students on a noncredit basis. Although these offerings are designed for credit seeking students, noncredit students who enroll will have valuable and unique learning opportunities. The noncredit student pays the listed tuition as well as out-of-county/out-of-state differential (if applicable), the cost of textbooks (if desired), the cost of materials, and other fees as indicated. Noncredit students are not required to take course examinations or complete other assignments which may be required of credit students. Priority for enrollment will be given to those students who enroll for credit.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Noncredit registration will be taken on a first-come, first-serve basis and should be completed at least one week prior to the starting date of the class. Payment may be made by mail or in person at our office. We accept VISA or MasterCard. Please call us at (301) 387-6666, Ext. 169, (301) 245-4133, or outside Maryland (800) 533-1000.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

An out-of-county and out-of-state differential fee will be assessed for those courses marked with an asterisk (*). Maryland Senior Citizens (persons 60 years of age or older) may participate in these courses tuition free, but are responsible for materials and/or lab fees that may be assessed.

REFUND POLICY

Refunds will be made in full if you withdraw from a course prior to its first session, provided the course tuition/fees exceed $20, or if the course is cancelled. If you withdraw prior to the second class meeting, you are entitled to a 75% refund, provided the number of classes scheduled is equal to or exceeds five sessions and the course/tuition fees exceed $20. THERE WILL BE NO REFUND AFTER THE SECOND CLASS SESSION. In order to receive a refund a "withdrawal" form must be completed.

JTPA TRAINING

If you are unemployed or have limited income, you may be eligible for the JTPA program. Benefits to JTPA participants include: free tuition, fees and books; reimbursement for transportation; child care expenses; a training allowance; and job placement assistance. Eligibility for participation in the JTPA program is determined by the Western Maryland Consortium — 334-8136.

NEW HORIZONS

The New Horizons program offers tuition/expense assistance to single adolescent or adult parents and eligible homemakers. Interested persons may call their office at 387-6666, Ext. 171.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

Visiting Tuesday to Thursday prior to Christmas with Ruth and Roscoe Teets, Eglon, and other area friends and relatives including Ron and Avenell Parsons and their family were Glenn and Norma Lantz of Medina, Ohio.

On Tuesday evening, December 18, a pound shower at the Eglon Memorial Building surprised and welcomed Don and Neva Frantz and their family to their new home in Eglon.

A Christmas gathering was held Saturday evening, December 22, at the home of Homer and Orpha Fike in Eglon with Jo Ashby, Sherry Remley and her children, Christopher, Chelsea, and Chanda, Randy and Marcia Ashby, all Oakland; Wayne and Georgia Fike, Red House; Stanley and Eloise Harsh, David, Rita Sue, Grant and Maria Harsh, Amboy, attending. Robert and Madge Fike of Morgantown were recent visitors of the Fikes in Eglon.

Willie and Arlene Roth of Hedgesville were holiday guests of Raymond and Jean Lantz, Eglon, and Don, Elaine and Danny Roth, Horse Shoe Run.

An early Christmas dinner was held on Saturday at Mrs. Dora Stemple's, Amboy, with the following family attending: Dale and Mildred Stemple, Aurora; Sandra Stemple, Bryant and Peggy Stemple and daughter, Amy, all Charleston; Roger and Renee Mullenax and their sons, Horse Shoe Run; Kenneth and Blanche Stemple, Dennis and Patty Cox, Amboy.

Christmas guests of his parents, Ruth and Roscoe Teets, Eglon, were Brad and Robin Teets, Stroudsburg, Pa.

Christmas weekend guests of Charles, Audra and Curt Teets, Eglon, were Rob and Ruth Maxey of Clinton, Md., and their daughters, Karen and Paula, and Karen's friend, Hugh. They also visited with Bob's mother, Mrs. Theta Maxey, at Gnegy Church.

George Roth of Horse Shoe Run was a patient for a few days in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and returned December 24 to his home. Visiting there were his son and daughter-in-law, Harold and Gracia Roth, Knoxville, Tenn.

Bernard McCrum of Aurora was admitted Christmas morning to Garrett County Memorial where he remains a patient.

Mrs. Glendora Shockley of Bayard has been a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and is expected to be transferred to Heartland in Kingwood. Mrs. Shockley is the mother of Mrs. Stacy Fint, Aurora.

Wayne and Kim Pifer of Morgantown were Christmas Day guests of her parents, John and Florence Minnig, at Eglon.

Mrs. Lydia Harsh of Rt. 1, Box 344, Aurora, WV 26705 will be observing her 90th birthday on January 12.

A Christmas Day dinner in Gaithersburg, Md., with Carl, Gwen, Timothy and Ashley Hanline was shared by Carl's parents and grandparents, Norman and Janice Hanline, Oakland, and Lorrain and Mary Jane Hanline, Aurora.

Ron and Avenell Parsons of Eglon were both December 23 and Christmas Day dinner guests in the Carleton and Jean Skipper home in Kingwood. On Sunday, other family members present were Carla Skipper, John and Shirley Parsons, Leonard and Steve, Evelyn Parsons, Rhonda and George White. On Christmas Day, Brent, Leslie and Brandon Skipper were visiting his parents.

Nathan Teets is spending the holidays with his parents, Leland and Ardis Teets and sister, Nicole, at Eglon before returning to the Joe Jupert School of Art in Dover, N.J.

Mark, LaDeana, Tommy and Lindsey Teets of Eglon spent the last December weekend with his brother and sister-in-law, Scott and Sharon Teets, in Knoxville, Tenn.

Don and "Bitsy" Shepherd and their children, John, Andrea, Stephen and Elizabeth of Salem, Va., were Saturday to Wednesday guests with her parents, Ellis and Marie Teets, Silver Lake. Joining them on December 24 were Merlin and Martha Reish, Micah, Matthew and Marilyn of Harrisonburg. The Mark Teets family of Eglon were Christmas Day guests also.

Norma and Bill Byrd of Florida were holiday guests of her mother, Peggfy Houser, Aurora.

Don Wotring has returned to his home on Mt. Top where their daughter and son-in-law, Deloris and Vernon Kight, of North Carolina, are presently staying to help with his care.

A holiday dinner on December 22 at the home of Ruth Parks, Eglon, was attended by her children and grandchildren: Sam and Susie Warner, Jill and Scott, Clarksburg; Michelle and DeWain Ford, Amboy; Doris and Sherry Crawford, Nick Rinehart, Burke, Va.; James, Cheryl and Cynthia Parks, Eglon; and Mike and Tammy Markwood, Terra Alta.

Jerry and Mary Lou Wotring of Lambertville, Mich., were visitors last week with his mother, Mrs. Eva Wotring, Cortland Acres Nursing Home, and other area relatives.

Mrs. Paul Stemple of Cortland Acres spent Friday in Aurora with her husband and family, sons Phil and Steve and their families who were visiting from New Jersey and Jacksonville, Fla., respectively.

Thelma and Gene Simpson of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, were Christmas weekend visitors of her mother, Mrs. Mildred Wilt, at Pineview Apartments in Thomas.

Harold and Helen Winters of Columbus, Ohio, were Thursday overnight guests in the home of her sister, Hazel, and Lewis Durst, Amboy.

Spending Christmas week with his parents, Junior and Catherine Knotts, Aurora, were their son and his wife, Robert and Beverly Knotts of Linwood, Wash. Present plans are for the latter to move here this spring and erect a home on the parents' farm which they are purchasing.

Christmas weekend guests of David and Wilma Mae Teets were their son-in-law and daughter, Dick and Mary Lou Miller, of Goldsboro, N.C.

NEW HOMES

Brian and Rose Watts have moved from a mobile home in Eglon to Brookside where they have purchased a home from Kenny Schmidt. Occupying the moble home they left will be Nick and Tracy Arnold.

An open house on Friday evening, December 28, displayed the new log home built by Darla Stemple in Parsons. Decorated for the season, the house has only recently been occupied by the owner who is a Tucker County Emergency Services dispatcher.

SERVICEMEN HOME

Spending a Christmas leave, Sunday to Wednesday, with their families were Scott Dixon, who visited with his parents, David and Virginia Dixon at Amboy, and Tony Lewis. Both are stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., with the 201st Field Artillary pending deployment to Saudi Arabia. Tom Lewis, with the 146th Med. Co. in Ft. Meade, Md., also had Christmas leave with his family. Lt. Scott Winters left Friday for Saudi Arabia from his USAF base in Texas. He is the grandson of George and Jessie Winters, Eglon, and son of Neil and Bonnie Winters, Hutton. Also spending a Christmas leave at home were Gary Baker, son of Steven and Carolyn Baker, Aurora Pike. Gary is with the U.S. Navy stationed in the San Francisco area.

PERSONALS

Robert Fint of Hawaii is spending the holidays with his parents, Glenn and Ilene Fint, Old Fields. Joining him there for Christmas was his daughter, Inger, of Texas. Other guests of the Fints were Joe and Stacy Fint, Courtney, Rebecca and Joey of Aurora, Carl, Nancy, Suzanne, Chuck and Clay Winters of Manassas, Va., and Linda and Jamie Roberson, Morgantown.

Also visiting in Eglon with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Winters were the Carl Winters family of Manassas, who returned to Old Fields on Monday.

Harold and Sandi Kisner, David, Cheryl and Brittany Stemple, all Aurora, spent two weeks in England with the former's daughter and family, Cindy and Robert Goad, and their daughter, Crystal, at Mendenhal AFB. Thev returned to their homes January 2.

Roy Durst, a resident in Heartland at Kingwood, spent Christmas at Amboy with his son and daughter-in-law, Lewis and Hazel Durst, and their family.

Fred Stemple spent Christmas at Aurora with his family at the home of his granddaughter, Debbie, and B.J. Fike, Kimberly, and Kaylan. David and Delores Stemple returned him to the Teets Personal Care Home at Cranesville following his home visit.

Nurses' Group To Hold Program At Ali Ghan Club

District 1 (Allegany/Garrett) of the Maryland Nurses' Association will sponsor a program entitled "Nursing Technology for the '90s" as part of its general meeting on Thursday, January 24, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, near Cumberland. District 1 members, their guests, and all other interested registered nurses are invited to hear Marcia Zanger, RN, discuss current state-of-the-art technologies and preview technologies of the future.

Ms. Zanger will focus her discussion and demonstration on use of these technologies in the hospital or at home; in addition, she will provide practical "trouble-shooting" advice.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for nurses to update their knowledge of current equipment and their skills in manipulating it for their patients' benefit" stated Susan Coyle, RN, MS, president of District 1. "I expect our program will be somewhat informal so that the nurses attending will have many chances to ask questions and to practice using the newest equipment available."

The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. with opportunity for nurses to visit informally. A light dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and Ms. Zanger's presentation will follow at 7:30 p.m. A brief general membership meeting will be held immediately after the presentation; a meeting of the Executive Board is expected to start at 9 p.m.

For further information about the program or to make reservations, nurses should contact Nancy Shircliff, District 1 Treasurer, at 777-0498.

GORMAN

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department, Inc., and The Gorman Ladies Auxiliary, recently held their annual covered dish Christmas dinner. Santa visited with treats and gifts for the children.

The newly elected officers for the ladies auxiliary are as follows: president, Linda Skeweris; vice-president, Ethelwyn Riley; secretary, Thelma Wilt; treasurer, Donna Blamble; reporter, Tina Green; historian, Sandy Blamble; chaplains, Naomi Flanagan, Katie Henline, and Ethelwyn Riley; auditors, Juanita Skeweris and Naomi O'Haver; and guard, Mabel Blamble, Juanita Skeweris and Tina Green.

Anyone wishing to join the auxiliary may contact any member. The meeting will be January 16, at 7:00 p.m.

Miss Sines To Study In Ireland

Cecilia Lynn Sines, a junior at Frostburg State University, will be studying in Limerick, Ireland this semester from January through April.

She is the granddaughter of Lawrence and Shirley Sines, Swallow Falls, and the great-granddaughter of Jonas Sines, Oakland.

Miss Sines is majoring in international law, and will be studying at Mary Immaculate College in Limerick.

She is the daughter of Cecil and Jenny Sines, Baltimore.

DAR Chapter Convenes. DAR History Presented

The Youghiogheny Glades Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met for its regular meeting November 19 in the youth room of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. Mrs. Richard Sherwood, regent, opened the meeting with the ritual and, as an added patriotic gesture, recited the Gettysburg Address. Mrs. George Porter, chaplain, assisted with the ritual.

In the regular business meeting, Mrs. Tom Browning, historian, announced the history theme for this year's essays for the students will be "What the Bill of Rights Means to Me."

Mrs. Robert Proudfoot has advised that the chapter is in need of a safety deposit box in which documents such as the original copy of the Garrett County Graves can be placed. The chapter will act on this suggestion.

The chapter voted to make a contribution for Christmas to the Veterans' Hospital at Perrys Point.

Mrs. Gerald Sanders gave a review from the National Defender magazine which dealt with the Thanksgiving Proclamation given by President George Washington. Mrs. Charles Garman reported that she had placed the DAR marker at the grave of Marguerite Lamberton in Pennsylvania. She also encouraged the members to think of adopting an object from the NSDAR Museum. Mrs. Sanders asked that magazines, paperbacks, playing cards, bibs and bedsocks be donated to the veterans at local nursing homes. These can be brought to the chapter meeting. Members are encouraged to make individual contributions to the activities department at the nursing homes.

Mrs. Sherwood read a letter from the Tomassee School that is DAR sponsored, thanking the chapter for the contribution that Mrs. Paul Calderwood has made in the name of the chapter.

Mrs. William Stemple presented the program, "A Century of Service." She emphasized the three main objectives of the organization: the promotion of education, the promotion of American history with which DAR initiated American History Month and Constitution Week, and third, Patriotic Endeavor. Mrs. Stemple reviewed some history since the founding of the DAR in October 1890 at which time it was incorporated by an Act of Congress. The National Headquarters encompasses a triplex of buildings in Washington — the Memorial Continental Hall, the DAR Constitutional Hall, and the Administration Building. The library and museum are housed here also. The library now has 95,000 books, including unpublished genealogy typescripts and periodicals. Eugenia Washington served as the first Registrar General. Her Revolutionary ancestor was her great-grandfather, Col. Samuel Washington, brother of Gen. George Washington. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, first lady, was elected to the office of President General. Other first ladies who were daughters were Julia Dent Grant, Edith Roosevelt, Florence Harding, Eleanor Roosevelt, Mamie Doud Eisenhower, Rosalyn Smith Carter, Nancy Davis Reagan, and present first lady, Barbara Bush.

"Junior members became our insurance policy and we encourage girls ages 18 through 35 to think seriously of joining our Youghiogheny Glades Chapter," stated a chapter spokesman.

STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

Compartment #12

Bowman Hill

The Maryland Forest, Park & Wildlife Service is offering for sale the following timber on 49 acres of Compartment #12 of Savage River State Forest. Said timber is estimated to cut 323,494 Bd. Ft. of sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, and 350 standard cords of hardwood pulpwood, more or less. All trees 11" DBH and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top DIB with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located on the south side of Bowman Hill Road, .25 mile west of the intersection of Foxtown Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, January 7, 1991. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the intersection of Bowman Hill Road and Foxtown Road at the above date and time.
2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Rt. 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, MD 21536, or phone 895-5759.
3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon submission of the bid to the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service.
4. The operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 to be awarded successful bidding.
5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10% of the bid submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.
6. All timber volumes noted in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. No adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.
7. Bidder may pay 50% of bid price on acceptance of the contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from bid acceptance. If Buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in form acceptable to the state.
8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 p.m. on Monday, January 14, 1991.

Potomac Council Of Scouts Names New Executive

Potomac Council, BSA, announces the recent appointment of Mark A. Henry to the post of Nemacolin Trail District Executive.

Henry is a graduate of St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa., having studied political science and public administration. Previously, he was employed by the Pennsylvania Department of Education and was involved in a program serving homeless children and youth.

He is an Eagle Scout and has been active in Scout Leadership, including tenure as an assistant scoutmaster. He is an active Order of the Arrow member and has received numerous Scouting and service awards over the past several years.

Henry resides in Cumberland and plans to marry this spring.

Scouts To Hold Popcorn Sale

For the fourth consecutive year, the Scouts of Potomac Council, BSA, will sell Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn.

So that all units will be ready when the sale begins, the following District kick-off meetings are planned: Nemacolin Trail, Tuesday, Jan. 8, 7:30 p.m., LaVale United Methodist Church, National Highway, LaVale; Tri-Valley, Monday, Jan. 7, 7 p.m., Romney United Methodist Church; Deep Creek, Tuesday, Jan. 8, 7:30 p.m., at Bausch and Lomb, Oakland.

According to Kim Leonard, Council Special Projects chair, all necessary materials will be distributed at these meetings. Leaders from all units are urged to attend and participate in this year's sale. Proceeds from the sale benefit individual units and Council projects such as ongoing maintenance of Camp Potomac.

Brad Burr, Council executive, says that BSA policy states that all fund-raisers involve "items of worth and value" to the customers. "Trail's End popcorn more than fills the bill," said Burr, "being a nutritious product at a reasonable price."

The sale will run through the end of January. Persons not contacted by a scout but desiring to try Trails' End and support Scouting in the area may call the Council Service Center at 301-729-1300 to order. Both regular and microwavable popcorn will be available.

Potomac Council BSA serves Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant counties, West Virgnia, and is a County United Way agency.

Aglow Fellowship Meeting Scheduled

The Women's Aglow Fellowship, Cumberland Chapter, will meet Wednesday, January 16, at 10 a.m. in the Club Room of the Kensington/Algonquin, Cumberland. Light refreshments will be available preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Fran Bolyard, WAIJ radio personality, will be the speaker. The meeting is open to the public, and men, as well as clergy, are encouraged to attend.

The Cumberland chapter of Aglow sponsors monthly birthday parties for the residents of the Queen City Towers; a biweekly Bible study for the residents of the Kensington; and a Bible study for the general public the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

HOT FROM THE OVEN!

PEPPER-CHEESE BISCUIT FINGERS

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ teaspoon pepper
⅔ cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup buttermilk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Combine first 5 ingredients in a medium mixing bowl, cut in 3 tablespoons butter with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add buttermilk, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, and knead lightly 4 or 5 times. Roll dough to a 12x9-inch rectangle, cut into 3x1½-inch rectangles. Place on lightly greased baking sheets, brush with melted butter. Bake at 450F for 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 2 dozen.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS

1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
⅓ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk

Combine first 5 ingredients, cut in shortening with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Combine egg and milk. Add milk mixture to flour mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, and knead 4 or 5 times. Roll dough to ½-inch thickness, cut with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake at 450F for 12 minutes. Yield: 20 biscuits.

UP-AND-DOWN BISCUITS

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ cup shortening
⅔ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter of margarine, melted
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon ground cinnamon

Combine first 5 ingredients, cut in shortening with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, and knead lightly 4 or 5 times. Roll dough to a 2x10-inch rectangle, ¼-inch thick, brush with melted butter. Combine ¼ cup sugar and cinnamon, sprinkle over dough. Cut lengthwise into five 2-inch-wide strips. Stack strips, cinnamon side up, on top of each other. Cut stack into 2-inch sections. Place each stacked section, cut side down, into lightly greased muffin pans. Bake at 425F for 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 10 biscuits.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon shortening
¾ cup milk

Combine flour, baking powder, and salt, stir well. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Sprinkle milk evenly over flour mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, knead lightly 10 to 12 times. Roll dough to ½-inch thickness, cut with a 2¾-inch biscuit cutter. Place biscuits on a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake at 450F for 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 1 dozen.

WHOLE WHEAT BISCUITS

HONEY-WHEAT MUFFINS

1 cup all-purpose flour
½ cup whole wheat flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
½ cup honey
¼ cup vegetable oil

Combine first 5 ingredients in a large bowl, make a well in center of mixture. Combine egg, milk, honey, and oil, add dry ingredients, stirring just until moistened. Spoon into greased muffin pans, filling two-thirds full. Bake at 375F for 20 minutes or until done. Remove from pans immediately. Yield: 1 dozen.

BLUE CHEESE BISCUITS

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 (10-ounce) package refrigerated biscuits

Combine butter and blue cheese in a small saucepan, cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until butter and cheese melt. Stir in lemon juice, and cook over medium heat 1 minute or until slightly thickened. Pour mixture into a 9-inch round cakepan. Cut each biscuit into quarters, and place on top of mixture. Bake at 400F for 10 to 12 minutes or until browned. Yield: 10 servings.

Classic Southern Fare: Gingerbread With Lemon Sauce

Years ago, colonists used molasses for flavor and as a source of energy. Today, molasses is still a preferred ingredient, adding just the right flavor to that Southern classic, Gingerbread with Lemon Sauce.

Bisquick baking mix, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg are blended with the richness of molasses to make this gingerbread delight a special treat at any time of day.

Gingerbread With Lemon Sauce
2 cups Bisquick baking mix
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
2/3 cup dark molasses
1/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
Lemon Sauce (below)

Heat oven to 325°. Grease and flour square pan, 9x9x2 inches. Beat all ingredients in large bowl on low speed 30 seconds, scraping bowl constantly. Beat on medium speed 3 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Pour into pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan before turning onto serving plate. Serve with Lemon Sauce. 9 servings.

Lemon Sauce

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/2 cups water
1 egg yolk, beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/3 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix sugar and cornstarch in 4-cup microwavable measure. Gradually stir in water. Microwave uncovered on high 4 to 5 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until mixture boils and thickens. Stir small amount of hot mixture into beaten egg yolk. Stir egg yolk mixture into remaining mixture in 4-cup measure until smooth. Microwave 30 to 60 seconds or until mixture begins to bubble around edge. Stir in remaining ingredients. 2 1/2 cups sauce.

No-cholesterol Gingerbread with Lemon Sauce: Substitute 2 egg whites or 1/4 cup cholesterol-free egg product for the egg, skim milk for the milk and 2 tablespoons vegetable oil for the 1/4 cup shortening. Omit egg yolk and use margarine in sauce.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): For No-Cholesterol Gingerbread with Lemon Sauce, heat oven to 375°. Add 1/3 cup all-purpose flour. Omit 1/4 cup sugar. Increase eggs to 2. Bake about 35 minutes.

BREAKFAST DROP SCONES

3 cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup currants or chopped raisins
1 cup milk
Cinnamon Glaze

Combine biscuit mix, sugar, and currants, add milk, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Drop dough by heaping tablespoonfuls onto a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake at 425F for 10 minutes. Brush with Cinnamon Glaze, and bake 2 to 5 minutes or until browned. Yield: 2 dozen biscuits.

Cinnamon Glaze:
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
1 tablespoon half-and-half

Combine all ingredients, mixing until blended. Yield: about ¼ cup.

BACON-CHEESE BISCUITS

2 cups self-rising flour
1 tablespoon sugar
⅓ cup shortening
1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon baking soda
¾ pound sliced bacon, cooked and crumbled
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese

Combine flour and sugar in large bowl, cut in shortening with a pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Set aside. Combine buttermilk and soda in a small bowl, stirring until soda dissolves. Add buttermilk mixture, crumbled bacon, and shredded cheese to flour mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface, and knead lightly 4 or 5 times. Roll dough to ½-inch thickness, cut with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake at 425F for 10 to 12 minutes. Yield about 1½ dozen.

FOUR STRINGS

Only four strings! But these four strings offer endless possibilities of tone and harmony. They open to us new horizons of beauty and happiness. And yet, improperly played, these four strings can bring forth unbelievable discord!

There are four strings in life with similar possibilities. They are mind, character, courage and faith.

The truths that fill our minds, the ideals that mold our character, the purposes to which our courage is given, the realities in which we believe can fill our lives with rich beauty and happiness or drab ugliness and sorrow.

For centuries our churches and synagogues have been the maestro of these strings of life—helping people bring forth the harmony and beauty God has put in their souls.

You can find music in everyday living through regular worship and prayer.

EQUAL PAY FOR EQUAL WORK?

December 30, 1990

Background Scripture: Matthew 19:27 thru 20:16.
Devotional Reading: Luke 5:1-11.

Let's get it straight from the very beginning: this parable, commonly called the "Parable of the Laborers in the Vineyard," is not about employment, economics, labor policies, or human rights. It is about the grace of God and the story—on the surface a tale of seeming unfairness—is merely the vehicle.

I was about to say also that Jesus would probably have been better off if he hadn't used this particular parable. It gets people so upset and for the wrong reasons! It takes so much careful explaining and even then some people go away grumbling. But maybe that's why Jesus told this particular parable: it gets people's attention and perhaps brings them to an understanding of grace that they won't quickly forget.

"NOT FAIR!"

The controversy over the story is in the payment policies of the vineyard owner. Needing to have his crop picked swiftly, he hires laborers at nine a.m., noon, three and five p.m. and then proceeds to pay everyone the same wage. Those who worked but one hour received the same pay as those who worked all day. It's not fair, is it? The laborers should have been paid on the basis of how long they worked.

Or should they? Suppose that a denarius was an overpayment for even those who worked all day. In other words, suppose what they were paid was not what they were worth to the vineyard owner, but considerably more. If the vineyard owner were just being "fair," perhaps he would have paid them less than a denarius. That would mean that everyone's pay that day was not a wage, but a gift. And since it was a gift, "Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?" (Matthew 20:15).

As I said before, this parable is not about fair or unfair employment practices. It is about the grace of God. And the grace of God cannot be put on a "piece rate" or a time clock.

THE MERIT SYSTEM

Something else we need to get straight is that, although most of life is based on the merit system, one's relationship with God is not. Generally, schools, scouting, athletic teams, organizations, businesses—just about everything in which we engage in life—offer advancement on the basis of merit. The best high school students have the best chances of getting in college. The best salespeople are more likely to rise to the top of their companies. (A possible exception is the field of politics.)

But the favor that God bestows upon us is a matter of grace—love that we receive even though we do not deserve it on a merit basis. God's love, like the wages given to the workers in the vineyard, is far in excess of what we deserve. Thank God that none of us gets what we deserve!

In the parable the owner of the vineyard says, "Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me?" That is God speaking about his grace to those of us who are upset by the thought that he might give that same grace to someone we deem unworthy of it. "Or do you begrudge me my generosity?" The answer is that sometimes some of us do begrudge God giving others the grace he bestows upon us. The parable is God's answer to those of us who are so presumptuous.

"Equal pay for equal work" is a good and necessary principle in much of life. But not when the grace of God is concerned. Then it is all grace.

Life under perestroika examined

By Christy Bergslien

See how perestroika and the dawn of democracy have shaken one Soviet family's world. TNT's documentary A Taste of Freedom, airing Monday, Jan. 7, captures the current turmoil in contemporary Russia.

The land mass the size of China and India combined, the highest winds and the lowest temperatures on earth, 30 million seals and 100 million penguins: This is Antarctica. Antarctica: The Last Frontier explores the great continent and what may become of it if oil and mineral exploration are sanctioned. The Disney Channel documentary premieres Sunday, Jan. 6.

When Barbara and Oliver Rose got married, who knew they'd take " 'til death do us part" so seriously? The War of the Roses, debuting Jan. 6 on HBO, stars Michael Douglas and Kathleen Turner as a well-to-do couple who prove war may be hell, but divorce is worse.

It's a good cop vs. a very, very bad cop in the riveting precinct thriller Internal Affairs. Andy Garcia (Godfather III) plays a hotshot L.A. investigator. His nemesis is Richard Gere (Pretty Woman), a smooth-talking street cop, drug trafficker and murderer. And who knows — the best way to Garcia may be through his neglected but pretty wife. The drama airs Saturday, Jan. 12, on HBO.

Mel Gibson, Burt Reynolds and Danny Glover celebrate the spectacular career of the late stuntman Dar Robinson. Robinson pioneered highfall technology and held 33 world records for stunt work. Chuck Norris hosts The Discovery Channel's Discovery Sunday Jan. 6.

'Dillinger' re-made for television

Mark Harmon and Sherilyn Fenn star

By Amy Schmidt

On the evening of July 22, 1934, John Dillinger went to the movies. He was 31 years old. He had been Public Enemy No. 1 for exactly one month. With his girlfriend, Polly, and her landlady, Anna — radiant in her red dress — he went to see Clark Gable in a gangster movie at the Biograph Theatre in Chicago. So the story went and so the story goes.

On Sunday, Jan. 6, ABC continues the Dillinger film legacy with the premiere of Dillinger, starring Mark Harmon and screendom's heir apparent Sherilyn Fenn. The first made-for-TV movie on the subject, the film is a David L. Wolper production, produced by his son Mark.

Such is the clout of Wolper Productions that ABC asked them what kind of movie they had always wanted to do. (Wolper's long history of credits includes the beginning and ending ceremonies of the Olympics, Roots and North and South.) Dillinger was their answer.

Why would anyone want to re-make a movie that has been done twice before? The first Dillinger was made in 1945 and starred Lawrence Tierney. (Film buffs will spot Tierney making a cameo appearance in this film.) The second starred Warren Oates in 1973.

Mark Wolper explained that what his company sought to do was create a film that was as historically correct as possible. He believes his Dillinger is the most accurate of the three. For example, contrary to popular belief, Polly Hamilton, Dillinger's girlfriend, was not "the woman in red" who fingered him for the FBI that fateful night. The handmaiden of history was a woman named Anna Sage, a disreputable immigrant who set up Dillinger in a deal to avoid deportation. (Hamilton is played by Patricia Arquette and Sage by Lucy Childs for the ABC movie.)

According to Wolper, this is the story: In the summer of 1933, John Dillinger was just another ex-convict released after having served a prison term for attempted robbery. A year later he was the most wanted man in America, with a series of flamboyant bank robberies and two jail breaks to his discredit.

Mark Harmon and Twin Peaks' Sherilyn Fenn play gangster John Dillinger and his gal Billie Frechette in the story of the demise of one of America's most-wanted criminals. Dillinger airs Sunday on ABC.

It was Dillinger's arrogant style that made him an FBI target. He delighted in informing the press when federal agents blew an easy chance to catch him. So brazen was he, that he took one of his preferred ladies, Billie Frechette (Fenn), for a nearly public picnic at his father's family farm, inviting the neighbors to be photographed with the outlaw.

Dillinger, as Wolper would have it, was actually a likeable character with many friends and supporters.

ABC's Dillinger was filmed in well-preserved areas of Milwaukee, Wis., resembling Chicago. Shooting a period film from 50 years ago was no easy task. The main problem, said Wolper, was eager Milwaukeeans in modern dress appearing on roofs and windows in the street scenes. Then there was the problem of telephone lines and freeways showing up in the shots.

Even so, Wolper says his film is extremely stylish, and that he and ABC are pleased. But you can be its judge.

Clare Wren's character adds spice to 'Young Riders'

By Candace Havens

Everywhere you look these days, the western genre is in full swing. ABC's popular series The Young Riders is one example.

The show centers around a group of young men who deliver mail along a rugged Pony Express route.

This season a new house mother for The Young Riders was introduced, Rachel Dunn (Clare Wren). "My character is a wiley woman," commented Wren in a recent interview. "They brought her (Rachel) in, I think, because they are starting to develop the sexuality of all the characters on the show. She is not just a mother to the guys. She's close enough in age that she is sort of a contemporary. There is this wonderful tension, yet she is very maternal," the actress said.

"The role is a lot more fun because nothing is wrong for the character. She has been through so much. She can go in any direction and she will be OK."

Born in New Orleans, Wren grew up in Texarkana, Ark. She attended a performing arts high school in Boston, where she first became interested in acting.

After graduating from Southern Methodist University's Professional Acting Program in Dallas, she moved to L.A. and did guest stints on several television programs. She has also done films, including Steel and Lace, due out in January; Season of Fear; No Man's Land and Extremities.

There are a few gems when it comes to jamming

By Steven Alan McGaw

There are, of course, a lot of very bland concert films on video, but every once in a while there's a gem. Featured this week are two shows on tape that I'd highly recommend.

Michelle Shocked: The Captain Swing Revue

In interviews (and album covers), folk/jazz/protest singer Michelle Shocked often presents a rather intimidating figure, her piercing eyes and closely cropped hair indicative of her opinionated nature and political militancy. On stage, however, Shocked clearly wants and works to entertain.

This video concentrates on selections from the jazzy Captain Swing album and songs like "Looks Like Mona Lisa" and "Little Sister." Still, it's her folkier tunes like "Anchorage" (from her first record) that give the show its emotional center.

Roy Orbison: A Black & White Night

Originally taped as part of Cinemax's excellent Sessions series, this show features the late legend performing with an incredible all-star band including Bruce Springsteen, Elvis Costello, k.d. lang, Tom Waits, Jackson Browne and James Burton. Orbison cuts loose with energetic, dramatic renditions of classics like "Crying," "In Dreams," "Runnin' Scared" and, of course, "Pretty Woman." The show also features a few selections from Orbison's last album, Mystery Girl.

Meredith Baxter-Birney (right) plays an alcoholic ex-reporter whose son has been kidnapped in CBS' Bump in the Night, Sunday. Wings Hauser (left) co-stars.

Meredith Baxter-Birney exercises dramatic wings

Actress plays mother facing huge odds

By Mary Ann Townsend

Meredith Baxter-Birney exercises her dramatic wings once again in Bump in the Night, airing Sunday, Jan. 6, on CBS.

The actress, who starred for seven years in the comedy Family Ties, explores the opposite emotion as an alcoholic former reporter searching for her kidnapped son.

"I was scared to play this person, and that's usually a good indication that it's something I should try," Baxter-Birney said of her fictional character, Martha "Red" Tierney.

Despite so many odds for her character to overcome, Baxter-Birney said Bump in the Night doesn't lose sight of the main focus of finding the kidnapped 8-year-old. But the movie offers no pointers on preventing such an event, she said; in fact the message is scary.

"The little boy does everything right. He doesn't want to talk to this man, the man who kidnaps him. He offers him no information, but just by the questions he asks," Baxter-Birney said, "the guy is offered just enough to know where to go."

Bump in the Night is one of Baxter-Birney's favorite dramatic roles; another was the title role in 1988's Winnie, about a woman suffering the physical effects of bulimia. On a lighter note, the actress said there is one thing she would look for in her next drama.

"I'm desperate to do a drama with mascara and blush," she said, referring to her haggard-looking characters. "I would have killed for a hairdo. They'd bring the makeup people in before we'd start and they'd bring a mirror over and say, 'Oh, just don't (bother).'"

Elizabeth Perkins in demand since film debut in 1986

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Could you please tell me about my favorite actress, Elizabeth Perkins, her background, age and if she is married? —Harry Kolb, Scranton, Pa.

A: The 29-year-old Elizabeth Perkins was born in Queens, N.Y., but grew up on a farm in Vermont. After graduating from the Mount Hermon Prep School in Northfield, Mass., she enrolled at the Goodman School of Drama in Chicago. After a six-year stay in Chicago, she returned to New York and won a role in the national touring company of Brighton Beach Memoirs and later recreated the role on Broadway. Since her 1986 film debut in About Last Night..., Perkins has become in demand for more films. She has starred in From the Hip, Sweet Heart's Dance, Love at Large, Big, Enid Is Sleeping and The Family. She was also part of the large ensemble cast in Queen's Logic. Perkins resides in Los Angeles and is married to actor Terry Kinney.

Elizabeth Perkins

Q: Two short questions: Where can I write to Marlee Matlin? What is the woman's name who plays Dr. Crane's wife on Cheers and where can I write her? —William Blizzard, Westernport, Md.

A: Write to: Marlee Matlin, 121 N. San Vincente Blvd., Beverly Hills, CA 90211. The role of Lilith Sternin-Crane is played by Bebe Neuwirth. Write to her: c/o Cheers, NBC-TV Audience Response, 3000 W. Alameda Ave., Burbank, CA 91523.

Q: Could you settle a bet for me? Was Charles Bronson in the film Baby, the Rain Must Fall? The film must be at least 20 years old. —M. Kegley, Northfield, N.J.

A: The film Baby, the Rain Must Fall was released in 1965 and starred Steve McQueen, Lee Remick, Don Murray and Paul Fix. This is not a Charles Bronson movie. However, you can see it for yourself as it is available on tape.

Q: Several years ago, maybe in the '40s or '50s, I saw a movie with Frank Sinatra and I believe his co-star was a gal by the name of Mary Peach. I would like to know the year it was made, the name of the movie and whatever happened to her? —H.C.M., Menominee, Mich.

A: Sorry, I cannot find a movie listing Mary Peach and Frank Sinatra as co-stars. Her credits begin in 1957 and include Follow That Horse, Room at the Top, No Love for Johnnie, A Pair of Briefs, A Gathering of Eagles, Ballad in Blue, The Projected Man and Scrooge. Born in 1937, she was a British leading lady. Sorry, I haven't any information on her today.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered.

TIME OUT

ABC dives into swimming

By Steve Paschal

ABC goes to the Land Down Under this week for coverage of the World Swimming and Diving Championships.

Gary Bender, John Naber and Donna de Varona will be in Perth, Australia, providing extensive coverage of the 10-day event that draws the top amateur athletes from around the globe. ABC will air three segments beginning with preliminary competition Sunday, Jan. 6, then returning Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 12 and 13, with same-day finals coverage.

Bender will serve as anchor, while de Varona and Naber provide color commentary. Bender joined ABC in 1987 as a play-by-play announcer on ABC's Monday Night Football after 13 years with CBS Sports. Other assignments have included regional coverage of college football and basketball, play-by-play announcing on ABC's coverage of Major League Baseball and various roles on ABC's Wide World of Sports. He also served as speed skating commentator for the 1988 Winter Olympics.

The other members of the sportscasting team bring experience into the booth unsurpassed in television sports. Naber won four gold medals at the 1976 Olympic Games and set world records in both the 100- and 200-meter backstroke. He was also a member of the world-record setting 4x200-meter freestyle relay and the 4x100-meter medley relay teams.

De Varona, a two-time Olympic gold medalist, is perhaps the most widely recognized swimmer in the United States. Once only a swimming analyst for ABC Sports and now a commentator in several areas, she is also an author, lecturer, political activist, volunteer and athlete.

Steven Weber (left) and Timothy Daly (right) play the Hackett brothers on NBC's comedy Wings, moving to Thursdays. Crystal Bernard plays the love interest of both.

'Wings' outflaps 'Grand,' moves to Thursday nights

Clever ads promote NBC sitcom

By Christy Bergslien

The cast of NBC's Wings were among those most excited by the announcement of the network's line-up change, which is rumored to occur in January. The half-hour comedy, airing Friday nights, will move to 9:30 EST Thursdays, deposing defunct Grand. Sandwiched between ratings reapers The Cosby Show and L.A. Law, it should glean good numbers.

"The people who watch our show are not home on Friday night," said Wings star Crystal Bernard, on break in her dressing room. "We were in the top 10 when we were on Thursday night last season, so they're going to move us back there."

Bernard plays attractive Helen Chappel, the formerly fat waitress who works behind Nantucket airport's lunch counter. Co-starring with Bernard are Timothy Daly of Diner fame and Steven Weber of In the Line of Duty: A Cop for the Killing. The two play at-odds brothers who run a fledgling commuter airline service.

NBC has cleverly been promoting Wings with short commercial clips of the show's stars gliding about in a spoof of Calvin Klein's Obsession ads.

Also this season, the now pretty Helen will begin dating both brothers. "It's such a blast doing scenes with Tim (Daly)," confessed Bernard. "There's something about him.... Have you ever seen him do screen kisses?" she asked earnestly. "Tim's fantastic. He's just like one of those passionate — not yucky, but passionate — kissers!"

It sounds like Bernard is excited about more than just the show's new time slot.

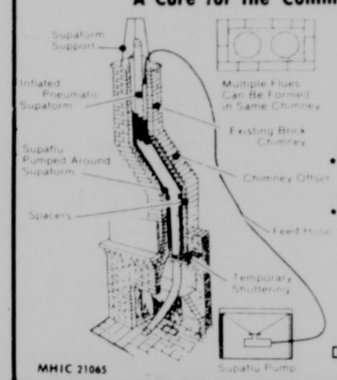
PROGRAM ON YOUGH RIVER SLATED — The Friend Family Association of America will sponsor an informational program on the wild and scenic portions of the Youghiogheny River on Monday, Jan. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Friendsville School auditorium. Representatives of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources will speak about the past, present, and future of these sections of the river, which lie between Oakland and Friendsville. The public is invited to attend this free program.



On Dean's List

Two area students were among those named to the dean's list for the fall term at Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va., according to Dr. Carl H. Caldwell, dean of academic affairs.

Susan Rebecca Caruthers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Caruthers, Oakland, was among those named to the list for having achieved a grade point average of at least 3.2 on a 4.0 scale. A graduate of Southern High School, she is a senior, majoring in business administration.

Also named to the list was Elizabeth A. Whitehair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitehair, Rt. 50, near Aurora. Ms. Whitehair is a senior, majoring in elementary education.

Tax Assistance Volunteers Sought By Area Agency

Volunteers are needed for the AARP tax help program for the elderly in Garrett County under the sponsorship of the Area Agency on Aging, according to an Agency spokesman.

Schooling on income tax preparation will be given, proper reference books will be provided, and work with an experienced counselor will be done, the spokesman said.

Volunteers willing to work one or two days a week, four hours a day during February, and March, and the first two weeks of April are needed in Garrett County.

Interested people should call Bea Crosco at 334-2147 or 334-3153 or Jane Sickeler at 334-5856 or 334-9431.

Free Eye Exams To Be Offered By Optometrists

Low-income workers in Maryland who are in need of eye care but can't afford it may be able to get a free eye examination through a nationwide volunteer program started by optometrists.

Members of the Maryland Optometric Association will be helping to celebrate Save Your Vision Week (March 3-9) in the state by participating in the program called VISION, USA.

"Qualified persons for the free eye examinations need to sign up during January," explained Dr. Paul Brant, an optometrist in Salisbury who is chairman of the Maryland effort. "Between 75 and 80 Maryland optometrists will be participating in the program," he said.

VISION, USA is a non-profit charity started by optometrists in 1985 to provide basic eye health and vision care services without charge, to individuals who have no other means of obtaining care.

To qualify for the free care, persons must (1) be working or be part of a family with one working member; (2) have no health insurance; (3) have income below an established level based on family size; and (4) have had no eye examination within 12 months.

"In today's high technology workplace, the ability to see well takes on added importance. The member of the Maryland Optometric Association feel that by providing low-income workers with eye care we may help some of them move up the ladder to better paying jobs," Dr. Brant said.

To apply for the free eye care, people who meet the criteria should call the VISION, USA program at the national toll free number: 1-800-766-4466. This number will only be in operation during the month of January. Those who qualify for care will be matched with one of the volunteer doctors of optometry in their community.

The Maryland Optometric Association will help provide lenses at little or no cost to those who qualify for the examinations and who are determined to be in need of glasses.

Goldstein Lists Options For Paying Estimated Taxes

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reminds the 275,000 Maryland taxpayers who make quarterly estimated income tax payments that they have two options in filing final estimated tax payments for 1990.

Taxpayers may submit a fourth quarter declaration of estimated tax payment by Tuesday, January 15, 1991 — or they can wait and file a complete 1990 Maryland income tax return on or before Thursday, January 31, 1991.

"Any balance due must be paid in full when filing the regular return," Goldstein said.

Generally, taxpayers who earn income which is not subject to withholding should be filing quarterly declarations of estimated tax (Form 502D) if their state and local tax is expected to be more than $100. "If you're not sure whether you should be filing estimated tax payments, get a copy of our income tax tip No. 8 at any state income tax office or by calling 1-800-MD TAXES," Goldstein said.

In order to avoid interest charges, taxpayers must pay either 90% of their total 1990 Maryland income tax liability or 100% of their 1989 Maryland income tax liability through employer withholding or estimated tax payments, unless the income is from wagering, awards or prizes.

Taxpayers must file Form 502D with payment in full within 60 days of receiving $500 or more of income from wagering awards, prizes, lotteries or raffles, whether paid in cash or property. Maryland State Lottery winnings of more than $5,000 are subject to tax withholding and a declaration of estimated tax is not required.

"Many taxpayers also like to pay their state estimated tax payments before December 31 each year, so they can claim that payment as an itemized deduction on their federal income tax return," Goldstein said.

A 100-YEAR TRADITION
The Woodmen was founded in 1890. Today, many four- and five-generation families know of the many extra services that are traditional with the Woodmen. And one of the most important is "service after the sale." In the Woodmen, every member has an assigned "personal" Field Representative, a trained, experienced representative who is a part of a career agency system that is a tradition with the Woodmen.

Simple weight loss for your not-so-simple lifestyle.

Weight Watchers NEW! PERSONAL CHOICE PROGRAM

Wouldn't you love a weight-loss program that lets you enjoy the foods you like — when and where you like — right from day one? That lets you choose the amount of food you eat? That lets you go from a structured format to complete flexibility whenever you want?
The new Personal Choice Program is the easiest Weight Watchers plan ever — an innovative weight-loss program featuring three levels that differ in amount of food and eating flexibility. You lose weight at your own pace by choosing the level that best meets your needs.
Norma Mais, Area Director

Three ways to thin.

Level One provides the fastest healthy weight loss. It's designed for people who are highly motivated to lose weight and who can follow a structured program.
Level Two, for moderate weight loss, is for those who prefer more food choices and more food plan flexibility.
Level Three is a gradual weight loss plan which allows people to eat the most food and enjoy the widest variety while continuing to lose weight.

You move, you still lose.
Now, you no longer have to abandon your weight-loss program to go to a party, take a vacation or eat in a restaurant. You simply move to a different food plan level that particular week.

All's fare in the Personal Choice Program.

On each level, you'll enjoy an incredible variety of real food.
Delicious, nutritious food is critical to eating healthy. So Weight Watchers doesn't have powdered drinks, or make you buy pre-rationed, boxed meals.

Join now. Pay only $15
Sign up today and save $13 off the regular $28 joining price. The new Personal Choice Program makes losing weight simple, even when life isn't.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army Pvt. Edward A. Helbig, a heavy anti-armor weapons infantryman, has arrived for duty at Camp Casey, South Korea.

Helbig is the son of Phylis B. and Eugene D. Helbig, Oakland. He is a 1990 graduate of Southern High School.

U.S. Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Michael C. Smith, son of Larry N. and Sandra V. Smith, Route 5, Oakland, recently reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

A 1986 graduate of Southern High School, Oakland, he joined the Navy in December 1988.

U.S. Navy Seaman Recruit Paul L. Niner, son of Betty M. Hare, Route 1, Accident, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lake, Ill.

During Niner's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1990 graduate of Northern High School, Niner joined the Navy in September 1990.

LETTERMEN SUPPORT FOOD PANTRY — The Northern High School Lettermen's Club recently raised $300 from a community knife sale to benefit the House of Hope Food Drive in the northern end of the county. The food pantry is an affiliate of the House of Hope located in Oakland. Grantsville Foodland keeps an ongoing account for the food pantry. The food pantry is housed at the Bittinger Fire Hall. Pictured left to right are Mildred Wucik, principal at Northern; Stacy Fike, a representative of the Lettermen's Club, presenting a check to Don Sealing, co-manager of the food pantry; Rob DeVore, representing Grantsville Foodland; and Roy W. Beitzel, co-manager of the food pantry.

Obituaries

WADE O. CODDINGTON

Wade Owen Coddington, 67, of Camp Hill, Pa., died Friday, Dec. 28, 1990 at Holy Spirit Hospital, Camp Hill.

Born Jan. 1, 1923, in Accident, he was the son of the late Earl L. and Vesta I. (Beeghly) Coddington.

Mr. Coddington was a retired SP-5 with the U.S. Army and a retired truck driver with Hemp Brothers, of Harrisburg, Pa.

He is survived by his wife, Mildred B. (Sisler) Coddington; two stepsons, Brad E. Frazee, Uniontown, Pa.; and James D. Linn, Brandon, Fla.; one stepdaughter, Lesa R. Frazee, Mechanicsburg, Pa.; three brothers, Leo Coddington, Oakland; Raymond Coddington, Accident; and Donald Coddington, Circleville, Ohio; five sisters, Evelyn Georg and Betty Rittenhouse both of Friendsville; Helen Keller, Accident; Jean Mettscher, Dayton, Ohio; and Gladys Savage, McHenry.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville, Sunday.

A service was conducted Monday at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, in Accident, by the Rev. William Shimer.

Interment was in the church cemetery, where graveside military honors were accorded by the American Legion.

The family requests that memorials take the form of contributions to the Heart Association.

OPERATION DESERT SHIELD

MAIL CALL

As American forces continue their assignment in "Operation Desert Shield" in the Middle East, mail becomes even more important as a morale builder and an expression of public support of their service.

The Republican proudly lists the names and addresses of those local service personnel who are now stationed there, either in Saudi Arabia or other Middle East nations. We hope local residents will take a few moments to drop a line to these young men and women. It is not necessary to be personally acquainted with these local soldiers or with anyone else in the armed services to send him or her a letter. Expressions of upbeat support, humor, and words of good cheer will mean a lot.

Letters to anyone in the Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps, land-based in Saudi Arabia, may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Shield
APO New York 09848-0006

Letters to anyone in the Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps at sea may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Shield
FPO New York 09866-0006

We will publish this list periodically over the next several weeks. Names and addresses of other local service personnel not listed here are welcome and will be added for future publication.

PAL™: The Revco Difference

There are so many things that make the pharmacy at Revco different from any other pharmacy. Like Prescription Access Link (PAL)™. PAL is the Revco state-of-the-art pharmacy computer system that enables our pharmacists to serve you better. When you have a prescription filled at Revco, your pertinent prescription, insurance and medical information are stored in the PAL computer system.

So no matter which Revco you visit... from Cleveland to Atlanta... the Revco pharmacist on duty will be able to review your prescription history and advise you on the correct usage of your medication. And it makes refilling your prescription quick and convenient.

Revco is the only drug store chain that has the PAL computer system. So you can be sure you're getting the personalized information and attention you deserve. Seems like too much to expect from other drug stores. But exactly what you get from Revco.

Md's Non-Tidal Wetland Program Now Underway

Another step in the state's effort to restore the Chesapeake Bay was taken this week as the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) began to implement Maryland's new nontidal wetlands protection program.

The new program is the result of legislation passed by the 1989 General Assembly to curb destruction of vital nontidal wetlands in the state. Marshes, swamps and similar inland, freshwater areas are known to filter pollution from water entering streams and the bay, control erosion, store flood waters and provide wildlife habitat.

Under the new program, as of January 1, 1991, anyone planning work in a nontidal wetland must apply for authorization from the state. Agricultural and forestry activities are exempt from the DNR permit process, but may require Soil Conservation District approval and a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permit.

A number of steps have been taken to assist the public in obtaining information on the state's new nontidal wetlands regulations:

1. Applications for wetland permits may be obtained by writing to DNR's Water Resources Administration, Wetlands and Waterways Program, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, Md. 21401, or by calling (301) 974-3877.

2. A new toll-free number, 1-800-876-0200, is available for anyone desiring information on the status of new nontidal wetlands permit applications. Such assistance will be provided at this number from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. General program information may be obtained by calling (301) 974-3841 during the same hours.

3. The state is opening a new regional nontidal wetlands office January 7, at DNR's Eastern Regional Service Center located at 201 Baptist Street, Salisbury, Md., 21801. The phone number is (301) 543-6703, and hours of operation are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

4. To further assist the public, maps that identify general nontidal wetlands locations are now available at the following locations: DNR, Soil Conservation District offices, Corps of Engineer's Baltimore office and Salisbury State University's Image Processing and Remote Sensing Center. Copies are also being sent to local government offices. In-

EXERCISING IN THE SNOW in the form of cross-country skiing can make the best of an otherwise bad situation. Just ask senior Charlie Morris (shown foreground), who took advantage of the 10 inches of white precipitation the county received Sunday night and Monday. He joined some friends at Swallow Falls State Park trails this week. Cross-country skiing has gained popularity with tourists and county residents over the past few years as yet another way to endure the long, sometimes harsh, winters. Downhill skiers also enjoyed the fresh snow at area ski slopes this week although freezing rain and sleet made the going a bit crunchy. More intermittent snow and rain are predicted for the remainder of the week.

Record Number Attending GCC's '91 Intersession

A total of 90 students are currently enrolled in the 1991 Intersession at Garrett Community College. According to Deloris Edgar, this marks the highest registration for an Intersession semester in the college's history.

Students are taking academic courses in the morning: CS 105 Introduction to Computers, MAT 95 Introductory Algebra, PSY III Life Style Planning, PSY 150 Psychology of Human Relations, and SPC 101 Basic Speech.

Some students are taking the practica for the Resort Management Program in food service and preparation, accommodations, and events management. In addition, a number of students are enrolled in the skiing courses being offered at the Wisp Resort in the afternoons.

According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, the concept of Intersession has once again proven to be popular with the students and will probably be continued in future years.

Young Local Man Pleads Guilty To Burglary Charge

A 17-year-old Oakland youth pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in Garrett County Circuit Court this week, where he was tried as an adult. Judge Fred A. Thayer accepted the plea, and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

William P. Gank was indicted in September by the Grand Jury after he was involved in the Sept. 1 breaking and entering of the Ferdinand Bauman residence near the intersection of Fricks Crossing and Garrett Road, near Deer Park. Gank and another suspect reportedly kicked in the back window of the unoccupied residence to gain entry and stole several bottles of beer from the refrigerator.

Gank and the accomplice then left the home. Two to three hours later they returned, apparently accompanied by two others, and the four individuals proceeded to rummage through drawers and cabinets. They broke a glass top table and damaged chairs, ceiling tiles, and articles of clothing. The group also allegedly set fire to wash cloths and other cloth items.

During the incident, Gank allegedly took a knife sharpener, a file, and a blanket from the residence. One of the suspects (not Gank) carved the word "Satan" into a wooden cabinet door, and Gank then carved the word "Glacy," a word which apparently came from a joke he had previously made.

The Garrett County Sheriff's office received a tip about the crime shortly after it had occurred, and Gank was questioned by police. At that time, the defendant reportedly admitted his involvement to Detective P. Kelly.

Edwards Says Legislative Session To Have "Tremendous" Local Impact

This week marks the beginning of the 1991 Maryland General Assembly which, according to District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards, should prove to have a "tremendous impact" on Garrett County as growth, education and funding equity issues become the topic of debate among the legislators.

Edwards stated that the commissions charged with making recommendations regarding those respective issues — the Linowes Commission, the Shilling plan and the Governor's Commission on Growth — have recently made those recommendations known to the public which, as Edwards said, will be the target of "heavy debate" among the legislators once the session is underway.

Recommendations made by those commissions will affect the way Garrett County pursues its economic development and its education system, as well as the amount of state funding it receives.

Edwards also added that the General Assembly session this year will be wrought with "financial strains" as a result of the state budget shortfall, and that, with new legislators in office for the first time, the first term of the session will be even more "unique" than it normally is.

Also, in regard to the state budget, Program Open Space funds have now been significantly diminished for the program in the upcoming year. This is particularly important to Delegate Edwards since he co-authored the bill that brought about additional monies out of last year's legislative session.

Edwards stated, however, that he is "not real upset" about it since the program is one of the victims of the budget cut for only one year. Although the pro-

Multiple Charges Filed Against Barton Woman Following Accident

Multiple charges were filed by the Maryland State Police this week against a Lonaconing woman after the investigation of January 1 accident.

Tfc. J.K. Moore charged Janet M. Dwire, 24, Barton, with giving false accident report information, driving a vehicle while license is suspended, negligent driving, speeding, and failure to drive on the right side of the roadway.

A passenger in the vehicle, Rayma J. Bishop, 22, initially told police that she was operating the 1978 Ford Bronco south on the Michaels Road when an oncoming car approached, causing her vehicle to go out of control, leave the roadway, and strike a tree.

Tfc. Moore reportedly received a call from Bishop on January 4 when she stated she was not the driver of the vehicle as the police had believed earlier.

Dwire reportedly denied being the driver of the vehicle when statements were taken from the two women on Tuesday. Dwire was subsequently charged.

A Silver Spring woman was treated for injuries she sustained in a December 31 accident, according to a report just recently filed by the Maryland State Police.

Diana K. Withee, 45, was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad following the New Year's Eve mishap which occurred on the Swallow Falls Road.

Withee reportedly lost control of the 1989 Dodge Caravan she was operating because of icy road conditions. She was treated and then released from the local hospital. Her three sons, passengers in the vehicle, were reportedly not seriously injured.

No charges were filed by Tpr. S.H. Anderson who investigated for State Police.

The drivers of two vehicles involved in a head-on accident on January 1 were not seriously injured, according to police reports.

Dawn M. Metz, 19, Lonaconing, operator of a 1980 Chevrolet Caprice, and Perry C. Kamp, 33, Lonaconing, driver of a 1981 Chevrolet truck, both escaped injury when Kamp reportedly was blinded by glaring sunlight causing him to be blinded momentarily. His vehicle crossed the center line and struck the Metz vehicle.

A witness to the mishap attested to the blinding sunlight. Cpl. L. G. DeWitt investigated the 8:50 a.m. accident.

State, County Jobless Rates Up In November

Maryland's estimated unemployment rate, affected by a downturn in the national economy, rose from 4.5 percent in October to 5.3 percent in November, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Employment Development (DEED).

Garrett County's jobless rate surged about three and one-half points, from 7.8 percent in October to 11.2 percent in November. The November 1989 rate was 8.0 percent.

The national unemployment rate in November climbed from 5.4 percent to 5.8 percent.

During November, the labor force declined by 31,657 people in Maryland from 2,529,486 in October to 2,497,829. Employment fell by 49,360 people from 2,415,622 to 2,366,262 while those unemployed increased by 17,703 from 113,864 in October to 131,567 in November.

Garrett County's labor force rose from 12,708 in October to 12,879 in November while the Proposed Amendments To Growth Plan Submitted By Commissioners

Specific concerns and objections regarding the "Proposed Maryland Growth and Chesapeake Bay Protection Act of 1991" were addressed this week in a six-page letter sent by the Garrett County Commissioners to Michael D. Barnes, chairman of the Governor's Commission on Growth. The first objection made was to the statement in the growth plan that "growth, environment and resource management policies should be applied consistently across the state."

In the letter sent to Barnes, the commissioners responded to that suggestion by stating, "The fact is that the magnitude of growth, the threat to the quality of our living environment, and thus, the urgency of need for resource management policies is not consistently even throughout the state."

The commissioners pointed to the fact that Garrett County has not experienced "the sprawling growth which many parts of the state have indeed experienced," and concluded that "the notion of consistent growth management throughout the state is not well founded."

Another point made by the letter was directed at the growth commission's objective to save the Chesapeake Bay from being further polluted. "Garrett County is unique in that the majority of it does not drain into the Chesapeake Bay," according to the letter. More specifically, the letter stated, less than 37 percent of Garrett County drains into the Chesapeake Bay.

Based on that fact, the commissioners requested exemption from the proposed statute or, at least, that the portion of Garrett County which does not drain into the Chesapeake Bay be exempted.

The commissioners also pointed out in the letter that, since approximately 20 percent of the land in the county is owned by the state, the growth act should be taken as "an opportunity to allow Garrett County, in cooperation with the relevant state agencies, to take a leadership role in an activity which has been seriously neglected by the state. That activity is developing a comprehensive resource management plan for our state-owned land systems."

The letter stated that Garrett County would not be able to develop a growth plan unless the state-owned land was included in that plan. Consequently, the commissioners requested that a local jurisdiction be authorized to manage growth "within its boundaries, including the state-owned lands within those boundaries."

An additional concern was expressed that if Garrett County is not allowed to consider the state-owned land in its computations, then the county would, in effect, lose 20 percent of its development potential, ac-

Local Spotlighters Fined, Sentenced In Preston Co.

Four local men and one Pa. man pleaded guilty to spotlighting deer during a hearing in the Preston County Magistrate Court on Jan. 3. Their combined fines for the offense totalled over $3,000, according to reports, and jail time will be served by each offender.

Oakland residents Michael McRobie, William H. Cogley, Garland Friend Jr., Robert D. Albert, and John Nobel, of Lancaster, Pa., were each fined $500 for spotlighting, $110 in court costs, and $200 for the replacement cost of one deer. The five will also serve 20 days in jail, 10 days for spotlighting and ten for the charge of an illegal kill.

James Weeks Jr., Deer Park, was also charged in the incident, but he pleaded not guilty to the counts. A hearing is pending for Weeks, who posted $500 bond, according to reports.

The incident in which the men were involved took place in October when police found them spotlighting deer on Stemple Ridge, near Aurora. One deer had already been killed when the offenders were discovered.

In 1990, a total of fifteen people were arrested in Preston County on the charge of spotlighting.

Park Closings Prompt Protests From Area Residents, Park Users

Indications of protest, some exhibited individually and some in the form of "organized opposition," have surfaced recently over the limited use of several state parks in the area and the closing of New Germany State Park, scheduled to take place March 1 because of state budget cuts. A reported 15 parks across the state have been forced to be closed or to shut down their already limited operations during the winter months.

Jim Mallow, deputy assistant secretary for the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, stated that the decision was made last fall to close the state parks as a reaction to the budget cuts at the state level. "We couldn't reduce the budget any further so we had to implement a hiring freeze," said Mallow.

Currently, Deep Creek Lake State Park and Swallow Falls State Park are both "offically closed," according to Chris Anderson, regional park manager, but open to some limited winter activities, such as cross country skiing or snowmobiling.

Anderson added that use of the parks is discouraged to a certain extent because of the limited personnel in place but that use is not totally restricted.

Locally, opposition to the closings has reportedly been largely aimed at New Germany, with some petitions being circulated by Grantsville business owners and residents. The park is currently open and fully operational, according to park manager Jim Rogers.

The park is scheduled to officially close March 1 and remain closed until June 30, which marks the end of the current fiscal year. At that point, a decision will be made, based on financial capabilities, to either re-open or keep the park closed, according to Anderson.

Bethesda resident Tom Williams has also spearheaded an effort to keep New Germany State Park open and fully operational by organizing the "Save The Parks" program on a state-wide basis. Williams stated that his concern was borne from his personal interest in New Germany State Park. "I'm 44 years old and I've been vacationing there since I was five," he said. But his concern has now become more broadened, and he hopes to affect decisions concerning shutdowns of any of the state parks which have fallen victim to the budget

MTMA Peace Walk Slated In Oakland Monday

The Mountain Top Ministerial Association is sponsoring its annual Peace Walk on Monday, January 14, 1991. The walk was postponed from its Advent date because of icy road conditions.

"Most appropriately, it comes the day before the United Nations deadline for withdrawal of Iraq forces from Kuwait and a potential armed conflict in that area and beyond," said a spokesman from the Ministerial Association.

Four local churches have been selected because of the walking distance between each. The walk will begin at St. Mark's Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. and proceed to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, then to St. Peter's Catholic Church and conclude at St. Paul's United Methodist Church where refreshments will be served.

At each church, the song, "Let There Be Peace On Earth," will be sung and a prayer, Bible reading, and short peace reading will be offered. The themes will progress from peace in the individual heart to peace in the family, the community, the nation, and the world.

The community is invited to participate in the walk.

FRIENDSVILLE STUDENTS ASSIST TROOPS -- Friendsville Elementary School students and staff members recently assisted and recognized area Operation Desert Shield soldiers by assembling care packages and by decorating their school in commemoration of the troops. The students collected hundreds of packets of powdered drink mixes for the soldiers in an effort to mask the foul taste of the Saudi Arabian water. The students and teachers also used sheets to make large banners for the home-town soldiers to attach to their quarters, and letters were written by many of the students. Inside the school, a display in the main lobby entitled "Let's Remember," created by Lou Ann Sines, lists the names of soldiers and is adorned with yellow ribbons and patriotic symbols. At the front entrance window of the school, Leah Huber painted an image of the world encircled by a yellow ribbon. Soldiers recognized by the students included Ronald Teats, Kenneth Hinebaugh, Wilbur Sines Sr., William Dixon, Edward Lytle, and Mark Saunders. Students pictured above represent the efforts of all Friendsville's students who participated. In the front row, left to right, are Rydell Metheny, Shawn Rodeheaver, Kelly Carr, Joshua Smith, and Stephanie Frazee. In the back row, same order, are Chad Lytle, Michael Casteel, Laurel Wolfe, Hillary Wampler, and Heather Hook.

Local Santa Brings Gifts To 535 Families

Lou Stouffer, Terra Alta, W.Va., better known locally as Santa Claus, reported this week that he traveled over 6,000 miles and left gifts at the homes of 535 families this past holiday season.

Stouffer and his wife, Lola, have been portraying the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Claus for many years, as they collect and repair toys throughout the year and then deliver them to the homes of lower-income families.

Stouffer said that, while he had collected a good supply of toys for young children, he had relatively few gifts for teenaged youth.

"Hopefully for next year we will be able to collect more gifts for this age group," he said, suggesting that jewelry, books, tapes, make-up, and athletic equipment would be appropriate for those aged 13 to 18. He said he and his wife have already begun to collect items for next year. Persons with used toys or other gifts to donate may contact him at 789-6743. Financial contributions to help pay for fuel for his delivery truck (named Rudolph) are also welcome.

"Lola and I want to thank all of the generous people in the area for their donations this past year," Stouffer said. "It really helped make a brighter Christmas for a lot of children."

Bloodmobile Visits Grantsville; Donors Exceed Goal

A total of 133 blood donors turned out for the Red Cross Bloodmobile's stop in Grantsville, donating 130 pints of blood (five more than the set goal), despite a snow storm which threatened to cancel the January 7 visit, according to Lela H. Bender, chairperson for the event.

"The blood was really needed," said Ed Majoris, blood consultant for the Johnstown region. "The wonderful turn-out despite the weather on Jan. 7 showed the true character of the citizens of Grantsville," Majoris said. He explained that the blood collected by the Johnstown Region, which includes Garrett County collections, services 64 hospitals in five states.

Hero for the day was Terry Stanton, who completed his tenth gallon. Katie E. Yoder became a four-gallon donor, and three gallon donors were Randy Green, Helen Frantz, and Brenda Hawkins.

Lyndon Saylor, Allen Miller, and Sammie Yoder all received two gallon pins, and one gallon donors were Harold Humberson, Randy Yoder, Rodger Basinger, Martha Yoder, Marilyn Holliday, Dolores Lapp, Mabel Beiler, Leroy Yoder, Robert Yunker, and Philip Moser.

Nurses who volunteered during the visit were Mildred E. Yoder, Mildred L. Yoder, Audrey Kinsinger, Lauri Youngberg, Alice Orendorf, and Verna Lutz.

Other volunteers were Kim Beal, Rosie Miller, Mary Opel, Lois Durst, Glenda Yoder, Ercell Jenkins, Helen Durst, Jane Moser, Claudine Opel, Esther Opel, Grace Miller, Lulu Brown, Phyllis Durst, Annabelle Folk, and members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department.

Milk and orange juice were donated by Potomac Farms Dairy and Yoder's Country Market, according to Mrs. Bender.

Dr. Alan Arnson Opens Oakland Psychiatry Office

Alan N. Arnson, M.D., recently opened an office in the Oakland area for the practice of psychiatry.

For the past four years, Dr. Arnson has served as medical director of the Mental Health Division of the Garrett County Health Department. Prior to that, he was in private practice and on the staff of Group Health Association in the Washington, D.C. area.

He taught psychiatry at Georgetown University Medical School and was a consultant to the Karma Academy substance abuse treatment program in Montgomery County.

Dr. Arnson is certified as a specialist in psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. In 1974, he was made a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association, an honor recognizing contributions to the field.

After graduation from Yale University, Dr. Arnson spent a year as a Fulbright scholar in philosophy at the University of Bonn, Germany. He received his M.D. from Cornell Medical College and pursued postgraduate training at Vanderbilt University Hospital and Yale - New Haven Hospital.

He moved to Bethesda in 1964 for a fellowship in family therapy research at the National Institute of Mental Health, and subsequently served on the NIMH staff.

Dr. Arnson has been a frequent visitor to his property in Garrett County for the past 20 years, and he and his wife, Susan, moved here permanently in 1986. They have both taught part time at Garrett Community College and Mrs. Arnson manages their craft shop at their farm near Bittinger.

Dr. Arnson's office is located at 317 East Oak Street, Oakland. Appointment may be arranged by calling 334-2281.

Several DOP Cases Reported To Sheriff's Dept.

Several incidents of destruction of property (DOP) were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week, most of which involved substantial losses for owners.

Mark Marucci, Oakland, reported property destruction at the Garrett County Memorial Gardens. Marucci told police that an unknown person or persons ran a vehicle into the double doors of the cemetery's chapel. The doors were torn from the hinges and the door frame was splintered away from the wall, according to the report.

The damage done to the building will cost $1,500 to repair. The incident occurred during the night of Jan. 2, Marucci said. An investigation is continuing into the incident.

In a separate case, Francesco G. Pisano, Oakland, reported extensive damage done to his 1989 Geo Tracker which apparently occurred sometime in the last several weeks. Pisano told police that the vehicle had been parked near Deep Creek Drive in McHenry for some time while he waited to change its registration. During that time, an unknown culprit tampered with the vehicle and damaged the parking light, the outside mirror, door handle, cigarette lighter, turn signal, and vinyl top.

The total damage done to Pisano's vehicle was estimated at $674.62. There are no suspects in the case.

In another case of DOP, Rebecca A. Matthews, Kitzmiller, told police that an unknown person apparently used a key or other sharp object to scratch her 1987 Plymouth while it was parked outside the Deer Park VFW.

Ms. Matthews said the car was in the lot from the late evening of Jan. 4 until early morning of Jan. 5. The culprit reportedly damaged the driver's side and the roof of the car, scratching down to the metal in both places.

The damage to the vehicle was estimated at $300. An investigation is continuing.

Robert Holroyd, Baltimore, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred sometime in December. Holroyd owns a hunting cabin on Old Morgantown Road, near Friendsville. After being informed by a neighbor that the cabin may have been illegally entered, Holroyd came to inspect the area.

The owner found that all buildings on the lot had been entered by an unknown person or persons. The locks on his truck camper, shed, trailer camper, and cabin had all been broken. Stolen items included a heavy duty extension cord, felt pack boots, and a pair of leather hiking boots.

Damage to the buildings will cost $200 to repair, and the stolen items were valued at $45. The Sheriff's Office is investigating the crime.

The kitchen manager at Broad Ford Elementary School reported the theft of seven cases of hamburger patties. Leota F. Martin told police that someone apparently entered the walk-in freezer in the school's kitchen sometime during the Christmas holiday and removed the meat, valued at $240.

Ms. Martin told police that the freezer was locked during the holiday, and that she had the key in her possession. Other workers own keys to the lock as well. The lock was not damaged in any way, according to the report.

The theft occurred sometime between Dec. 21 and Jan. 2.

Laura Trainor Joins Mental Health Clinic

Laura Trainor, MSW, has accepted a position at the Garrett County Mental Health Clinic, Johanna Younger, clinic director, announced this week.

Ms. Trainor will provide individual, marital and family therapy at the clinic.

She holds a master's degree in social work from West Virginia University and a bachelor's degree from Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, N.Y. She completed training, provided by Boston University, as a psychiatric rehabilitation practitioner and trainer in 1987.

Ms. Trainor has worked as a research assistant for the WVU Research and Training Center and as direct services supervisor for Family Crisis Center, Inc., of Keyser, W.Va. From 1980 to 1988 she worked as a mental health counselor at Potomac Highlands Guild, Inc., Romney, W.Va. She also held the position of office manager at the Potomac Highlands Guild from 1986 to 1988.

Ms. Trainor is a member of the National Association of Social Workers and the W.Va. Association of Psychiatric Rehabilitation Trainers.

Car Accident; Various Arrests Noted By Police

A recent vehicle accident on Dennett Road resulted in several traffic violations for two Crellin men. The accident occurred on Jan. 4 when the driver of the car, Brian E. Deem, 23, reportedly ran a stop sign and hit a tree owned by Geraldine Paugh, Mountain Lake Park. Arthur Deem was a passenger in the vehicle.

Dep. C. Nolan of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office responded to the mishap and charged the driver with driving with an expired license, driving an uninsured and unregistered vehicle, failure to stop at a stop sign, and driving without a license.

Nolan then charged the passenger with knowingly permitting an uninsured vehicle with cancelled registration on the roadway. There were no injuries in the 11:15 p.m. accident.

In a separate incident, Ervin E. Sliger, 42, Oakland, was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) after Dep. C. Feller stopped the vehicle which Sliger was operating. Sliger reportedly did not dim his headlights when passing the officer, and the officer then followed him and noted that he was driving erratically.

After charging the defendant with DWI, Feller discovered that four bench warrants from the Garrett County District Court had been issued for him as well. He reportedly had failed to pay court costs.

A body attachment order was issued for Gary L. Baker, 30, Boynton, Pa. Baker was served the order by Dep. R. Shaffer for failure to obey a subpoena issued by Judge Fred Thayer of the Garrett County Circuit Court.

Gary E. Feller, 23, Loch Lynn, was served an arrest warrant on the charge of disturbing the peace. Detective-Sgt. D. Tucker made the arrest when Feller was reportedly operating his stereo loud enough to be heard outside his home and disturb neighbors.

James L. Nicholas, 26, Deer Park, was served a bench warrant for failure to appear in circuit court. The bench warrant was served by L.J. Green on Jan. 7, according to the report.

Md. State Police Investigate B&E. Theft Complaint

State Police are currently investigating a reported breaking, entering, and theft reported by Julius Carey, 35, Frostburg.

Carey told police that someone had entered his barn on the Old Frostburg Road and removed seven tractor-tralier tires.

Tpr. S.H. Anderson is heading the investigation.

Tfc. R.T. Wilson is seeking information in a reported attempted breaking and entering.

Robyn R. Radcliff, McHenry, told Wilson that an unknown person forced the door open at Tips Up ski rental building at approximately 11:45 p.m. and then fled the scene.

Two State Parks Will Recycle Christmas Trees

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service has recently announced that two parks in Garrett County — Deep Creek Lake State Park and New Germany State Park — have been designated as sites for Christmas tree recycling as an alternative to trees being hauled to the county landfill.

Those persons interested in reducing landfill bulk are encouraged to drop their trees off at one of the parks where they will be ground into mulch, according to a park spokesperson.

Trees must be clean of all ornamentation before being dropped off at the sites.

The trees will be chipped at the park during normal working hours and will later be used on trails, around ornamental shrubbery and in cabin areas and campgrounds.

Signs have been posted to direct visitors to the drop-off sites. More information may be obtained by calling Deep Creek Lake State Park at 387-5563 or New Germany State Park at 895-5453.

Correction Noted

In last week's section of "Armed Services Review," it was stated that U.S. Navy Seaman Recruit Paul L. Niner was the son of Betty M. Hare. He is actually the son of Ruth Cosner, Lake Charles, La., but has resided with Betty M. Hare, his aunt, for the past several years.

We regret the error.

DCL Lab Will Now Perform Water Analysis

The Garrett County Sanitary District was recently informed by Deanna Murphy-Baxam, certification officer for the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Division of Microbiology Water Quality Laboratory program, that the district's laboratory at Deep Creek Lake has been certified to perform drinking water analysis in accordance with interstate regulations and/or the Maryland law. With receipt of this certification, the district is authorized to test and report the bacteriological quality of public and private drinking water systems.

The certification was received through the efforts of the new laboratory director, Dale Allan Baker, who has recently been employed by the Sanitary District. Baker holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry from the University of Maryland and has previously worked for Katalistiks International, Inc., in Baltimore at their Seton Research Laboratory for Georgetown University and the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Baker was also previously employed as laboratory supervisor/manager for the Division of Commercial Testing and Engineering at the Technical Testing Laboratories, Inc., in Baltimore.

The district's laboratory is located on Mayhew Inn Road at the Deep Creek Lake Sewage Treatment Plant, and is the only laboratory certified to perform water quality analysis in Garrett County. The Garrett County Sanitary District is actively seeking to expand the lab operations and capabilities. Wendell R. Beitzel, administrator for the district, stated that the laboratory will become increasingly important, since the local Health Department is no longer accepting private drinking water samples to provide certification for real estate transactions.

The laboratory will accept and test water samples from private and public sources. The district's laboratory will also collect samples and provide official certification on bacteriological quality of private drinking water supplies for real estate transactions, new system developments, and to check existing water systems. In addition to being certified for water quality analysis, the laboratory performs most routine analyses of wastewater required to meet Federal and State discharge permits.

The services of the laboratory may be obtained by contacting Dale Baker at the Laboratory or calling 301-387-6115 or 387-6162 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, except for holidays.

Pleads Guilty

destruction of property were not prosecuted. Sentencing for Gank is forthcoming.

Defense counsel for the defendant was John R. Toston.

In a separate case, Michael V. Britton, Laurel, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering, a charge which was then amended to trespassing. Judge Thayer accepted the plea and sentenced the defendant to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. The judge then suspended the sentence and ordered 90 days unsupervised probation.

Britton's charge stemmed from an August 1989 incident at which time Britton apparently illegally entered the dwelling of Teresa Tolley on Rt. 219 North and removed $40 from the dwelling as well as various household items valued at less than $300.

Judge Thayer also ordered the defendant to pay court costs and to make restitution of $40 to Teresa Tolley.

James E. Malone defended Britton.

NEW FAT SUBSTITUTE APPEARS SAFE, BUT DOESN'T GUARANTEE WEIGHT LOSS

by Irmgard R. Koscielniak
Extension Agent, Home Economics

Scrumptious sundaes; thick, creamy salad dressings and dips; smooth butter and margarine spreads. These tempting delights are the dietary downfall of many weight-conscious Americans. But perhaps not for long.

The NutraSweet Company has created a natural fat substitute called Simplesse, which could take the guilt out of eating some of the high-fat foods we love.

"This product is truly revolutionary," says Dr. Mark A. Kantor, a food and nutrition specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service (MCES). "It could be the biggest thing to hit the food industry since sliced bread."

Simplesse is unique as a fat substitute in that it is made totally from existing natural ingredients: primarily protein from egg whites or milk.

These ingredients are heated and blended by a patented process called microparticulation, which shapes the protein into spherical particles so small (about one thousandth of a millimeter) that the tongue perceives them as fluid rather than as individual particles. The tiny size and round shape of the particles allow them to roll easily over one another, creating the smoothness, richness and creaminess normally associated with fat.

"Essentially, the creators of Simplesse have discovered a way to make protein mimic the texture of fat," says Dr. Kantor. "The new product can be used to replace fat in a variety of products on a gram for gram basis."

Since one gram of Simplesse contains 1⅓ calories compared to 9 calories in one gram of fat, this substitution would result in a calorie reduction of 20 percent to 80 percent, depending on how much is used in the product. For example, a frozen vanilla dessert made with Simplesse has 120 calories per 4-ounce serving — 56 percent less than the same size portion of a super-premium vanilla ice cream with 274 calories.

Nutrasweet officials envision using Simplesse in such products as ice cream, mayonnaise, salad dressings, sour cream, yogurt, dips, margarine and butter spreads and cheese spreads. But although it also could be enjoyed as a condiment on hot food, like sour cream or butter on a baked potato, it could not be used in frying or baking because the prolonged heat would cause the protein to coagulate and lose its creaminess.

Simplesse has just gained the approval of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for use in imitation ice cream. Kantor expects it to be approved soon for other products as well. Several studies have shown that the human body will digest and absorb Simplesse as it would the protein in milk or egg whites.

The only people who would have to avoid Simplesse are those who are allergic or sensitive to eggs or milk. Products containing the fat substitute will identify the source of protein in the ingredient statement on the product label.

Despite the promise offered by Simplesse, Kantor emphasizes that it's not a magic formula for weight control. In fact, he and other nutrition specialists are concerned that it might actually encourage some people to increase their consumption of reduced-calorie "junk foods" at the expense of a balanced diet.

"If you love ice cream and you know that the frozen equivalent made with Simplesse has less than half the calories, you may be tempted to eat twice as much," Kantor explains. "Then you might feel too full to eat a piece of fruit, which would be a healthier choice."

Recent dietary history tends to support this concern. According to the Surgeon General, approximately 25 percent of American adults are overweight. And this percentage does not seem to be declining even though we are indulging in more low and no-calorie products.

Growth Plan

cording to the letter.

The commissioners also took exception to the report's definition of "agricultural activity," which does not include the harvesting of forest products, stating in their letter, "We believe that the production of forest products should not be treated any differently than any other agricultural production. We firmly believe that forestry and agriculture should be viewed with parity for purposes of this proposed legislation."

The letter further stated, "There is a very indistinct line between forestry and agricultural activities, whether it be the harvesting of trees for lumber or Christmas trees or the building of structures for collecting maple sap or apples. The above are all crops of the land and should rightfully be defined as agriculture."

Yet another objection centered around the growth commission's recommendation concerning the protection of any "critical habitat for endangered species." The letter stated, "Because Garrett County is the only county wholly within the biological mountain province within Maryland, several plant and animal species appear on the state's endangered species list just because they appear only in a few sites in Garrett County. However, they are not endangered from a national standpoint because they are found in a number of other mountain province areas."

Other objections to the plan concerned the commissioners' questioning of buffer areas for streams located in Garrett County and the sensitive area designation of steep slope terrain.

Development in sensitive areas, such as the Youghiogheny River corridor, under the proposed act, would be prohibited except for the removal, restoration, repair, maintainance or enhancement of existing buildings, and would prohibit the area occupied by the sturcture from being enlarged.

The commissioners responded to this proposal by stating, "This will cause hardship for several communities in Garrett County. Friendsville, an incorporated municipality, was built along the Youghiogheny River and lies, in part, within the 100-year flood plain of the Youghiogheny River or Bear Creek."

They also pointed to the town of Kitzmiller as another one that would be greatly affected by the plan, since it is located next to the Potomac River. Both towns, said the commissioners, are considered "already developed areas" — a designation in which the growth commission allows for further development.

The letter asks the question, "Both these towns are considered developed areas but what effect does the sensitive area classification have on their continued growth?"

The commissioners were also concerned about the December 1993 deadline mandated by the commission's report. "The deadline is three years away and that seems a sufficient amount of time to implement a program such as this. However, when you consider that Garrett County has no county-wide land-use plan of any kind in effect, three years is not very long."

The letter continued, "In the past, the county government has attempted county-wide subdivision control. It lasted one month and was met with much opposition."

Another area of opposition was expressed over the state guidelines for 20-year population projections for permanent year-round residents. The letter stated, "We contend that the utilization of a jurisdiction's projected 'full-time resident population' is not appropriate for determining growth zones in resort areas such as found here in Garrett County. We believe that the commission has neglected to consider the fluctuations in population which are characteristic of seasonal visitation periods in resort areas. Therefore, we suggest and encourage that the performance criteria be amended to include the projected visitor population and projected number of households owned by out-of-county residents."

Finally, the letter suggested that any subdivision that has been platted, approved and recorded prior to July 1, 1991, be exempt from any development restrictions, and that they be "grandfathered" into the regulations regardless of their permit status.

The suggestions put forth in the letter were a result of the cooperative efforts of the Garrett County Commissioners, District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards, District 1 Senator John Hafer, the Garrett County Planning and Zoning staff, and the Garrett County Economic Development staff.

Edwards Says

gram will be slowed down, he said, funds are still available for use there.

In addition, Edwards stated that he is looking forward to working with the newly elected District One Senator John Hafer, who was sworn in this week. "John and I have been communicating a lot recently, and we hope to get together this coming week to discuss possible legislation," stated Edwards.

Edwards noted that the date to introduce bills to the General Assembly "keeps getting moved up," which means that the time for a bill to be introduced so that it receives the best chance of a full and fair review is less than it has been from the opening of the session.

Jobless Rates

number of those unemployed rose from 989 to 1,447.

"After months of resistance to national trends, Maryland's labor force behavior in November has finally shown some vulnerability to the country's economic downturn," said J. Randall Evans, DEED secretary. "Even so, Maryland's economy continues to outpace the national economy," he stressed.

Employment in service-producing industries rose during November and there was a seasonal increase in part-time employment in retail trade. These increases, together with gains in trucking, health services and local government helped to offset seasonal layoffs in amusements, hotels and agriculture.

In manufacturing throughout the state, seasonal layoffs in food processing industries were balanced by recall activity in transportation equipment. In construction, seasonal layoffs were increased by a slowdown in residential and commercial building activity.

Thomas S. Wendel, executive director, DEED's Office of Unemployment Insurance, noted that November's increase in the unemployment rate in Maryland mirrors that of the nation's unemployment picture and also reflects the state's seasonal increase in claims.

Unemployment rose during November in every subdivision in the state. In the Baltimore metropolitan area, the jobless rate rose from 4.9 percent to 5.6 percent. The umemployment rate in Baltimore City increased from 7.5 percent to 8.2 percent, with layoffs in construction, finance and federal employment.

In Maryland's Washington, D.C. suburban area, the unemployment rate rose to 3.9 percent in November, up from October's 3.6 percent. In Frederick County, a number of temporary layoffs in the manufacturing sector caused the unemployment rate to rise to 6.0 percent from October's 4.8 percent.

In Western Maryland, about 1,500 workers became unemployed, causing the unemployment rate to jump to 8.4 percent from October's 6.9 percent. Construction industry losses accounted for most of the increase in joblessness.

The unemployment rate on the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland rose from 5.6 percent to 8.0 percent. The unemployment rate rose noticeably in Dorchester County to 10.3 percent and in Somerset and Worcester counties, to 12.5 percent. In Somerset county, the seasonal downswing in agriculture, seafood and food processing caused unemployment to rise and in Worcester County, layoffs in tourism-related industries caused the increase in the unemployment rate.

Locally, unemployment rates in November ranged from a low of 3.1 percent in Montgomery County to a high of 12.5 percent in Somerset and Worcester counties.

dividual maps may be purchased for $15 per map from the Salisbury Center by calling (301) 548-3001.

These maps are intended for guidance purposes only. To locate nontidal wetlands when applying for a permit, a field review must be made in accordance with the "Federal Manual for Indentifying and Delineating Jursidictional Wetlands." Publications that assist in providing a basic identification of nontidal wetlands are available through DNR's Wetlands and Waterways Program.

5. A Corps of Engineers permit for work in nontidal wetlands may also be required. However, only one application is needed for state and federal approval, and can be filed with DNR's Wetlands and Waterways Program.

Although approval of both agencies is currently required, DNR expects the Corps of Engineers to approve a state general permit this month. Once the general permit is issued, only a state permit will be necessary for many routine activities.

For information on the nontidal wetlands program, persons may call the nontidal wetlands division of Water Resources Administration at (301) 974-3841.

When I must leave you for a little while,
Please do not grieve and shed wild tears,
And hug your sorrow to you through the years,
But start out bravely with a gallant smile;
And for my sake and in my name
Live on and do all things the same.
Feed not your loneliness on empty days,
But fill each waking hour in useful ways.
Reach out your hand in comfort and in cheer,
And I in turn will comfort you and hold you near;
And never, never be afraid to die,
For I am waiting for you in the sky!

What Can We Do? . . .

There was an air of optimism early yesterday and then the very heart of the nation sank within seconds after Secretary of State James Baker emerged from a six-plus hour meeting with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz and uttered the word "regrettable." The stock market had climbed by over 40 points, and then plummeted nearly 80 points moments before closing.

While we continue to hope for a peaceful solution to the crisis, it appears right now that war is inevitable. The situation is out of our control as individual citizens, but what are some things we individual citizens can do to deal with it?

One suggestion is to support and assist those local families who have a loved one presently stationed with Operation Desert Shield. There are many married couples who are now separated because one of the spouses has been deployed for service. The spouse left at home, in most cases the wife and/or mother, is now confronted with taking care of the dozens of things required to run a household and, if children are involved, being the only parent. The situation is stressful and difficult, even without having to deal with the uncertainty of her husband's safety. Occasional visits, preparation of a meal, offering to pick up the kids from scouts or basketball practice, a telephone call, or an invitation to one's home for the evening are among the little things that can make a real difference.

We would like to see a local support group organized for persons who have family members in the military. Some are much stronger and more experienced than others in this situation and such groups can be most helpful.

Hopefully we will continue to write and send packages to the troops in the Persian Gulf. Garrett Countians, particularly our students, have done an excellent job with this so far. The value of such communication from home to our troops in the lonely desert sands cannot be over-estimated.

We believe it would also be wise for us to begin now to practice stricter conservation, especially of gasoline which will probably double or triple in price if and when war begins. Car pooling and more efficient utilization of means of travel should be planned for right now.

On the spiritual side, we hope all believers will unite in some form of prayer, as families, as congregations, as fellow Christians, through prayer chains and special worship services. If ever a fervent prayer for peace were needed, it is now.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Much has been written lately in the newspapers concerning the recently released "Maryland Commission on State Taxes & Tax Structure" report (better known as the "Linowes Tax Report)."

Most of the Letters to the Editors are filled with criticism and negativism by citizens, and yes even some elected officials. Ask those same people to offer some constructive suggestions to modify our antiquated and inequitable taxing structure, and you draw a blank!

Until the Baltimore Sun, in their December 30, 1990 edition named Robert Linowes "Marylander of the Year," the gratitude seemingly lagging in arriving appeared to be overly delinquent by the public.

Is the public aware that Mr. Linowes, Esq. and his fellow commission members spent thousands of volunteer hours preparing this study at the request of Governor Schaefer three years ago? How many of us would be willing to pull ourselves away from a successful business and donate much of our professional and personal time, especially on such a controversal subject, and do so without financial reward? I think not very many!

No one can dispute that Maryland is long overdue in overhauling our state taxing system. Of course, there are elements in the report that should and will be subject to debate in the Maryland Legislature. The bottom line is that our usual forward-thinking Governor has decided to take on a very politically sensitive subject head-on, and force it to the front burner.

It is now up to the Legislature, in cooperation with the Governor, with maximum input from the public to begin the process of fashioning a more equitable taxing and spending system. It is incumbent upon the citizens to gain access to the "Report," study it carefully and offer their constructive comments to their elected representatives.

The public need not fear that the Legislature is going to leap in and pass every recommendation contained in the Report. However, serious reflection will be given to it and an attitude adjustment is in order for those

LINOWES COMMISSION REPORT
by Linda Booth, President of GCFT

The Maryland Commission on State Taxes and Tax Structure, chaired by R. Robert Linowes, presented to Governor Schaefer on November 28, 1990, their three-year study on state taxes and tax structure. This commission was organized to determine how new levels of excellence might be achieved in every part of Maryland by improved raising and distributing of public movies.

The Linowes Commission report has already been endorsed by State Superintendent of Schools Joseph Shilling and it has far-reaching implications for school systems throughout Maryland. This report is destined to be a leading issue during this year's Legislative session.

According to the Commission, some school systems, because of limited resources and more educationally demanding enrollments, lag far behind others. State aid does not fully recognize this inadequacy of local resources available for education in some jurisdictions. Garrett County is a prime example, where revenue capacity is almost 40% below average, and spending needs are 12% above average.

The Commission endorses improving the above inadequacies in funding and resources by bringing the poorer jurisdictions (which includes Garrett County) up to the median amounts of distributing to these poorer jurisdictions $100 million in increased/equalization revenues.

The Commission believes these equalization revenues can be justified to the electorate only if there are strict accountability assurances. For example, in education, the Commission recommends that such increased aid be strictly conditioned on implementation of school programs reasonably certain to produce positive results, coupled with accountability for local school systems. Further, the Commission advocates aid should be distributed in a way that will facilitate the improvements in education that are planned by the State Board of Education.

The Maryland electorate is demanding excellence in education. In Garrett County, we are on the brink of educational excellence, but we vitally need equalization revenues to push us forward that last giant step. It is unfair that where a child lives should dictate the quality of his/her education. It is in the interest of every Marylander that every child in the state be given the opportunity for a quality education, and thus the ability to become a productive citizen. All children in Maryland deserve an equal educational opportunity, regardless of the jurisdiction in which they live.

The Mind Wanders

by Sherry Frantz

Why did I ever start writing this column?

Was I so short-sighted and out of touch that I thought I could be entertaining, insightful, wise or full of anecdotes (at least, ones I'd be willing to share) week after week without a hitch or the slightest missing of a beat?

Did I think that, even if I had something to say, a soapbox to stand on, a gripe to get off my chest or a song to sing, that I could intelligently develop it into an essay?

Well, as a matter of fact, I am rarely at a loss for something on which to harp, but, really, did I think I would always have the time or the energy or the brain cells to write it out in a comprehensible fashion?

Could I not have foreseen that I would politely ask myself, out of boredom at my relentless philosophical meanderings, to please stifle?

Did I not know myself well enough to be aware that my mind sometimes goes into protracted periods of hibernation?

And was I not to feel totally washed up when, just minutes ago, I wrote a poetic little piece of prose asking each and everyone of us to reach out and touch one another in this time of global turmoil only to realize that I wrote practically the same column just a few weeks ago?

Sometimes I become so consumed and impassioned by various issues, I can think or write of little else. And sometimes I am so overwhelmingly angered or frustrated by other issues, I am struck mute by them.

But this week is the first full week of the New Year, and it is leading us into war.

And my words have no hope of affecting that tragic fact.

FRIENDS OF THE RUTH ENLOW LIBRARY

FRIENDS OF THE RUTH ENLOW LIBRARY
by Sull McCartney

I feel sorry for people who don't read for pleasure. Reading increases your knowledge and enriches your life in so many ways. Most people who are avid readers began when they were young. Encouraging children to read and supplying them with books can help establish a life long habit. I distinctly remember one person who encouraged me to read. Her name was Mrs. Nell Hart and she was the kind of teacher you were lucky to have and will never forget. When I began attending Petersburg Elementary School, back in the pre-computerized dark ages, her hair was gray. It still is. She could freeze any would be miscreant with a look and her mere presence commanded instant respect. When she walked into Mr. Reid's fourth-grade classroom and asked which student was named McCartney, my heart almost stopped. When she informed Mr. Reid that I was taking too many books from the school library during our weekly class visits, I was crushed. Mrs. Hart was in charge of the library and I knew from just looking at her that if she limited the number of books I was allowed there could be no appeal. She told Mr. Reid that henceforth I would be restricted to three books per vist. Visions of boredom immediately clouded my mind. She then instructed Mr. Reid that I could go to the library every day. Mrs. Hart did not smile or look at me during this conversation, but she did turn and look at me before leaving the room. I understood immediately that she was fully aware of the effect of her words on me and that she was encouraging me to read as much as possible. Other teachers encouraged me to read, but none were as memorable. I have been indebted to her ever since with a debt that can only be repaid by helping others. I hope that in the four years I have been president of Friends something I have done was a partial repayment.

A new slate of officers was elected at our Board of Directors meeting on November 26. The following people were elected to two year terms: Jack Caruthers, president; Adele Naylor, vice-president; Nancy Pagenhardt, treasurer; and Carol Canon, secretary.

One reason that Elmore Leonard's books are so popular with readers and movie makers is the great characters he creates. They are memorable without being totally unbelievable. Leonard's latest, Get Shorty, is a good one. I am sure that it will be made into a movie even though it spoofs filmmakers. Ross Thomas, on the other hand invents characters that are fantastic, but entertaining. My favorite Thomas book is Chinaman's Chance and his new one, Twilight at Mac's Place, is almost as good.

Senior Citizens' Menus

All AAA "Eating Together" sites will be closed for the holiday, Martin Luther King Day, January 15.

The Area Agency on Aging/Garrett County Community Action Committee announces the Senior Nutrition Program menus for the week of January 14-18 as follows:

January 14 — Tossed salad, spaghetti w/meat sauce, garlic bread, lime jello w/fruit.

January 15 — Tomato juice, bowl bean soup w/ham, corn bread, pear half w/grated cheese, pumpkin cake.

January 16 — Tossed salad, beef steak-um rolls, whipped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, roll, fruit.

January 17 — Sauerkraut, turkey w/dressing, whipped potatoes, vegetable casserole, cranberry salad, spinach, roll, Neapolitan ice cream.

January 18 — Apricots, hamburger-potato casserole, Brussels sprouts, Pumpernickel bread, cookie.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

"Eating Together" sites that operate five days per week will be following the menu as is. Those that operate only two or three days per week have the option of choosing menus within the same week.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Barry Rascovar's Maryland Commentary

Maryland's myths and legends

BALTIMORE — As he starts his second term, Gov. William Donald Schaefer finds himself under a barrage of criticism. Regardless of what he does, he seems to get hammered. Not so much by the press as by angry citizens.

They blame him for the state's $423 million deficit, for huge cost-overruns on construction projects, for daring to propose layoffs and for being a "big-spending" governor even in bad economic times.

If anything goes wrong in Maryland, folks are quick to blame Governor Schaefer.

Part of this is the governor's penchant for high visibility. Yet the last thing Marylanders want to hear or see is another politician spouting off. They are fed up with politics and government.

Much of the governor's problem stems from myths that surfaced about the causes of the state's current budget deficit.

On most of these counts, Mr. Schaefer gets blamed because people are looking for a simple explanation to complex questions. The governor has become a scapegoat for the disgust toward government.

Here are some Schaefer myths:

He squandered a $400 million surplus. That's why we have this deficit.

Not true. Most of that surplus went toward two purposes: paying off savings and loan depositors from that Hughes-era fiasco and embarking on much-delayed construction projects at state prisons, colleges and hospitals.

Mr. Schaefer did not use the surplus to vastly expand government. The legislature made sure of that. Nor did the governor use the money to cut taxes. That strategy is what got New York and Massachusetts in far worse fiscal nightmares.

He's wasting all our money on a baseball stadium.

You can't cancel the stadium when it is already rounding second base. Even if you could, it wouldn't make a dent in the deficit. The cost of the project is $24 million a year, paid out of instant-lottery receipts. That's enough to pay off the bonds.

Nor is it a waste. Its construction helped guarantee the Orioles would remain in Baltimore. It also is likely to spur economic development.

He's going to raise the gas tax because of the cost-overruns on a Baltimore trolley line.

The Central Light Rail Line is indeed far over its original budget. But now it is on schedule and costs may even drop. Much of the line will be finished by late spring, so this expense has little to do with the need for raising the gas tax.

The problem is the state has too many costly road and mass-transit projects planned for the next six years and not nearly enough money because tax receipts dropped in a hurry when the recession hit.

He wasted all that taxpayer money on fixing up the Governor's Mansion.

Wrong. Most of this money was donated by friends of the governor. Private money, not public funds, refurbished the mansion.

He is wasting money on a Western Maryland golf course.

Yes, the governor wants to use state funds to leverage private dollars on the Rocky Gap golf course and conference center. The project could mean badly needed jobs for the depressed region.

He is taxing us to death .

Not true. There has been no general tax increase in the Schaefer years. The gas tax was raised to pay for $1 billion worth of road and mass-transit improvements, but that has been the only substantive tax hike in four years.

He wants to go on another $1 billion spending binge with the Linowes tax commission report.

Most of this new tax money would be returned to the counties or local schools or earmarked for transit projects. Relatively little would remain for a gubernatorial binge.

He should have been frugal so we wouldn't have a deficit.

The governor's spending habits did not cause the deficit. When the country plunged into recession, Maryland's tax receipts dried up. That's why there's a budget gap, plain and simple.

You can blame William Donald Schaefer all you like, but our verdict is "not guilty."

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

BALANCING THE STATE BUDGET
by Governor William Donald Schaefer

For the past few weeks, I've been spending a lot of time looking at the budget for the next fiscal year. This is the fourth budget I've worked on as governor, and while there are always tough decisions to make, this has by far been the most difficult year.

We've been fortunate in the past few years to enjoy a prosperous economy, and that's helped keep state revenues high. We have had enough money to start new programs for people, spend more on elementary education and take care of one-time expenses that were neglected for many years.

I think we wisely used the money that we had on hand in the good years to make some local investments, and clear some pressing expenses that we could take care of in one year but not be obligated to continue funding in future years. Those one-time costs helped pay for some local infrastructure costs, like roads and schools, repair buildings that were practically falling in, and pay off the savings and loan depositors.

The legislators, remember, also used a portion of the same surplus to pay for one-time expenses, to give taxpayers a tax break that amounted to about $7.50.

This year's budget process, preparing the spending plan for the 1992 fiscal year that starts July 1, has been more complicated for us. Like the rest of the nation, Maryland has been feeling the pinch from the economic slowdown. Since the summer, we've had a big drop in revenues from just about every source — income taxes, sales taxes, and corporate taxes.

On top of the drop in revenues, we've had some unexpected expenses that nobody really could predict. The state had to spend more on programs that the federal government requires us to support. Our costs for state welfare programs went way up, with more Marylanders out of work and more needing help from the state. Some other expenses just added to the problem — our prison population is growing by about 150 inmates a month and prison costs added $36 million to the deficit.

All this added up to forcing us to cut expenses from the current budget, to make sure that we balanced the books at the end of our fiscal year. We looked at every area and made some really painful decisions in trying to decide where to make cuts.

Just about every department and agency was affected by the two rounds of cuts we made. Not all of the decisions were popular ones, but each affected me deeply. I hate to take away even a few dollars from any of our efforts. We have put so much money into programs intended for people — efforts that help Marylanders prepare for jobs, learn to read, or improve their neighborhoods and homes. We've added money for day care and health care, and increased the state commitment to helping the homeless and the hungry.

Despite all the tough choices made over the budget in the past few weeks, and the grim news we keep hearing about the economy, I'm still optimistic. I've always been a cheerleader for Maryland, but I can't say enough how confident I am about the state's ability to weather this rough patch we're in. Other states have much more serious finanical problems than Maryland. We will survive because we continue to have a Triple A bond rating and sound fiscal management.

I though it was important that some of you understand what the budget process is like. A lot of you have budgets at home you need to live within. It's the same kind of thing with the state, only the numbers are much bigger.

As always, I would like to hear any helpful thoughts you might have on our budget process. You can write me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

opposed to sharing the wealth of some counties with areas like Baltimore City that is badly in need of shoring up resources for their school system. We must keep in mind that Maryland is one state and each weak link causes the whole state to suffer. The analogy is that on the Federal level revenue is shared among the states to attempt to make possible equal educational opportunities for all along with other well-intended federal programs. Taxing fairness can go a long way to retaining business and promoting new business to expand in Maryland which means more jobs and other commercial benefits, which, given the recession we have entered, ought to be welcomed by all. I believe Mr. Linowes deserves a "Big Thank You" from all of Maryland.

To the Editor:

While I normally share your scorn for Senator Kennedy, your editorial of January 3 is so far off the mark as to be nothing more than a shot in the dark. Senator Kennedy happens to be right! The issue is not the First Amendment and "irresponsible" rhetoric. The issue now, and President Bush has allowed it to become an issue, is the rule of law. The rule of law in this country, as you are blithely unaware, is the Constitution, President Bush, who solemnly swore to "preserve, protect and defend" the Constitution, is in fact ignoring it. In addition to the Constitution, the War Powers Act places even more concise constraints upon the President's prerogatives as Commander-in-chief. Ninety days after military forces are committed to a combat situation, Congressional assent must be obtained to keep them there. It's been 5½ months now. The President is violating the law pure and simple and he has not even given the slightest indication that he will seek authority to wage war. This is creeping despotism and it must not be allowed to prevail.

Furthermore, our national security in this situation is far less clear, unless of course keeping the oil and money flowing to Germany and Japan, not to mention Exxon and Shell, in exchange for the lives of American soldiers is in our national interest. Then, we will have only to determine the design of our next war memorial. I propose a barrel of oil set between a Toyota and a BMW. We could even inscribe the names of the dead on the bumpers. It should be pointed out though, that the names of the loved ones of the Bush administration and the wealthy will not appear on the bumpers. None of them are in Saudi Arabia.

A national debate is needed and the Congress is the place to do it. Even if it sends the wrong message to Hussein, as you, Mr. Editor, so fervidly believe, so what? The democratic process must be adhered to. It is the heritage of the men and women we are asking to do the dying.

My own feelings on Bush's policy can be summed up in four lines:

"We don't need your Mid-East War. It frees the Rich and buries the Poor. We don't need your Mid-East War."

To the Editor:

For many years, residents of this and other states have used the year-round facilities at New Germany State Park near Grantsville. Now your help is needed. Since 1938, after some 53 years of operation, this park is scheduled to be closed March 1, 1991. This is "supposed" to be a temporary closing.

New Germany is very possibly the prettiest, most well kept park in the state. To go there and stay in a cabin for a week, or camp, or just go and fish or swim, sit under a tree with a book, or take a walk through the park is the best therapy one can give oneself. There are hundreds of people who go every year at sometime during the year to get away from it all. Just to sit and watch the squirrels can do much for one's self. Now, this is being taken from us.

Newly elected State Senator John Hafer has stated he will strive "to protect the uniqueness of Garrett County." New Germany is certainly unique. It is one of a kind park. Please write to Senator Hafer and express your displeasure of this park closing. Write to the Governor, the Secretary of the Department of Natural Resources, or Delegate George Edwards.

Mr. Tom Williams of 5714 Bradley Blvd., Bethesda, MD 20814 is spearheading a citizens' committee to appear before the legislature to protest this closing. Please write to him and offer your support.

I know there are many families, as many as four or five generations, who remember New Germany from the days when my father-in-law, Matthew E. Martin, was the superintendent. Don't let them close our park. Please write. Don't sit on your hands. Let someone know you protest this action. Let's all get together and "Save Our Park." Thank you.

To the Editor:

The writer of this letter wonders about statements by Garrett County Commissioner Elwood L. Groves which appeared in The Republican dated January 3, 1991. In a front page news report, Commissioner Groves said he was against limiting Commissioners to two terms in office. His words:

"I also oppose the measure. Voting is the main essence of democratic government. The artificial mechanism of limiting the terms limits the choices of the candidates. I consider it an unnecessary restriction."

At first, it seemed to make sense to me. But on the second reading, it started to sound like a piece of bureaucratic gobbledegook, i.e., sentences without substance. Look, for example, at the phrase, "artificial mechanism." What does it mean? Let us suppose that the majority of Garrett County voters (some may have voted for Mr. Groves) want to limit Commissioner terms to eight years. Would they be considered part of his "artificial mechanism?"

The next remark concerns the remainder of the same sentence: "limiting the terms limits the choices of the candidates."

To me, this unproven bit of wisdom along with statements made by Delegate George C. Edwards about the two-term issue could be voiced only by two incumbents too deeply entrenched in bureaucracy to listen to the voters.

Perhaps the words of an ancient philosopher are just as true today as when he said them so long ago: "When one stays in public office too long, the voice of the office grows louder than the voice of the people."

And yet, the message from the people last November is still loud and clear. It says "Times are changing! Cut spending! Stop Taxing! Clean up your houses! . . . If you don't, the voters will do it for you!"

Incumbents, please listen.

Sincerely yours,
Herb Sutcliffe

To the Editor:

One of the main topics of conversation in Oakland these days is the firing of Jim Kreyenbuhl from his job as golf pro at the Oakland Golf Course. Even if people don't belong there, they know Jim, and many think it is unthinkable to fire a man who has spent his entire adult life in that job. He has put in many days from early morning to dark during the golfing season, for which he is not paid. In dealing with him, he is always mannerly, knowledgeable, and always tries to be helpful, whether you are a member or not. Many visitors return time after time, and bring others with them, which must help the economy of Oakland when they rent hotel rooms and eat at restaurants. Surely, Jim must be given some of the credit for the growth in the increased number of golfers using the course. His tournaments are well run, and seem to be enjoyed by all.

Many of us play on a daily basis, and you would be surprised at the things Jim has endured from the members. He cannot be held responsible for the course after a rainstorm that has flooded the course, or for what a drought does to fairways. They don't stop to think that Jim has not always had the resources to purchase much needed equipment to maintain the course properly.

A golf course is run like any other business, and politics does enter into decisions. Each year a new board of directors is voted in, and they have the final say on everything. Every year, without exception there are rumors as to who the new pro will be. Jim has always prevailed until now, and it is my personal belief that he is being made the scapegoat because the new clubhouse is not paying its way. Surely, the board doesn't expect the golf fees to cover all costs. The clubhouse was built with no regard for the members' feelings as to whether they would support the tremendous cost. It was strictly a board decision, and now they have to live with it. Why take it out on Jim. The reason for the firing was flimsy, and isn't the pot calling the kettle black. Let the accusers throw the first stone.

Let your feelings be known to the Board, and let's get Jim back in his rightful place.

To the Editor:

Many of your readers saw the TV interview of David Frost on Wednesday, January 2, with President and Mrs. Bush. It was from 8 to 9 p.m. on PBS, Channel 13.

I was quite impressed by President Bush's reasons for his stand on the Persian Gulf situation.

But, I was even more impressed by what they did not dare to discuss:

1. While nuclear bombs were discussed, there was no mention of the new Cardoen F.A.E. bombs developed in Chile. These bombs are reported to have explosive force approaching that of nuclear bombs. It is referred to as "the poor man's atom bomb." It is relatively inexpensive, and can be produced in an;y size required. It has no hazardous radioactive fall-out. For more information on the F.A.E. bombs, see TIME magazine, December 10, 1990, page 71.

2. The reasons for our declining economy, and the rapidly approaching recession and 1991 Depression.

3. Labor union election campaign funding and control of Congress.

4. Labor union control of our Supreme Court: the 5 to 4 decision in the ENMONS case, exempting union officials from federal prosecution for violence, if it is in connection with a "legitimate" union objective, such as censorship of news, etc.

5. The "U.S. Saddam Hussein," president of the AFL-CIO, and his monopolistic control of the American Labor Unions. All in defiance of the Antimonopoly, Anti-Trust Act of 1890. Industry has to abide by the Act, and cannot develop damaging monopolies. Business, including banks, saving & loan institutions, stock markets, insurance companies, and other money manipulators, all have some degree of control by our federal government, but not the labor unions, which rightfully belong under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Union imposed COLAs, starting in 1968 right after the "Consumer Price Index" was developed in 1967, have raised prices of American-made products 335% in the past 20 years, and priced American-made products off home and foreign markets. And, many millions of American workers out of productive jobs, into sales and service for products made in and imported from foreign countries. David Frost and the President did not dare to discuss this most critical economic item.

Sadly,

To the Editor:

One of the camp superintendents at Piney Run CCC Camp used to say, "Only fools and weathermen try to predict the weather in Garrett County," and the year 1990 was no exception. It was one of the wildest, wettest years on record with a total of 92.95 inches of precipitation recorded at Lake Ford, near Cranesville. Most of the precipitation fell in the form of rain with only a few minor snowfalls.

Broken down by monthly increments, the precipitation was as follows: January, 5.5"; February, 6.2"; March, 2.5"; April, 4.65"; May, 10.45"; June, 4.95"; July, 14.0"; August, 5.5"; September, 11.2"; October, 8.4"; November, 4.6"; and December, 15.0."

The wettest months were December and July, followed by September and May. The normal months were January, April, June, August and November. The one dry month of the year was March.

Normal precipitation for this area, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau, is 60 inches. We got 1½ times our normal rainfall for the year. Since one inch of rain equals 10 inches of snowfall, had the rain in December fallen in snow, we would have had over 12 feet of snow in December.

With a few exceptions, winters have changed in Garrett County from what they were 50 to 75 years ago. In those days, winter set in about Thanksgiving and lasted until March with a couple "thaws" in January and February. Deep snows have abated during later years and there have not been the "fence toppers" that we used to have. A couple exceptions were the winters of 1936, 1958, and 1978.

"Introduction To Small Business" Offered By GCC

A series of classes designed to help owners and managers of new small businesses is being offered at Garrett Community College beginning in January.

Topics to be covered during the course include developing a business plan, risks and benefits, marketing, location, staffing, capital needs and financing, accounting, inventory and tax issues on both the federal and state levels.

The first of the classes, entitled "Introduction to Small Business," will meet January 28th and February 4th from 6:30 to 9 p.m. The class will cover the start of a new business, marketing, financing, management, and record keeping.

The second class in the series, "Developing a Small Business Plan and Finances," will meet on March 4th, 11th, and 18th. This session will emphasize the elements of a good business plan, environment, location, facilities, risks and benefits, staffing and merchandise, as well as types of financing, cash flow analysis and budgeting.

"Records Management for Small Business," the last class in the series, will focus on inventory, personnel, receipts/disbursements, and taxes. This session will meet April 15th and 22nd.

Participants may obtain information on the series or they may register for any or all of the classes by calling Sandy Major at the Continuing Education Division of the college at 387-6666, ext. 180.

The series of classes is co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration, and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

Garrett Community College is a part of the Maryland Small Business Development Center, which is a program of the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development and the United States Small Business Administration.

WEPCO Credit Union Schedules Annual Meeting

The 41st annual meeting of WEPCO Federal Credit Union will be held Saturday, March 9, at the American Legion in Westernport, according to Frank Woy, chairman of the event. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and the business meeting will follow at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Dancing will follow from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., with music by "Four on the Floor." Tickets will go on sale Monday, February 11, on a first-come, first-served basis. Sales will be limited to members of the Credit Union for the first two weeks, until February 22. Beginning February 25, tickets can be purchased by both members and non-members. Sales will end Monday, March 4.

In accordance with the by-laws of WEPCO Federal Credit Union, the following have been appointed to the nominating committee: Joseph Alongi, Raymond Miller, and Frank Woy.

The following slate of nominees has been submitted by the nominating committee: Board of Directors (three-year terms), John Burkett, Donald DeVore, Joseph Inskeep, and William Smith; Credit Committee (three-year terms), Robert Alkire and William McKenzie.

WEPCO Federal Credit Union by-laws permit members to participate in the selection of candidates for the Board of Directors and Credit Committee by means of petition to the Nominating Committee. To be valid, petitions must contain the signature of one percent of the membership with a minimum of 20 members and a signed statement by the nominee, indicating a willingness to serve if elected. Each such nominee shall also submit a brief statement of qualifications and biographical data. Petitions must be received by the Nominating Committee no later than February 29, 1991.

No nominations shall be made from the floor unless sufficient nominations have not been made by the Nominating Committee or by petition to provide for one nominee for each position to be filled.

Voting for officers will be held March 6-8 at the Credit Union office from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Voting will also be conducted Saturday, March 9, from 6 to 7 p.m., at the annual meeting. All elections shall be determined by plurality vote and shall be by printed ballot except where there is only one nominee for each position to be filled.

The births of nine infants this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesman.

A son was born January 4 to Gary Lynn and Jeannette Rudy Fitzwater, Mtn. Lake Park.

A son was born January 4 to David Allen and Stella Marie Steuber Rolf, Mtn. Lake Park.

A daughter was born January 6 to Norman Lee and Crystal Lynn Everett Wilhelm, Terra Alta, W.Va.

A son was born January 7 to Willard Chester Jr. and Amy Joyce Bernard Roth, Oakland.

Twin daughters were born January 7 to Greg Delane and Rebecca Lynn Harding Aronhalt, Mt. Storm, W.Va.

A daughter was born January 8 to Milton Charles and Donna Lee Schramm DeWitt, Oakland.

Admissions were listed at 58 with 58 discharges. This morning's census shows 43 patients.

Local Teachers Participate In ACES Program

Ten teachers from Garrett County schools were recently participants in the Americans for a Competitive Enterprise System (ACES) program. This program is sponsored jointly by the Garrett County Board of Education and the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

Each week for eight weeks the participants visited an area business to learn more about the function and purpose of that business. Participants in this ACES session were: A&A Realty, Bausch & Lomb, C&P Telephone, First United National Bank & Trust, Garrett National Bank, Mettiki Mining Corporation, Penn Alps, and Phenix Technologies.

According to Jo Ann Vent, coordinator of the program for the Board of Education, the ACES program was established to enhance business/school partnerships. These sessions give the educators and the business community an opportunity to become better acquainted and to share ideas, problems, and concerns. This was the second session of the ACES program. Teachers and business representatives alike share in the enthusiasm of the program, Mrs. Vent said.

laryland Tax Packets Now Being eceived; Important Changes Noted

One of the first state elec-onic filing programs in the ation is just one of the changes at will benefit Maryland state come taxpayers this year, laryland State Comptroller ouis L. Goldstein announced at joint IRS-state news con-erence in Baltimore Friday. ther changes on the 1990 laryland income tax returns ill boost personal exemptions nd offer tax breaks to senior itizens and retired military ersonnel. Maryland residents articipating in Operation esert Shield will also benefit rom the same automatic 60 day xtension of the due date for heir 1990 state income tax eturn being offered by the .R.S., as well as a unique state ax break.

The comptroller also said his ffice will be making even more oint taxpayer service ap-earances with I.R.S. personnel t major shopping malls and ederal and state offices during he upcoming filing season.

One major change which will enefit many of the nearly 1.7 illion Maryland taxpayers xpecting refunds is the intro-luction of electronic filing of Maryland returns.

"Maryland is one of the first tates in the nation to offer lectronic filing for state in-ome taxpayers due refunds," Goldstein said.

"This new procedure will cut lown on errors, save processing ime and speed up the axpayer's refund check," he dded.

The comptroller noted that he service will be offered by ax preparers who must be ap-roved to participate in the I.R.S. electronic filing program before they are admitted to the state's program.

Maryland's personal exemption on the 1990 return has been increased to $1,200. Taxpayers 65 or older — or blind — are eligible for the regular $1,200 personal exemption plus an extra exemption of $1,000.

"Those amounts are different, so taxpayers should be careful when they are filing out the exemptions area of the Maryland form," Goldstein said.

The comptroller said his office is introducing new Form 123 for the convenience of more than 200,000 single and dependent taxpayers expecting refunds.

"New Form 123 is a special purpose form which single or dependent taxpayers can use to claim a refund of taxes withheld by their employers even though their gross income is less than the amount required to file — $5,300 for 1990," Goldstein said. "This easy-to-use form has only five lines to fill out and it will avoid delays in processing these refunds."

Goldstein also reminded senior citizens that Maryland's maximum pension has been increased to $10,800 for 1990.

"We also have a new benefit for retired military enlisted personnel 55 or older residing in Maryland. They may now exclude up to $2,500 of their military retirement income on their Maryland return, provided their federal adjusted gross income does not exceed $22,500," Goldstein said. "This is an important benefit in a state like Maryland, which has so may retired military residents," he added.

The comptroller reminded active duty military personnel that up to $15,000 in overseas active duty pay can be deducted from taxable income under a Maryland tax break that may be especially important in light of Operation Desert Shield. Specific instructions and worksheets for these military tax breaks are available in Instruction 13 of the Maryland tax packet.

Goldstein also said parents who use their federal return to report up to $5,000 in unearned income of dividends and interest for a child, may now subtract that income on their Maryland return. "This eliminates the need for parents to file a separate return for the child to avoid Maryland tax on that income," he said.

The contribution feature for the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund will appear on the 1990 return again, following two years during which taxpayers have contributed more than $2 million. "Last year, nearly 90,000 taxpayers donated over $1,046,000. I want to thank all those who participated and encourage taxpayers to read the material in the tax packet and consider making a contribution," the comptroller said.

Goldstein is also asking taxpayers to include their subdivision code on their return, based upon a list featured on page two of state tax packet.

"There are two good reasons for you to write in the subdivision code. First, it helps make sure your local government receives its fair share of the more than $1.4 billion in local income tax. Secondly, the code will speed up your refund check," he said.

The comptroller reminded taxpayers that all 15 Maryland income tax offices will offer free state tax assistance Monday through Friday, until the filing deadline, April 15, 1991. The hours of assistance are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Extra hours of assistance will also be offered on all state holidays and certain weekends during the filing season. The addresses and telephone numbers of all 15 Maryland income tax offices are listed on the back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories. The statewide toll-free number for free state income tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES, (1-800-638-2937).

Diversity Of Economy Expected To Carry State Through Slow Period

Although growth in Maryland slowed in 1990, the diversity of the state's economy is expected to help Maryland weather the national economic slump, according to a report issued last week by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED).

"The slowdown of the economy in 1990 and the Persian Gulf crisis have created economic and fiscal pressures for Maryland, as well as most other states," said Secretary of Economic and Employment Development J. Randall Evans. Evans presented the results of the economy study, conducted by DEED's Office of Research, at a briefing held at the Maryland Communications Center in Baltimore.

"The slowdown means that Maryland will create fewer jobs in fiscal year 1991 than was anticipated," Evans noted. "This will result in lower than expected growth of state product and personal income and slowdowns in housing, retail sales and construction."

He added, "However, the diversity and basic strength of the Maryland economy are expected to carry the state through this period of brief but difficult economic adjustment. The challenge is to build on Maryland's strengths and provide an environment in which Maryland will continue to be a national leader in economic growth and development."

The strengths of the Maryland economy cited by Evans included a highly trained workforce, a strong concentration of scientists and engineers, high income levels, business vitality and growth, access to a large consumer market, and the dynamic Baltimore-Washington corridor. Also cited were the state's transportation infrastructure, the modernized Port of Baltimore and Baltimore/Washington International Airport, access to financial markets and capital, proximity to the federal government and its enormous civilian and defense procurement, and Maryland's outstanding quality of life.

The report noted that the Maryland economy could have one or more non-consecutive quarters of decline during 1990. Major economic forecasting firms estimate that the Maryland economy will have modest economic growth during 1991.

Labor force and employment growth slowed in Maryland and the United States in 1990. From January to October, 1990, Maryland's civilian labor force increased 0.8 percent, while employment increased only 0.4 percent. As a result the number of unemployed people rose, pushing the state's unemployment rate up from 4.1 percent to 4.5 percent. Maryland's unemployment rate continues well below the national average, which was 5.4 percent in October, 1990.

"The challegne is to emphasize the creation of jobs through new business formation, and to assist existing businesses to stay competitive in a changing market," said Evans. "Maryland must also provide education and training and upgrade our workforce" through programs such as the state's Partnership for Workforce Quality and Project Independence.

Maryland continues to outperform the United States and most other states in business vitality indicators. In 1989, the latest year for which data are available, Maryland had the fifth lowest business failure rate per 10,000 firms, according to Dun & Bradstreet. Maryland's 1989 business failure rate was 20 per 10,000 firms, down from 41 in 1988, conpared with 65 in the United Stated.

The report noted that, in 1990, the Corporation for Enterprise Development again gave Maryland straight A's — the highest ranking of any state — in economic performance, business vitality, resource capacity and development policy. In December, 1990, Inc. Magazine said that Maryland had 19 of the 500 fastest growing firms in the nation, or four percent of the total, although it has only two percent of the nation's population.

Recent reports released by the U.S. Bureau of the Census show that business growth has been stronger in Maryland than in the United States. The Bureau of the Census found that the total number of businesses and their receipts grew more rapidly in Maryland than in the United States, based on 1982 and 1987 surveys. Maryland's black-owned and women-owned businesses also grew more rapidly that the nation's.

DEED's report showed that manufacturing employment in Maryland declined 2.5 percent from last year, compared to a 2.0 percent loss nationwide. Printing and publishing, Maryland's largest manufacturing sector, had 28,700 jobs, or 14 percent of the total manufacturing employment of 203,600.

Food and kindred products accounted for 26,100 jobs, followed by instruments (23,000), electronic and other equipment (15,500), industrial machinery (15.100), transportation equipment (13,800), chemicals (13,600), and primary metals (10,900).

The report noted that nine out of every 10 jobs in Maryland are in the nonmanufacturing sector. Maryland's nonmanufacturing employment totaled 1,977,500 in October 1990, up 57,600, or 3 percent, from January 1990.

Services, a category which includes health, science and research, engineering and other business services, is the largest employment sector in Maryland. In October 1990, services provided 604,600 jobs, 31 percent of all nonmanufacturing and 28 percent of all payroll jobs in Maryland. Retail trade was second, with 428,300 jobs.

Although 45,500 manufacturing jobs were lost between 1974 and 1989, the nonmanufacturing sector added 699,600 jobs, for a net gain of 654,100 jobs. For each manufacturing job lost during this period, the Maryland economy added 15 jobs in the nonmanufacturing sector. From 1984 to 1989, while 10,400 manufacturing jobs were lost, 344,100 nonmanufacturing jobs were added, a net gain of 333,700 jobs. During this period, the Maryland economy added 33 nonmanufacturing jobs for each manufacturing job lost.

Evans said that the state's initiative to assist manufacturers, known as "Manufacturing Matters in Maryland," is continuing to promote public and private technical services to this vital sector of the economy.

The report said that Maryland's per capita income is sixth highest among the states. In 1989, Maryland's per capita personal income was $21,013, up 7 percent from the previous year and 19 percent above the national average.

Retail sales in Maryland during the first nine months of 1990 totaled $26.73 billion, up $1.23 billion from the same period last year. The modest 4.8 percent increase reflects a slowdown in retail sales in Maryland in 1990, but it still exceeds the 3.7 percent increase in retail sales nationwide.

During the first 10 months of 1990, residential building permits decreased 13.8 percent in Maryland and 14.6 percent nationally, compared to the same period last year. Permits for non-residential buildings fell 6.1 percent in Maryland and 7.1 percent in the United States. The report noted that the real estate and construction sectors are two of the weakest sectors of both the Maryland and the national economy. However, the downward adjustments in these sectors started nearly two years ago and have not, so far, led to significant negative impacts on the Maryland economy.

Exports and imports at the Port of Baltimore decreased during the first six months of 1990, compared with the same period last year. Export tonnage decreased 1.5 percent, while the value of exports decreased 14.4 percent. Import tonnage decreased 25.7 percent and the value of imports decreased 10.1 percent.

From January through October 1990, 8.6 million passengers used Baltimore/Washington International Airport, compared with 8.7 million during the same period last year, a decrease of 1.2 percent. However, during the same time period, air cargo movements increased by 7.4 percent, from 200 million to 215 million pounds.

HEARING AIDS

DO YOU HAVE FEEDBACK OR WHISTLING WITH YOUR HEARING AID?
ARE YOU CONTINUALLY ADJUSTING THE VOLUME?

This is a common complaint that we hear from many hearing aid users. With the new Cleartone hearing aids you will not have feedback once the hearing aid is completely in your ear. You will not have to continually adjust the volume control, because the hearing aid will automatically reduce the loud noises for you.

We have found that it even helps those who have Tinnitus "ringing ears".

Come in today for a no-cost hearing evaluation and demonstration of the hearing aid!

Byron Travels To Moscow to Exchange Views

Rep. Beverly Byron (D-MD) and four other members of Congress departed for Moscow Saturday to participate in a five-day Soviet-American Inter-Parliamentary Exchange. The meeting is sponsored by The International Center, a non-profit foreign policy organization based in Washington, and held under the auspices of its Soviet-American Center for Constitutional Democracy. The purpose of the program is to explore issues that will assist the Soviet Union in its transition to democracy, and in particular, provide an overview of the main features of the organization and operation of the U.S. Congress.

Prior to leaving, Byron said the State Department would be keeping the congressional members informed on the status of House actions concerning the Gulf crisis. In addition, she issued the following statement:

"We all need to remember that January 15 is not a self-imposed deadline by this government for taking military action against Iraq. It is only the day the U.N. resolution takes effect. There is time yet for a diplomatic solution, and to this point I believe President Bush has to pursue every available means open to his administration to negotiate such a solution.

I am hopeful that Secretary Baker's meeting in Geneva will be productive. To that end, this is not the time for there to be the perception among our allies or, more importantly, in Iraq that our government is divided. It is, instead, a time to retain our flexibility. I believe the sanctions are working, but I also think that we can expect to see erosion in international support if we allow the crisis to drag on indefinitely. That will diminish our ability to enforce the sanctions and weaken our hand. The use of force may prove to be our only choice, and if it comes to that, then we must do so without hesitation, committed to bringing any such action to a swift conclusion.

Finally, I am concerned that if Iraq agrees to withdraw from Kuwait, we will still be left with a chemical capability in the hands of a man who has proven that he is not hesitant to use such weapons."

Mini-Courses On Business Mgmt. Offered At GCC

Four mini-courses designed especially for supervisors and managers of area businesses are scheduled during the coming weeks at Garrett Community College. These short courses are part of a series of learning opportunities which will focus on the specific needs of the business community.

The first of these offerings, "Managing Your Employees I," will be held on three consecutive Tuesdays from January 22 through February 5, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the McHenry campus. It is designed for managers or supervisors who recognize that the success of their businesses is highly dependent on the quality of their workers. It will address issues critical to maintaining capable, well trained, motivated employees. Subjects to be covered include hiring and firing practices, performance appraisal, training and motivational techniques, effective supervision and legal responsibilities, and progressive discipline.

"Managing Your Employees II" will acquaint supervisors or managers with motivational and management techniques essential to maintaining productive workers. It will include an examination of basic motivators, understanding the dynamics of effective management, and developing management skills in a practical "hands on" manner. It will be held on three consecutive Tuesdays, from February 12 through February 26, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the McHenry campus.

"Communication and Conflict Resolution Skills" will mainly be for the new or the experienced supervisor or manager. It will help those who face the many daily challenges of supervision to learn to communicate in an effective and productive manner. The class will also deal with the "how to's" of conflict resolution. It will be held on three consecutive Tuesdays, from March 5 through March 19, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the McHenry campus.

"Making the Time to Manage" is designed to help supervisors and managers make the time to meet their responsibilities. Practical individualized learning experiences will help each participant evaluate his or her use of time and practice ways for improving the management of time in the work place and in private life. The class can also be helpful for office personnel. It will be held on three consecutive Tuesdays from April 2 through April 16, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the McHenry campus.

These classes are part of a series of GCC spring classes planned to offer practical learning experiences which can be used immediately in the workplace. The classes are co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration, and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

Garrett Community College is a part of the Maryland Small Business Development Center which is a program of the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Persons who wish to register for these courses or obtain additional information, may call the Continuing Education Division of the college at 387-6666, ext. 169.

AAUW SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT — Angela Lucas was the winner of the scholarship to Garrett Community College awarded by the Garrett branch of the American Association of University Women for the 1990-91 school year. Mrs. Lucas is majoring in earth science and hopes to teach upon graduation. She received a 4.0 average her first semester and is enrolled in an interim course as well as in courses for the second semester. She had received credits from Allegany Community College in 1978, but postponed her studies to rear her three children. She resides in Red House and is married to Adam Lucas Jr. and is the great-granddaughter of former state senator, the late B.I. Gonder. Pictured above left to right are Elaine Marple, AAUW member; Mrs. Lucas, and Jean Clark, president of AAUW.

COVE

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Smith and family were Friday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock. The Smiths recently moved from Ohio to this community and are living in the house that was owned by Randy's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. F.E. (Ted) Smith. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. McClintock were Miss Donna McClintock, McHenry; Miss Jodi Broadwater, Finzel; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary McClintock. The 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock occurred on Monday, January 7. Mr. and Mrs. McClintock were among the many from this community calling at the Newman Funeral Home, near Accident, following the death of Mrs. Carl (Mable Duckworth) Brenneman, McHenry, that occurred on New Year's Day. Some from this community also attended the funeral on Saturday at the McHenry United Methodist Church. Interment was in the cemetery at St. John's Lutheran Church, ELCA.

Robert Oester underwent surgery at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, on Monday, where he remains a patient. Members of his family visit him each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Miller were Friday evening visitors of Harry Campbell, Grantsville, and John Menges at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where they are both patients.

Mrs. Sam Lowdermilk and son, Lincoln, Friendsville, and Mrs. Miller were Thursday visitors of the latter's mother, Mrs. Hazel Oester, a resident of the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville. Mrs. Oester and Mrs. Miller were among those calling at the Newman Funeral Home, near Accident, on Friday following the death of Mrs. Mable Brenneman. Mrs. Oester will observe her 89th birthday anniversary this Sunday, January 13. Cards may be sent to her at the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville, Md. 21536.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deniker were Friday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Louise Richter, Accident. Mrs. Deniker was a Thursday visitor of Mrs. Mary Zinkan, Accident, and was a Monday visitor of Mrs. Elsie Glass. Later that day, Mrs. Glass slipped on the ice as she went to her mailbox, sustained a broken ankle, and is now recuperating at her home.

Monday dinner guests of Mrs. Alfreda Friend were Joshua and Jeremy Robinson, Friendsville, and Elmer Hanft. Mrs. George Fint, Miss Kimberly Bittinger, Aurora, W.Va., and Mrs. Friend were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson, Friendsville. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and sons, Joshua and Jeremy, and Miss Kimberly Bittinger returned to Friendsville on Saturday night after spending two weeks in Germany. Kimberly returned to Aurora with her mother, Mrs. Fint, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Friend and daughter, McHenry, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ringer spent the holiday vacation in Florida at Disneyworld near Orlando. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Del Monte, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rush, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Champagyne, Titusville, Fla.

Many attended the congregational covered dish supper at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, on Sunday evening. A birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Esther Margroff by Mr. and Mrs. William L. Miller, Grantsville. All shared the cake after the supper. Mrs. Margroff reached her 75th birthday anniversary on Monday, January 7. Following the supper at the church, guests of Mrs. Margroff at her home were Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Margroff and sons, Friendsville; Mrs. Chad King, near Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Margroff, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Margroff, Troy Margroff, Mrs. Donnie Evans and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Margroff, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Margroff and family, and Mr. and Mrs. John Strider and daughters. They presented her with several birthday gifts. Approximately 60 friends and relatives gathered on Monday evening at Ravens Inn, near Markleysburg, Pa., for a surprise supper celebration, including Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heintz, Pittsburgh; Floyd Zehner, Mrs. Edna Zehner, Mrs. John Zehner, Somerset, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zehner, Confluence, Pa. Mrs. James Margroff presented a Ralph Edwards version of "This is Your Life" for the occasion. The birthday cake for that evening was baked and decorated by Mrs. Kevin Margroff.

Rev. and Mrs. Oren Bender and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Yoder and sons were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Beitzel, Accident, where they were joined by others for a birthday celebration honoring Ron Kling, Accident.

Among the Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashby, Swanton, were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ashby, Westernport; Miss Nina Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Bernard and family, Swanton; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ringer. The occasion was to celebrate the 5th birthday anniversary of the former's son, Tyler Ashby, that occurred recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bender and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brenneman, Accident. The Benders spent a week and a half at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Opel, Accident, doing chores on their dairy farm while the Opels spent the time with Mrs. Opel's folks in Kansas.

Church officers installed on Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, included: president, Richard Kolb, Mt. Lake Park; secretary, Martin Reichenbecher, Addison, Pa.; treasurer, John Strider; elder, James Margroff; and trustee, Keith Harman. Sunday School attendance awards for 1990 at that church were: perfect attendance, Misses Esther and Claudine Opel and Hubert Thomas; two absences, Miss Alverta Dillon; and three absences, Randall Harman, Accident, and Elmer Hanft. A Bible Study Class conducted by the pastor, Rev. Ernest Lindner, is held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Jodi Hershberger, Grantsville, and Jason Maust spent the holidays with their respective parents. Miss Hershberger also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Markel Maust several times. Jodi and Jason have both returned to Catonsville Community College for the coming semester, where they are students.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Roberts and family were Saturday dinner guests of Mark Halsig and Marci McClive. Marci and daughter, Jordan, were Monday visitors of the Roberts family and spent some time sled riding that day with the Roberts.

Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bender included Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Maust, Lori Maust, Diane Yoder, Jerry Maust, Sheldon Maust, Lorena Maust, Angie Brenneman, Accident; Douglas Beitzel, Salisbury, Pa.; Tim Tice, Dave Tice and Danny Tice, Meyersdale, Pa.; and Phebe Maust.

Mrs. Dorothy Resh returned to her home here on Saturday evening after spending the past three weeks with her daughters at Arlington and Alexandria, Va., and Rockville. Shirley Resh, Rockville, accompanied her mother to her home here and remained an overnight guest.

Saturday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Betty Richter were Mr. and Mrs. Greg Diehl and sons, Grantsville.

New Year's Day supper guests of Mrs. Gertrude Glass were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Roberts and family. A Sunday dinner guest was Mrs. Freda Moser, Accident. Mrs. Glass and Mrs. Moser were afternoon visitors of Mrs. Artie Georg, Accident.

Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Glover were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glover, Friendsville. Other visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kelso, Accident, and Mrs. Paul Harman and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Long and family were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Hinkle, Oakland, and were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Long, Mt. Lake Park. Friday evening visitors of the Gary Longs were Rev. and Mrs. Russell Riley, Tunnelton, W.Va.

Weekend guests of Fred Bentz were Mr. and Mrs. David Bentz and son, Stephen, Sykesville.

A guest for a few days of Rev. and Mrs. Oren Bender was their granddaughter, Ashley, of Beckley, W.Va. Mrs. Bender and Ashley were Friday visitors of Mrs. Bender's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Maust, Salisbury, Pa.

A Thursday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft was Rev. Ernest Lindner. Spending Friday were Misses Kristen and Amanda Hanft, Addison, Pa. Mrs. Carroll Hanft was also a visitor. Sunday afternoon callers were Juanita Johnson and daughter, Cumberland. Mr. and Mrs. Hanft spent Saturday afternoon with Juanita at Cumberland.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hockman were Dean Hockman, Toni and Wesley.

4-H CLUB NEWS

YOUGH VALLEY INDIANS
by Christina Umbel, Reporter

Our Christmas dinner was December 9 at the Friendsville Fire Hall. Special guests were Ted Sprangel and wife, from the Extension Office. Installation of the new officers for 1991 was held. Around 50 attended.

Each family brought a center piece for the table and later for door prizes each family brought a covered dish.

Mary Teats gave the invocation. The guess cake was made by Christina Umbel and Ted Sprangel won the cake. The question was "What year was 4-H formed?" The answer was 1904.

All club members brought a gift for exchange.

We have two new leaders to help in 1991: Jim House and Carol Wakefield.

A special donation was given to the Friendsville Fire Hall for the use of room all year.

The next meeting will be January 14th at Friendsville Fire Hall at 6:30 p.m.

Gorman VFD Installs Officers

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department installed 1991 officers at its January 7 meeting. Installed were: Isadore "Jim" Skeweris, president; Timmy Dawson, vice president; Marshall Neel, secretary; Helen Neel, treasurer; Rich Blamble, chief; Mike Steyer, first assistant chief; Earl Wilt Jr., second assistant chief; Denny Riley, captain; Drew Sheally, lieutenant; and Paul Henline, chaplain.

Oakland Area Computer Club Now Organizing

The Oakland Area Computer Users Group (TOACUG) is now being organized, according to Steve Seman of Hacker Shack Computers and Accessories, coordinator of the group. All persons in the Oakland area who are interested in computers are invited to join the new organization and give input on its formation.

Users of IBM, Commodore, Atari, Apple, Texas Instruments, and others are included in the club's membership. The main goal of the organization, according to Seman, is to help people understand and use their computers more productively and to give advice to new computer users. TOACUG is based on other on other existing computer clubs in the United States and will be offering an on-line network to members and non-members in the near future.

Meetings will be on a monthly basis and will be held the third Thursday of each month from 5 to 8 p.m.. The first meeting is slated for January 17 in the meeting hall above Galleria Restaurant, Second Street, Oakland. No dues will be collected; however, there is a $1 cover charge to pay for the rental of the meeting hall.

A temporary slate of officers will be elected at the first meeting and the organization of the club will be discussed. Members will have the opportunity to see a number of different systems on display and swap public domain software with other members.

For more information, persons may contact Seman at 334-4158.

Teaching Series On Eucharist Set At St. John's

Teachings on the Holy Eucharist, the Episcopal Church's principal Sunday worship service, will be given each Sunday for four weeks beginning January 13 at St. John's Episcopal Church, Rt. 135, in Deer Park. During the sermon time at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services the Rev. Carroll Eads, guest teacher, and the interim vicar, the Rev. Peg Custer, will explore the history, theology, and ritual of Eucharist. The first week the idea and concept of "symbol" will be explored in the context of current secular usage and its use by the church in worship and sacrament.

The second week, Rev. Eads will continue to explore "symbol" with the congregation, concentrating on specific symbols handed down to Christians from the time of the Passover celebrations. This Sunday, Jan. 20, there will be a 10:30 a.m. Sunday service only; no 8 a.m. service.

The third week, Rev. Custer and Rev. Eads will direct attention to the church, its design and furnishings, especially the placement of the pulpit and altar. This is another way the church uses symbol to teach about the sacraments of Baptism and Eucharist and about community.

The final week their teaching will concentrate on the meaning of giving and receiving bread and wine and communal reception. "This concluding session will bring to the fore the reality that Eucharist is an on-going experience in daily life, one that reaches far beyond the walls of any Sanctuary," stated Rev. Custer.

DEED Secretary Offers New Year Resolutions For Maryland Businesses

Secretary of Economic and Employment Development J. Randall Evans has suggested several New Year's resolutions that could help prepare Maryland businesses to be more competitive in the decade ahead. He offered his resolutions at a press briefing today on "The Maryland Economy 1990."

"Today, Maryland businesses are facing increasing foreign competition," said Secretary Evans. "In order to prosper in these difficult economic times, companies must work smarter, be more productive and compete more effectively in a global marketplace."

The New Year's resolutions, and contacts for further information, are:

1. Make a commitment to quality. Businesses that produce high quality goods and services will be the survivors and winners of the 1990's. Contact Maryland Center for Quality and Productivity. Call (301) 403-4535.

2. Make a commitment to take an active role in educating and training your employees. Maryland's workforce is changing. There are fewer entrants. New technologies and global competition are changing products, services and processes to produce and deliver. Contact your local community college. Contact DEED Office of Employment Training ("Quality is at Work in Maryland"). Call (301) 333-5718. Contact the Johns Hopkins University, Loyola College, the University of Maryland and other institutions for continuing education courses.

3. Make a commitment to the application of Technology to your business. Businesses that reach out to form partnerships with universities or research labs can take advantage of the incredible brainpower and vast R&D resources available in Maryland. Contact DEED Office of Technology Development. Call (301) 333-6990. Contact the Maryland Industrial Partnerships Program, Engineering Research Center, University of Maryland, College Park. Call (301) 405-3891. Contact University of Maryland Technology Extension Service. Call (301) 405-3883. Contact your local Regional Technology Council:Greater Baltimore, call (301) 727-2820; Lower Shore, call (301) 548-4419; Southern Maryland, call (301) 934-2251, ext. 282; Suburban Maryland, call (301) 762-6325; Upper Shore, call (301) 822-5400, ext. 290; and Western Maryland, call (301) 777-2158.

4. Make a commitment to change your frame of reference to become internationally focused, rather that just regionally or nationally focused. Contact the Maryland International Division: Call (301) 333-8180. Contact the World Trade Center Institute: Call (301) 576-0022. Contact the Baltimore Council on Foreign Affairs: Call (301) 727-2150.

5. Make a commitment to reduce debt and increase equity financing in business.

6. Make a commitment to become environmentally knowledgeable and active. New federal laws, like the Clean Air Act, will require significant investments by creating new business opportunities for technical services and products.

"SKI FOR HEART" ANNOUNCED -- The sixth annual "Ski for Heart" event has been planned by the American Heart Association (AHA), Western Maryland Division, to be held Saturday, February 23, at Wisp Resort with registration at 11 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. on the day of the event. "Ski for Heart" is designed to acquaint individuals with the cardiovascular benefits of skiing while raising money for the AHA's research and educational programs, according to a spokesperson for the event. Participants may register by obtaining one or several donations from sponsors, which they then turn in at the registration desk on the day of the event. All skiers will be eligible for prizes from Rudy's Ski Shop and Wisp, including discounts on lift passes and ski rental. Participants who raise over $350 will be eligible for the grand prize of a free season pass and two free ski tune-ups. The goal of the event is to ski a total of one million vertical feet. Pictured above, right to left, are Mark Ruhe, public relations for Wisp Resort; Karen Giffin, AHA development specialist; and Bill Stemple, representative for Rudy's Ski Shop. For more information about the event, persons may call the AHA, Western Md. Division, at (301) 724-4011.

Marketing Data Available From Planning Office

The Maryland Office of Planning today announced that data are available listing the number of business establishments and their employment levels for establishments in Baltimore City and each of the state's 23 counties.

The data, which are available in diskette form for use on microcomputers, are listed in two versions: one, by four-digit Standard Industrial Classification (SIC); and two, by zip code.

"For any public or private sector organization involved in business marketing, site selection, or making economic assessments, these data will be a valuable tool," said Maryland Office of Planning Director, Ronald M. Kreitner.

SIC coverage includes agricultural services, mining, construction, manufacturing, transportation and public utilities, wholesale and retail trade, finance, insurance, real estate, and services.

The employment-level data are broken into nine categories: number of establishments with 1-4 employees, 5-9, 10-19, 20-49, 50-99, 100-249, 250-499, 500-999, and 1000 or more employees.

The data are as of March, 1988 and are based on a special tabulation prepared by the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Files are available on 5 ¼-inch flexible disks in IBM PC format. Unless specified, all files are placed on high density (1.2 MB) diskettes.

For pricing information, persons may contact John Kozarski, Maryland Office of Planning, Room 1101, 301 W. Preston Street, Baltimore, MD 21201-2365; telephone (301) 225-4450.

Singing Boys Of Pennsylvania To Perform At PSC

The Singing Boys of Pennsylvania will appear in concert in the auditorium of the Church-McKee Arts Center on the campus of Potomac State College at 8 p.m., on January 17.

According to a Highland Arts Unlimited, Inc., spokesman, the choir has an "amazing repertoire which has variety, appeal, excitement, and professionalism." The company of 24 young artists, 10 to 14, sings major works of Britten, Pergolesi, Porpora, or Randall Thompson, selections from operas and musicals, and a rich assortment of American folk music. There are Stephen Foster favorites, spirituals, sea chanteys, an Appalachian Medley, and a new work, "America on Parade."

"The success of the Singing Boys of Pennsylvania in concerts throughout America and in regular tours of Japan has made the Singing Boys of Pennsylvania an outstanding attraction. These boys easily win the hearts of an audience, and are one of the most sought-after groups of its kind in America and Japan," the spokesman said.

Funding for this appearance is made possible by memberships, financial assistance from businesses and Potomac State College, and through an Arts and Humanities grant from the West Virginia Commission on the Arts, Division of Culture and History.

Tickets for this program may be purchased in advance at the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Keyser, the National Bank of Keyser, or at Ott's Music in Cumberland, at $5.00 per adult and $3.00 per child. They may also be purchased at the Church-McKee box office on the evening of the performance at an additional cost of $1.00 per ticket.

Husky Matmen Remain Unbeaten With 37-25 Win

The Northern High School wrestling team maintained its undefeated record this past week by topping a tough North Hagerstown squad Saturday, 37-25, on the Huskies' mats. The win upped Coach Lynn Brenneman's team's record to 6-0.

Recording pins for the Huskies were Tim Thomas in the 135-pound division, and Dale Fazenbaker, 140, while Ron Sines (145) and Scott Beitzel (heavyweight) won by technical fall. Allen Bittinger (132), Randy Dolan (152), and Tommy Hare (160) won by decision. Rich Wyland scored a default victory over Jim Willson in the 119-pound class.

North Hagerstown grapplers earning pins were Mike Telemeco and Mike Renner.

The loss was only the second of the season for North Hagerstown.

The Huskies will face another strong team this evening when they travel to Meyersdale for a 7:30 match.

Ram Grapplers Finish Fifth In Petersburg Event

The Southern High School wrestling team participated in the Petersburg Tournament Saturday and finished fifth in the 10-team event.

Jason Burgess captured first place for the Rams in the 183-pound division, Gary Sweitzer and Brian McCroskey placed second in the 112-pound and 152-pound divisions, respectively, Pete Strawser finished third in the 119-pound class, and Ed Philyaw was fourth in the 171-pound class.

The Rams, coached by Terry Kendall and Tom Woods, will return to action this Saturday in the Garrett County Tournament, to be held at Northern High School.

FOODLAND FUNDS TOURNEY — Grantsville Foodland recently donated $200 towards funding the Third Annual Garrett County Wrestling Tournament, which will be held this Saturday at Northern High School, beginning at 11 a.m. The tourney, held last year at Northern, would normally revert to Southern High this year, but will remain at Northern because of ongoing renovations at Southern. Teams participating will include Central Preston, East Preston, Southern, Northern, Petersburg, Frankfort, Westmar, Hyndman, Morgantown, and Allegany. Northern won the event its first two years. Pictured above accepting the Foodland donation are, left to right, N.H.S. senior wrestlers Dale Fazenbaker and Tommy Haer, Northern Coach Lynn Brennemen, senior Randy Dolan, Foodland owner Mark Martin, and senior Tim Thomas.

Elks Hoop Shoot Set January 19 At Southern High

The local Elks Hoop Shoot Free Throw Contest will be held in the Southern High School gymnasium on Saturday, January 19, beginning at 2 p.m.

There will be three age categories of competition for girls and boys: ages 8-9, ages 10-11, and ages 11-12. Contestants will be placed according to their age on April 1, 1991. Boys will compete against boys and girls will compete against girls.

Local winners will advance to the district event and, pending their success, on to the state, regional, and national finals. Trophies will be awarded locally to the winners and runners-up in each age group.

Over 3.3 million youth participated in the Elks Hoop Shoot nationwide last year.

Persons with questions about the competition may contact Robert Goad, local director, at 334-8206.

Rams Roll Over Huskies, Edge Keyser To Up Record To 9-2

Southern High School continues to be among the area's leaders in boys' varsity basketball, as the Rams improved their record to 9-2 this past week with a 59-39 victory over cross-county rival Northern Friday night in Accident and a 63-62 Potomac Valley Conference overtime win at Keyser Tuesday night.

Coach Tom Bosley's Rams will face a stiff test this Saturday night when they travel to Allegany.

Brett Rice continues to pace the Rams' offense and all area scorers, as he hit a game-high 18 points against Northern and led with 34 points against Keyser. Rice, a junior forward, is averaging 27 points per contest.

Although the Northern defense managed to hold Rice to 18 points, the Rams held a comfortable lead throughout the game. They were on top 18-10 at the end of the first quarter, led 29-16 at halftime, and held a commanding 45-22 advantage after three periods.

Also reaching double figures for Southern were Jeremy Bosley and Richard Beckman with 10 points each.

Mike Fike, who returned to the Husky line-up after missing three games because of a broken finger, netted all 10 of his points in the second half to pace Northern's scoring.

The loss was the seventh in nine games for Coach Dave Bender's young Huskies, who came back to crush Flintstone on Tuesday evening, 76-44 (see separate story).

A 15-foot jumper by Rice in the closing seconds of Southern's game against Keyser Tuesday evening sent the contest into overtime, as the score was knotted at 58 apiece at the buzzer.

The lead changed hands several times during the game, as the Rams held a 13-9 advantage at the end of the first quarter, trailed by one at halftime, 22-21, and then regained a three-point margin by the end of the third stanza, 44-41.

The Golden Tornado knotted the score late in the fourth period and then took a three-point lead on a long jumper by Justin Smith with just a minute left in regulation.

The Rams tied the score at 56, but then fouled Smith with just seven seconds left. Smith connected on both of his free throws to give Keyser a 58-56 lead.

The Rams brought the ball down the court and Bosley called timeout to set up for a final shot. Rice fired the ball from 15 feet as the clock ran out and the shot was good, sending the game into overtime.

A field goal by Rice and a free throw by Greg Inglese gave Southern a 61-58 lead, and Smith answered with a two-pointer to cut the Rams' lead to one, 61-60. After another bucket by Rice made it 63-60, Smith fired a three-pointer with just seconds remaining. The ball bounced off the rim and was tipped in by Jay Twyman for the final two points of the game.

Beckman finished with 10 points for the Rams, while Smith paced Keyser with 28 and Twyman added 18. It was the fifth loss in nine games for the Golden Tornado.

In junior varsity action, the Northern High jayvees upped their record to 5-1 in Friday's preliminary game by edging the Southern junior varsity, 31-27. Brian Kamp led the Huskies with nine points and C.J. Getson netted eight to pace Southern.

The winless Ram jayvees were also defeated Tuesday night by Keyser, 60-40.

GCC Tae Kwan Do Members Fare Well In Nationals; Classes Offered

Members of the Garrett Community College Tae Kwan Do Club took several first place honors in the recent American championships in San Antonio, Texas, according to Toney Artice, instructor.

Amy Caldwell, a freshman at GCC majoring in business administration, won first place in the women's Black Belt division in free sparring. Miss Caldwell claims to have first developed an interest in Tae Kwan Do when her mother and sister participated in the sport at the Artice studio in Oakland. She has previously won the Maryland State championships and the West Virginia championships.

Another first place for the Garrett club was won by Mike Smoot in the lightweight teacher's division. Shaun Craver, Artice's assistant instructor, took third place in the heavyweight teacher's division.

The youngest competitor from the Garrett club was 9-year-old Tommy Adams of Aurora, W.Va., who took first place in the 6-12-year-old Black Belt division. Adams had also been a bronze medalist in the Junior Olympics.

Artice, who has been practicing and teaching Tae Kwan Do for 12 years, will be teaching two courses at the college during the spring semester — a one-credit course on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 10:40-11:40, and a non-credit course on Friday evenings, from 7-9 p.m. Both classes begin the week of January 21.

Artice emphasizes that persons of all levels of ability are welcome to join these classes. He points out that benefits of Tae Kwan Do are improved physical conditioning and development of coordination. It will be an Olympic sport in 1996.

On Saturday, January 26, from 2-4 p.m. in the college gym, Artice and members of the Tae Kwan Do Club have scheduled a testing and demonstration that is open to the public. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

Anyone desiring further information about the Tae Kwan Do classes and the club should call Artice at 746-5722 or 334-2246. He would particularly like to hear from persons interested in registering for one of the courses.

NATIONAL CHAMPION Amy Caldwell, a member of the Garrett Community College Tae Kwan Do Club, demonstrates a perfect side kick. Caldwell was one of several members of the local club, instructed by Toney Artice, Friendsville, who fared well in the national championships, held recently in San Antonio, Tex.

Niner Const. Still Unbeaten In League Play

Niner Construction/A&A ran its undefeated record to 9-0, 14 straight over the past two seasons, as they easily handled Levi Sunglasses, 106-73. Kevin Liller poured in 32 points and teammates Ken Niner and Tom Panther added 26 and 24, respectively. Paul Barnhouse scored 26 points to lead Levi's.

Buffalo Coal upped their record to 6-1 as they rolled Fairfax Stone, 85-74. Paul Lewis led Buffalo with 23 points and Pat Adams was high man for Fairfax with 19.

The National Guard outgunned D&C Video, 94-80. Marshall Pike scored 35 points for the Guard while teammate Lawrence Dawson added 20 points in the victory. Bill Dignan led D&C with 24.

At GCC Thursday night, Video Connection edged Westvaco, 76-72. Dean Marsico and John Harmke both scored 22 points to lead Video. Gary Morris scored 22 points and Donnie Marsh added 20 points for Westvaco.

Deep Creek Pharmacy moved its record back over .500 by battling CMC Enterprises to a 82-76 victory. Both teams had 10-point leads during the game, with CMC's coming midway through the second half. All five Deep Creek starters scored in double figures as Mike Fazenbaker led the attack with 20 points. The league's second leading scorer, CMC's Rick Minnick, was "held" to 21 points.

Martin's Auto Glass also moved its record over the .500 mark by easily handling The Curve Tavern, 112-72. Poke Winters scored 36 points to pace Martin's attack. Bobby Crouse led The Curve with 28.

In Sunday's action at the college, Miners & Merchants Bank rolled to an easy 100-75 win over The Curve Tavern. Jerry Myers' 25 points and Allan Selders' 20 points paced the Miners' offense. Bobby Crouse was high man for The Curve with 23.

In the nightcap, Fairfax Stone held off a furious last-minute rally by Levi Sunglasses to win their third game of the season, 80-78. Levi's, down 73-61 with 3:02 remaining in the game, outscored Fairfax 15-3 over the next two and half minutes to tie the score at 76-76. Fairfax scored a bucket with 30 ticks on the clock to make the score 78-76. Levi's missed a shot on their next possession and Charlie Adams got the rebound for Fairfax and was fouled immediately. Adams calmly stepped to the line and nailed both foul shots to ice the game. Jeff Lipscomb and Robert Shahan both scored 22 points to lead the Fairfax attack. Levi's Chad Aronholt led all scorers with 36 points and Paul Barnhouse added 24 points for Levi's.

Huskies Rip Flintstone, 76-44, Before Being Topped By Salisbury

After falling to cross-county rival Southern Friday night, the Northern High Huskies rebounded for an easy 76-44 Mid-Appalachian League win over Flintstone Tuesday in Accident. However, the Huskies were topped last night at Salisbury, 61-44, as their record fell to 3-8.

Jon Houser paced the Huskies against Flintstone with 16 points and was one of nine Huskies who scored in the balanced attack. Richard Schofield finished with 12 points, Mike Fike led the team with eight rebounds, and Rob Speicher added four assists.

The Huskies were never threatened in the game, as they jumped out to a 25-6 lead in the first quarter, were on top 35-23 at halftime, and led 50-33 after three periods.

Kevin Thacker led the Aggies with 15 points.

Salisbury upped its record to 7-3 with its win last night over the Huskies. Andy Hershberger and Mike Seibert led the winners with 19 and 18 points, respectively.

The Huskies led by three, 12-9, at the end of the first quarter, but the Pennsylvanians took the lead for good in the second period. They led 25-17 at intermission and 38-28 after three quarters. Salisbury netted 13 of 19 free throws in the final eight minutes to secure the victory.

Also reaching double figures for Salisbury was E.J. Benning with 14 points and nine rebounds. Houser again paced the Huskies, finishing with 14 points, while Aaron Morris and Mike Fike each netted eight.

The Northern junior varsity continued its winning ways this week, however, as the jayvee Huskies ripped Flintstone, 65-22, and rolled over Salisbury, 37-19, in the preliminary games.

Derek Mason netted 12 points against Flintstone and 17 against Salisbury to pace the Huskies' scoring. E.J. Shewbridge netted six points for Flintstone and Andy Moser paced Salisbury with 11 points.

The two victories upped the Northern jayvees' record to 7-1.

The Huskies will travel to Hancock next Tuesday.

Southern Girls Fall To Aggies

The Southern High School girls' varsity is still looking for its first win of the season, as the Rams traveled to Flintstone last night and lost to the Aggies, 78-67.

Coach Don Stemple's Rams led by one at the end of the first quarter, 17-16, and the score was tied at halftime, 37-37. However, the Aggies moved out to a 55-51 advantage by the end of the third stanza and never trailed in the fourth period.

Khrystie Browning paced the Rams' scoring with 21 points, Michelle Duling finished with 19, and Shelli Cannon added 15.

Joy McCusker spearheaded the Aggies' offense with 28 points, Dawn Singleton finished with 18, and Tina McCusker hit 15 points and was credited with five assists. Deneen Logue led the defense with five steals.

The evening was not a total loss for Ram fans, as the junior varsity embarrassed the Flintstone jayvees, 61-11. Ingrid Carlson and Josey Coviello paced the Rams' scoring with 12 points each, while Shelvy Wharton netted nine of the Aggies' 11 points.

Chuckie Moore, Bruce Boldley Pace Lakers Past Essex, 74-67

A 37-point performance by All-American candidate Chuckie Moore highlighted a 74-67 Maryland JUCO Conference overtime victory by the Garrett Community College Lakers last night over Essex on the Knights' floor. The win improved Coach Dennis Gibson's team's season mark to 11-3, a mark they will take to Potomac State College in Keyser this Saturday for an 8 p.m. matchup.

Moore also led the Lakers in rebounding with 11, while teammate Bruce Boldley finished with 19 points, seven assists, and four steals.

The Knights were on top at halftime by six points, 36-30, but the score remained close throughout the second half. With the score knotted at 58, Craig Andrews of Essex hit a jumper at the 1:45 mark to give the Knights a two-point lead. The Lakers then turned the ball over after an Essex timeout. After bringing the ball to halfcourt, the Knights called timeout again, but Boldley stole the inbounds pass and went for a lay-up that tied the score at 60 with 42 seconds remaining.

Boldley forced another turnover with just six seconds left, but the Lakers were unable to get a shot off in the final moments and the game went into overtime.

Garrett dominated the overtime period, as Moore netted 10 of the Laker's 14 points on three field goals and a free throw. Boldley scored the other four points.

Leading the Knights' scoring were John Washington with 19 points and Jerry Nixon with 15.

GCC Coach Dennis Gibson noted the second-half play of Boldley. "He had a great second half, both offensively and defensively," Gibson said.

Moore is averaging 28 points per contest for the Lakers, while Boldley is averaging 12.

Laker Women Improve To 2-2 With Wins Over Frederick, Essex

After opening the season with a pair of losses, the Garrett Community College women's basketball team has rebounded with two straight wins this week, a 53-49 defeat of Frederick Sunday afternoon in McHenry and a 56-38 thumping of Essex CC last night at Essex. The victories gave the Lakers a 2-0 mark in the Maryland JUCO standings and they will go after win number three this Sunday at Montgomery-Rockville.

Marci DeBerry led the Laker offense against Frederick with 18 points, while Tracy Henline, playing in her first game of the season, pulled down 17 rebounds. Kenyatta Brown added 13 points.

The Lakers led by one point at halftime, 25-24, and held the lead most of the second half. The Cougars came into the contest with a 7-2 record.

Bobbie Jo Flagle paced the Cougars with 18 points, while Kim Copeland and Angel Carroll grabbed 16 and 11 rebounds, respectively.

DeBerry also led Garrett's scoring last night against Essex, as she finished with a game-high 23 points. Copeland contributed 11 points, 14 rebounds, and five blocked shots.

After the Knights scored the first four points of the game, Kenyatta Brown hit a three-pointer for the Lakers and DeBerry followed with a lay-up to give GCC the lead for good. They out-scored the home team 25-8 the rest of the half to lead 25-12 at halftime.

Brown was injured six minutes into the second half, however, and the Lakers had to finish the contest with just five players.

With the Lakers' lead at 20 points with about seven minutes remaining, the Knights began a rally that cut the lead to 12 points, as Jennifer Ellworth hit a pair of three-pointers and Melissa Balog added a lay-up. But DeBerry answered with her own pair of three-point buckets to rebuild the Laker advantage.

Local Skiers Win Awards At Seven Springs

Seven local skiers traveled to Seven Springs Resort in Pennsylvania Sunday afternoon to participate in USSA-sanctioned ski races, and five of them brought trophies back to Garrett County for their efforts.

Todd Gibson won first place in the Junior IV (ages 11-12) class. Second places were captured by Kevin Lohr in Junior I (ages 17-18), Tack Spiker in Junior II (ages 15-16), and Beau Gibson in Junior Class V and VI (10 and under). Winning a third place was Jason Martin in Junior I.

Also racing and representing Garrett County were Lee Collins and Cara Freyman, who encountered difficulties on the course and were disqualified.

The local team is racing without its highest ranked competitor, Mike Freyman, who was seriously injured in a November automobile mishap. However, Freyman is providing assistance and support with equipment and coaching.

"GO! GO! GO! GO!"

Gibson Places Sixth In State Ski Rankings

A Deep Creek Lake youth has placed sixth among Maryland's 7-9 year-old skiers, for the 1989-90 ski season. Beau Gibson, son of Jim and Kathy Gibson, received the ranking, awarded by Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR (National Standard Race), because of his outstanding racing performance last year, according to NASTAR Commissioner Bob Beattie.

Skiing at Breckenridge Ski Corp, Colo., Gibson posted a personal season-best handicap of 42. Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR State Rankings are based on a skier's best handicap of the season. A handicap is the percentage difference between a skier's race time and the theoretical time of the fastest NASTAR racer, U.S. Ski Team member Bob Ormsby. Gibson's handicap means he raced within 42 percent of Ormsby.

Beau, age 9, trains at the Wisp Resort in McHenry.

NASTAR, the world's largest recreational ski racing program, operates at 180 ski areas nationwide. Each fall members of the U.S. Ski Team race at the NASTAR National Pacesetting Trials to determine the fastest NASTAR racer and establish the "Zero" handicap against which all recreational racers can compare themselves all season long.

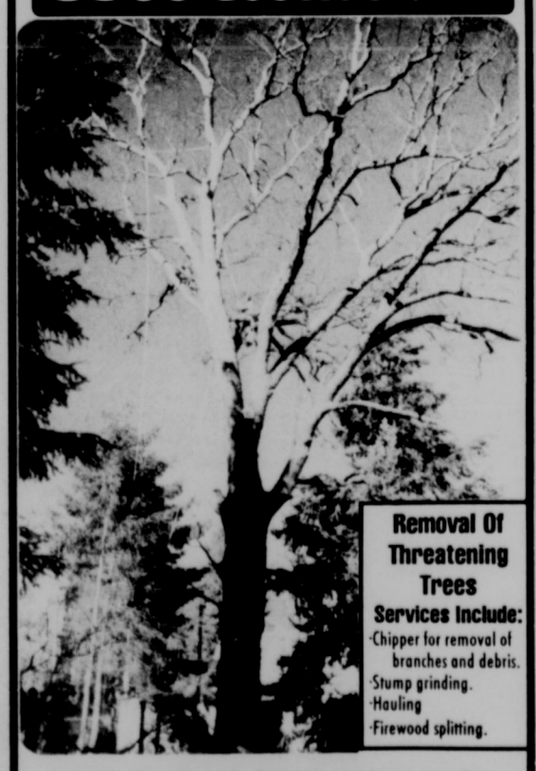
"Beau should be very proud of his accomplishment," says U.S. Ski Team's Director of Development, Deb LaMarche. "The U.S. Ski Team looks very closely at the top-ranked Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR racers in scouting for promising young skiers with Ski Team potential," she added.

The Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program ranks the top 10 boys and girls in six age categories in all 50 states. The top-ranked skiers earn a listing on selected Rankings posters distributed state-wide, a State Leader patch, and a certificate of achievement. First place winners also receive a pair of I SKI sunglasses and the "LipProofer" from Bonne Bell.

Last season, more than 100,000 youths participated in the Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program. In addition to national and state rankings honors, young skiers can earn gold, silver or bronze medals every time they race.

Various Races Slated For This Weekend At Wisp

Several competitive events are slated for this weekend at the Wisp Resort in McHenry, and with the current winter conditions finally available, the events should proceed as planned.



The Mid-Atlantic Snowboard Series, featuring snowboard competition in both slalom and half-pipe event, will be held Saturday, January 12, beginning at 10 a.m. Registration, the fee for which is $15 for both events, will be held Saturday morning prior to competition. For more details on these races, persons may contact Tony Lincoln at the Wisp Resort.

Also on Saturday will be the Molson Ski Challenge, a fun obstacle race for participants at least 21 years of age. Skiers will finish the course at their own pace and those whose finishing times closest to the randomly selected winning time will receive prizes. The registration fee for this event, set to begin at 1:30 p.m., is $5.

Then on Sunday, January 13, the Wisp Memorial Slalom for skiers will be held at 10:30 a.m. The event is open to male and female competitors of all ages. Trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers in 10 age categories. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. The entry fee is $8.

TERRA ALTA WHOLESALE GROCERY OPENS — A new grocery store has opened in Terra Alta, W.Va., called The Peoples Store Wholesale Grocery. The 13,000 square foot store is located on Rt. 7 across from J and J Ford, and has a large parking area. The new market is the most recent reincarnation of a Terra Alta tradition, according to Rob Markwood, store owner. He said that the first Peoples Store in Terra Alta was opened in the late 1800's, and Markwood's great-grandfather moved from Aurora and bought part of the business in 1922. His grandfather and father operated the store until the 1960's. Markwood said providing employment is an important aspect of the business, and that approximately 30 people of the area have been hired. The store will be opened seven days a week, from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Monday through Saturday, and from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday. When asked how business had been so far, Markwood replied enthusiastically, "It was double what we expected."

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

MOUNTAINEERS' ACTIVITIES

On December 27 the first year members of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club were all present at the Eglon Memorial Building for a workshop under the instruction of Arlene Lantz, Emily Lewis, Mark Utterback, and Anita Moats. Those attending were Sarah Snyder, Grant Harsh, Shawn Rembold, Melissa and Melvin Frantz, and Micah Feather.

Following the workshop, they were joined by the other members of the club and adults for a trip to Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas, where they presented a program for the patients and provided refreshments and favors for a birthday party. In addition to the above named, the following members went to Cortland Acres: Becky Snyder, Amy and Lisa Moats, Katie, Matt and John Utterback, Amanda and Aaron Teets, Rhett Beckman, Tim Harsh, Beth and Melissa Evans, Brian and Kevin Corbin, Tom Teets, Regina Shaffer, Jeremiah Feather, Rebecca and Elizabeth Wotring and parents and guests: Linda and Sara Lewis, Linda Snyder, Rita S. and Maria Harsh, Sue Corbin, Diane Evans, LaDeana, Mark and Lindsey Teets, Judy Shaffer, Mary and Ed Utterback, Carolyn Wotring, and Nathan Feather.

A visit to the skating rink at Canaan Valley State Park concluded the afternoon for the majority of the group.

LANTZ RECEIVES DEGREE

Arlene Lantz was one of the December recipients of a master's degree in education from West Virginia University. Mrs. Lantz and her husband, Willie, are residents of Hedgesville where Mrs. Lantz is teaching kindergarten classes at the Tomahawk Elementary School. Mrs. Lantz is the daughter of Don and Elaine Roth of Horse Shoe Run.

DEATHS

Ora Snyder Kametz, 74, of Davis, died Friday, January 4, in Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for only a few days. She was born near Aurora September 28, 1916, a daughter of the late John and Dona Henline Snyder.

Her sister, Alma Harsh, with whom she resided in Davis, survives as well as another sister, Jessie Hughes, of Florida, who was here at the time of her death to attend funeral services for Mrs. Hughes' mother-in-law, Hazel Hughes. A brother, Lawrence Snyder, of Horse Shoe Run also survives as does her daughter, Joan, of Akron. Services were held Monday at the Hinkle Funeral Home in Davis and the body returned to Akron for interment in the Hillside Memorial Cemetery.

Word was also received of the death of Lena M. Cole, 88, of Oakland. Mrs. Cole was a longtime resident of the Horse Shoe Run area and Eglon before moving to Oakland. Services were held in Oakland on Tuesday, with burial in the Stemple Ridge Cemetery.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Lydia Harsh, Rt. 1, Box 344, Aurora, W.Va. 26705 will observe her 90th birthday, Saturday, January 12.

Tom Lewis, who is serving in the Middle East, noted his appreciation for the many messages of encouragement received along with holiday greetings from friends and relatives here. His address now, following Monday deployment, is: CW4 Thomas E. Lewis, 235-74-2412, 146th Med. Co. "AA," Desert Shield, APO New York, N.Y. 09698.

Don and Judy Turley, Lee Ann and Robbie of Middletown, Md., and his mother, Mrs. Ivadean Turley, of Cumberland were December 27 visitors with Don and Elaine Roth, Willie and Arlene Lantz, Charlotte and Erik Cussins and Virginia Roth at Horse Shoe Run.

George Roth of Horse Shoe Run is a patient at Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, where he has been undergoing tests to determine his heart problem and possible correction.

Janet Judy totally demolished her automobile last Thursday evening as she returned to her Horse Shoe Run home from her work day. Due to some unexplained physical happening, she left the roadway and struck a telephone pole. She was not seriously injured.

Wilma Rembold returned to her home in Aurora following a mid-December visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Jim and Judy Rembold, in Upper Marlboro, Md., and a December 14-17 visit in Ft. Myers, Fla., with her brother-in-law and sister, Marrell and Effie Biser, who on Sunday, December 16, observed their 60th wedding anniversary. Her son accompanied her to Florida. Visiting this week with Mrs. Rembold is her grandson, Jeff Rembold, and his wife, Christina. They are also skiing in Canaan Valley.

Bowling and a party at the home of Gary and Sylvia Beckman and their daughter in Loch Lynn on Saturday evening, January 5, was the occasion to celebrate the January birthdays of both Gary Beckman and Gary Fike of Terra Alta. Other than the honored guests, those attending were Hallie and Jennifer Snyder, Louella Fike, Cleta and Brian Fike, and Norman Fike.

Guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Teets in Aurora were Chester and Mary Hughes of Fairfax, Va., who were here for the funeral of his mother, Hazel Hughes.

Lulu M. Peck of Akron was a guest of Jeff and Barbara (Loughrie) Coberly in Aurora last week when here for the Hughes services.

Paul and Shirleen Hinche and their two sons of Westminster were December 27-30 visitors here with her sister and family, Kirk and Anita Lantz and children, Brookside, and her mother, Lillian Knotts, Eglon. On Sunday they all joined with other family members for a dinner in the home of Larry and Donna Knotts at Cresaptown.

Albert Moore, Newark, Ohio, sister of Mrs. Jessie Winters, underwent surgery last week in a Newark hospital.

Wayne and Barbara Gnegy of Washington, Pa., were December 30 guests of his sister Elaine, and Don Roth, Horse Shoe Run, and family and his brother, Dale, and Mary Jane Gnegy and family, Gnegy Church. Although Wayne has been quite ill, he is now able to drive and do part-time work.

Oma Rembold Smith of Keyser, formerly of this area, has been hospitalized in Potomac Valley Hospital as the result of a heart attack.

Several members of the Amboy U.M. choir visited in the Homer and Orpha Fike home at Eglon on Sunday evening for a time of fellowship in song. Accompanying them was Mrs. Wilma Mae Teets.

David Boggess, after being transferred to Preston Memorial Hospital, is now at Shawnee Hills, Hopemont. His residence is in Aurora.

Also deployed recently to the Middle East was Scott Winters, son of Neil and Bonnie Winters, Hutton, and grandson, of George and Jessie Winters, Eglon. His address is: Capt. Scott L. Winters, 217-92-2263, 463 TAW Deployed, APO New York, N.Y. 09762.

Spending Christmas with her grandmother, Maxine Hauser, Aurora, was Susan Kahn of Ashland, Ky.

Ron and Jana Freeman and their daughters of Gerrardstown were Christmas weekend guests of her parents, Dean and Scott Sisler, in Aurora.

Albert "Buddy" Fauber of Kentucky visited at Christmas in Aurora with his wife and son, Tammy and Cody Fauber.

Sunday afternoon Dec. 30 visitors of Ron and Avenell Parsons were Darrell and Marie Roth of Morgantown, their sons, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Roth of Troy, Ohio, and daughter, Joann, and Mahlon Fiscel of Downington, Pa. They joined Ron and Avenell at a birthday dinner in the Bill and Sandra Hauser home to honor the Hauser's son, Wade D. Hauser, on his 20th birthday. Other family members were his siblings, Joe and Beth, another grandmother, Maxine Hauser, Bruce and Mary Rembold, and Shawn and Craig, Gary and Frances Roth, Chris, Jason and Lauren.

Leroy and Doris Harsh and their son, John, of Bridgewater, Va., were Sunday, Dec. 30 guests of his father, Artenis Harsh, Eglon.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN MEET

The United Methodist Women of the Terra Alta First United Methodist Church held their December meeting in the home of Eleanor Snyder.

Ruth Samaroo had the scripture reading. Rev. Samaroo offered prayer and had a short meditation on "preparing our hearts and minds for Christmas."

Eleanor Snyder led the program. All joined in singing Christmas carols.

Charlotte Freeland, president, conducted the business meeting.

Betty White noted the group had a good response to the hanging of the green and thanked Charlotte Freeland for preparing a soup and salad course which was served prior to decorating the church.

It was decided to present an honorary membership pin on December 16 during regular worship service.

Mrs. Freeland thanked Marjorie Loudermilk and Betty White for decorating the social hall in preparation for serving refreshments following the community choir concert. She also thanked the women who contributed cookies.

It was decided the United Methodist Women will not meet during the month of January, February and March because of the weather. The next meeting will be at the home of Rebecca Harriman April 9.

Eleanor Snyder served refreshments to the following: Charlotte Freeland, Myrtle Trowbridge, Marjorie Loudermilk, Betty White, Marie Roberts, Ruby Teets, Rebecca Harriman, Edma Gibson, Catherine and Frank Wilburn, Ruth Samaroo, the Rev. Joseph Samaroo and Virginia Coffindaffer.

OBITUARY

Rebecca Coralie Stemple, 60, Terra Alta, died Sunday, December 30, 1990, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, Md.

She was born October 26, 1930, at Freeport, a daughter of the late Levi and Mildred Nordeck Shaver.

She was a former nurse's aid at Hopemont State Hospital.

She is survived by one son, Scott D. Stemple, and one daughter, Linda R. Stemple, both of Terra Alta, and one granddaughter.

Friends were received at the Arthur H. Wright Funeral Home, Terra Alta. Services were held January 1, with the Rev. William Anderson officiating. Interment was in the Terra Alta Cemetery.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Terra Alta Homemakers met December 18, at the home of Mary Frankhouser. Devotion was by Edna Hull. The program, led by leader Beatrice Kelly and assisted by Wilma Glover, Edma Gibson, and Nancy Sisler, followed.

The club reported they have sold 15 Buckwheat Festival books. Plans were made for the January party for Hopemont patients and members will provide refreshments. Birthday cards will be sent to Hopemont patients each month.

A Homemaker Certificate of Award was sent to the club by the county extension office for outstanding community projects in 1990. Edma Gibson presented the program on "Health and Exercise."

The special feature displayed by Nancy Sisler was on traditional Christmas home decorations.

Those attending were Mary Frankhouser, Beatrice Kelly, Edna Hull, Wilma Glover, Nancy Sisler, Cecelia Hardesty, Floy Keller, Marie Metheny, Rhonda Metheny and Edma Gibson.

The January meeting will be at the home of Floy Keller.

PERSONAL

Ray Hoffman was admitted recently to Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown.

SENIORS MEET

The Terra Alta Senior Citizens met December 20. Dorothy Goode gave the devotions. Helen Ritchie played the piano.

Two guests from Preston Memorial Hospital were present.

Violet Bishop gave the treasurer's report, followed by a poem about Saudi Arabia by Eleanor Altum.

A covered dish Christmas dinner followed the meeting. Gifts were exchanged. Twenty-one were present for the meeting.

January will be birthday month. The cake will be baked at the Senior Center.

Pre-Registration For Kindergarten Now Underway

Preston County elementary schools are in the process of pre-registering students for kindergarten for the 1991-92 school year. School officials will be pre-registering students during the months of January and February.

Officials are seeking the names and birthdates of five-year-olds to plan for the kindergarten program next year. Persons who have a child, or know of one, who will be five years old before September 1, 1991, should contact their local school.

The school will need the child's name, birthdate, social security number (if available), parent or guardian's name, telephone number, and address.

Persons who have questions about West Virginia attendance laws, early entrance requirements, or other questions, should contact Gary Warnick at the Preston County School Board Office. The telephone number is 329-0580.

OPERATION DESERT SHIELD
MAIL CALL

As American forces continue their assignment in "Operation Desert Shield" in the Middle East, mail becomes even more important as a morale builder and an expression of public support of their service.

The Republican proudly lists the names and addresses of those local service personnel who are now stationed there, either in Saudi Arabia or other Middle East nations. We hope local residents will take a few moments to drop a line to these young men and women. It is not necessary to be personally acquainted with these local soldiers or with anyone else in the armed services to send him or her a letter. Expressions of upbeat support, humor, and words of good cheer will mean a lot.

Letters to anyone in the Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps, land-based in Saudi Arabia, may be addressed as follows:

Letters to anyone in the Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps at sea may be addressed as follows:

We will publish this list periodically over the next several weeks. Names and addresses of other local service personnel not listed here are welcome and will be added for future publication.

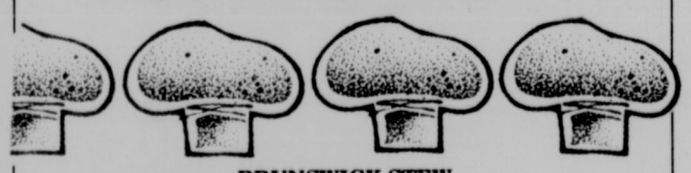
In the Kitchen

MIXED VEGETABLES EN POT

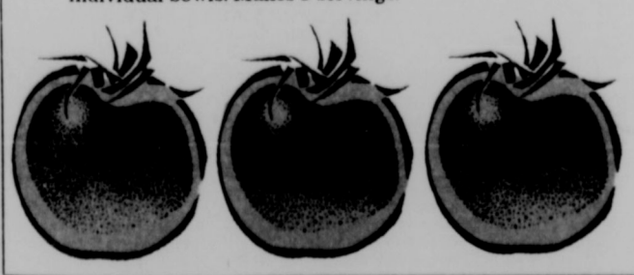
2 (10 oz.) packages frozen mixed vegetables, partially thawed
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1 (10 3/4 oz.) cans condensed cream of celery soup
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 packet (about 1/2 oz.) toasted onion dip mix
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine



In slow-cooking pot, combine mixed vegetables with celery. In medium bowl, mix soup with seasoned salt, dry dip mix, water, and melted butter. Pour over vegetables in pot. Cover and cook on low for 4 to 5 hours or until vegetables are tender. Makes 6 servings.

OLD FASHIONED BEEF STEW

2 lbs. beef stew meat, cut into 1-1/2 inch cubes
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons oil
1 bay leaf
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 onion, chopped
1 cup beef bouillon
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
6 carrots, peeled and sliced or quartered
1 cup sliced celery
4 potatoes, peeled and cut into eighths
12 small white onions
2 medium turnips, peeled and quartered (optional)
4 cups water
1 cup cooked okra (optional)

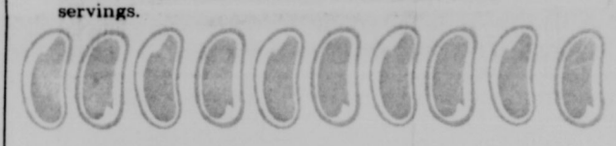


Coat meat with flour, set excess flour aside. In large skillet or slow-cooking pot with browning unit, heat oil. Brown meat on all sides. In slow-cooking pot, combine browned beef, bay leaf, Worcestershire sauce, chopped onion, bouillon, pepper, salt, sugar, and vegetables. Pour water over all. Cover and cook on low 8 to 10 hours. Turn control on high. Thicken with flour left over from coating (about 1/4 cup) dissolved in a small amount of water. Add okra if desired. Cover and cook on high 10 to 15 minutes or until slightly thickened. Makes 6-8 servings.

BRUNSWICK STEW

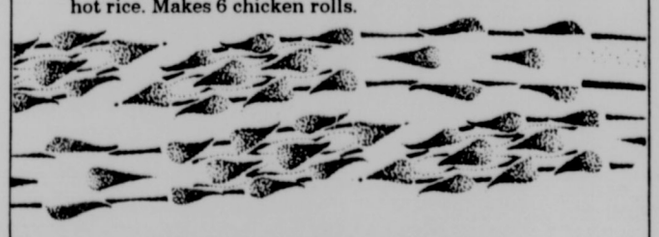
1 (2 1/2 to 3-lb.) chicken, cut up
2 quarts water
1 onion, chopped
2 cups cubed cooked ham
3 potatoes, diced
2 (16-oz.) cans tomatoes, cut up
1 (10-oz.) package frozen lima beans, partially thawed
1 (10-oz.) package frozen whole kernel corn, partially thawed
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon pepper

In slow-cooking pot, combine chicken with water, onion, ham, and potatoes. Cook, covered, on low for 4 to 5 hours or until chicken is done. Lift chicken out of pot. Remove meat from bones. Return chicken meat to pot. Add tomatoes, beans, corn, salt, sugar and pepper. Turn control to high. Cover and cook on high 1 hour. Serve in large individual bowls. Makes 8 servings.



BUSY WOMAN'S ROAST CHICKEN

1 (6 oz.) package stove-top dressing
1 1/4 cups water
1/4 cup sauterne wine
12 carrots, peeled and cut into 2-inch pieces
1 (4 to 5 lb.) roasting chicken
Salt and pepper



Prepare dressing according to package directions with 1 1/4 cups water. Set aside to cool. When cool, stir in sauterne. Meanwhile, in saucepan, cook carrots in small amount of water for 5 minutes. Drain and place in slow-cooking pot. Rinse and dry chicken, stuff with dressing. Place on top of carrots in slow-cooking pot. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover pot and cook on low for 6 to 8 hours or until chicken is tender. If a browner chicken is preferred, place in baking pan in 400 degree oven for about 15 minutes. Slice chicken, serve with carrots. Makes 6 to 7 servings.

CHICKEN BREASTS, SALTIMBOCCA STYLE

3 whole chicken breasts, skinned and boned
6 small slices ham
6 small slices Swiss cheese
1/4 cup flour
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon powdered sage
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup salad oil
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can condensed cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup dry white wine

Cut each boned chicken breast in half, pound until thin between two sheets of waxed paper or foil. Place slice of ham and cheese on each piece of chicken. Roll up and tuck ends in, secure with small skewer or toothpick. Dip chicken rolls into mixture of flour, Parmesan cheese, salt, sage, and pepper. Save any leftover flour mixture. Chill chicken for at least one hour. In large skillet or pot with browning unit, heat oil and saute chicken on all sides. Place browned chicken in slow-cooking pot, add soup mixed with wine. Cover and cook on low for 4 to 5 hours. Turn control to high. Thicken with leftover flour dissolved in a small amount of water. Cook on high for 10 minutes. Serve with hot rice. Makes 6 chicken rolls.

CHICKEN & HERB DUMPLINGS

1 (2 1/2 to 3 lb.) chicken, cut up
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 whole cloves
8 to 10 small white onions
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon powdered marjoram
1/4 teaspoon powdered thyme
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup dry white wine
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup packaged biscuit mix
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
6 tablespoons milk

Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper, place in slow-cooking pot. Insert cloves in one onion. Put all onions in pot. Add garlic, marjoram, thyme, bay leaf, and wine. Cover and cook on low 5 to 6 hours. Remove bay leaf and cloves. Stir in sour cream. Turn control to high. Combine biscuit mix with parsley, stir milk into biscuit mix with fork until well moistened. Drop dumplings from teaspoon around edge of pot. Cover and cook on high for 30 minutes. Makes 5 servings.

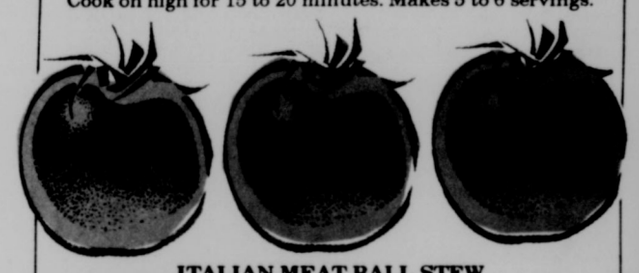
BARBECUED TURKEY LEGS

4 uncooked turkey drumsticks*
Salt and pepper
1/4 cup molasses
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup catsup
2 tabs. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tablespoon hickory smoke salt
1 tablespoon instant minced onion

Sprinkle turkey with salt and pepper. Place in slow-cooking pot. Combine remaining ingredients, pour over turkey. Cover and cook on low for 5 to 7 hours. If turkey legs are small, serve one thigh or one drumstick person, if large, slice off cooked meat and serve with sauce. Makes 4-6 servings.

*Use 4 thighs, 2 drumsticks and 2 thighs, or 4 drumsticks. Drumsticks may get done first, so check them before thighs. Cooking time on both parts will vary with the size. Use smaller size parts in smaller cooking pot.

CHICKEN PARMIGIANA

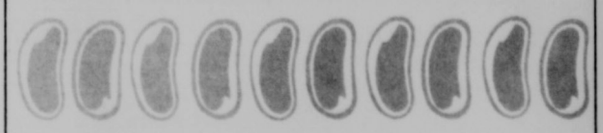


3 whole chicken breasts (or 6 halves)
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup butter
1 small eggplant, cut into large slices (about 3/4 inch thick)
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can pizza sauce
6 slices mozzarella cheese
Parmesan cheese

If using whole chicken breasts, cut into halves. In bowl, beat egg, salt, and pepper. Dip chicken into egg. Then coat with crumbs. In large skillet or slow-cooking pot with browning unit, saute chicken in butter. Arrange eggplant and chicken in pot (place eggplant on bottom or it will not cook completely). Pour pizza sauce over chicken. Cover and cook on low 6 to 8 hours. Add mozzarella cheese, sprinkle Parmesan cheese on top. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

FARM STYLE STEW

1-1/2 lbs. beef stew meat, cut into 1-inch cubes
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt
4 medium zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices
2 cups hot water
2 tablespoons bottled steak sauce
1 (17 oz.) can whole kernel corn, drained
3 tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons cold water



Sprinkle beef with salt, pepper, paprika, and seasoned salt. Place in slow-cooking pot with zucchini, pour hot water and steak sauce over. Cover and cook on low for 7 to 9 hours or until tender. Turn control to high. Stir in corn. Dissolve cornstarch in cold water, add to meat mixture. Cook on high for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

ITALIAN MEAT BALL STEW

1 1/2 lbs. lean ground beef
1/2 cup fine bread crumbs
2 beaten eggs
1/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 carrots, peeled and cut into 1-inch slices
1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
1 cup water
1 cup beef bouillon
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1/2 teaspoon basil
1 (10 oz.) package frozen Italian-style vegetables, partially thawed

Combine beef with bread crumbs, eggs, milk, cheese, salt, garlic salt, and pepper. Form into 2-inch balls. Drop carrots in bottom of slow-cooking pot. Arrange meat balls over carrots. Combine tomato paste with water, bouillon, oregano, seasoned salt, and basil. Pour over meat. Cover and cook on low for 4 to 6 hours. Turn to high. Add Italian vegetables. Cover and cook on high for 15 to 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes 6 servings.

STEWED TOMATOES

4 or 5 large ripe tomatoes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon dried sweet basil
1 small bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Quickly dip tomatoes in boiling water, remove skin. Quarter tomatoes, remove core and seeds. In slow-cooking pot, combine all ingredients except parsley. Cover and cook on low for 8 to 9 hours. Remove bay leaf. Sprinkle top with parsley. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

THE NEW YEAR BRINGS HOPE FOR THE SICK

Unfortunately there are still some ailments which are presently incurable. Many former killers have been conquered and it is only a matter of time until the rest will be overcome.

Research scientists and pharmaceutical chemists are devoting their lives to this purpose. Meanwhile, each year brings new drugs, that alleviate pain and distress, so that the patient can live as comfortably as possible. As soon as new medicines are released we stock them. Do not despair if any member of your family seems hopelessly sick. Any day, a new discovery may give the needed help.

STRONG HANDS OF PRAYER

Sunday Matthew 2:1-12	Wednesday Genesis 24:1-21
Monday Genesis 11:1-9	Thursday Genesis 24:22-31
Tuesday Genesis 21:9-21	Friday Genesis 24:32-53
	Saturday Genesis 24:54-67

Hands grow stronger when they are clasped reverently in prayer, seeking the power and love of God.

History documents the confusion and futility that have marked mankind's efforts to solve problems without God. When we have chosen to struggle alone . . . alone we have struggled.

It is not weakness then, but wisdom which inspires prayer. Those disciples of Jesus who were destined to share their faith with people of all nations and times asked very simply:

"Lord, teach us to pray."

As you worship next week and in the privacy of your own home today, make positive use of the precious gift of prayer. It will make your hands stronger for the tasks at hand.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

STAYING POWER

January 6, 1991

Background Scripture: Matthew 13:1-23.
Devotional Reading: Ecclesiastes 2:4-11.

In the past I have probably misused the so-called Parable of the Sower. I have previously focused on the unreceptivity of the various soils of which Jesus spoke: the side of the path, the rocky soil, and the thorny ground. In doing so, I have shifted emphasis away from the sower to the soils, a rather negative transition, to be honest.

As I read this parable anew, however, I realize that instead of an indictment of people's unreceptivity, it is actually a message of encouragement focusing not on the soils, but upon the sower. Jesus may be responding to the possible discouragement of the disciples. They have observed that no matter how skillful and powerful Jesus is, some people hear the Good News from him but are seemingly unmoved by it. Perhaps this is particularly on the disciples' minds because, as Matthew tells it, there are great crowds of people coming to hear him. How many of these, they must wonder, will respond favorably and commit themselves to him?

THE OTHER SEEDS

Not to worry, says Jesus, and verse 8 is the heart of the parable and the story: "Other seeds fell on good soil and brought forth grain, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty." In other words, don't worry about the seed that falls on unreceptive soils—you always have that—but concentrate on the seed that falls on the good soil! The parable is really good news, not bad. Yes, there are lots of people who will not respond to the gospel, but there will always be those that will and we mus take our satisfaction from them, for great results can come from even small numbers of receptive disciples.

Some months ago a woman came to me for counselling. When she left I felt that I hadn't really helped her and when she didn't return for additional sessions, I was convinced. A few weeks ago during a worship service, this woman, as part of a church interpretive dance troupe, performed a striking interpretation of the Lord's Prayer. I was interested to read in the bulletin that it had been choreographed by my counselee. After the service was over, she made a point to come to me and tell me that the dance interpretation was the result of our counselling session. Not only had she been helped, but that session had borne fruit for others as well—even though I thought I failed.

UNSEEN RESULTS

Teachers and preachers often have that kind of experience. They think no one is responding to what they are saying, only to learn later that someone not only responded, but greatly profited. A man with whom I hadn't been in contact in many years wrote me a letter in which he said a sermon I preached had changed his life. I was shocked: I thought he slept through all my sermons! Apparently not all of them. So, whether you are a preacher, teacher or everyday witness for Christ, never doubt that God is able to accomplish his purposes, even wfthout our awareness.

The New English Bible rendering of Matthew 13:2 puts it this way: "...but as it strikes no root in him he has no staying power, and when there is trouble or persecution on account of the word he falls away at once." The parable, thus, is an appeal to our "staying power." Jesus is telling us not to focus on those who do not respond to the gospel, but to hang in there and concentrate on those who do.

Md. Legislative Session Will Affect Farmers

The 1991 Maryland Legislative Session began on Wednesday in Annapolis with two controversial initiatives from the Schaefer administration and Maryland's budget problems likely to be top items on the agricultural agenda.

In a phone conversation this week with Jack Miller, legislative liaison for the Maryland Farm Bureau, he stated that the two Schaefer initiatives include the so-called 2020 Commission report, which recommends zoning densities of one unit per 20 acres in rural areas, and Linowes report, which recommends a major state tax restructuring.

The 2020 Commission, known formally as the Governor's Commission on Growth in the Chesapeake Bay Region, was set up to make recommendations to Schaefer for ways to improve the bay's water quality.

The report recommends state planning initiatives which would override local zoning regulations and, in some counties, could make farmland less attractive to developers and lower land values.

The Maryland Farm Bureau delegates, at their annual meeting in Ocean City last month, passed a resolution urging the legislature to delay implementation on the 2020 report until its ramification can be fully explored. "Hopefully, (the legislature) will delay it," Miller said of the 2020 recommendations.

"But every indication is, they're going to push it. But I don't think the legislature feels that strongly about passing it."

The Linowes recommendations, meanwhile, don't appear to offer any recommendations that would be more damaging to agriculture than any other population group, but the potential for higher taxes is present for farmers, too.

And, Miller said, it's still not clear if the excise tax on cars would be extended to agriculture equipment, too.

As the Linowes report was being digested, the new state Secretary of Transportation O. James Lighthizer was recommending another boost in the state gas tax.

Gas tax increases are generally considered more damaging to rural drivers, who usually must travel longer distances to get to work or for shopping trips, and who usually have no public transportation alternatives.

But perhaps the most important issue during the upcoming session will be the budget.

Schaefer and legislative leaders in mid-December came up with different proposals to cut the deficit. The governor's plan included layoffs of 1,800 state employees, while the legislature preferred a furlough plan with no layoffs.

Both, however, recommended large cuts in the Farmland Preservation Trust program.

Garrett Farm Bureau Members Reminded To Pay 1991 Dues

Garrett County Farm Bureau President William DeWitt reminds all members that their 1991 dues should be paid immediately.

Payment of $35 can be sent to Clark Kolb, Rt. 1, Accident, MD 21520.

Farm Bureau is the nation's largest grass-roots farm organization, representing farmers at state capitols across the country and in Congress.

ASCS Election Results Noted

Hubert G. Custer was the winner in the recent county election for ASC County Committee member. He will serve a three-year term along with Committee Chairperson Kenneth R. Bachtel, who has two years of his term left to serve, and Vice Chairperson Leslie G. Guard, whose term ends this time next year.

Each committee member has two alternates. First alternate member for Chairperson Bachtel is Robert Dodge, and his second alternate is Ray Ridder. Serving as first alternate for Vice Chairperson Guard is Carl Bender, with Harry Savage serving as second alternate. Alternates for Regular Member Custer are Carolyn Ganoe and William DeWitt, respectively.

Regular meetings of the Garrett County ASC Committee will be held at the ASCS office in the Garrett County Courthouse on the following dates during 1991: Wednesdays, February 6; March 6; April 3; May 1; June 4; July 3; August 7; September 4; October 2; November 6; and December 4.

All dates are subject to change if weather conditions, workload, or other factors make it necessary. Anyone having a problem to discuss with the committee is invited to attend any of the meetings.

Meetings held during the months of November through March normally begin at 10 a.m. All others normally begin at 8 p.m. The time is also subject to change.

Dairy Farmers Told To Do More With Resources They Already Have

Large volume is no longer the major key to profitable dairy farming here in Maryland and most of the Mid-Atlantic area. To stay in business through the current period, which has seen the lowest milk prices paid to producers in a decade, dairy farmers need to do more with the farm resources they already have.

So says John W. Wysong, an agricultural economist for the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

Bigness in most agricultural enterprises creates a multiplier effect both up and down, Wysong declares. This has been particularly true for dairy farmers. Those who can't afford to take big risks need to think about better management and lower costs per unit of output, rather than larger operations.

With a recession under way, some dairy farmers who had plans to sell their land to real estate developers may have to delay those plans for up to five years. Meanwhile, they may want to consider off-farm work for themselves or other family members to help keep their dairy enterprises going.

Dr. Wysong notes that agricultural lenders are not so willing these days to lend new money for fixed ivestments like new and larger dairy cow facilities. They are more inclined to encourage farmer investment in variable expenses which will increase output per cow — even in the absence of the controversial growth hormone, bovine somatotropin (BST).

Sustaining higher production per cow requires clever management, Wysong notes. Since concentrate feeds are relatively cheap, farmers need to explore the limits of their potential in dairy rations.

"Feed grain prices are likely to continue cheap through most of 1991," Wysong says, "and this situation tends to keep roughage prices relatively low, too. It's more difficult to grow high-quality forage in Maryland than in the west. But it's possible with careful management and should be seriously considered.

Farmers Fight To Balance Economics And Increasing Environmental Pressures

The Garrett SCD Can Help

by Bernice Kepple

Soil and water — nothing is more important to a farmer. Saving the environment has become the world's goal in the 1990s, but finding methods to save the environment while continuing to produce food and fiber for the world's people remains the goal of this nation's farmers.

As resource conservation becomes crucial, farmers are facing a multitude of regulations. New laws are being passed or proposed to restrict every aspect of agriculture — cultivation, animal husbandry, pesticide use, herbicide use, fertilizer use, and farm improvement.

Farmers feel a moral responsibility to their land. What better legacy can a man pass on to his children and grandchildren than a productive piece of this earth. But with this rise in environmental consciousness comes a rise in financial demands on the farmer. A farmer today desperately needs a way to comply with both government regulations and his own moral obligations and still remain COST EFFICIENT and FINANCIALLY SOLVENT!

An increasing number of local farmers have discovered who to call — voluntarily — for the help they need, be it determining what can be done on the farm to make it more productive while meeting environmental regulations and obligations, suggestions and expertise, or financial aid in the form of cost share programs. They are calling the Garrett Soil Conservation District.

"Voluntarily is the key word here," says District Conservationist Garry Morfoot. "If the program is voluntary, and the farmers use it, then there's no need for government regulations."

Morfoot explains that some government officials don't see it that way. Those officials have suggested that Soil Conservation District planners and technicians "report" situations that need improved on farms they visit. "We've got to fight to keep from becoming enforcers," Morfoot said. "I won't walk out there (onto a farm) and talk like a regulator, saying 'you can't do this, you can't do that.' That's not the way to operate if you've got a voluntary program.

"Many times when we're on a farm," Morfoot continues, "we see a situation that could be improved. We may see cattle in a stream. We'll talk with the farmer about the benefits of a watering trough, and often get them to see the advantages. It happens quite often. Now, if that farmer decides to install a watering trough, and applies for cost share to help cover the expense, the public needs to understand that by keeping water downstream clean, that watering trough benefits everybody. It's a long term thing. It benefits everybody. If the public believes that the land, wildlife, and resources belong to them, then it's fair that the public should help pay."

Local Conservation Districts work with landowners in addressing a broad range of resource concerns: erosion control, flood prevention, water conservation and use, wetlands, ground water, water quality and quantity, nonpoint source pollution, and others according to the needs and resources of the district. Soil Conservation Districts differ from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) in that the ASCS works strictly to administer government farm programs accompanied by cost share.

Morfoot explains where his office fits into the ASCS picture. "If a farmer goes into the ASCS office and signs up for something — say a manure pit — well, they're not going to go out to his farm and design it. They're going to refer it to us. Now," he adds, "if another farmer comes in and says he wants a manure pit, but doesn't want cost share, doesn't want any strings attached, doesn't want to sign this or that, we'll help him in the same way. We'll go out and design his manure pit and help put it in.

"Same way with any other project. If we were going to set up a rotational grazing system for a farmer, he might be eligible for some lime and fertilizer, he may even be eligible for some fence, a livestock waterer — all the things he needs to get that system in place. And he could sign up with ASCS and might get some cost share that could be put toward the cost of that plan; then again, he might not.

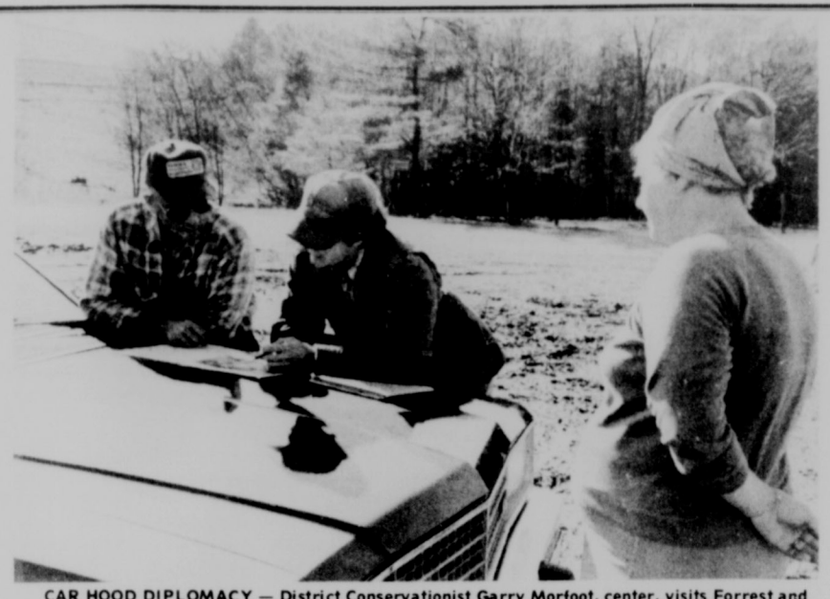
"But, if someone wanted to do all those things, and again, didn't want to deal with cost share — didn't believe in those kind of programs, I'd still work with him on it just as I would on the one who wanted cost share."

The Garrett Soil Conservation District Office is there to help, Morfoot stressed, whether it's designing a manure storage system, or simply answering a farmer's question when he calls into the office. "The soil conservation system in this country is on a voluntary basis, and we want to keep it that way," he said.

Finzel Dairy Farmer

Forrest and Betty Blocher have worked with the Garrett Soil Conservation District for many years now. "Bob Glotfelty and Adam Lucas started helping us here years ago by laying out some contour strips," Blocher said. "Then in 1976," he added, "I ditched 12 acres with their help, know how, and some cost share money."

In August, the Blochers installed a manure storage pond and a concrete deck at the entrance to their barn, which they feel solved one of their biggest problems. "I've been here on the farm for 30 years now," Betty said, "and the cows always had to walk through the mud to get into the barn. This is the nicest it's ever been."



The wide concrete deck between the barn and the fenced manure storage pond gives the cows a clean, dry pathway into the free-stall barn. The barn is cleaned by pushing the manure across the concrete walkway and into the pond.

On a chilly October day, Morfoot visited the Finzel farm to check on the manure system's operation since installation, and to give the Blochers a copy of the farm plan they had asked Morfoot to help with. A farm plan is a management tool the District office helps create using information, suggestions and questions the farmer presents concerning the farm's future.

A tour of the new facility was first on the agenda. Blocher considers the manure storage pond "his pride and joy." He proudly told Morfoot, "I'm real pleased with this." One problem was detected, though. The pond, which was designed to hold the waste of 50 cows and be emptied twice a year, was filling with water. Morfoot and Blocher determined that during the recent extended period of rain, run-off from the barn roof was hitting the concrete and running into the pond. The obvious solution seemed to be re-routing the water by means of rain spouting on the barn roof.

Morfoot noted the excellent growth of the recently planted grass around the pond, and commended Blocher on the good, strong fence he had built around the pond for obvious safety reasons.

Many other topics were discussed by farmer and district conservationist while gazing out over cropland and pasture. Most of these had been briefly discussed before, and would also appear on the Blocher farm plan which Morfoot held in his hand.

CAR HOOD DIPLOMACY — District Conservationist Garry Morfoot, center, visits Forrest and Betty Blocher, on their Finzel dairy farm, to go over the details of their farm plan. A farm plan is a tool to be used by the landowner to plan future improvements. A recent improvement on the Blocher farm, installed with help from the Garrett Soil Conservation District is the manure storage pond, pictured below. Mud at the barn entrance had been a problem on this farm for years. The new facility incorporated a concrete deck, giving the cows a clean, dry pathway from the pasture into the barn.

The two considered Blocher's next project, which will probably be pumping the milkhouse waste water into the storage pond. This will control the seepage of dairy detergents into the ground water, but could not be done using gravity flow; therefore,a pump will have to be used.

The farm plan was spread out on the hood of Morfoot's car, and the Blochers went over it point by point as Morfoot explained. Blocher had been concerned about his program of crop rotation. The farm plan contained suggestions which would bring fields back into sod quicker, therefore upgrading silage yields. Also computed was the amount of tonnage needed to fill the two silos on the farm and the number of acres needed to do it.

The plan discussed Blocher's spray schedule (he does his own spraying), and suggested methods to avoid chemical holdover when planting grass. It also suggested soil testing in the fall and when to apply lime to improve the soil's pH.

A rotational grazing system was suggested for heifers and dry cows which would use an existing pasture and a few acres of cropland adjacent to it. Blocher agreed when Morfoot said, "Sometimes you have to give up to gain," speaking of the cropland he'd lose but the pasture he'd gain.

The Blochers were pleased with the suggestions made which would give them some food for thought during the winter months. Blocher said, "I've really got nothing bad to say about the Soil Conservation District. I couldn't have gotten into farming like I did, or be milking like I am, if they hadn't helped me."

SCD Board of Directors

The Garrett Soil Conservation District is a local body with six men on the board who meet once a month. George E. Bishoff is chairman, and members are: W. Brooks Hamilton, Claude Wagner Jr., Harley Brenneman, Harry W. Hummel, and David Thomas.

These District directors are some of the first people in the county to hear about any new state or federal legislation, and how it is to be regulated. "They're going to react to all this new stuff just like a lot of other people out there in the farm community would," says Morfoot. "They want to see things done in an environmentally safe way, but they want it done with some sense and judgment. They want to see laws and regulations that a landowner can fit what he is doing into and it doesn't run him up against a wall and force him out of business."

In a general discussion at a recent directors' meeting, the subject centered around the District and what it does. "There's a fine line between what we do and what people perceive we do," said Hamilton. The discussion went on with someone saying, "A lot of people out there think they can't trust anyone in a government agency. (A whispering voice was heard to say, "I can understand that.") Most people feel that the less the government knows about what they're doing, the better. But, they include us (the Soil Conservation District) in that category in most cases — now, some of them don't, some are real receptive."

A real concern during that meeting was new and proposed environmental regulations, and how the District must teach the farmers what is required of them before a law, someday, requires that they meet the demands or suffer the consequences. They feel that their job is to make farmers aware of environmental regulation changes and persuade as many as possible to improve and comply before a time comes in the future when the ax drops. Then farmers will ask, "Why didn't the Conservation District do something about this?"

First Contact Was SCD Office

When Bob Lacy and his son, Randy, bought their McHenry dairy farm in 1985, their first call, before moving their cattle or anything onto the farm, was to the Garrett Soil Conservation District office for advice about improvements that were needed. "Farming is a business," Lacy says, "and where there's help, I go after it."

Bob Lacy didn't grow up on a farm, but spent a lot of time on his grandfather's Indiana farm. "I was introduced to conservation at an early age," Lacy said. He remembers his grandfather pointing out to him farms that were well kept and seemed to be making a profit. These, his grandfather said, were farms that still had topsoil and the owners considered their land a resource.

The Lacys made a great many improvements with the District's help — a watering trough, a manure storage pond, contour strips, and most recently, rotational grazing paddocks. Lacy takes advantage of cost share programs, but says that they would have done it all anyway, although it may have taken them longer to accomplish without cost share. The one exception, Lacy said, is the manure storage pond. "I would be concerned about tackling something as big as a manure pond without cost share. As for all the rest, the expertise they offer is the main reason for calling the District office," Lacy said.

Originally two farms, the Lacys took out the hedge row between the two, and a strip cropping system was designed that created quarter-mile-long strips.

The manure pond was designed for the waste of 50 cows, and to be emptied once a year. "We spread the manure on corn ground and chisel plow immediately to incorporate it into the soil. We lose a very small amount of nutrients that way," Lacy says. The Lacys bed their stanchion barn with shredded, recycled newspaper, which they say incorporates well into their manure system, too. "All that organic matter goes back into the soil," Lacy added.

The Lacys' rotational grazing system is designed for 50 cows. It covers 23 acres and consists of 11 two-acre paddocks and one one-acre paddock, and a large commons area where the cows can get water and shade — two critical necessities — and from which they enter the barn at milking time.

District Planner Chuck Hayes says that when designing such a system, they first look at herd size and available acreage, and try to get a minimum of 10 paddocks from that acreage. In Garrett County, where cool-season grasses dominate Hayes says pasture production will peak in 18 days in the spring when it's cool, 30 days later in the summer, then speed up again as the weather begins to get cooler. After the grasses peak, quality begins to decline, so systems are designed to take advantage of quality grass.

INNOVATIVE FENCING on the Bob Lacy farm in McHenry divides the two-acre paddocks used for rotational grazing. Designed by the Garrett Soil Conservation District, the paddock uses innovative high-tensile fencing from New Zealand. The "Spider" fencing uses 16-gauge wire, which is smaller than the 12 1/2-gauge normally used for high-tensile fencing. Above, Bob Lacy disconnects the gate which uses a "G spring," as the gate opener. This G spring also gives the fence flexibility and acts as a tension devise. Another unique feature of the fence is the use of double-wedge clip insulators which lock onto the fiberglass rod, allowing the post to bend over almost to the ground and come back just as it was before. Below, Lacy tests this aspect of the fence as District Planner Chuck Hayes looks on.

"The Lacy system is a bit different," says Hayes. "Bob moves his cows into a new paddock every morning, giving him a 12-day cycle. One reason for this is the size of his paddocks, another is that at night he turns his dry cows into the paddock just vacated by the milk cows."

An important part of the Lacys' grazing system is the fencing. Known as "Spider" fencing, it was brought to this country three years ago from New Zealand. Hayes explains that it uses a smaller guage high-tensile wire — 16 gauge instead of the 12½-gauge normally used. According to Hayes, some unique features of the system are the "G spring," which acts as a tension devise, gives the fence flexibility, and acts as a gate opener. The other unique feature is the use of double-wedge clip insulators which lock onto fiberglass rods, allowing the rods to bend over almost to the ground and come back just as they were before.

"A farm is probably the biggest rat hole there is, as far as swallowing up money," Lacy said. "But with the Soil Conservation District's help, everything we've done has been an excellent investment."

Farming Still Number One Here

"Farm planning and design is still the biggest part of the program here," commented Morfoot, "unlike some counties east of us where sediment and erosion programs take all the District's time." Morfoot said he would like to keep it that way, and would like to help more of the farmers out there who "slip through the cracks." By that, he means those who do not take part in government programs, those who are not interested in cost share, those who, for their own reasons, want to improve their operation with conservation in mind.

More and more, that type of farmer is contacting his office for help. Many of them just don't trust the government. They're afraid that if they sign anything, in a few years the government will own everything they have. Others don't believe in cost share. Perhaps they are independent, perhaps it's for moral reasons, perhaps for religious reasons. Morfoot and his staff, whose office phone number is 334-1900, is anxious to help them all.

Calls for Help

One of those independent farmers is Frances Steyer, whose farm on White Church Road has been in her family for 115 years. Steyer, who grew up helping her father on the farm, calls the District office when she has a problem she feels their expertise can solve. "I feel it's important to keep the farm up," Steyer says. "These people are very valuable to me and their information is very correct."

Steyer believes in planning ahead. This year she will winter over 36 ewes plus six replacement lambs. In late fall, she had a shelter made to feed round bales from and was buying hay, so as not to run short. She has her hay tested for nutrients so she can supplement the flock's ration if necessary.

She takes soil samples in the fall to test for pH."Father always went into the District office for soil tests and worked with them. I began using their help more often since the drought the summer of 1988," she said.

One project District planners helped her with was contour strips. "I'm trying to get my meadows back," she said. "I have some in corn now, and the oats and grass is coming back. The strip cropping has been a help. I have 18 acres of corn in contour strips now."

The summer of 1988 saw Steyer, as well as many others, with water problems. "There is lots of water on the farm," she said. "The problem is getting it where it's needed." That summer, the reservoir which supplied her house failed. With technical assistance from the District office, the problem was investigated and a leak was found. On her own, Steyer had another reservoir built and a water supply brought into her house by gravity flow.

That didn't solve the problem of getting water to her livestock, however. It was decided that a watering trough was needed, and for that, Steyer applied for and received some cost share funds. "It took some planning and work to get the trough in, but the Soil Conservation people really worked hard and got it done," Steyer said.

The watering trough is a special design for sheep, and is only 15-inches high. "It's working fine," Steyer says. "The sheep seldem go anyplace else to drink. I think it's helped the ewes and lambs a lot. They used to go to the pond or the stream, but now the lambs get up in the morning and at dusk to get a drink at the trough. I'd surely recommend a water trough to anybody with animals."

Steyer holds the District personnel close to her heart. "I say they can't be beat," she says. They go their limit. I think we're lucky to have such good people here. I understand that in other places they don't pay attention to small farmers. Our Soil Conservation people are here to help us small farmers just the same."

Sense and Judgment

"Sense and judgment — that's what we need to look at and address when looking at a farm plan or when on a farm," says Morfoot. "How far do we need to go? What's practical and what's sensible? And when we do come up with a sensible, reasonable farm plan, then we're doing what we ought to do. At the same time, we're building a case for the farm community. Then, if environmental questions arise, we can say that we're dealing with it and we're moving in the right direction."

Morfoot added that there have been all kinds of numbers thrown out — all kinds of things said that makes it look like the farm community isn't doing as good environmentally as they are. Perhaps some of that is empire building, or is budget driven. Some may find it suits their cause to paint a dim, glum picture to justify what they are claiming, or what they want. But the voluntary conservation program has taken great strides, and will continue if farmers support it.

"We want people to recognize who their Soil Conservation District is and that we're here in the county and that we can do them some good, especially with this environmental pressure coming. That's what we need to get across," Morfoot concluded.

Off-Farm Jobs Provide Half Of Farm Income

More than half of the 1988 net cash farm income came from off-farm sources, according to the latest report from the U.S. Census.

Off-farm income accounted for nearly 60 percent of the net cash income for family farmers. Of this amount, non-farm jobs accounted for nearly 60 percent of the $41.9 billion in off-farm income.

There is a sharp contrast of farms by scale.

Nearly 75 percent of all farms had gross sales of less than $50,000. These farms reported 27 percent of the total operator debt, only 16 percent of total operating expenses, received less than 21 percent of all government payments and had 80 percent of the off-farm income.

On the other hand, farms with gross sales of more than $50,000 had only 20 percent of the off-farm income but received 79 percent of all government payments.

The figures also showed there were 171,000 farm partnerships, and these accounted for nine percent of all farms and 18 percent of all net cash farm income.

Partnerships also received 17 percent of all government payments. Californians had the most partnerships (30,402) but surprisingly, Kentucky had the second highest at 28,723.

One other surprising aspect of the data: fewer than three percent of all farms reported that two-thirds or more of all net cash farm income came from the sale of agricultural products.

In other words, for 97 percent of American farms today, of each farm's total income, less than $2 out of $3 comes from farming.

The remaining income comes from other sources unrelated to farming.

Pa. Fruit And Vegetable Conference, Trade Show Set For Jan. 29-31

This year's Pennsylvania Fruit and Vegetable Conference and Trade Show is set for January 29-31 at the Hershey Lodge and Convention Center.

New features are in store for the estimated crowd of 1,600 who will attend, including an all-day Integrated Crop Management Short Course and an expanded small fruit program.

This conference is a joint effort by state horticultural associations of Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey, as well as fruit growers in Pennsylvania, The Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers and Penn State University.

The vegetable conference portion will feature concurrent sessions all three days.

The January 29 sessions will cover processing and fresh-market production, as well as sustainable agriculture, food safety and farm business management.

The bedding plant production and marketing session will be featured on January 30, but January 31 will be devoted to small fruit production and marketing topics. The Integrated Crop Short Course will be January 31.

This is the fourth year that the all-day short course has been offered as a special item. This year, the concentration is on Integrated Crop Management (ICM).

With the increasing concern over pesticide use and the many pesticide registrations being lost for vegetable crops, growers must look at ways to produce their crops with a minimal amount of pesticides.

ICM is defined as the optimization of crop production systems in an economically and ecologically sound way.

This short course will look at the roles crop improvement associations and consultants play in ICM practices, as well as specific practices such as mulches, cover crops, soil preparation and compaction, pest management and fertility.

Short course speakers include Ricardo Gomez from the USDA, Florida ICM consultant Madeline Mellinger, Rodale Research Center consultant Terry Scheltini, and several Penn State specialists.

Processing growers should note the discussion planned for January 29. Topics will include: plug size, nutrition and performance of tomato transplants, integrating snap bean production and nitrogen management strategies, rotations and cover crops for soil fertility, and alternatives for disease control without EBDC's.

Concurrent general vegetable topics on January 29 will include: management of photodegradable mulches, staked tomato production, biotechnology and vegetable production, new varieties for auction sales, European sustainable vegetable production systems, application of chemicals through drip irrigation, seed availability, vine crop fruit set, sweet corn germination and food safety.

An afternoon joint session with the fruit growers will be held that same day, covering topics such as farm business management, farm business records, computers and software for farms, and the outlook for horticulture farm credit.

The farm computer session will feature a panel of growers who already use computer systems. They will talk about the pros and cons of their systems and what to look for when buying computer systems.

Wednesday morning will begin with the vegetable marketing session. It will feature presentations on speciality type melons, proper lighting of produce displays, special appeal vegetables and an outlook for vegetable marketing for the 90s.

About 100 exhibitors will display the latest in equipment, supplies, pesticides and varieties for both fruit and vegetable growers.

Registration opens at 7:30 a.m. each morning in the main lobby of the Convention Center at W. Chocolate Ave. and University Drive in Hershey.

Required registration fees provide admission to the educational session and the trade show exhibits. Fees are $25 for three days and $15 for one day. Social activities include the annual Tomato Awards Luncheon on January 29. The Fruit and Vegetable Growers Banquet will be held that same evening.

Ag Enrollment Up At WVU

Enrollment is increasing in the West Virginia College of Agriculture and Forestry. Associate Dean Kenneth D. McIntosh reports a 23 percent increase in enrollment over the last three years, and believes that the growth is due to the college's expanded instructional opportunities.

"We don't have educational studies in isolation of employment opportunities," says McIntosh. "Our programs reflect employment needs in our society."

He points to the changing interests of today's agriculture and forestry students. "Seventy-five percent are in non-agricultural production areas such as child development, wildlife and fisheries, landscape architecture, and environmental protection."

A number of students are also taking advantage of the pre-professional program in animal and veterinary sciences. If they successfully complete the approximately three-year program, they will have taken the subject matter necessary to enter not only veterinary science programs, but also schools of human medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, nursing, and optometry.

The gender composition of the students has shown some change, too. Currently, 54 percent are male, with 46 percent female. "The number of women is increasing each year," according to McIntosh. "Their educational opportunities are good in this college."

Animal and veterinary sciences is one case in point. Though once thought to be a male domain, the program today has 52 percent female enrollment. "It's not just for boys any more," says the associate dean.

The environmental protection program has shown a marked increase in enrollment as students respond to calls to stop the global degradation of ground water, air, surface water, and land. "The decade of the '90s is going to be the decade of protecting the environment," McIntosh says. "Young people listen to these messages and commit themselves to careers in this area."

For more information about any of WVU's College of Agriculture and Forestry programs, write Kenneth McIntosh, P.O. Box 6108, West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV 26506-6108, or call collect 304-293-2691.

Ian Buchanan melts hearts in the roles he takes

By Candace Havens

He has a Scottish brogue accent that melts hearts, and Ian Buchanan isn't hard to look at, either.

Most know him as Duke Lavery from General Hospital, where he became one of daytime's hottest commodities. Fans still haven't forgiven him for leaving the show. But he had only planned to be there for three years and felt it was time to move on.

After working in the London theater scene, Buchanan joined the cast of ABC's Twin Peaks as Richard Tremayne.

Richard is a "pompous cad — the type of guy who has obviously seen too many movies," comments Buchanan. "My friends say I must be brave to play myself on television."

Buchanan left home at the early age of 14 because of problems at home. In talking with him, you get the feeling life wasn't too easy for him back then. Even now, his family back in Scotland doesn't think much of his stardom. "My sister came out to L.A. for a visit when I was working on General Hospital. About the time the show was to come on, she had me turn on the television. She watched about 10 minutes and then turned it off. She then said, 'Well you weren't as bad as we thought you would be,' and that was that."

Buchanan travels to get away from everything. His favorite place is Brazil.

Ralph, the motorcycle-riding mouse, returns for trilogy

By Amy Schmidt

It all began when a young mouse named Ralph met up with a boy named Keith Gridley. Keith had a toy motorcycle just Ralph's size, and together the two hit the highways. That was, until Ralph almost got sucked up by the vacuum cleaner!

The Peabody Award-winning story is The Mouse and the Motorcycle, made famous by novelist Beverly Cleary. Ralph the mouse and friends returned for a TV trilogy Jan. 12 on the ABC Weekend Specials. Part I of The Mouse and the Motorcycle kicked off the 15th season of the ABC series. Part II broadcasts Saturday, Jan. 19.

In the second story of the trilogy, Runaway Ralph, things get even more precarious when Keith gets sick, the motorcyle is lost, and Ralph must find some other way to get Keith his medicine. It also airs in two parts, on Feb. 2 and 9. Then, an all-new third story titled Ralph S. Mouse telecasts in two parts Feb. 16 and 23.

All of the Beverly Cleary presentations are dimensional animated films in which live actors are paired with mini-robot animals. Starring as Keith in the trilogy is Philip Waller. Mimi Kennedy plays Mrs. Gridley, and Ray Walston plays the doorman. The show's producer is John Matthews, who directs the animation and also provides the mouse's voice.

ABC Weekend Specials are close-captioned for the hearing impaired.

NBC to present drama of policeman's final chase

By Steven Alan McGaw

In February, look for NBC to present The Chase, a made-for-television-movie about a dramatic incident in 1988 that claimed the life of one Denver police officer. Phillip Hutchinson, alias Mark Taylor, was a habitual criminal who escaped from prison in Texas. Using an alias, he made his way to Denver, continuing his life of crime. Following his robbery of a credit union, Taylor/Hutchinson led Denver police on a lengthy high-speed chase through the streets of the city. Amazingly, the entire pursuit was filmed by a news photographer following in a helicopter. Casey Siemaszko (Young Guns) stars as Hutchinson and Barry Corbin as Officer Bob Wallis. Others in the large ensemble cast include Ben Johnson, Ricki Lake, Megan Follows and Robert Beltran. Paul Wendkos directed the project.

Jan. 25 will see the last telecast of NBC's daytimer Generations. On Monday they'll premiere a new news show hosted by Faith Daniels.

William Hurt will star in The Doctor for Touchstone Pictures.

Congratulations to Debbie Reynolds, who will receive the Gypsy Award from the Professional Dancers Society.

Margot Kidder will star in a new series for cable's USA Network, playing a middle-age Nancy Drew. (And I'm not making this up.)

'Dark Shadows' makes return to TV

Jean Simmons plays matriarch

By Mary Ann Townsend

Producer Dan Curtis recreates and updates his eerie tale of the Collins clan that ran on daytime television for five years when Dark Shadows airs as a four-hour miniseries Sunday and Monday, Jan. 13 and 14, then later as a series, on NBC.

Ben Cross portrays venerable vampire Barnabas Collins, and Jean Simmons plays Elizabeth Collins Stoddard, the matriarch of Collinwood, an isolated New England manor house. The series chronicles the mysterious events that begin in Collinsport, Maine, following the arrival of long-lost relative Barnabas and Governess Victoria Winters, played by Joanna Going.

Oscar-nominated British actress Simmons has been a fan of the show since it aired on daytime TV in the '60s.

"My children and I would watch it daily, I mean before homework, before anything. They'd come home from school, we'd all sit down and watch Dark Shadows. We were great fans, great fans. And I thought this would be fun to do. Mind you I've always wanted to play a kind of madame vampire of a whore house. This may be the closest I can come to it."

That coming from a reserved actress who received her first Oscar nomination for her portrayal of Ophelia opposite Sir Laurence Olivier's Hamlet.

The actress said the opportunities for the show are limitless, and one thing she looks forward to is the possibility of exploring different time periods.

"Maybe (in) a couple of segments they could fang me up or something, I don't know. They're trying to look forward because there's so many directions they could go with all the characters in the show," she said.

An added bonus, she said, is working with a cast of talented performers. In addition to Cross and Going, Dark Shadows also stars Roy Thinnes and Barbara Steele.

Dark Shadows, the classic gothic/horror series, returns to television in contemporary form. Ben Cross and Joanna Going star in the new NBC series. The pilot airs in two parts Sunday and Monday. Regular episodes begin airing Friday.

"The producer got a bunch of actors together and it was just great, all professionals and fun to be with, which I gather doesn't always happen in a series all the time," Simmons said. "And the kids in it are just terrific, very professional, and fun to be with."

And what does Simmons think of the actor who plays Barnabas?

"Ben Cross is to die over. Do you remember him in Chariots of Fire? Oh, a wonderful actor and very funny — a great sense of humor."

Although some of the storylines may sound funny on paper, with vampires and werewolves gallavanting about, the updated version of the show has the same serious, Gothic tone as the original.

Part I catches first-time viewers up with the basic plot: Barnabas Collins is released from the family crypt and becomes reacquainted with his modern-day relatives.

In Part II on Monday, he has agreed to try out an anti-vampire serum because he has fallen in love with distant relative Victoria.

As for the outcome of the four-hour miniseries? Tune in Friday, Jan. 18, when the tales of Barnabas Collins continue in a weekly series.

TV PIPELINE

Broderick Crawford found niche in surprise hit series

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Whatever happened to Broderick Crawford? As a kid I enjoyed his series Highway Patrol but never knew much about him. Too bad there isn't a series like that on now that my son could watch. —Bob Whittaker, South Chicago Heights, Ill.

A: Broderick Crawford began his film career in the late 1930s primarily in tough gangster roles. His best success came in 1949 when he won the Academy Award for his role as a ruthless politician in All the King's Men. He made many guest appearances on television, but he really found his niche in 1955 as the tough-talking Chief Dan Matthews of Highway Patrol. The program was cheaply made and no one expected it to be a success, but it was. The whole country was going around saying "10-4." After the series ended, he starred in the television shows King of Diamonds and The Interns. He died in April 1986 after suffering a series of strokes. He was 74 years old.

Broderick Crawford

Q: I enjoyed watching in the early '50s the TV western The Range Rider. Could you tell me who was the real "Range Rider," and what was his partner's name? —Lee Ann Jastrow, Rockville, Md.

A: Former stuntman and screen Tarzan Jock Mahoney starred as the Range Rider, a wandering good guy, and Dick Jones as his youthful sidekick, Dick West. The show was syndicated during the 1951-52 season and later returned in reruns on ABC in 1965. Mahoney, stepfather of actress Sally Field, also appeared in the title role of Yancy Derringer on CBS from 1958-59.

Q: Whatever happened to the beautiful actress Hazel Court who starred in movies of the 1940s? Please tell me what you can about her. —Hilda Scott, Forrest Park, Ill.

A: Hazel Court was born in 1926 in Sutton Coldfield, England. She entered British films as a Gainsborough studio hopeful in the mid-'40s. A beautiful redhead, she starred in such films as Curse of Frankenstein (1957) with Christopher Lee and Peter Cushing, The Raven (1963) with Vincent Price and Jack Nicholson and The Masque of the Red Death (1964) with Price and David Westone. She is married to actor/director Don Taylor, and they have a son, Jonathan. In recent years she has become a successful painter.

Q: Who was the man behind the voice that sent Jim Phelps on those Mission: Impossible assignments? —Muriel Clark, Surrey, Va.

A: The voice you heard instructing Jim Phelps belonged to Bob Johnson.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered.

Glenn Close to kick off Hallmark's new season

The Hallmark Hall of Fame begins its 40th anniversary year Sunday, Feb. 3, with the presentation on CBS of Sarah, Plain and Tall starring Glenn Close and Christopher Walken.

Glenn Close

Oscar-winning actress Diane Keaton is busy directing an episode of Twin Peaks that will air in February. The episode she is directing will feature several storylines: Truman and Cooper attempt to track down Cooper's former partner, Windom Earle; Ed Hurley, for a change, cooks for Norma; and Ben Horne changes the course of history.

NBC has ordered additional episodes of the new comedy series The Fanelli Boys starring Ann Guilbert as Theresa Fanelli, the widowed matriarch of a Brooklyn-based Italian family who orders her four sons to move back home to straighten out their lives. The series airs on Saturday nights.

The late CBS News journalist Douglas Edwards will be inducted into the Broadcasting Hall of Fame, sponsored by the National Association of Broadcasters. Edwards' wife, Mary, will accept the honor on April 16 at the annual NAB convention in Las Vegas.

Reginald VelJohnson of ABC's Family Matters has been appointed national spokesman for the Big Brothers of America "Pass It On" program.

James Earl Jones, star of ABC's dramatic series Gabriel's Fire, was inducted into the NAACP Hall of Fame during a ceremony held in Los Angeles.

The ABC prime-time series The Wonder Years and Life Goes On; The Saturday morning program The New Adventures of Winnie the Pooh; and the ABC Afterschool Specials series have won Gold Seals in the 1990 Parents' Choice Awards competition. This marks the third consecutive year The Wonder Years has won the award.

Actor James Woods will be the sole host of The 12th Annual ACE Awards honoring the best in cable programming. The Awards for Cable Excellence ceremony will air Sunday, Jan.13, on a variety of cable stations.

NBC's critically acclaimed drama Lifestories will be presented as a once-a-month special, with original editions being telecast through the remainder of the television season.

Buena Vista Home Video has selected a "collectible" $12.99 price point for its The Adventures of Rocky & Bullwinkle videos. The videos will hit the market with an initial slate of six volumes on Feb. 8.

An abducted reporter's wife seeks to free him in Held Hostage: The Sis and Jerry Levin Story, Sunday on ABC. David Dukes and Marlo Thomas star.

Marlo Thomas takes role to heart

Hostage's story told in drama

By Mary Ann Townsend

Since the time she saw similar events unfolding in Iran on the news, Marlo Thomas has empathized with the characters she plays in Held Hostage: The Sis and Jerry Levin Story, airing Sunday, Jan. 13, on ABC.

Thomas plays Lucille (Sis) Levin, a Southern Belle who had to make a difficult decision and defy the U.S. government when her journalist husband, Jerry, was taken hostage in Beirut, Lebanon, six years ago.

Although the Iranian and Lebanese hostage situations were different, they were quite the same. Scenes of loved ones reunited on the news were emblazoned in Thomas' mind. She remembers vividly the compassion she felt.

"I would cry at the six o'clock news and at the same footage at eleven. And when I read this script I thought, 'This is the story behind that news footage. This is interesting to me; what does it feel like to have your family member taken from you?' I obviously empathize with them. I cried every time I saw it on television or in the news," she said.

Thomas got to know the Levins while working on Held Hostage. She is inspired because they continue efforts to negotiate the freedom of the hostages still held in the Middle East, and she is impressed by Sis' determination to open talks when her own government would not.

"She had to decide which was the worse of two evils: If she spoke out and interfered, she could get him killed. But on the other hand, if she didn't do anything, and they weren't doing anything, he could also get killed." That's a horrible decision to have to make. © TV Listing Inc

Agatha Christie's Poirot returns for 'Mystery!'

PBS airs eight new episodes

By Amy Schmidt

How does a novice detective story writer create her first sleuth?

Agatha Christie, destined to become the most widely read mystery writer of them all, was just 25 when she sat down to pen her first detective story in 1916.

"(I thought) he must have a certain knowledge of crime. He would be meticulous, very tidy.... and he should be very brainy — he should have little grey cells of the mind....," wrote Christie in her autobiography.

PBS thinks David Suchet, star of the "Poirot" stories on Mystery!, has all of these characteristics. Suchet resumes his role, appearing in eight new episodes.

Hugh Fraser again plays Captain Hastings, Poirot's friend and assistant; Phil Jackson returns as Chief Inspector Japp; and Pauline Moran reprises her role as Miss Lemon.

The second part of the "Poirot" series opener "Peril at End House" airs Thursday, Jan. 17. Thrillers to follow include "The Veiled Lady" (Jan. 24), "The Lost Mine" (Jan. 31), "The Cornish Mystery" (Feb. 7), "The Disappearance of Mr. Davenheim" (Feb. 14), "Double Sin" (Feb. 21) and "The Adventure of the Cheap Flat" (Feb. 28).

Agatha Christie introduced Hercule Poirot in her first novel, The Mysterious Affair at Styles, an adaptation of which closes the series March 7 and 14. Although her books were to earn her millions before her death in 1976, her first one netted her just 25 English pounds — which, she said, "wasn't bad at that time for a detective story by an unknown author."

Ms. Higgins is a native of Frostburg and a graduate of Frostburg State University. She has been teaching in Garrett County for 18 years, and has taught first grade, kindergarten, gifted and talented, and pre-kindergarten. Ms. Higgins has been involved with the county and state departments of education in developing curriculum for early childhood programs. Mrs. King is a native of the Swallow Falls area, and is the daughter of Edgar and Peggy Sines. She graduated from Southern High School in 1963. Mrs. King is married to Doug King, and is the mother of four children.

Orientation Session Set By New Horizons

Sue Sines, intake workshop coordinator for the New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, has scheduled an Orientation Session to explain the services of the program to interested persons. The orientation will be held at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College on Tuesday, January 15, at 9 a.m., in room 601.

The New Horizons Program, one of approximately 20 statewide single parent and homemaker projects funded by the Maryland State Department of Career and Technology Education, has been operating in Garrett County since January 1980. New Horizons was established to serve the needs of homemakers undergoing a career transition due to loss of spouse as a result of separation, divorce or death, as well as for persons who are under-skilled or desirous of returning to work after a long absence due to economic changes in their lives.

The many services available through the New Horizons Program will be explained to those in attendance. Interested persons must register prior to the orientation by calling 387-6666, ext. 171.

Northern Middle Students, Staff Support Troops

The students and staff of Northern Middle School have recently completed many different projects to show support for the men and women who are stationed with Operation Desert Shield in the Middle East.

The student council adopted Project Yellow Ribbon. Yellow ribbons with names of family members or friends of students or faculty were placed on a cafeteria bulletin board. Also, a yellow ribbon was given to each N.M.S. family who has a member serving in the Middle East.

Homeroom 7B placed yellow ribbons on trees outside the school and in their own class rooms.

Several classes have written letters and cards to service personnel. The classes of Jackie Stuck, Nancy Frank, with student teacher Jake Voshell, Von Mosser and Doris Cooper have sent mail to the Middle East.

Mrs. Mary Jane Dye, 6th grade social studies teacher, has sponsored "Boxes of Love" that were sent to the Middle East. Five boxes were sent in October and six boxes were sent in November. The classes are now planning to send more boxes.

Mrs. Doris Cooper's classes made "gifts of love" to go into the boxes. The love gifts were small, wrapped boxes with the following poem attached:

This is a very special gift that you can never see,
The reason it's so special is it's just for you from me.
Whenever you are lonely or ever feeling blue,
You only have to hold this gift and know I think of you.
You never can unwrap it,
please leave the ribbon tied,
Just hold the box close to your heart, it's filled with love inside.

The following poem was sent in response to the classes gift and poem. It was sent by soldier Joe Gorza.

I thank you for the special gift
I know I'll never see,
But I will always treasure it for it's from you to me.
And when I'm feeling lonely or when I'm feeling blue,
I take the gift you gave me
and I always think of you.
I have not yet unwrapped it the ribbon is still tied,
And when I hold it to my heart
I feel the love inside.

Mrs. Cooper's classes have received over 100 letters in response to cards, letters and gifts sent by the 7B homeroom, 7-4, 7-5 and 6-4 classes. Students have received water bottle labels, money, information, and even a rifle-naming contest from the troops.

To thank troops for their response to Mrs. Cooper's classes, the students have sponsored a video to send to the Middle East.

Mr. Voshell assisted and directed students as they took troops on a tour of the school.

Wilda Massi, principal, Elmer Redinger, vice principal, and many teachers and staff members sent messages to the troops. The band and chorus played songs. Messages were sent not only in English, but Spanish and French, as well.

The video also contained facts on Garrett County and personal messages from students in 7-B, 6-4, 7-4, and 7-5. The tape concluded with a video tour of Garrett County which was done by Mr. Voshell and Mrs. Cooper. Mrs. Kathy Golightly, student teacher, assisted students during the taping of the video.

READING CHAMPIONS PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS — Pictured are students from Zion Christian Academy just after registering for the March of Dimes 1991 Reading Champions program. Trish Morgan, community director of the local Allegany/Garrett County division, recently visited the school to conduct an informational assembly. Students viewed a brief, motivational film entitled "Every Little Book Counts" and each received a Reading Champions Game Plan, which includes a sponsor sheet, book list form, and the registration/promise card. Deadline for registration is January 18. Students will be reading books through February and signing up sponsors who pledge a donation for every book read. This is Zion's second consecutive year of participating in the read-a-thon and students there have been challenged to register and help the March of Dimes raise money for its Campaign for Healthier Babies. Dr. Judith Thelen of Frostburg State University will serve as the 1991 Honorary Chairperson and Mrs. Barbara Bush will serve as the National 1991 Honorary Chairperson. Teachers at the school each received a Reading Progress Chart that they may choose to display in their respective classrooms to show the students' progress in reading. Students were encouraged to read to earn medals for themselves, as well as work together to earn an award for their school. Pictured left to right, front row, are Buddy Naugle, Jarrett Hershberger, Michael Folk, and Megan Stanton. In the back, same order, are Trish Morgan and Tom McDowell.

School Age Child Care Resources Available At GCC

New resources for those who provide care for school age children are now available through a project sponsored by Garrett Community College in coordination with the office of Licensing and Regulation.

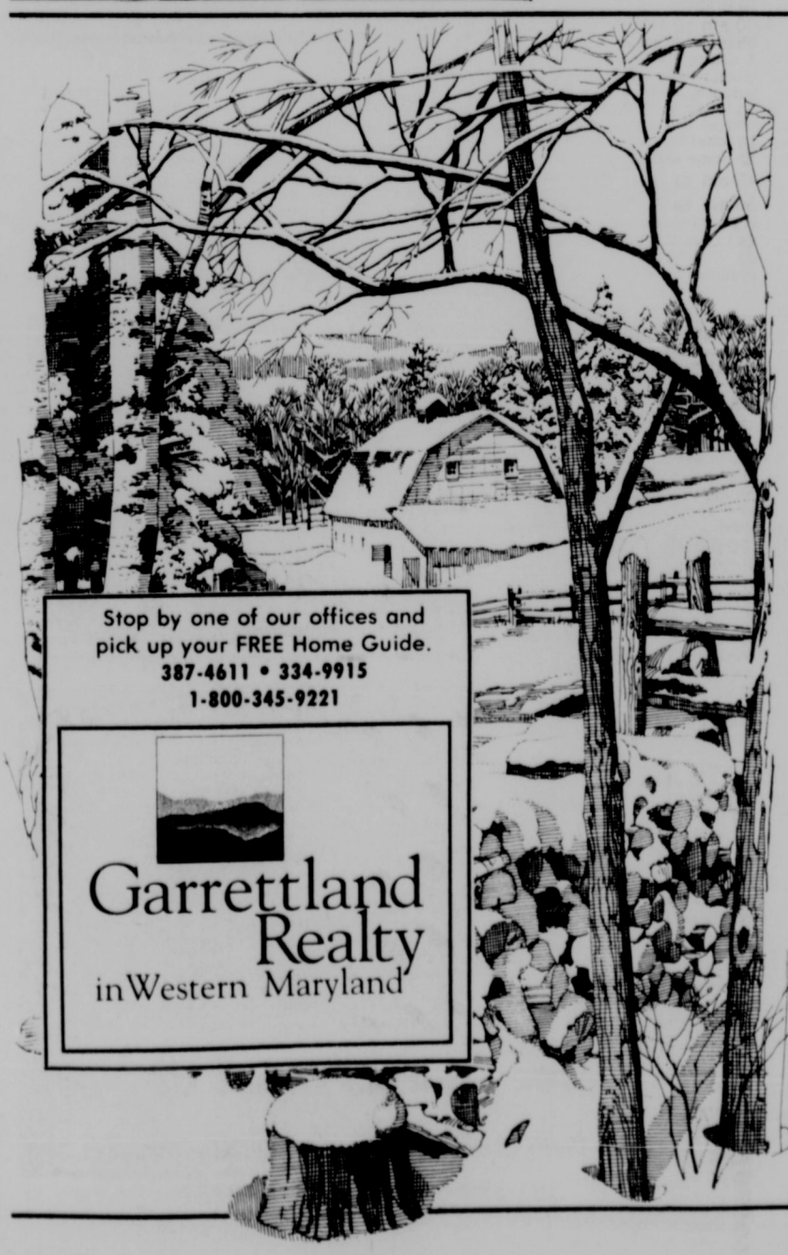
The School Age Child Care Project has been developed to support the delivery of quality child care for school age children. It is made possible by a grant from the Department of Human Resources. The project is being administered by Garrett Community College in cooperation with the local Licensing Specialist for the Office of Licensing and Regulation. The Project will provide training seminars and the use of a Resource Library.

The first training seminar will be held on Saturday, January 26, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at Garrett Community College Center in the Center for Community and Continuing Education.

The objective of this seminar is to acquaint providers of care with practical knowledge about planning programs for school age children. It will include the following topics: the developmental needs of school age children; planning activities for the group and for the individual child; implementing a variety of activiites; nutritious snacks and nutrition education; evaluating the value and effectiveness of specific activities; and utilizing community resources.

Other training seminars will be held in April, May and September. The training seminars have been designed to help providers of care in their daily operations. Each seminar will offer practical ideas and information which can be "put to work" in the child care setting. Sessions are planned to address the real needs of providers in both center and family day care settings. Continuing Education Credit hours (CEU's) will be awarded for seminar participants. This credit qualifies toward training requirements of the Office of Child Care Licensing.

The Resource Library has been assembled to provide a wide variety of resources for those who are providers of care for school age children. It is designed to offer learning materials, activities and project ideas for school age children. It also provides background information on child development, behavior management and family dynamics. The library also houses materials on the "business end" of operating child care programs. The Resource Library is located at the Office of Licensing and Regulation at 215 South Third Street in Oakland.



Persons wishing for more information about the School Age Child Care Project may contact Sandy Major at Garrett Community College (387-6666, ext. 180) or Debra Bernard at the Office for Licensing and Regulation (334-3426).

Drug Education Workshop Set At Frostburg State

A day-long workshop entitled "Curricular Integration: Enhancing Drug Education Through Faculty/Staff Development" will be conducted by Dr. Arlene Seal, President of Campuses Without Drugs, Inc. at Frostburg State University, January 16, for faculty and staff of FSU, Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, and Hagerstown Community College.

According to Dr. Spencer Deakin, director of counseling at FSU, the workshop sprung from a suggestion by FSU's Curricular Task Group following a survey at FSU faculty last spring. Three areas of concern were identified, says Deakin, and will be addressed at the workshop. First, faculty indicated the need to increase their personal knowledge of collegiate substance abuse issues. Secondly, they want help in developing positive confrontational skills so as to deal effectively with impaired individuals, and thirdly, faculty wants assistance in integrating drug prevention issues into their specific disciplines.

According to Dr. Deakin, Dr. Seal is a recognized national speaker on drug education. "Dr. Seal's commitment, participation and insight into the drug prevention movement make her a dynamic speaker," he said. She has experience as an educator, college administrator and psychotherapist and is a former academic dean at the University of Pittsburgh. She holds degrees in education, counseling, and psychology.

The workshop is sponsored by the Regional Education Service Agency (RESA), Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education Drug Prevention Grant, and the Frostburg State University Faculty Development Subcommittee.

Gov. Schaefer, Realtors Launch Buying Campaign

Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer met with Karen F. Spiker, president of the Garrett County Board of REALTORS, and other presidents of local boards of REALTORS from across the state on January 3, to proclaim January and February "Do It Now! Buy a Maryland Home" months. The proclamation, held at the State House, marks the beginning of an education/awareness campaign being launched by the Maryland Association of REALTORS.

"Maryland has so much to offer potential home buyers, and this campaign will help to make people even more aware of terrific homes that are on the market right now," Governor Schaefer said. "I want to commend the Maryland Association of REALTORS for their efforts, and I look forward to working closely with them in the coming weeks."

Garrett County Board President Karen F. Spiker commented, "Governor Schaefer made a statement during the proclamation ceremonies that I felt was very appropriate during these times relating to the many calls and visits he receives each day about complaints throughout the state. He contrasted those calls with Michael Yerman and the Maryland Association of Realtors because instead of just whining about slower business, they came to him and said, 'Yes, we have problems, but here is our idea to begin to overcome those problems. Will you help us?'

"I believe," stated Ms. Spiker, "that we all must step forward and work to help ourselves. In fact, that theory is really the basis for the Great American Dream of owning a home. Only those people who step forward and make the financial sacrifices for home ownership are able to reap the many, many benefits of owning their own home."

"This is truly an excellent time to buy a home," said Michael Yerman, president of the 26,000 member Maryland Association of REALTORS. Interest rates are low, there are a lot of homes to choose from and many willing sellers.

"The American dream of owning a home should be available to everyone," continued Yerman. "For many people who couldn't reach out to fulfill their dream before — whether it was to buy their first home, or to 'move up' — now is the time to buy. No one knows how long these market conditins will last. But I do know that purchasing a home has historically been a dependable investment for Marylanders. Conflicts in Korea and Vietnam, the high interest rates in the early 1980s and the stock market crash in 1987 did not destroy the real estate market in this country. People can feel confidence in their investment. Even with slight temporary downturns, the residential real estate market has been on a steady growth curve.

"The REALTORS of this state are grateful for Governor Schaefer's clear and resounding support of the housing market," Yerman said. "He (the governor) has worked tirelessly over the years in Baltimore, and throughout our state, to solve the housing needs of the homeless and to provide housing for low and moderate income citizens. Our governor has always held home ownership, that important piece of the American dream, in great respect."

"WELLNESS TOGETHER"

JANUARY WELLNESS TOGETHER

We hope you are enjoying your 1991 Wellness Together Health Stars Calendar. If you did not receive your calendar in the mail, please call 334-2155, or stop by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Good health to you and your family in 1991.

The new "Special Touch" Breast Health Program is available free to women's groups, organizations, or work sites. The purpose of the Special Touch Program is to introduce women to the knowledge and skills they need in order to protect themselves against breast cancer. The program features a video presentation, guest speakers, educational models and informative hand-outs. Call 334-2155 to schedule.

January is National Volunteer Blood Donor Month. To be eligible to give blood, a person must be in generally good health, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be at least 17 years old. A person can donate blood every 56 days. The body of an average adult contains approximately ten to twelve pints of blood. When a person gives blood, he donates one unit which equals approximately one pint. The body restores this fluid volume in just about 24 hours. If you have any questions about donating blood, call the American Red Cross at 1-800-542-5663. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Oakland for volunteer blood donation on Friday, January 25.

NATIONAL EYE HEALTH CARE MONTH

Bob Hope, honorary national chairman for National Eye Health Care Month, encourages the public to seek medical eye exams and glaucoma screenings on a regular basis to prevent blindness. Some eye diseases have no symptoms and can only be detected during an examination by a medically trained specialist. To further protect your vision, purchase and use protective goggles or glasses in hazardous situations such as cutting wood, working with chemicals, or playing sports like racquet ball or tennis.

WINTER WELLNESS

- Check the smoke detectors and fire extinguishers in your home to be sure they are working properly.
- Avoid excessive exercise for which you have not warmed up or trained. Check your heart rate while shoveling snow, cross-country skiing, and chopping wood.
- Eat well and drink plenty of fluids.
- Dress with several layers of warm clothing, and cover your head, hands, and feet to help preserve your body's warmth.
- Have a winter emergency kit in your car containing blankets, food, ice scraper, first aid kit, winter clothing, matches, candles, tools, flares, empty can with lid, and battery booster cables.
- Keep in touch with family and friends.

BITTINGER-GLADES

CHURCH NEWS

There will be Communion services on Sunday, January 13, at all three churches of the Bittinger Parish.

Emmanuel's Women of the ELCA will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the church. This meeting will be a planning meeting for the coming year. All members are urged to attend and bring their blue program booklets.

Rickie Mason, intern student pastor from Columbia, S.C. will be in the Bittinger Parish for the next 10 days. He is participating in the Rural Studies Program for the Lutheran Church.

Yearbook reports are due by Sunday, January 27.

A birthday party was held Saturday morning at the fire hall for Pastor Louise Knotts. There were games, refreshments, and the pastor was presented with a gift from the group. There were 26 in attendance.

BROTHERS, SISTERS REUNION

The brothers and sisters of Amelia Brenneman had a reunion at the Bittinger Fire Hall last Sunday. There were 68 in attendance, including 11 members of the Brenneman family.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Zook, Delaware, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Headings, West Liberty, Ohio, were weekend guests of Miriam Brenneman.

Twenty of the family members had supper at the Casselman restaurant on New Year's evening.

VISITS IN OHIO

Miss Olive Bender spent the Christmas holidays visiting her family in Canton and Orville, Ohio. She spent a week with her family members.

NEW YEAR'S GUESTS

New Year's Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty were: Mrs. Julius Carey, Chris and Tony Carey; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glotfelty, Taylor and Timmie; Ida Reckner, Sheli Bittinger and Jeff Gray.

Sunday dinner guests of Ida Reckner were: Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty, Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Platter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glotfelty and sons.

SENDS GREETINGS

Martha Glotfelty mailed out 105 Christmas greetings to her many friends. President and Mrs. Bush topped the list. Cards went into the following states: Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, New Jersey, Washington, D.C.; Florida and Texas.

VISITS IN LaVALE

Beulah Moon and Ferne Beachy visited, on Friday, the following members of their family: Mr. and Mrs. Blake Buckel, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Buckel, Mr. and Mrs. William Green and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Orendorf. They are all residents of LaVale.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mrs. Marion Stephens was a New Year's Day dinner guest of Raymond and Isabel Klotz.

Last weekend Mrs. Helen Englar and son, Mike, were guests of Dale Glotfelty.

Last evening, members of the Elmer Maust family attended a surprise birthday party for Karen, David Maust's wife.

Corby, Kristine, and Ryan Graber spent a week visiting his family in Kolona, Iowa.

Weekend visitors of Beulah Moon were John Moon and Jay Moon's family.

Mrs. Russell Curtis, Virginia, was a weekend guest of Marvin and Leona Beitzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Caldwell, Uniontown, Pa., were recent visitors of Mary Forney.

Dinner Scheduled At Eastern Garrett VFD

The Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Department will serve a spaghetti dinner this Saturday, January 12, from 4 to 8 p.m.

Tickets are $4 for adults and the menu will consist of "all-you-can-eat" spaghetti and meat sauce, salad, bread, and beverage. The ladies' auxiliary will be holding a bake sale at the same time.

The Eastern Garrett fire hall is located along Rt. 946 in Finzel, just off U.S. Rt. 48 Exit 29.

Debris Burning Allowed During Winter Months

Landowners outside of incorporated towns who are interested in burning brush or other debris should take advantage of the winter weather that the area is now experiencing. According to the Open Air Burning Regulations, Title 8, Department of Natural Resources, Subtitle .07, Maryland Forest, Park & Wildlife Service, "burning may occur at anytime when the ground is covered with snow, if all other requirements are met."

Ernie Metz, of the Maryland Forest, Park, and Wildlife Service, says the open air burning regulations apply to activities in woodland and within 200 feet of woodland, or a flammable material that could carry fire to the woodland. He said there should be a firebreak at least 10 feet wide around the fire and adequate personnel and equipment present to control the fire. The fire should be out cold before all personnel leave the scene.

Landowners that wish to do some open air burning while the ground is covered with snow should contact the Garrett County Office of Emergency Management at their non-emergency number (334-1930) prior to burning. This will reduce the chances of one of the local fire companies being called out on a false alarm, Metz concluded.

Buckel Named To Who's Who

Jerod R. Buckel, a junior at Northern High School, was recently named to the 1990-91 list of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Buckel is the son of Philip and Sondra Buckel, Bittinger. He is a member of the cross country and track teams at Northern. He is also a member of the National Honor Society and is a four-time recipient of the "Minds In Motion" award.

Buckel is a former Student of the Month and was named Outstanding Student in his freshman and sophomore years.

Who's Who, published by Education Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Ill., is the largest high school recognition publication in the country, according to a spokesperson. Approximately 99 percent of selected students have a grade point average of a "B" or better, and 97 percent are college bound.

HEARS FROM SOLDIER — Nikkol Moreland, a third grade student at Red House School, received a reply to the letter she wrote Sgt. Robert E. Ruiz from Oakland, Calif., who is currently part of Operation Desert Shield. The 22-year-old Air Force sergeant sent Nikkol a piece of Saudi Arabian money worth 29 cents and told her, "Don't spend it all in one place!"

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Air National Guard Airman Kris A. George has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

George is the son of Kerry L. George, Oakland, and Karren J. George, Adena, Ohio. He is a 1989 graduate of Buckeye Southwest High School, Tiltonsville, Ohio.

Staff Sgt. David S. Hardesty has been deployed to the Middle East with American military forces participating in Operation Desert Shield.

Operation Desert Shield is the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam. The operation is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

"It is the presence of dedicated military people like Hardesty that brings America's principles to life and gives them strength and meaning," President George Bush said.

Hardesty, who is the son of David C. and Beulah J. Hardesty of Rural Route 1, Aurora, W.Va., is a petroleum supply specialist at Fort Lee, Va. He is a 1966 graduate of Aurora High School, and a 1970 graduate of West Virginia University, Morgantown.

STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service is offering for sale the following timber on 28 acres of Compartment #29 of Savage River State Forest. Said timber is estimated to cut 167,264 board feet of sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, more or less. All trees 11" DBH and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top DIB with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located on the North Side of Fairview Road, 3.5 miles East of the Intersection with New Germany Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, January 21, 1991. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the Intersection of New Germany Road and Fairview Road at the above date and time.

2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Route 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, Maryland 21536 or phone 301-895-5759.

3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10% of the Bid Submitted must be posted upon submission of the Bid to the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service.

4. The Operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 to be awarded successful bidding.

5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10% of the Bid Submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the Contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.

6. All timber volumes in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. No adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.

7. Bidder may pay 50% of Bid Price on acceptance of the Contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from Bid acceptance. If Buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in a form acceptable to the State.

8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 p.m. on Monday, January 28, 1991.

Local Citizens Raise $3,000 For Heart Assoc.

A number of Garrett County citizens recently served as Very Important Prisoners (VIPs) for the American Heart Association, Western Maryland Division's Cardiac Arrest Event which raised approximately $9,000 for the AHA's research and programs.

Through the Cardiac Arrest Event, well-known citizens are "arrested" and spend a short term in a special "jail" until they pay a predetermined bail. The bail money, solicited and collected by the jailbird from friends, co-workers and business associates, is used to fund the American Heart Association's research and programs. Last year, 39,000 individuals were reached in Allegany and Garrett counties by the AHA programs.

"The VIPs were a special feature added to the 1990 Cardiac Arrest Event, and they helped to add approximately $3,000 to the event," stated Karen Spiker, event chairperson and president of A&A Realty.

The individuals who served as VIPs were area citizens who were willing to try and raise a predetermined bail of $500.

Area VIPs included Twila Fike, Ralph Burnett, Herb Lambert, Jack King, Michael Whipkey, Goldie Shugars, and Jack King.

"The work done by the VIPs greatly enhanced our Cardiac Arrest Event," added Spiker. "Everyone on the committee and AHA officials greatly appreciate the added touch that the VIPs made to our event."

For a free brochure or pamphlet on blood pressure, heart disease, diet, exercise and stroke, persons may contact the local American Heart Association office at (301) 724-4011.

VIPS FOR AHA — A number of Garrett County citizens recently served as Very Important Prisoners (VIPS) for the American Heart Association, Western Maryland Division's Cardiac Arrest Event which raised approximately $9,000 for the AHA's research and programs. Pictured here at the cruise dinner on the Evening Star which was held to honor the VIPs are, first row, left to right, Karen F. Spiker, Mike Walker, Cheryl Stephen, Jo Ann Vent, Twila Fike, Boyd Friend, Mary Friend, John Hatch, and Barbara Hatch; and second row, same order, Captain Bob Browning, Tom Vent, Melvin Fike, Raymond Schlossnagle, Alta Schlossnagle, Sam Shugars, and Goldie Shugars.

Tax Offices To Be Open Tuesday

All Maryland income tax offices will remain open to help taxpayers on Tuesday, January 15, a day when most state offices will be closed in observance of Martin Luther King Day. The hours are 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

I.R.S. offices will remain open on January 15th as well.

Taxpayers who wish to have their Maryland income tax forms completed free of charge should bring a completed copy of their federal return and all W-2 statements to any Maryland income tax office listed on the back of the Maryland tax packet and in local telephone directories.

Infant/Child CPR Offered At McHenry Campus

An Infant and Child CPR course will be offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College. The class will meet for three sessions on Tuesday, January 15; Thursday, January 17; and Tuesday, January 22, from 6 to 9:15 p.m. at the McHenry campus.

Students will be taught lifesaving skills to help infants and children when a breathing or cardiac emergency happens. These skills should be used to help a child — a person age 1 through 8 years old — and an infant — a person younger than 1 year old. Certification is provided through the American Red Cross.

The tuition fee includes text, materials, and certification card. An additional differential fee will be assessed to out-of-county and out-of-state residents. Pre-registration is advised since enrollment is limited.

For registration and information, persons may call the Continuing Education Division at 387-6666, ext. 169.

Hospitality Class Offered At GCC

A mini-course designed to emphasize the importance of customer relations is scheduled to begin January 28th at Garrett Community College. The purpose of the class is to develop telephone and interpersonal skills, as well as listening and questioning techniques. The course will also highlight the importance of product/service knowledge, managing priorities, and handling problems and complaints.

Participants will learn the importance of a positive attitude, enthusiasm, courtesy and tact, according to a college spokesperson. Hospitality Maryland Style: Customer Service and Satisfaction" will meet from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. for three consecutive Mondays at the McHenry Campus.

This class is one of a series of GCC classes planned to offer practical learning experiences which can immediately be "put to work" in busness. It is cosponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

Any persons, wishing to register for this course or obtain additional information may contact the Continuing Education Division of the college at 387-6666, ext. 169.

Stroke Club Has Holiday Buffet, Slates Meeting

The Allegany County Stroke Club (ACSC) recently celebrated its third annual Christmas party with a buffet luncheon at Holiday Inn, Cumberland. Approximately 44 members and guests were present. The special guests at the affair were Betty Workman, State Delegate to Annapolis; and Santa Claus, portrayed by Joe Sobolosky, Frostburg.

The Reverend Ivan Martin, Frostburg, gave the invocation. A color scheme of red and white dominated, with red and white carnations on each table. Gifts of fruit were distributed to all attending.

Terry Wolff, chairman of ACSC, announced that the next meeting of the club will be Friday, January 18, at 1 p.m., in the clubroom of the Kensington-Algonquin Senior Housing, 1 Baltimore Street, Cumberland. Ample parking is available at the rear entrance, and the building is accessible for canes, wheelchairs, and walkers.

The guest speaker will be Brad Thomas, owner of the Medicine Shoppe on Oldtown Road, Cumberland. Thomas, who has spoken before the club in the past, will discuss "Cholesterol, and the Medicines Involved With It." A question and answer period will follow his talk.

In the event of inclement weather, the meeting will be cancelled. Announcements of any cancellations will be made by local radio stations and by telephone during the morning of the scheduled meeting date.

ASCS is a community-oriented, non-profit support group organized to work with and for stroke patients/stroke veterans, as well as with their families and caregivers.

The ACSC membership encompasses stroke patients/stroke veterans, families, caregivers, and friends from Allegany, Garrett, and Prince Georges counties in Maryland; Somerset County in Pennsylvania; and Mineral County in West Virginia. Any interested person from the tri-state area is invited to attend meetings and social activities, especially those who have suffered a stroke or who have cared for a stroke patient. Meetings are open to the general public.

Anyone wishing additional information on the club or desiring visits by members of the Outreach Committee, either at the hospital or in the home, may contact any of the following: Allegany County, 301-729-1640; Garrett County, 301-746-8269; Mineral County, 304-298-3741; or Somerset County, 814-634-0335.

ACSC conducts regular meetings on the third Friday of each month in the clubroom of the Kensington-Algonquin. Meetings begin promptly at 1 p.m., with a business meeting, guest speaker from the community, and a question and answer period. The meeting concludes with the members separating into two groups.

One group is comprised of patients, led by Bonnie Legge, RN, Memorial Hospital. Ms. Legge, who is also the club's secretary, meets and works with many of the club members at the hospital while they are recuperating and receiving therapy and, in this way, continues her contacts with them as well as meeting and working with new people.

The second group is comprised of caregivers and family members, led by Frankie Greise, director, American Heart Association, Western Maryland Division, and assisted by members of Zealand Psychological Associates, Cumberland.

C&P DONATES TO FSU FOUNDATION — C&P Telephone Company representative Nancy Nemith recently presented Frostburg State University Foundation President Al Boxley III, with a check for its annual scholarship awards and an additional contribution in support of FSU's Key Campaign for purchase of academic equipment. C&P annually awards two scholarships to full-time entering freshmen from Allegany or Garrett County. 1990-91 recipients were Brenda Caldwell, of Deer Park, and Dennis Skidmore, of Mount Savage.

Local Resident Exchange Student From Augustana

During the January Interim, a delegation of 26 Augustana College students, including one from Garrett County, will continue their studies on 10 different campuses throughout the country.

At the same time, 29 students from other private colleges and universities are enrolled in a variety of classes at Augustana. The exchange involves private schools operating on a 4-1-4 academic calendar.

Among three Augustana students on California Lutheran University's campus in Thousand Oaks, Calif., is Arthur Fedde, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Fedde, Oakland. He is a graduate of Southern High School.

Augustana College is located in Sioux Falls, S.D.

Edwards Named Vice-Chairman Of W.Md. Delegation

It was announced this week that District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards has been named as vice-chairman of the Western Maryland Delegation to the 1991 Maryland General Assembly.

Formed in 1983, Western Maryland was the last area to form a delegation to the assembly, and includes Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties.

Following the announcement, Edwards stated, "I am pleased that my colleagues put their trust in me. It says something."

The purpose of the delegation is to review issues of mutual interest to the various counties represented and to introduce bills into the General Assembly concerning those issues. Both the chairman (District 3 Delegate James E. McClellan) and the vice-chairman then testify on bills submitted by the delegation.

It was also announced that Delegate Edwards was among two Maryland delegates and two senators honored last week by MACo (Maryland Association of Counties) for his "supportive work and cooperation with the Maryland county governments."

MACo was formed to represent the interests of the counties in the state legislative process, and is comprised of county government officials from around the state.

PEACE WAS IN THEIR HEARTS as war loomed on the horizon. But at the peace walk held Monday evening in Oakland, approximately 150 walkers held tight to their prayers for peace — some, no doubt, believing that even at the cost of a war, achieving lasting peace would be the result. The event was sponsored by the Mountain Top Ministerial Association. The participants began the walk at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, then travelled to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, then to St. Peter's Catholic Church, and ended at St. Paul's Methodist Church. War did, indeed, break out in the Persian Gulf Wednesday evening, as U.S. troops waged a massive air attack on Iraq.

Herpel Couple Announce Births Of Triplets

Jerry and Betsy Ann Herpel, Deep Creek Lake, announced this week the births of triplets on Monday, January 14, at 9:10 a.m. at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va.

First out was Edward Richard, weighing in at five pounds. Then came Grace Anne who weighed two and one-half pounds. Finally four and one-half pound William Gerard appeared.

The proud father, who is the pharmacist of Deep Creek Lake Pharmacy, said mama and babies are all doing well. "Little Grace is actually doing the best," he stated.

Maternal grandfather is Richard W. Dudley, New Bern, N.C. Paternal grandparents are Edward and Marcella Herpel, Baltimore.

Education Board Holds Elections, Hears Concerns Of County Parents

Elections for office and committee re-assignments were executed during the latest meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education, as well as an approved change in its meeting date. Several discussions during the meeting centered on other topics also, including concerns of county parents and the Food Service Advisory Committee.

Elections

The board is required by state law to re-organize annually, according to Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County Schools; therefore, elections were held and individual assignments on various committees were updated. Beverly Murphy will continue to serve as president of the education board, and Carol Clark was re-elected by the board members as vice president.

Serving on the local Ethics and Transportation Committees will be Mikal Moomau, who was re-elected to a two-year term in November. Rodney Durst, who was also re-elected in the November election, will serve as the board representative on the Health Advisory Committee.

Member Carol Clark will serve as the board's representative on the County Council of PTA's, and Mrs. Murphy will serve on the Camp Hickory Advisory Committee. Representing the board on the state's legislative committee will also be Mrs. Murphy, who was re-elected in November to her fifth term on the education board.

New board member Brian Paugh, who defeated Charles Teets in November, was assigned to the Vocational Advisory Committee. Paugh was welcomed to his first meeting by the other board members.

Mrs. Clark read aloud to the group a resolution of appreciation for Charles Teets, expressing gratitude for his four years of service to the board and to the students and teachers of Garrett County. The resolution stated that Teets's analytical methods and his persis-

"No Probable Cause" Ruled In Assault With Intent To Murder Case

"No probable cause found" was the ruling by Judge Jack R. Turney in a case involving four charges against a Grantsville man, including one count of assault with intent to murder.

Other charges against Kevin M. Fitzgerald, 35, Grantsville, included reckless endangerment, battery, and malicious destruction of property stemming from a December 9, 1990, incident in Grantsville.

According to original police reports, Fitzgerald had allegedly become involved in a heated argument with Gregory W. McMurray, also of Grantsville, and pointed a rifle at him and subsequently fired the rifle. He also allegedly battered McMurray and slashed a tire on his vehicle.

At a hearing last week in Garrett County District Court, the judge found no probable cause on all four counts and the charges against Fitzgerald were dismissed.

In other District Court news, a bench warrant has been issued by Judge Turney for John Lee Tasker Jr., 24, Oakland, who failed to appear for his appointed court date last week.

Tasker had been charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs, and driving while license is revoked.

Those charges had been brought against Tasker on October 9, 1990, by Deputy Jeff Murphy of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department on a traffic stop on U.S. Route 219, south of Red House. Murphy said a search revealed marijuana cigarettes in Tasker's jacket.

Judge Turney also ordered a bench warrant last week for Scott A. Jackson, 20, Uniontown, Pa., who had been charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, possession of drug paraphernalia, and resisting arrest.

Charges against Jackson had been brought by Deputy Murphy on October 30, 1990, when Jackson exited a vehicle the deputy had stopped for a speeding violation on Route 42 west of Friendsville.

In his report, Deputy Murphy stated that he told Jackson to get back into the vehicle. A search of the vehicle revealed a small metal pipe with reported marijuana residue. Before the arrest, Jackson then reportedly attempted to run away on foot, but was apprehended by Murphy.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for a McHenry man found guilty on a charge of battery on a minor under age 14.

Ricky S. Moats, 27, according to initial police reports, had squeezed the six-year-old victim's neck, leaving an imprint of the boy's corduroy shirt. Bruises on the victim's neck were also found following the December 5 incident.

A charge of child abuse against Moats was not prosecuted.

A pre-sentence investigation was also ordered by the judge for Earline P. Moats, 26, Mc-

Tichnell Granted Fourth Sentencing Trial Jan. 28

Richard Danny Tichnell, Fairmont, W.Va., who has been convicted for the murder of Garrett County Deputy Sheriff David Livengood in a January 18, 1979 incident, will once again receive a sentencing trial in the Calvert County Circuit Court, beginning January 28, it was learned recently.

Tichnell has been sentenced to death during three separate trials since his 1980 conviction, but has appealed each one of them. The most recent trial, held in Prince Georges County Circuit Court, was heard by Judge Arthur M. Ahalt who ruled that the wrong sentencing form was used for Tichnell.

The upcoming sentencing trial will be presided over by Circuit Court Judge Thomas A. Rymer. Tichnell has reportedly elected to be tried by a jury.

The murder conviction was the result of an incident that occurred in the parking lot of Davidson's Army Navy Discount Store in Oakland when, at approximately 5:30 a.m., Deputy Livengood and his K-9 partner, "Sarge," a German Shepherd dog, responded to a silent alarm at the business. While attempting to apprehend Tichnell and his accomplice, Roberto Rezek, also of the Fairmont, W.Va. area, Livengood was shot seven times and Sarge was stabbed with a samurai sword.

Tichnell and Rezek then stole

Swanton Couple Dead As Result Of Murder-Suicide In McCoole

A Swanton couple is dead as the result of a domestic dispute in McCoole, along Md. Route 135, Saturday that culminated in a murder-suicide.

Gwendolyn Ann Tichinell, 26, was pronounced dead at the scene after being gunned down by her husband, John R. Hinkle, 45, who had turned the .357 handgun on himself immediately after shooting his wife.

Hinkle was pronounced dead at Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser, W.Va. as the result of the self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head.

Tichinell's body was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital and examined by Dr. Francisco Reyes.

According to reports filed by Tfc. Jon Dudiak, state police investigator, the couple had become involved in an argument at a residence on Queen Street in McCoole. They then apparently took their dispute outside when Hinkle pointed the gun at his wife, causing her to run from him. He allegedly fired two shots at his wife and missed. A chase ensued and Hinkle reportedly caught his wife in front of a private residence and fired the handgun into her head before shooting himself in the head.

Residents in the area heard gunshots and called 911 for assistance. McCoole Volunteer firemen and Keyser and Tri-Towns rescue squads transported the victims to the hospitals.

State Police Tfc. David Miller, Evidence Collection Unit, assisted in the investigation.

Born March 4, 1964, in Keyser, W.Va., Ms. Tichinell was the daughter of William and Charlene (Greenhorn) McIntosh, who reside in Piedmont, W.Va.

Ms. Tichinell attended Bruce High School and was formerly employed at the Chat 'n Chew Restaurant in McCoole. She attended the Westernport Assembly of God and Savage River Full Gospel Churches.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sons, Jonathan W. Tichinell and Daniel Jay Tichinell, both of Westernport; two brothers, Allen Wilson, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Jamie E. Wilson, Piedmont; four sisters, Karen Sue Daniels, Phoenix, Ariz.; Sherri Lynn Kenner, Keyser, W.Va.; Darla Lee Reed, Westernport; and Rebecca Dawn Chaney, Potlatch, Idaho.

Friends were received in the Boal-Warnick Funeral Home, Westernport, where a service was held Wednesday at 1 p.m. by the Rev. Robert Colette and the Rev. Robert McIntosh, an uncle.

Interment was in the Philos Cemetery, Westernport.

Born October 31, 1945, in Bloomington, John Hinkle was the son of Evelyn (Moorehead) Hinkle, Piedmont, and the late Grover Hinkle.

Mr. Hinkle was a self-employed carpenter and attended Savage River Full Gospel Church.

Besides his mother, he is survived by one daughter, Lisa Wilt, Bloomington; one stepdaughter, Rhonda Coleman, Piedmont; one brother, James Moorehead, Bloomington; two sisters, Ann Watson, Keyser; Gladys Moon, Ellicott City; one grandchild, and two step-grandchildren.

Friends were received in the Boal-Warnick Funeral Home where a service was conducted Tuesday at 11 a.m. with the Rev. George Tichinell officiating.

Interment was in the Bloomington Cemetery.

Oakland Man Critically Burned In Apartment Fire Early This Morning

An Oakland man is in "critical" condition at the Pittsburgh Burn Center this morning after being severely burned in his apartment early this morning.

Oakland and Deer Park volunteer fire fighters were called at 1:07 a.m. to the Highview Apartment No. 43 of 22-year-old Gregory Schrock. Also responding was the Southern Rescue Squad and the county air cascade vehicle from the Bittinger VFD.

According to Oakland Fire Chief Bob Rudy, Oakland fireman Denny Murray, who was one of the first persons on the scene, broke down the door of Schrock's apartment and found the victim lying on the floor behind the door. Murray then dragged him outside and the rescue squad quickly transported him to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. He was then transferred by ambulance to the burn center.

Rudy said that the fire in the apartment was contained quickly and primarily involved a sofa bed in the living room. It was assumed that Schrock had been on the sofa asleep when the fire broke out. The chief said that it appeared the fire had started from a nearby electric baseboard heater; however, he added that Guy Carola, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, was called to the scene to make a final determination. Carola could not be reached this morning for comment.

Rudy said that a neighbor telephoned 911 to report the fire after a smoke alarm in the neighbor's apartment sounded.

Fire fighters remained on the scene until 2:15 a.m.

TRAILER DESTROYED

Deep Creek and Accident volunteer firemen were called out early Sunday when a trailer that served as a summer home was gutted by fire.

Fire fighters responded to the Walton Trailer Court at 12:42 a.m. and, upon their arrival, discovered flames coming out the windows of the mobile home. They remained on the scene until 2:52 a.m. Also responding was the air cascade vehicle, presently housed at Bittinger VFD, and the Northern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

The trailer was owned by Terry Winner, of Lutherville. The cause of the blaze is still under investigation.

Pa. Man Pleads Guilty To 13 Theft Counts

A 24-year-old Salisbury, Pa., man pleaded guilty to 13 counts of theft, including two counts of felony theft, in Garrett County Circuit Court recently. Judge Fred A. Thayer, who presided at the hearing, accepted the guilty pleas, ordered a pre-sentence investigation, and revoked the defendant's bail.

Wendell J. Yoder pleaded guilty to the theft counts as well as one count of forgery. The charges stemmmed from several months in the fall of 1989 and the spring of 1990 when Yoder reportedly uttered numerous forged checks totalling thousands of dollars. The defendant apparently stole and/or wrote bad checks to several people, including John, Grace, Jacob, and Duane Yoder, and William Buckel. Charges also stemmed from Yoder's reported theft of cash from the Liberty Trust Bank in Grantsville and the First United National Bank and Trust, Oakland.

Several charges of forgery and uttering were not prosecuted.

Sentencing for Yoder is tentatively scheduled for Feb. 14, according to the court document. Representing the defendant was Robert Hesson.

In a separate case, William J. McDaniel, 25, Grafton, W.Va., pleaded guilty to possession of cocaine with intent to distribute. Judge Thayer accepted the plea and ordered a presentence investigation. The judge also revoked McDaniel's bail.

The defendant's charge stemmed from a September incident when a Maryland State police officer investigated a vehicle accident involving a vehicle operated by McDaniel. During a search of the defendant's car, police discovered amounts of cocaine, marijuana, and drug paraphernalia. The defen-

Garrett County Seniors To Serve As Pages For 1991 Assembly

Susan Cupler

Jennifer Thorn

It was recently announced that two Garrett County high school students will serve as student pages during the 1991 Maryland General Assembly at the Maryland State House in Annapolis.

Susan Cupler, 17, Grantsville, was selected as a page to the General Assembly and will serve two one-week sessions in that capacity. Cupler is currently a senior at Northern High School where she is a member of the National Honor Society. She was named to Who's Who for two years, served as a lawyer on the school's Mock Trial Team, is now serving as vice-president of the Student Council and was also a member last year, is currently involved in the class play and is the secretary of the International Thespian Society.

Cupler is the school's yearbook photographer, and has completed an apprenticeship at The Republican newspaper. She has received the "Student of the Month" award at Northern High School and, as a sophomore, represented Garrett County in the pilot Maryland Student Showcase Exchange held in Queen Anne's County.

She is a member of the Worldwide Church of God, Cumberland, where she has placed in both the district and

Bloodmobile To Visit Oakland

The Red Cross bloodmobile will make a regular visit to Oakland on Friday, January 5. The site of the visit will be the National Guard Armory on Eighth Street, where blood will be collected from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Cindy Kutchman, Red Cross representative.

Mrs. Kutchman noted that the regular demand for blood right now is high, plus all Red Cross blood collection centers are being called upon for large supplies of blood that may be needed in the Middle East. All persons who are at least 17 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds, and are in generally good health are invited and encouraged to donate a pint of blood.

She noted that there is no longer an upper age limit for donating blood.

"The Red Cross collects over half of the nation's blood supply," Kutchman said. "Currently, 3,000 units of blood are needed each week by the patients in our 65 regional hospitals.

First Rabies Case Of '91 Reported By Health Dept.

The first rabies case of 1991 was reported this week by Rodney Glotfelty, assistant director of the Garrett County Environmental Health Department.

Meg and Wayne Ellis, who reside three miles out of Accident on the Accident-Friendsville Road, told Glotfelty that they found a dead raccoon in their barnyard.

Apparently the couple had let their dogs out on Friday night and let them back in the house without realizing they had killed the raccoon.

Since they likely handled the dogs within the critical two-hour period of coming in contact with the rabid animal, the Ellises were advised to undergo rabies vaccinations. Their dogs had been vaccinated, but were re-vaccinated when the raccoon was positively tested for the Rhabdovirus.

Glotfelty this week reminded the public that handling a pet within two hours of its being in contact with a rabid animal is a critical period. "That is the active period for the virus and people should be vaccinated," he warned.

Last year, a record 45 rabid animals were reported in Garrett County with 33 of them being raccoons and 12 of them skunks. Glotfelty predicts another record year for rabies cases in the county.

FORMER LOCAL EXCHANGE TEACHER CYCLING CHAMP — Roland Erpelding, of Luxembourg, was an exchange teacher at Southern High School during the 1976-77 school year, and since that time he has experienced a number of adventures and accomplishments that he wished to share with his former Garrett County students and friends. Erpelding took up serious bicycling soon after he left this area and cycled cross-country from Jamestown, Va., to Astoria, Ore. From there he traveled south to Bolivia, mainly by bus and train. He then returned to Luxembourg and has been teaching first grade ever since. He started bicycle racing about six years ago and just recently became the cycling champion of Luxembourg. Erpelding said he plans to take a one-year leave from teaching, come back to the United States and "cycle around a bit," and hopefully spend some time in Oakland. His address is 17 Rue de la Gare, 4999 Schouweiler, Luxembourg.

Various Arrests Noted By Police

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office logged several arrests this week on charges including breaking and entering, driving while intoxicated (DWI) and violation of probation.

Steven W. Guthrie, 25, Oakland, was arrested by Dep. C. Nolan on charges of breaking and entering and destruction of property after he reportedly used force to gain entry to the home of Tony Spink on Silver Knob Road. The incident occurred during a domestic dispute between Guthrie and his girlfriend, Lucinda Spink, who was in the home at the time.

Guthrie apparently took the couple's two-year-old son during the altercation, which was against the wishes of the mother, Ms. Spink.

Guthrie was released on his own recognizance soon after the Jan. 12 arrest.

In a separate case, an arrest warrant was issued for David Rhodes, 46, Davis, W.Va., after he reportedly shot bullets into a cabin owned by Robin Wilkins. Thomas Portwood reported the incident to the Sheriff's Office.

Portwood told police that Rhodes had "shot up" Ms. Wilkins's cabin, and had threatened her life in a phone conversation. When police arrived at the residence, they found that an outdoor light had been shot out, and a gas tank on the property had been fired into as well.

A warrant was served to Rhodes on Jan. 10.

Charles R. Parrish, 20, Oakland, was stopped by Dep. J. Murphy in the early hours of Jan. 14 when the officer noted an equipment violation on the vehicle Parrish was operating. When the officer interviewed the defendant, he noted a strong odor of alcohol and administered a sobriety test.

Parrish was then arrested and charged with DWI. The arrest took place on Rt. 135 in Mountain Lake Park.

Parrish was released after signing the citation.

A warrant was issued for Charles F. Stinson, 35, Mtn. Lake Park, on the charge of violation of probation. Stinson was originally charged with DWI, driving with suspended license, and failure to control speed to avoid a collision.

Stinson was served the warrant on Jan. 8, according to the report.

A Swanton man was served a warrant for violation of probation by the Sheriff's Office. David L. Kitzmiller, 29, was given the warrant signed by Judge Fred A. Thayer of the Garrett County Circuit Court, on Jan. 14.

Four bench warrants were issued for Charles W. Moats, 33, Mtn. Lake Park, for failure to appear in court, according to the police record. Moats was scheduled to face charges of DWI, driving with a revoked license, and operating an uninsured vehicle.

The bench warrants for Moats were issued by the district court.

Gary D. Hardesty, 34, Deer Park, was served a bench warrant for failure to appear for a 48-hour jail term. The sentence was given to Hardesty by order of the Garrett County District Court for charges of disorderly conduct and disobeying a police officer.

The bench warrant was served to Hardesty on Jan. 14.

A breaking and entering and destruction of property incident was reported to the police by Thurman W. Whitacre. Whitacre told officers that an unknown person or persons entered his garage at his Mtn. Lake Park home by prying the door open, damaging it in the process.

The culprit then apparently threw a power saw through the window of a Volkswagon parked inside the garage. Damage done to the door and vehicle was estimated at $300.

An investigation is continuing.

Md. State Police Investigating Reported DOPs

The Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack, are currently investigating two reported cases of destruction of property, one of which also involved theft.

Tfc. R.T. Wilson is investigating the damage of six tires on two vehicles belonging to Steven Ervin, Deer Park, and Galen Beckman, Mtn. Lake Park.

The vehicles were reportedly parked outside Erv's Place in Deer Park on January 9 when the destruction occurred, said police.

Wilson said charges are forthcoming.

Gladys L. Mullins, Grantsville, told police that sometime between January 7 and 8, someone removed a PSI 200 black and silver air compressor, a black air compressor, and a rear windshield wiper from a vehicle at Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop. There was also $450 in damages done to a vehicle parked there.

Tfc. W.E. Dixon is continuing his investigation.

DWI ARRESTS

State Police also noted two arrests in the county this week for driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

James F. Sines, 46, Meyersdale, Pa., was charged with DWI on Monday by Tpr. J.T. Bentlejewski.

Angela D. Colona, 20, Ft. Washington, was charged with underage drinking on Tuesday by Tfc. Cuthbertson.

Oakland VFD To Serve Community Appreciation Meal

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department will serve a Community Appreciation Dinner at the fire hall on Third Street Tuesday, Feb. 12. The menu will include ham, bean soup, corn bread, beverages, and dessert. Serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m.

All are invited to attend. There will be no admission charged; however, donations will be accepted.

Annual Hospice Winter Frolic Slated Feb. 2

Hospice of Garrett County, Inc., will hold its annual Winter Frolic dinner and dance at the Oakland American Legion on Saturday, February 2, from 6 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Paul McCloud, disc jockey from WMSG/WXIE radio station, will provide the music. The cost of the dinner/dance is $25 per person. Reservations may be made by contacting the Hospice office at 334-5151 or 895-3111.

Brenda Butscher, executive director, stated, "This fundraiser is very important to the future growth of Hospice. The money we raise will go toward the hiring of a part-time registered nurse and also for office rent. Your support in helping us serve the terminally ill and their families in Garrett County is greatly appreciated."

Persons interested in receiving information on Hospice services may call the above listed telephone numbers.

Second Annual "Red Red Rose" Party Scheduled

Lynne Barnes, Celtic harpist of Cumberland, will greet and entertain patrons of the "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose" party on Thursday, February 14, beginning at 7 p.m. at the Silver Tree Restaurant at Deep Creek Lake. This event, which is a celebration of both Valentine's Day and the 232nd birthday of the famous Scottish poet and farmer, Robert Burns, is also a "funraiser" for the 4th Annual McHenry Highland Festival, which will be held Saturday, June 1, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

Ms. Barnes, who teaches Celtic harp, lap dulcimer, piano, and guitar, will perform several Robert Burns compositions during the evening, including "A Red, Red Rose," "Ye Banks and Braes," and "Auld Lang Syne." The evening will incude an address to the haggis and Burns poetry. Dancing will follow the program and sit-down dinner. Jack DuBose, of Sound Alternative, Grantsville, will play a two-hour collection of classic love songs from the 1940's through the 1960's, embracing romantic songs from the Big Band through the Motown eras.

Reservations for the Valentine's event are $25 single and $50 per couple, and a "Patron of the Red, Red Rose" sponsorship package is also available for $100, which includes dinner for two at the "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose" party, advance admission for two to the McHenry Highland Festival and the festival ceilidh, a listing on the "Patrons and Sponsors" page of the festival program, and public recognition as a festival patron sponsor.

To make a reservation or purchase a patron sponsorship, checks should be mailed to the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Courthouse, Oakland, Md. 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

Dr. Archer To Present History Of Public Health

Garrett County Health Officer Dr. Rex Archer will present a history of public health in the United States at a public meeting to be hosted by the League of Women Voters of Garrett County, Monday, January 28, at 7:30 p.m., at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

The recently developed Health Care Study, adopted by the 1990 National Convention of the League of Women Voters of the United States, "reflects a broad desire for the league to examine policies for the funding and delivery of health care in the United States," according to a league spokesperson.

League members will examine the current status and consider alternatives as they study this major policy issue facing the United States in the 1990's, according to the spokesperson.

The evaluation of public and private mechanisms for delivery and financing of health care will be one of the focal points of the league's study. Strengths and weaknesses of the health care plan will also be reviewed by the league, including coverage, cost, funding and rationing.

The presentation by Dr. Archer is open to the public and will include a question and answer period.

"The Marriage-Go-Round" To Be Presented

"The Marriage-Go-Round," a comedy in two acts, will open Friday, January 25, at 8 p.m., at the Garrett Community College auditorium, with a second showing the following evening at the same time.

The play relates the story of "a happily married couple who come face to face with a problem — a young beautiful blond with high hopes," according to a spokesperson. The main focus of the evening is on the couple and their efforts to deal with this new problem in their marriage. Throughout the play, the lead characters come out of the scene and talk to the audience, allowing the audience to become more involved.

The play is being directed by Greg A. Holtschneider, a Frostburg State University student, who graduated from Northern High School in 1988. Greg is a junior theatre major with a concentration in acting and directing. His past directing experience has been at FSU, with his latest production a children's tour entitled, "The Unwicked Witch." Greg will travel to Albany, N.Y., in February for the Irene Ryan acting competition.

The male lead in "The Marriage-Go-Round" is being performed by Greg Gerhard, also an FSU theatre major. A Frostburg native, Greg has been involved with many of the high school productions throughout Allegany County and has directed three plays for both Bishop Walsh and Mt. Savage high schools. He has also been involved with many of FSU's theatre productions, especially in the children's theatre.

Making her acting debut is Christina Grant, Clinton, who will play the female lead role. She is currently a junior at FSU and majors in accounting.

Megan Mathews, McHenry, carries with her some acting experience from high school productions, but this is her first appearance on the GCC stage. She is currently majoring in political science at Bethany College, with a double minor in English and history.

Alex Hicks, a Garrett County resident and a student at GCC, is also making his first appearance on the GCC stage. A graduate of Northern High School, Alex has acted in "The Curious Savage" and "Let's Murder Marsha," both NHS productions, as well as having performed in many of their puppet shows.

Fred Holliday, who will serve as the asistant director and stage manager, is also a student at FSU, with a double major in theatre and mass communications. A Garrett County native, Fred is also a graduate of Northern High School.

The production is made possible by special arrangement with Baker Plays, Boston, Mass.

OPERATION DESERT STORM

MAIL CALL

As American forces continue their assignment in "Operation Desert Shield" in the Middle East, mail becomes even more important as a morale builder and an expression of public support of their service.

The Republican proudly lists the names and addresses of those local service personnel who are now stationed there, either in Saudi Arabia or other Middle East nations. We hope local residents will take a few moments to drop a line to these young men and women. It is not necessary to be personally acquainted with these local soldiers or with anyone else in the armed services to send him or her a letter. Expressions of upbeat support, humor, and words of good cheer will mean a lot.

Letters to anyone in the Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps, land-based in Saudi Arabia, may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member

Letters to anyone in the Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps at sea may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member

FPO New York 09866-0006

We will publish this list periodically over the next several weeks. Names and addresses of other local service personnel not listed here are welcome and will be added for future publication.

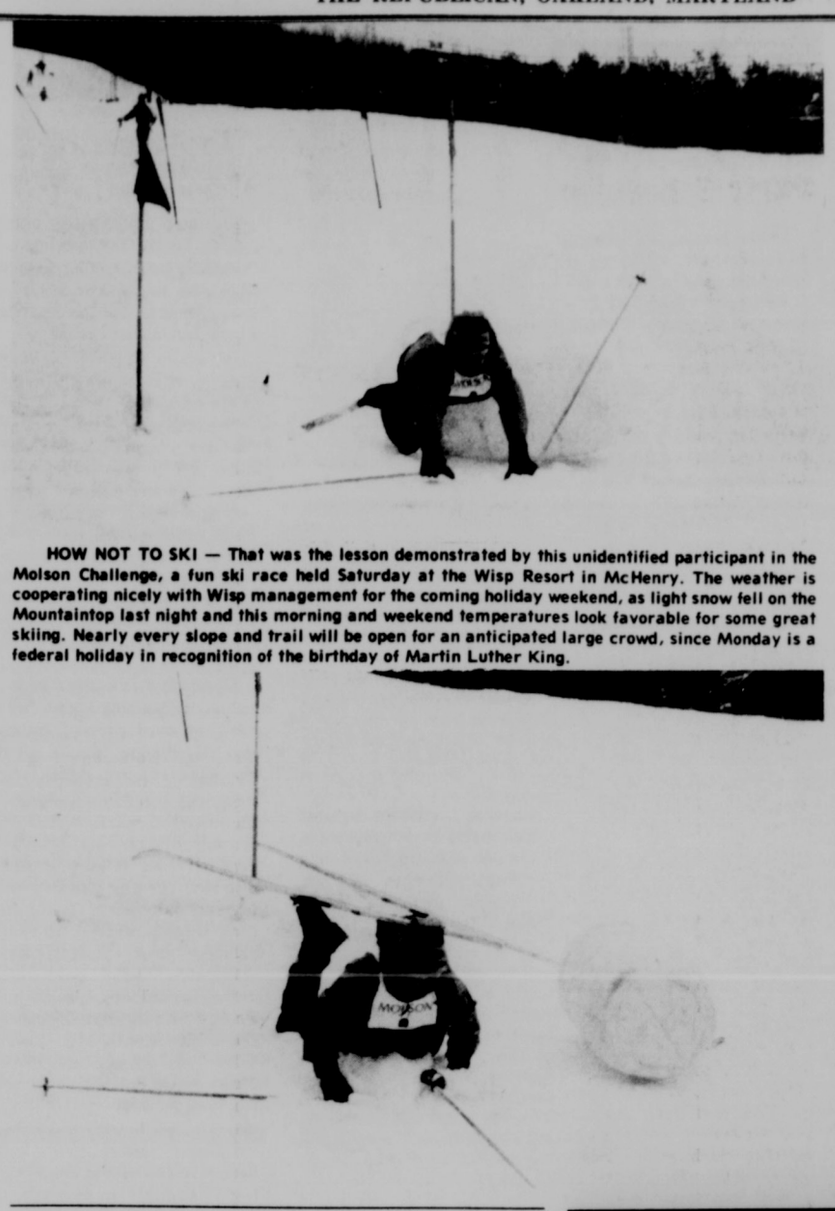
First United Corporation Declares Dividend, Reports On Performance

Chairman and President Richard G. Stanton has reported that the Board of Directors of First United Corporation, Oakland, has declared a $.29 per share cash dividend payable on February 1, 1991, to share-holder of record of January 23, 1991. Stanton stated that this represents an increase over the first quarter dividend of 1990.

"During 1990, First United Corporation showed good financial performance in the face of an economic slowdown," Stanton noted. Earnings for First United Corporation for 1990 were $4.67 million or $2.75 per share, compared to income of $4.93 million, or $2.94 per share, for 1989. Stanton reported that, although the income had declined by approximately five percent, 1990 was the second best year in the Corporation's history.

Further, the Corporation posted a return on assets of 1.33%. When compared with peer banks, First United's return on assets places it in better than the 80th percentile, with many banks struggling to reach a return on assets of one percent.



Stanton admitted that 1990 was one of the "most challenging" years of his 30 years at First United. "We found that we had to deal with many issues that challenged our directors, management, and staff. 1990 was a year of very little growth, both in deposits and loans. In addition to the economic slowdown, we found that many of our customers used 1990 as a year to pull in their horns and pay down debts, rather than investing or financing new purchases. This caused us to closely watch our loan quality and to monitor our costs of funds to maintain a stable interest margin.

"We emerged from 1990 as a strong, well-capitalized corporation," Stanton continued. "Our Shareholder equity represents 9.59% of our assets, greater than last year's 8.85%, and is far in excess of the industry's standards. In fact, our capital places us well over the 80th percentile of peer group banks. 1990 also showed a return on shareholder equity of 15.05%."

Stanton also noted that the Corporation's loan management was strong in 1990. "I don't need to say that 1990 was a year in which the public's attention was focused on the quality of bank loans," he said. At First United, we re-doubled our loan review efforts and training efforts to assure that loans of high quality were booked, and that they were carefully monitored. The Corporation's non-performing loans represents just 7.94% of the Corporation's capital. This is quite small, compared with some troubled banks and many savings and loans which have non-performing loans nearly equal to or greater than their capital. Even with this low percentage of non-performing loans, we continue to maintain a loan reserve of nearly one percent of our loan portfolio of $247 million. Again, this exceeds industry standards. Also, steps are taken to provide our Customer Service Officers with the best training possible so that they are equipped to analyze loan requests in a way that protects both the bank and the customers."

Bank stock values have declined somewhat over the past year. First United Corporation's stock price ended the year at $30.00 or $3.50 less than the value at the beginning of the year. "Again, this is a small decline compared to the decline suffered by many other financial institutions," Stanton said.

Stanton concluded by saying: "I have read where the changes in the '90's would be equal to, or greater than those witnessed in the '80's. If 1990 is any indication of this, then I do believe the statement. Despite these changes, First United Corporation maintained an A plus rating from Sheshunoff, an industry-recognized service which monitors and rates all banks in the country. I was also pleased to see that IDC Financial again rated First United Coporation as 'superior' in its quarterly analysis of banks, as reported in a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun."

HOW NOT TO SKI — That was the lesson demonstrated by this unidentified participant in the Molson Challenge, a fun ski race held Saturday at the Wisp Resort in McHenry. The weather is cooperating nicely with Wisp management for the coming holiday weekend, as light snow fell on the Mountaintop last night and this morning and weekend temperatures look favorable for some great skiing. Nearly every slope and trail will be open for an anticipated large crowd, since Monday is a federal holiday in recognition of the birthday of Martin Luther King.

Education Board

tence had produced many positive changes in the county's school system. The board members all signed the resolution.

The meeting date for the board of education was changed by unanimous vote from the second Thursday every month to the second Tuesday of each month, with the times remaining the same: executive session beginning at 10 a.m., and public session beginning at 1 p.m.

Appointments for an attorney and an auditor were also voted upon. The firm of Burnett, Eiswert, Janes, Conger, and Green, PA., was re-appointed to the position of attorney, and Rodeheaver and Associates was re-appointed as the board's auditor.

Parents' Concerns

Students' parents were invited to the meeting to express any concerns or ask questions of the education board members. Approximately 15 visitors were in attendance, and most questions ultimately centered on budget problems.

A spokesperson from Dennett Road School told the members of several problems in the school concerning materials. She explained that because of the severe shortage of books this year, the teachers are required to make copies of lessons and other materials on the mimeograph machine. However, because of extensive use and age, the machines perform badly and are in need of repair. The spokesperson asked if there may be any extra funding that could be used to help alleviate the problem.

Ryscavage told her that the budget "does not look good," and that although her concerns were not falling on deaf ears, he could not promise her anything. He went on to say that the teachers will have to be "creative enough" to get the job done, and that the job simply will not get done as it has in the past.

Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of schools, curriculum and instruction, told the group "when you don't have the dollars, you don't have the dollars." He also stated that teaching was accomplished before mimeograph machines were available, so it can be accomplished now.

Another parent expressed her frustration at a recent occurrence at Northern High School. She explained that two to three boys had been unable to get to school on Wednesday, Jan. 9, because the school bus was not running in their area. The boys' parents had already gone to work, and were not notified that the bus would not be in service. The students were to play on the basketball team that evening, but when they arrived at the school in time for the game, they were told that because they were not in school that day, school policy dictated that they were not to be allowed to play in any sport on that same day.

The parent asked why the children were penalized for the missed day, and if there could be a change in the school board policy for any similar situation in the future.

Ryscavage told her that the principal was simply following the policy by not allowing the students to participate in the sport, and that there were no amendments to the policy. He then called upon Luther Parrack, director of elementary and middle schools, to look into the problem and to possibly add a clause or addition to the policy which would pertain to future like situations.

A spokesperson for the Garrett County Council of PTA's expressed her concern about the dropping attendance in most of the county's PTA's. The Grantsville PTA is apparently the only group to have experienced a membership growth this year by 40 members while the others have dropped considerably. The spokesperson asked for suggestions in creating a more aggressive parent-involvement group. She also noted that the school system obviously has a money problem, and asked if monies could be found in other areas.

Ryscavage again stated that the budget outlook was bleak, and that all those involved in the school system must look at various alternatives to perform their jobs and functions.

When asked if the board would look to the monies invested in administration, Ryscavage stated that studies had been done to determine if the administration was spending more than it should, and the board was actually recommended to hire yet more people into administrative positions. He said that they had not hired as many as were recommended. He also noted that all out-of-state travel for administrative staff has been cut.

The board was then asked if any cuts in administrative salaries or supplies would be considered, and Ryscavage indicated that the subject may be discussed.

During the discussion, Ringer said, "Everything that can be attacked and cut has been attacked and cut."

Ryscavage informed the group that all information concerning salaries and other money issues is available for any person to see and review.

Positive comments on the school system were made as well. A spokesperson from Northern Middle School stated that the science and French programs in the school are excellent. He also stated that the music program is the "finest one in years," and that he was "overwhelmed" by the quality of the band and choral groups' latest performances.

The same spokesperson said he had one request, and that was to allow middle school children to have more than one skiing trip in their middle school years. The newest policy of the board states that the children may go to Wisp Resort one time in those three years. The spokesperson said the program was a vital experience for the children, and that he had chaperoned on several of the trips and knew first-hand how important it was.

Mrs. Murphy told the parents that all their concerns would be taken into consideration, and thanked the group for attending.

Food Service Advisory

The board addressed an issue from the group's last meeting concerning the Food Service Advisory Committee and the menu planning committee. Ann Sherrard, registered dietitian and member of the Food Service Advisory Committee, wrote a letter to the education board proposing that the food advisory committee and the menu planning committee be merged into one group.

Mrs. Sherrard explained in the letter that the two-committee plan, begun last year after the board adopted the American Cancer Society's "Changing Course Program," was not as workable as first planned because of communication breakdowns between the groups caused simply by the fact that the same people did not belong to both committees. If all parties concerned could be together at the same meeting, she explained, time could be utilized much more efficiently.

Ryscavage disagreed with Mrs. Sherrard's reasoning, as did Richard Buckingham, director of food services. Ryscavage stated that he felt the advisory board should indeed be more "advisory" in nature rather than menu-planning, and that the two functions were separate.

Totally Justifiable . . .

The composition of a major page in history began last evening, January 16, 1991, when a coalition of many nations carried out in spectacular form its threat against a ruthless, self-righteous dictator. "Swift and massive" were among the words used to describe the attack ordered by President George Bush against Saddam Hussein of Iraq, an attack that was no less than brilliant in its planning and execution; an attack that was carried out by some of our nation's finest young people, many of them not even in their 20s; an attack that was covered in great detail by our television and radio media as it happened; an attack that we all hope and pray will bring this man Hussein to his senses in time to spare thousands of lives.

Although the peace protests are increasing in their intensity, we remain convinced that this action by President Bush and all involved is necessary for the long-term protection of the world. Yes, the importance of oil is one of the reasons for this war; and yes, it would be far better if we worked to not be so dependent on oil, both from an economic and environmental standpoint. However, oil is not the only concern, as many of the peace activists are claiming.

In his 12-minute statement last night, President Bush said that the civilized nations of the world simply cannot and will not tolerate the actions of men like Saddam Hussein, who trampled, tortured, raped, and murdered the citizens of a neighboring nation, kicked out their government, and then simply annexed their land. We believe that for us to allow such behavior would eventually endanger the security of the entire world, much like it did when Adolph Hitler was following a similar course several decades ago. Also, a refusal to act would be similar to the classic situation where an individual is walking down the street, observes another person being brutalized by someone, and then simply turns and walks the other way. Such an act is viewed as deplorable by all rational people; yet many fail to see the similarity with what Hussein has done and will continue to do unless he is stopped.

It is both incredible and alarming that one man, one human being, with all the same biological make-up as any one of us, has been able to attain such tremendous power and influence. It is because of this one man that many people from nearly a score of nations will probably die. It was because of the actions of one man, Hitler, that millions died, and the rest of the world, including the United States, let him get away with it for several years before acting to stop him.

The actions of President Bush are totally justifiable, in our minds, and we thank God that we have a man with his background, his brilliance, his experience, his strength, and his religious conviction to lead us in this effort. We know of no other person in this nation better suited for the job.

Hopefully this page in history will be completed soon and its significance will not be enhanced by a massive loss of life.

this nation's history only 50 years. In February 1941, Hitler had conquered the European continent and was looking toward Britain. President Roosevelt asked Congress to pass the Lend Lease Act and bring an end to America's declared neutrality. Congress hotly debated Lend Lease for two months. Interventionists argued for action while isolationists urged inaction. Congress and the people were divided on U.S. intervention abroad, but we were united in our stand against tyranny. In February 1941 this nation set itself on a course toward war when Congress voted in favor of Lend Lease. My father-in-law, just 19 days before he would die in a plane crash, was among the members voting yes. In December that year as a newly elected member, my mother-in-law reaffirmed her husband's decision and voted to declare war on Japan.

Americans know what we can accomplish when we are united, and Americans know what our limits are when we are divided. I cannot help but believe that while Americans want peace in the Persian Gulf today, we are, nevertheless, willing to confront Saddam Hussein with all available resources to accomplish that end. With over 400,000 American troops in the Persian Gulf, I cannot vote for buying time. My vote is not because I believe war to be inevitable, but because our moment of decision has come. We must make our principles known now, before war begins, or we will be compelled to defend our principles by force at a later date and greater cost.

Today, with the world watching, Congress, as the voice of the American people, will send a message. This message should be one of support for our President and strength in our resolve. This message will reach across the world, but is really meant for two entities. The first is Saddam Hussein. It says, you will not be able to string out this crisis in hopes of dividing American public opinion. If you are really interested in peace, if you want political survival, you will obey the 12 United Nations resolutions. The second entity Congress will reach with our message is the American force in the Gulf. Our sons and daughters, our husbands and wives, the mothers and fathers serving in the Gulf are looking to the Congress for support and assurance that Americans will support their efforts, and assurance that if they enter combat, they will do so with all means at their disposal to accomplish the President's military and political objectives as quickly as possible and with as few casualties as possible.

History will be the ultimate judge of today's decision. My colleagues and I are making the monumental judgment of our lives. There is none among us who can predict the future. My vote is a vote to give the President and the world community the support needed to resolve this situation peacefully, and only as a last resort, the power to resolve this crisis decisively by force. I hope and pray that congressional action today will result in peace tomorrow.

confrontation. In short, giving in is giving blessing. When dealing with a man such as Saddam Hussein, the only sure path of action is immediate confrontation and victory before he becomes so powerful as to overwhelm us all. This is a lesson we let slip by us in the late 1930's and it nearly cost us the world. We must take this lesson to heart now or suffer the consequences.

Likewise, sanctions against this man and his people cannot work. At the height of his power virtually every German citizen would have survived on bread and water in support of Adolph Hitler. They would have used stones as weapons when bullets ran short. Standing behind a cause, man can accomplish anything, not unlike a machine. So too do the citizens of Iraq support Hussein in this fight against the "Evil American Antagonists." Of course they have been brainwashed, but any intelligent expert will tell you that man who has no ability or desire to think for himself is a most useful and dangerous tool in the hands of a madman. A whole nation of such robots is very dangerous indeed. Furthermore, there is increasing evidence that sanctions are not working anyway. The Persian Region has long been famous as a center of smuggling. In fact, these people have honed it down to a science, an artform. Several months without food should have these people starving by now, yet they practice warfare daily. Several months without hardware should see them short of ammunition and weaponry, yet they continue live-fire exercises. There is precious little to suggest that we have the power to cause them hardship great enough to force them to reverse their actions, unless we use military force.

If the lessons of history are not enough to convince us that we must stop Hussein, then we should address the question of "Blood for Oil." Americans are just brazen enough to preach this is not a fair trade, but aren't quite stong-willed enough to do that without it. My suggestion to those who say "no blood for oil" is to offer them a life without petroleum. No cars, no electricity, no plastic, no jobs, no money, no movies, no magazines, no fun, no life at all. Those are the facts. Oil aside, the damage to our economy alone by not going to war is something that few realize. The wrath of the Arab nations who would be threatened by Hussein could be great enough, if properly vented, to collapse the American Economic System and the World System overall. To the average American the word "Economy" creates visions of mumbo-jumbo too complex to try to understand, so to simply illustrate I will phrase just one statement: The withdrawal of Arab oil money from America's economic system would create disaster such that the great depression would look like a fourth of July picnic. Study the asset/loan records of our greatest banks if you don't believe that.

To stop the aggression of a madman, to ensure the free flow of our most useful natural resource, to protect the American Economic System; all of these are valid justifications for war. Any of them alone is reason enough.

As a final thought, a personal one, let me also state that above all else we as Americans must stick together and back our troops. There has never been a more embarrassing or hideously black period in our history than the period of the Vietnam War era, not for the war itself but for the disgusting way we tore our country apart with little or no understanding of the world situation. Most of the "movements" which took place

No Denying It
by Pam Ashby

Denial. It's often a mechanism that kicks in to aid in self-preservation. Lately, I've found myself denying the possibility of war. When thoughts of fighting crept over me, I eluded them. I lost myself in other thoughts or deeds that had nothing to do with fighter planes, soldiers, and the desert sands. I ran from those thoughts as hard and fast as I could.

Several of my son's friends have already been deployed to the Persian Gulf or Saudi Arabia. My son is 19 years old. He is trying to make sense of his life. Last night he had to face the fact that he is a prime candidate if the draft is re-enacted by the government. Last night my elusive flight ended. The U.S. and a few allied forces, true to their word, struck strategeic targets in Baghdad, Iraq. Reality pounced and hit its mark.

Until now, I've watched and listened. I've reserved opinion. I'm normally a peace lover (except when my hormones go haywire). But now I have an opinion. Since Saddam Hussein refused to swallow his pride and enter into a peace agreement, I hope the allied forces continue to kick Iraqi butt (sorry, Mom, I had to say it). I hate to see innocent poeple die, but as a Christain I can't bury my head in the sand while Hussein continues to force his evil will on others in the name of God.

Hopefully this war will be over swiftly with as few casualties as possible. Selfishly I hope that my son doesn't have to go, but I trust I can muster enough courage to send him off proudly if he does. I always told him I'd pay his way if he wanted to defect if there was ever a war. He tells me now that he could never do that. He says he'll do what he has to for his country. He says he's behind President Bush 100 percent. What can I do but praise his loyalty to his country — a country he was angry with yesterday because they penalize him for being 19 — in the form of ridiculously high car insurance rates. He's learning about priorities in life. And that's not all bad.

And so now we must also examine our loyalties and priorities. Whether or not we are in this war for oil is no longer an issue. We are in it and there's no turning back. Kuwait is already giving us a nod of approval for coming to its defense. This is not another Vietnam as some self-serving newscasters would have us believe. We are gaining world support daily. Hopefully the sanctimonious protestors won't be as cruel to our returning soldiers this time around. And return they will — alive and well and victorious. We must pray for this.

The Byron Report

By U.S. Congresswoman Beverly Byron

Statement by Rep. Beverly B. Byron
For The Debate On Persian Gulf Resolutions
January 12, 1991

Mr. Speaker, today marks a unique day not only in American history but in world history. Today the eyes of the world are focused on Congress, the capital of the free world and the beacon of hope for oppressed people worldwide. Today, my colleagues and I must make a very personal decision, a decision which will set the course for American Foreign Policy. In making this decision, I am compelled to consider four factors: the nature of our adversary, the best course of action for America to take today, public opinion, and the message Congress will send to the world.

I do not know how many Americans truly understand Saddam Hussein's background, his character, his goals, or his logic. He is single-minded in his purpose, ruthless in his actions, and shrewd in determining what course of action will best further his goals. His ultimate goal, gaining power by which he can unite the Arab world, is all that matters. He does not recognize people as Americans, Egyptians, Iranians, or people as belonging to any nationality. He recognizes only friends to his cause or enemies to his cause, Arabs or infidels. He has one million men under arms. After eight years of war and the Iraqi economy unable to support them, what do we expect Hussein to do with his troops? Saddam Hussein's nature can lead me to only one conclusion: he will continue to use force when he sees an opportunity to further his goals. He must be stopped.

The question then becomes, "When do we stop him," now or later? Which option must I, today, make to ensure that Saddam Hussein leaves Kuwait and does not further threaten American and the world's interests. My decision is not about whether I believe we should be there to the extent that we are; the President as Commander-In-Chief has chosen a course of action and the time for that debate has passed. My options are clear. Stay the course with sanctions and wait a little longer before authorizing force, or authorize the use of force in conjunction with the United Nations resolutions. Experts can argue about the effectiveness of sanctions, but I cannot find any indication that staying the course and delaying military options will achieve our goals. A vote to stay the course is a vote of hope. Hope that a dictator who continues to threaten the entire world will back down. Had I any assurances that this would occur, I would not hesitate to vote accordingly. Unfortunately, I have no such assurance that Saddam Hussein will back down if we delay military options. My colleagues who urge further patience do so nobly, with the understanding that war should only be a last resort. I, too, believe that war should only be a last resort. But a vote to authorize force is also a vote of hope. A hope that Saddam Hussein will back down when he sees our resolve and willingness to forcefully deny him what he truly covets. By voting for an authorization of force, I believe I will be best advancing the cause of peace.

In making this decision, I have listened carefully to my constituents. By a two to one margin they say they oppose war. No one wants war. I am struck by Secretary of State Baker's comments following his talks with Iraq's Foreign Minister. He stated, "Don't miscalculate the resolve of the American people, who are very slow to anger, but who believe strongly in principle and who believe that we should not reward aggression . . ."

In support of this statement, I am compelled to look back in this nation's history only 50 years. In February 1941, Hitler had conquered the European continent and was looking toward Britain. President Roosevelt asked Congress to pass the Lend Lease Act and bring an end to America's declared neutrality. Congress hotly debated Lend Lease for two months. Interventionists argued for action while isolationists urged inaction. Congress and the people were divided on U.S. intervention abroad, but we were united in our stand against tyranny. In February 1941 this nation set itself on a course toward war when Congress voted in favor of Lend Lease. My father-in-law, just 19 days before he would die in a plane crash, was among the members voting yes. In December that year as a newly elected member, my mother-in-law reaffirmed her husband's decision and voted to declare war on Japan.

Americans know what we can accomplish when we are united, and Americans know what our limits are when we are divided. I cannot help but believe that while Americans want peace in the Persian Gulf today, we are, nevertheless, willing to confront Saddam Hussein with all available resources to accomplish that end. With over 400,000 American troops in the Persian Gulf, I cannot vote for buying time. My vote is not because I believe war to be inevitable, but because our moment of decision has come. We must make our principles known now, before war begins, or we will be compelled to defend our principles by force at a later date and greater cost.

Today, with the world watching, Congress, as the voice of the American people, will send a message. This message should be one of support for our President and strength in our resolve. This message will reach across the world, but is really meant for two entities. The first is Saddam Hussein. It says, you will not be able to string out this crisis in hopes of dividing American public opinion. If you are really interested in peace, if you want political survival, you will obey the 12 United Nations resolutions. The second entity Congress will reach with our message is the American force in the Gulf. Our sons and daughters, our husbands and wives, the mothers and fathers serving in the Gulf are looking to the Congress for support and assurance that Americans will support their efforts, and assurance that if they enter combat, they will do so with all means at their disposal to accomplish the President's military and political objectives as quickly as possible and with as few casualties as possible.

History will be the ultimate judge of today's decision. My colleagues and I are making the monumental judgment of our lives. There is none among us who can predict the future. My vote is a vote to give the President and the world community the support needed to resolve this situation peacefully, and only as a last resort, the power to resolve this crisis decisively by force. I hope and pray that congressional action today will result in peace tomorrow.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As a 24-year-old male likely to serve in the Middle East should war break out, I feel duty bound to express the feelings I have had to face over the past few weeks. Discussion among members of my peer group has convinced me that these are not my own feelings alone, but rather a concensus opinion.

Let me begin by stating simply that no sane individual wants war. On the other hand, every sane individual realizes that war is a fact, a necessity of human nature. That is one of those statements that peace-loving civilizations avoid making, but it nevertheless is true, and all the idealistic, hopeful dreaming in the world will never change the basic fact of human nature; as long as we are different, in anyway, we will fight. Man to man, army to army, brother to brother, history records that we have been fighting since the dawn of time. The Bible speaks of it, Shakespeare speaks of it, Hollywood speaks of it.

But as history is our record book, it is also our text book. We have learned from our forefathers when to fight and when to avoid the confrontation. History has provided us with a blueprint to decide when naked aggression must be challenged, particularly when weapons of current powers exist. The strongest nations must act as the world's police. America, the greatest nation in the world, must now accept the responsibility that comes with that claim.

History also provides us with a "profile" of those leaders who cause war and promulgate mass destruction. We use this information to determine how best to handle those who would bring about our demise. The first rule that we take away from studies of such evil men as Adolph Hitler is that appeasement of an aggressive mad man does not work. It cannot ever work. To such a man any victory, no matter how small or large, is fuel for even worse

Senior Citizens' Menus

The Area Agency on Aging/Garrett County Community Action Committee announces the Senior Nutrition Program menus for the week of January 21-25 as follows:

January 21 — Fried apples, Kielbasa, sauerkraut, whipped potatoes, corn bread, peaches w/pudding sauce.

January 22 — Meatloaf, parsley potatoes, spinach, rye bread, apple crisp.

January 23 — Tossed salad, homemade vegetable beef soup, cheese-filled bread, raspberry sherbet.

January 24 — Cole slaw, sliced beef w/gravy, mashed potatoes, glazed carrots, biscuit, jello w/fruit.

January 25 — Carrot raisin salad, chicken paramesan, spaghetti w/sauce, broccoli, Italian bread, gingerbread.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

"Eating Together" sites that operate five days per week will be following the menu as is. Those that operate only two or three days per week have the option of choosing menus within the same week.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows: Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 746-8824; Bull's Restaurant, Bloomington, 359-3035; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5414; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-4865; Casselman Restaurant, Grantsville, 895-5092; Jennings Community, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Oakland Senior Center, Oakland, 334-3399; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

A PRAYER FOR PEACE
by Randy Cook

O God, our Father in heaven above,
The God of Salvation, justice and love,
We beseech thy guiding hand for peace
That men may love and wars may cease.

As soldiers now are on full alert,
At the same time hoping that none will be hurt,
With their guns poised in the Arabian sand,
Dear God, protect them with thy powerful hand.

Our God, we pray that peace will abound,
That clear-headed leaders will come around,
That oppressors will withdraw from weaker nations,
And that all involved will improve relations.

We pray for those who, from home, are away,
In a strange land, unsure of each day.
We pray that they will be courageous and true,
And through it all, depend on you.

Bless their families who await their return;
Parents and spouses and children who yearn
To embrace their loved ones again some day,
And together, once again, as families, to pray.

Dear God, we thank thee for blessing us so,
For your Word, the Bible, that we may know
Your will for us, and what we're to do
To live good lives, pleasing to you.

We cannot see like you see everything,
But we pray that your will, when done, will bring
Our loved ones back home, with peace to reign.
Please hear our prayers, in Jesus' name.

Amen

Oakland Update

by Mayor Asa McCain
IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR RESIDENTS OF THE TOWN OF OAKLAND

If you live within the city limits of Oakland, then you have the Subdivision Code Number of 1209.

That number is important to you and to our community, especially during the income tax filing season from January through mid-April.

That number is a special code assigned to Oakland by the Maryland State Comptroller's Office, and it means dollars to our community. But you are the key to those dollars, so please put the code in the assigned box on the front of your Maryland income tax return. The full list of codes is included in the state tax packet instructions.

Using the correct code helps to make sure that our community receives its proper share of the more than $1.4 billion in local income tax revenue which the state distributes to the 23 counties and 160 incorporated cities and towns throughout Maryland. This revenue helps to pay for many of the local government services we all rely on in our community.

If you have any questions about which code to use, please contact City Hall at (301) 334-2691, 109 South Third Street, Oakland, Md. 21550.

The Road Ahead

by Valerie E. Burnette, SHA Public Affairs

It's Friday. You've put in a long work week and you're planning your next two days off. You're ready to leave and your boss stops you and says, "You can't go. You have to stay and work through the night."

Sound Crazy? Not if you're a motor equipment operator at the State Highway Administration. It happens all the time — when it snows.

SHA snow removal crews know what long hours, fighting winter storms in the freezing cold, feel like.

Glen Smeltzer, a 40-year veteran, said that one time he went 85 hours with little sleep. During another storm, it was 11 days before he got home, and when he did, he had laryngitis.

Mac Wilson, who's been plowing snow for 28 years, jokingly said "I love to drive with my window down, but the kids bomb the truck with snow balls."

In the "old days," according to Smeltzer and Wilson, one person stood in the back of the truck, raking salt through a trap door or over the edge into the road, getting sprayed with salt and ice. Now they get to ride inside.

Both agree things are more efficent now. There are up to 2,000 State Highway Administration and contract people available to fight winter storms using up to 1,200 pieces of equipment.

More than 100,000 tons of salt are used in a season to clear the state's 14,500 lane miles of roadway at an average cost of $16 million.

The snow crews take their jobs seriously. Smeltzer told of one occasion when a woman and small child were found nearly frozen in their car, which was stuck in a ditch. "We couldn't get to them in our truck," he said. "So we walked with a stretcher and carried them to a waiting ambulance a half mile away."

What advice do these veterans of ice and snow have for us?

•Never pass a snow plow or salt truck; the operator may not see you, or your car might get caught on a snow-covered edge of a plow.

•Follow a snow emergency vehicle at a distance of 20 or more feet.

•If you must abandon your vehicle, move it as far off the roadway as possible and lift the hood. Try to leave the distress signal such as a scarf hanging from the window.

•Remember that bridges freeze before roadways.

•Drive slower than the posted speed limit, which is set for fair weather conditions.

•Don't accelerate too quickly and brake gently and steadily — you may get caught in a slide. If you do slide, turn your wheel in the direction of the slide to regain control.

•Check you car's antifreeze, battery, defroster, heater, wipers, and tires.

•Stock your car with kitty litter or sand and a shovel to help get out of a drift.

•Wear or take along a coat, gloves, hat, scarf and boots.

•Listen to the weather forecast and try to get errands completed before a storm.

•Never drive on a low gas tank.

•Know and obey the snow emergency phases:

Phase I: All vehicles must be equipped with snow tires, chains or approved radials.

Phase II: Phase I and prohibited parking on snow emergency routes.

Phase III: Phase I and II and only emergency personnel such as doctors and nurses allowed to travel on the streets.

If the State Police announce a snow emergency, all phases are in effect. It is especially important that motorists do not risk driving in hazardous weather since all too often vehicles break down and stall in the middle of an emergency route. The abandoned vehicles can then be the cause of slowing cleanup efforts or stopping them completely.

The main concern during snow storms is safety. Drive carefully — or better yet, don't drive.

during that period were nothing more than misinformed stabs at exercising grass-roots democracy. The final results of such idiocy were a devastating disrespect for our country, a terrible disregard for our pride as a nation and a total lack of respect toward those who have fought in any war to insure the freedoms that we so casually and callously take for granted today. It is much easier and more effective if we first learn all we can about what is happening, then exercise our democratic rights in the proper way. Most importantly, we must support our elected leaders whether or not we agree wholeheartedly with their complete agenda. Oftentimes there are too many things we cannot possibly know that on the surface may appear wrong but in the long run are the correct course of action. Believe it or not, most of the time they really are smarter than we are. Besides, the Vietnam war and the current situation are not even vaguely similar. The players, motivations, costs and benefits are not remotely alike. Please keep this in mind when you begin your next discussion on this pending confrontation . . . comparing the two shows that you have not bothered to do your historical homework.

We all stand to lose something if a war comes to involve us. But the soldiers at the Battle of the Bulge stood to lose something. And they did what had to be done. Admiral Faragut stood to lose, yet did what had to be done. George Washington stood to lose a great deal. Yet again, he did what was necessary. Now it is our turn. It is my hope that we do not shirk our duties. Please vocally and in writing support the President and our troops in the coming engagement. It is our responsibility to do no less.

Sincerely,
Jeffrey W. Cooley

To the Editor:

A few days ago, our son, Jim, called us from Saudi Arabia. We talked of many things including the possibility of war. At some time during the conversation he asked us to thank The Republican for publishing its Operation Desert Shield "Mail Call."

Jim said he was pleasantly surprised many times by receiving letters from people in Garrett County he had never met. And then he told us of a gift box he had received from the Lutheran Church, in Accident. We could tell from his voice that he was deeply touched by the reaching out and the empathy from unknown neighbors in the county.

My wife and I also wish to thank the letter writers, the Lutheran Church, and The Republican. We have sent Jim a copy of your sensitive editorial entitled, "What Can We Do?" knowing he will appreciate the spirit of unity behind it.

Sincerely yours,
Herb and Mary Sutcliffe

To the Editor:

We have sent a letter to the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) in an effort to protest the issuance of a permit to the Spiker Brothers Construction, Inc., McHenry, to discharge treated wastewater from Red Brush Villas Recreation Community Wastewater Treatment Plant to be located at Hoyes Run Road into an unnamed tributary of the Hoyes Run. We would be adversely affected and protest for the following reasons:

1. Hoyes Run travels directly through the center of our property. In 1984, we purchased 8.99 acres of mountain property on Hoyes Run Road specifically because it had a pristine stream protected for the growth and protection of native trout. We desire to continue to have this stream protected.

2. Spiker Brothers Construction is requesting a permit to build a public wastewater system which would discharge treated wastewater into an unnamed tributary of Hoyes Run. Has this system been approved by the County Water and Sewer Plan?

3. This unnamed tributary does not always run. What would happen to the wastewater in this instance? 23,000 gallons of wastewater per day is a lot of discharge to release into an inactive tributary. It is our understanding that perk tests on the proposed building site did not pass initially and on-site sewage was turned down. This is the reason for the proposed public wastewater system.

4. A large percentage of such plants within the State of Maryland have exceeded their parameters and fail to function. Will this plant operate as they say it will? And for how long?

5. What happens if the system malfunctions? If approved, we demand that the system be required to be operated by a certified operator for as long as it is in use, with a severe fine imposed for failure to do so.

6. This is proposed as a "Villas Recreation Community." Since chlorine or chlorine compounds are prohibited from being discharged from the system, will all residents/occupants/users be restricted, in writing and under penalty of the law, to refrain from the use of such chlorine nd chlorine by-products, i.e., in their washing machines, for cleaning purposes, chlorination of pools, etc.? Even dishwashing detergents contain chlorine. Are the Villas restricted from using dishwashers?

We are not against building in Garrett County, but please don't destroy the natural beauty and resources that are already in existence. If necessary, perhaps larger building lots which would accept on-site sewage would be an acceptable alternative to all parties concerned.

To the Editor:

Sorry, George, the process does not work. In fact, it is broken. The 1990 election process in Garrett County was pathetic. Mr. Gregg and Mr. Sines made a mockery of this process through a "write-in vote" after their defeat in the primary election.

The voters in this county did not have a choice in the general election. Starting with the House of Delegates down to Sheriff, 11 of the 12 elected offices went unopposed. None of the three County Commissioner offices had party opposition. If it were not for Ms. Butscher, the voter turnout for the election would have been rather sparse.

To quote Mr. Braskey, "I think that the people have the right to limit the terms now if they see fit, through their right to vote." He ran unopposed in both the primary and the general election. John, where was our choice?

Mr. Groves stated that establishing a term limit would, in many cases, eliminate the best candidates for office. He ran unopposed in the general election. Does this make him the best candidate? Elwood, where was our choice?

I am of the opinion that the Garrett County League of Women Voters and Republican and Democratic State Central Committees are one of the same.

In Frederick County, four new commissioners were elected. The old commissioners, in the summer of 1990, made a statement "We know what's best for Frederick County." Do those words sound familar?

Two terms and out!

Sincerely,
C.W. Newhall, Jr.

To the Editor:

These last couple of months before the holidays, I thought things would opt better for me. I received a check from Social Services for $317.00 for me and my baby. Before my baby was born in June, I signed a paper in December of '89 to return to school. Then I didn't know my baby would have a health problem. She goes to the doctors in Oakland every two weeks, to Morgantown every two months, now to Cumberland. My days are really busy. No one in the family wants to watch her — grandmothers, aunts, uncles, brother or sisters. They tell me to put her in day care. Sure, a day care will keep a baby for money.

What I don't understand is why doesn't the Social Services get these other girls to go to school. Where I live there is a girl who has two children, is expecting another, and is always partying, with different men visiting her all day long.

I have a sick baby, but I have to go to school or lose my benefits.

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter on behalf of the "school policy." Due to icy roads, the school bus did not come up the Wakefield Road or the Teets Road on Wednesday, January 9. This was the first time that the bus has not come up our road that I know of. The bus driver of our route informed me that he was told by Mike Sines, head of transportation, not to go up these roads due to icy conditions.

My son waited and waited down at the road for the bus not knowing what was going on. He was not notified at all by the head of transportation or the school board authorities. My son and the other kids on these routes missed school that day. My wife and I both work in Morgantown, WV and did not know our son was not in school until we were called by Coach Yoder that evening.

This upsets me for two reasons. My son and the sons of Wilber Hinebaugh are on the basketball team. When Mr. Hinebaugh got home from work he took his sons and my son out to school to go to the game. They were told that they could not play in the game or even ride the bus to the game because they were not in school that day (school policy) no matter what the reason.

The other reason for being upset is that my son was on his fourth year of perfect attendance and now his chance of perfect attendance for all of high school is gone. Due to no reason of his or ours. This is not something you could start over and achieve. Dave Hinebaugh, son of Wilber and Jane Hinebaugh, also had perfect attendance for this year.

The reason for this letter was to let other parents know the school policy of Maryland. In Pennsylvania, a student is not counted absent if the school bus does not get to that student's road.

Thank You.
Sam Wakefield, Sr.

To the Editor:

On December 25th, Christmas Day, our grandson, Joe Connor, and his wife had the misfortune of losing everything in a house fire located on our property.

We would like to thank all who helped with this misfortune, especially Bloomington, Westernport, Grantsville Fire Departments, for responding and all other fire companies that helped. Also the Northern Rescue Squad was on stand-by, when I fell and broke my leg and was immediately transported to Sacred Heart Hospital.

We thank friends and neighbors who donated money to the Connor family, and the many cards I received while in the hospital. God Bless you all.

To the Editor:

As a member of the Oakland Country Club, Inc., I recently received a letter from the Board of Directors confirming their decision to fire Jim Kreyenbuhl, the club pro during the Christmas Season, after thirty-four (34) years ". . . of loyal and faithful service . . ." Jim is in his mid-fifties, for those of you who don't know him.

I am fully aware there are some weird and wonderful things going on in Garrett County, but being fired in the face of "loyal and faithful service," smacks of odious hyprocrisy. Ask yourself: Does having "Inc.," or "Corp." at the end of the organizational name give individuals license to be viciously inconsiderate of others? I think not.

Considering Jim's many years of loyal and faithful service, the decision was difficult . . ." The letter actually says that; but did they really consider him? Is there ANY "consideration" for the "man" evident here?

The letter goes on to say, "The change is not a reflection on Jim's personal character . . ." Now there's a statement of fact I can endorse wholeheartedly, having had a personal association with Jim Kreyenbuhl for the past quarter of a century.

Of course, the question arises: If not a reflection on Jim, then WHO? I think it's safe to say the answer to that "non-puzzle" is obvious.

Right about here is where I originally planned to list the names of the current Board of Directors — for the record — but since I cannot confirm that it was a unanimous vote, it would be unfair to "any" who did not join in this callous act to link them with those who did.

The worst possible outcome to this sorry state of affairs would be to discover the vacancy filled by a friend, or crony, of one of the members of the Board. The best outcome would be for the Board to reconsider their "Dickens" decision and reinstate Jim . . . or let the membership vote up or down on their obnoxious decision. I seriously question their right, under the by-laws, to dismiss him with one year's severance pay without membership involvement. As so often happens in situations such as this, I suspect they're making up the rules as they go along.

I would like to hear from the members on this subject. Call me at 453-3116, if you believe as I do that after 34 years of, "loyal and faithful service," we owe Jim Kreyenbuhl an accounting on this critically important matter.

To the Editor:

During World War II there was an acknowledgement of our great need of God. We faced a threat to our freedoms that many died to establish and keep. Today that threat is much greater. We hear very little about relying on God the Prince of Peace. We hear much more opposition to God and godly principles.

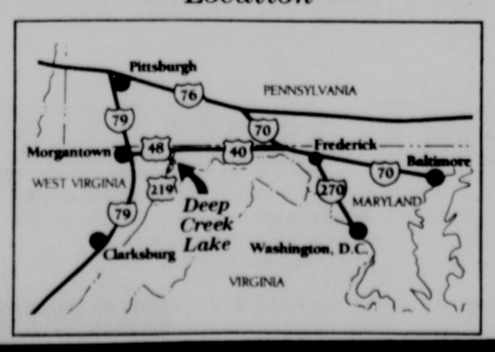
Our military stationed in the Middle East faces great danger. At the same time our government has said they should not receive any Christian literature and they should conceal their beliefs in Jesus and live according to the Islam customs. How we must pray to God for His mercy on a Christian nation that is turning Godless!

The real war of today is between God and Satan. Man is the tools of both sides. There will never be peace without the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ.

Respectfully,
Homer Mellott

To the Editor:

The parallels between slavery and abortion are incredibly the same. In 1857, the Supreme Court, by a 7-2 decision, decided the Dred Scott case. The basic decision was — black people were not legal persons. They were the property of the slave owner, who could buy, sell, or kill if he wished. Abolitionists objected and were told, if they had moral or other objections to slavery, that was their privilege, they didn't have to own one. But, they should not impose their morality on the slave owner. He had the constitutional right to choose to own a slave.



In 1973, the U.S. Supreme Court, in the Roe vs. Wade decision, by a 7-2 vote, decided that unborn people were not legal persons. They were the property of the owner, the mother, who could keep or kill. Pro-life people, who objected, were told that if they found abortion morally offensive, that was their privilege, they didn't have to have one. But they

Area Residents Reminded Of Various Scholarships At FSU

Area high school students are reminded that application deadlines are approaching for scholarship programs at Frostburg State University established through the FSU Foundation, Inc., to benefit area residents.

Forms are available at the FSU Financial Aid Office or by telephoning 689-4301. Applicants must have completed FSU admission requirements before being considered. All applications are reviewed and selection of recipients is made by the University's Scholarship Committee based on criteria for each scholarship.

Specific scholarships and application deadlines follow:

C&P Telephone Scholarship — Two $800 awards for residents of Allegany or Garrett counties. Preference to applicants with demonstrated academic achievement and financial need. April 1.

Wensel-Faherty Scholarship — Two $1,000 awards to incoming freshmen, one each from Allegany and Garrett counties. High school academic record, 3.0 GPA, extra-curricular activities and financial need. March 1.

Tam Science Achievement Award — $300 to an entering freshman with financial need and ability in the sciences. Preference to top winners in the Western Maryland Science Expo. April 1.

Chessie Federal Credit Union Business Leadership Award — One $1,000 award to declared business major at FSU with GPA of 3.0, and member, son or daughter in good standing of the credit union. April 1.

American Legion Patriotism Scholarship — $500 to an entering freshman or upperclassman who has been a resident of Allegany or Garrett County for at least five years and is a child or grandchild of an honorably discharged Armed Forces of the United States veteran who was a resident of either county five or more years. Preference given to descendants of dues paying members for five or more years of Frostburg American Legion Faraday, Post 24. High school GPA of 2.7, financial need and specific academic studies required. March 1.

Elisabeth Hitchins Memorial Scholarship — Six awards at $600 each to sophomores or juniors attending FSU full-time with GPA of 3.25. Preference given to tri-state area residents. Participation in extra-curricular activities, financial need. March 1.

McDonald's Scholarships — Two at $500 if full-time FSU students, amount prorated for part-time attendance. Recipients may be an employee, spouse or child of an employee of McDonald's stores in Frostburg, LaVale, Keyser or Oakland. May be entering or returning student, GPA of 3.0. April 1.

Mary Stevens Memorial Scholarship — Two $800 awards to students who reside within a five-mile radius of Frostburg. Awarded to FSU junior or senior with 3.75 GPA, and financial need. April 1.

Barry J. Barton Vietnam Veteran/Agent Orange Scholarship — $1,000 to Vietnam veteran or dependent with financial need. 3.0 GPA. April 1.

Jeanette and C. William Gilchrist Scholarship — Two $350 awards to Allegany Community College graduates entering FSU with junior class status. Academic record, extra-curricular and community activities determining factors. April 30.

Kelly-Springfield Tire Company Scholarship — $1,750 to a FSU junior or senior in accounting, economics or business administration. Demonstrated financial need. April 1.

Donahue Scholarship Fund — $500 awards to tri-state residents enrolled full-time at FSU with financial need. SAT score of 1,200 and high school GPA of 3.25. April 1.

NEW MINIATURE AVAILABLE — The Greater Oakland Business Association has available a variety of wooden models of various historical Garrett County buildings and other structures, and the latest addition to the collection is a model of Friend's General Store in Sang Run. Friend's Store, which also housed the Sang Run Post Office, was the third post office in Garrett County and is one of the oldest stores in the county, having been in continuous operation since the 1700s. At its beginnings, the store served as a ginseng broker and is still a shipper of the rare root that grows in the county. Pictured above are John (Jack) Hinebaugh, left, owner of Friend's Store, and Jack Jones, president of GOBA. These models are available at Friend's Store, Presentations, the Small Pedlar, and Marvin's Men's Wear, Oakland, for $9 each. Proceeds from the sales are used for GOBA community improvement projects.

New Maryland Tax Withholding Forms Mailed

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says about 120,000 employers are receiving their new 1991 state income tax withholding forms and many are asking if the state will also be issuing new withholding tables.

"Most employers are receiving a coupon book containing their monthly or quarterly state income tax withholding forms, instructions, change of address information and a tip sheet of information about filing withholding taxes," Goldstein said.

The state of Maryland is not issuing new withholding tables because the state rate and personal exemption remain the same as for 1990.

Employers who do not receive their coupon book by February 1, 1991 should contact the Maryland Income Tax Division by calling (301) 974-3750.

Two Child Care Subsidy Programs Cut By DHR

Unable to meet the increased need for subsidized child care for low-income working families, the Department of Human Resources' Child Care Administration has decided to close some of their lowest priority cases.

In addition, other low-income working families, who currently pay part of their child care cost, will be asked to pay more.

About 175 families have been informed their cases will close by January 14. The low-income working families, who receive some subsidies through the program, will have to pay for their child care one or two days a month beginning in January and continuing through June.

Barbara Smith-Hamer, Executive Director of the Child Care Administration, said the changes were made because of an increase of non-working lower-income people who, by federal law, had to be given child care subsidies.

Smith-Hamer said child care will not be subsidized on January 28, February 14 and February 28, March 14 and March 28, April 12 and April 26, May 14 and May 27, June 14 and June 28. If federal funds become available before June 30, the number of non-payment days will be reduced.

"In the past few months, there has been a marked increase in the number of working families applying to local departments of social services for help with their child care costs, but unfortunately, there is no increase in child care funding," Smith-Hamer said.

In FY 1989, $11 million was spent on child care subsidies to low-income working families through both federal and state funds. FY 1990 funding was increased to $19 million. In FY 1991, an additional $1.7 million was added, bringing the total to $20.7 million.

"Even with the additional funds, the state cannot continue to serve all families now receiving Purchase of Child Day Care," Smith-Hamer said.

Tree Seedlings Available For Sale To Public

Tree seedlings may be purchased from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Forest, Park & Wildlife Service for planting this spring. DNR's Buckingham Forest Tree Nursery in Harmans has seedlings for sale to private landowners, for delivery this spring. The seedlings from the state nursery are available primarily for planting for reforestation, windbreaks, wildlife habitat and for erosion control. White pine seedlings are offered for sale to Christmas tree growers in limited quantities after all reforestation orders have been satisfied.

The species available this year for reforestation are white pine 2-0, Norway spruce, white spruce, hybrid poplar, bicolor lespedeza, black locust, gray dogwood, silky dogwood, red osier dogwood, Japanese dogwood, red bud, crabapple, sawtooth oak, white ash, yellow poplar, white oak, red oak, and black cherry. The price range is $3.20 to $25 per 100 seedlings.

Environmental packets are for sale also. These packets consist of 50 white pine, 25 black locust, and 25 seedlings of one of the following: a) ash, b) red oak, c) gray dogwood, or d) red osier dogwood. Landowners ordering environmental packets must specify which one of the four options they desire in their packet.

Landowners can also place their order for wildlife packets now. Each wildlife packet consists of two seedlings of each of the following species: white pine 2-0, bicolor lespedeza, crabapple, and sawtooth oak. These seedlings can be used to enhance an area's value for wildlife by increasing its potential for providing food and protective cover in the future. Wildlife packets are also available to service organizations at special prices for resale.

All of the seedlings offered for sale by the Harmans nursery help support Governor William Donald Schaefer's Green Shores program to improve and maintain the quality of the Chesapeake Bay, according to the DNR.

All seedlings, environmental packets, and wildlife packets are offered for sale on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Landowners interested in purchasing seedlings should contact the Maryland Forest, Park & Wildlife Office at Mt. Nebo, 301-334-3296, between 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to Rt. 1, Box 305-A, Oakland, Maryland 21550.

DAV Van To Visit Oakland

The Disable American Veterans Field Service Unit will be at the Oakland fire hall on Monday, Jan. 28, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This is a free service to all veterans and their families. Persons do not have to be a member of the DAV to obtain help with veterans' programs and benefits.

Veterans unable to come to the van and wishing to do so should call Department Service Officer L.S. Tharp at (301) 293-7533.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

FOOD DISTRIBUTION

Commodity food distribution will be held at the Aurora Fire Hall on January 25, from 9 a.m. until noon. All who are eligible should note the date and time. Persons should also bring containers.

VISIT TO GRAND TETONS

Union District Senior Citizens visited the Grand Teton Mountains at their Saturday night, January 5, meeting via slides shown by George Alan Lipscomb. The slides featured the scenery and wildlife of the area.

Grace for the meal was asked by Ted Hardesty with Paul Stemple presenting the opening devotions. With 34 in attendance, four get-well cards were signed and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

90TH BIRTHDAY HONOREES

Twenty-seven family members surprised Mrs. Clayton Harsh on her 90th birthday, Saturday, January 12. They brought food for a covered dish dinner and a birthday cake from the Stemple Ridge Ladies' Aid which had been baked by Dean Sisler. She received many cards including one from President and Mrs. George Bush. There were also many phone calls from as far away as California, and gifts included in the celebration.

Fred Stemple also celebrated a 90th birthday on Saturday, January 12, at the Teets' Personal Care Home, Cranesville, where he is a resident. Taking a birthday cake were David and Delores Stemple, Debbie, Kimberly and Kaylan Fike. Other refreshments were provided by the Teetses. He was also the recipient of many cards for the occasion.

YOUNG ADULTS MEET

On Sunday, January 13, the Young Adult Class of Maple Spring Church met for a belated Christmas dinner following morning services. Plans for the coming year were made during the afternoon, and there was a time of fellowship. Those who attended were: Pastor and Mrs. Earl McCombs, Carl, Cynthia, Adam and Mark Bachtel, Curtis Teets, Rick, Marcia, Sarah and Rebekah Spaid, Robert, Peggy, Daniel and Amanda Spaid, Mark and LaDeana, Tommy and Lindsey Teets, Claude and Brenda, Carroll and Allen Hartsell, and Bruce, Mary, Shawn and Craig Rembold.

PERSONAL NOTES

Noah Waybright, Brookside, was taken Saturday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, for surgery.

David and Delores Stemple, B.J. and Debbie Fike, all Aurora, went to Harrisburg, Pa., Wednesday and Thursday, to attend the annual Farm Show held there.

Mrs. Eva Sanders, Aurora, was admitted Wednesday evening to Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland, following a fall at her home. She was transferred Sunday to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, for surgical repair of a fracture just above the knee.

Delores Wotring Kight has returned to her home in North Carolina after staying at Aurora with her parents, Don and Edith Wotring, and helping with his care.

A flue fire at the home of Virginia Jones, Stemple Ridge, on Friday, called out the local fire departments.

George Roth returned to his home in Horse Shoe Run on Saturday after undergoing tests at Monongalia General Hospital. His son, Harold Roth, Knoxville, Ky., had been visiting during his father's illness, and returned Sunday to his home.

Earl Hauser, Gnegy Church, is a patient in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland, for treatment of pneumonia.

AURORA PIONEERS

Joe and Stacy Fint were hosts of the December 10 meeting of the Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club, with Jessica Lantz presiding at the meeting. Rebecca Fint led the salute to the American flag, while Tina Fint led the 4-H pledge.

Devotions on the Christmas theme were done by Courtney Fint, who read "The Birth of Jesus;" Melinda Mayne, who read "The ABC of Christmas;" and "I Must Remember," read by Joey Fint.

Hats and mittens gathered through the club were donated to Terra Alta Santa, Lou Stauffer, and the club expressed appreciation to all who gave to the cause.

Tina Fint led the group in a game of "Hot Boxes."

Following the meeting, a gift exchange and Christmas party were held. Attending were Shawn and Michelle Sisler, Darrell Fint, Lora Forman, Melinda Mayne, Elizabeth Morgan, Meghan Durst, Joni Dumire, Missy Callahan, Courtney, Rebecca and Joey Fint, Carla and Tina Fint, Kimberly Fike, Danny Martin, Jeremiah Slaubaugh, Lori Doss, Christina White, Natalie Snyder, Jessica Lantz, Brandy Kisner, Beth Hauser, Adrian Stemple, and Stacy Bolyard. Leaders present were Betty Fint, Kitty Myers, Debbie Fike, and the hostess.

DISCUSSION GROUP TO MEET

The Terra Alta Library will host a discussion on the Middle East. This discussion group will meet January 21, February 4, and February 18. The meetings will begin at 7:00 p.m. and last until 8:30 p.m.

Topics to be discussed include: the Islamic religion and its relationship to the Bible, the history and culture of the Middle East, and the present conditions and the crisis in the Persian Gulf.

The discussion leader will be Paul Shogren, who received his reserve military training in a military intelligence unit. In this training he studied the culture and history of the Middle East and the Arabic language. His wife, the Rev. Donna Lee Shogren, taught for three years in the Middle East. Mr. and Mrs. Shogren have both made extensive studies of the Islamic religion and culture of the Middle East.

All those interested in becoming better informed as to the culture, religion, and conditions in the Middle East are invited to attend. There will be no charge. Those who have questions may call the Terra Alta Public Library at 789-2724.

Coastal Lumber Honors Employees

Executive management attending from Coastal's corporate office in Weldon, N.C. included Paul B. Barringer, president at CEO, Stephen H. Conger, executive vice-president, Ron Seay, vice-president for finance, Lyman Shipley, vice-president for sales, Barry Cook, vice-president for operations of the northern divisions and Jack Bryan, human resources manager. The one day meeting covered Coastal's previous year's operational and market performance, future projections and an afternoon problem solving workshop.

An awards banquet followed the business meeting where the following employees were honored for their accomplishments during the past year.

Greg Jones was named Mill Manager of the Year. Jones manages Coastal's dry kilns and concentration yard located in Elkins.

Clyde Harsh, of the Horse Shoe Run sawmill, was named Supervisor of the Year.

Tim Buess, procurement forester for Coastal's Gassaway mill, was named Forester of the Year.

The Employee of the Year award was presented to Earl McFadden. He is the dayshift sawyer at the Hopwood sawmill.

The Division Merit Award was given to John Talbott, Veneer Operations Manager for the Appalachian Division. John works out of the Appalachian regional office in Buckhannon.

Coastal's safety awards for sawmills and treating plants were won by Horse Shoe Run and Clyde, Pa., respectively.

The Appalachian Division consists of sawmills located in Dailey, Gassaway, Hacker Valley, Horse Shoe Run, Smithsburg, and Hopwood, Pa. Concentration yards in Buckhannon and Elkins complete the facilities.

Debbie Abraham of Coastal's Treating Division office in Hopwood was presented with the Manager of the Year Award for her work as office manager in treated products sales. Tom Guth, a treater at the Hopwood treating plant, was named Northern Treating Division Employee of the Year.

Coastal Lumber Company's Treated Products Division consists of pressure-treating facilities in Hopwood and Clyde, Pa; Belington, Henry, Tenn.; Weldon, N.C.; and Havana, Fla. The division is headquartered in Hopwood and headed by Edd Bills.

Coastal Lumber Company is headquartered in Weldon, N.C.; and is one of the largest privately held forest products companies in the United States. Coastal has operated in West Virginia since 1961 and currently owns over 100,000 acres in the state.

Evelyn Christenson To Present Program At Mountaintop '91

Evelyn Christenson, best-selling author of four books and worldwide speaker, will present the conference "What Happens When God Answers?" at "Mountaintop '91" on March 1-3 at Lakeview Resort, Morgantown, W.Va.

A conference spokesman noted that Christenson will probe the aspects of both prayer and the pray-er as he draws on scripture and her deep experiences with fulltime prayer ministry since 1968.

Mrs. Christenson says that discovering God's answer to prayer is only the beginning. "Rather," she said, "it is often what happens after God answers that is life changing."

The fifth annual get-away weekend for men and women will also headline Richard Allen Farmer, an award-winning pianist and vocalist, in concert at "A Festival in Celebration of God's Grace."

Two seminars will be offered to expand the weekend. Bill Forbes, a successful business man, will present "Tabernacle Portrait of Christ" and a certified jazzercize instructor, Rue Harmon, will combine a discussion of physiology and nutrition with an actual aerobic workout to demonstrate the simplicity of physical health.

The conference rates, including all programs, four meals, and two nights' lodging, begin at $119 per person. Registration brochures may be obtained from the non-profit, non-denominational sponsor, Living for Christ Conferences, P.O. Box 217, New Martinsville, W.Va., 26155. More information may be obtained by calling 1-304-455-5322.

Surplus Food To Be Distributed: Schedule Noted

The Preston County Office of North Central West Virginia Community Action will be coordinating the distribution of surplus food commodities on January 25. Participants are asked to bring their own bags or boxes to pick up food.

The schedule is as follows: Arthurdale Presbyterian Church, 9 a.m.-2 p.m.; Aurora Fire Hall, 9 a.m.-noon; United Methodist Church, Bruceton Mills, 9 a.m.-noon; Camp Dawson, 9 a.m.-2 p.m.; Newburg Senior Center, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Rowlesburg Fire Hall, 11 a.m.-2 p.m.; Evergreen Baptist Church, Terra Alta, 9 a.m.-1 p.m.; and Tunnelton United Methodist Church, 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

The Preston County Senior Center can no longer be used as a distribution site because of expansion of the services being offered there. As a result, all persons with a valid Green card for the Kingwood Senior Center must pick up their surplus food at Camp Dawson this time.

At this time, it is not known which commodities are to be made available for distribution.

Community Action acts as a distributor for the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources and has no control over commodities available.

The Surplus Foods Distribution Program is available to eligible persons without regard to race, color, sex, age, handicap, religion, or national origin.

Seminar For Local Businesses Garrett Community College Slates

A seminar that will focus on marketing techniques will be held for the managers of small businesses at Garrett Community College, McHenry, on Wednesday, January 30, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

According to a GCC spokesman, to maximize productivity and profits, it is critical that managers market their products and services effectively. No matter how small, companies must have clearly defined marketing goals in order to be successful, he said.

"Marketing for Your Business with Today's Technology" is designed to help managers develop their marketing goals and the strategies essential to realizing these goals. During the seminar, managers will explore: market research principles; components of an effective marketing plan; various types of marketing tools which utilize today's technology; direct selling, advertising, sales promotions, publicity and indirect selling; media choices; options for local, regional, national and international marketing; sources of demographic information; and marketing with computer applications. Specific information will be available on demographic and database sources that are accessible through the Tri-County Council.

The instructor for the class, Mark Malek, is the director of the Institute for Small Business at Frostburg State University. Prior to 1988 he worked as the director of the Small Business Development Center at Potomac State College of West Virginia University. During the past six years, he has helped hundreds of small businesses achieve success through individualized counseling. He also teaches strategic planning and marketing in the Master's in Business Adminstration program at Frostburg State University.

This class is one of a series of classes planned to provide the opportunity for local manufacturers and constructors to utilize technology to enhance their productivity. These programs are being offered in conjunction with The Western Maryland Technology Transfer Program and are being funded by a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission in conjunction with the Regional Education Service Agency (RESA). Local persons involved in small or intermediate size manufacturing or construction firms are especially encouraged to participate in this training program. Others may participate on a space available basis.

The registration deadline for the class is Friday, January 25, but persons are urged to register early since space is limited. Those wishing to acquire additional information should contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 180.

CAPTIVE FREE is the name of a national music ministry team that will be hosted by St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, the weekend of January 26-27. Team members David Bahr, Bob Gustis Jr., Mary Crooks, Paula Lepson, Michelle Siese, Jen Anderson, Shane Larkin, and Devin Juel will conduct a program for the whole family at 8 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 26. The team will also participate in the regular worship service Sunday, Jan. 27, at 10 a.m. Captive Free was organized and is sponsored by Lutheran Youth Encounter, and evangelical Lutheran organization that offers relational ministry resources to the church. The team uses sing-along music, media presentations, personal word and witness, puppetry, and drama "to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ." Persons desiring more information about the programs may contact Dave Terlizzi at 334-9398.

Springs Historical Museum Evaluated

Directors of the Springs Historical Society, Springs, Pa., announced that David L. Parke Jr., from the Hershey Museum American Life, Hershey, Pa., was in the area this week to conduct an on-site evaluation of the Springs Historical Museum. Parke conducted the evaluation on behalf of the Museum Assessment Programs, Headquartered in Washington, D.C.

While here, Parke was hosted by members of the Board of Directors. In addition to his museum tour, during which he observed its strengths and weaknesses, Parke also met with volunteers and the founder of the Institution, Dr. Alta Schrock, Grantsville.

A society spokesman said it is hoped that the survey conducted by Parke will enhance the possibility of securing additional grants for the Springs Historical Museum from the Museum Assessment Programs.

NOTICE OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE AND OF TIME TO FILE PETITIONS TO INTERVENE

The Potomac Edison Company ("PE") has filed an application with the Maryland Public Service Commission ("Commission") for authority to change PE's depreciation rates and to reflect higher depreciation costs in the next base rate case to be filed by PE (at some undetermined future time).

The Commission will hold a prehearing conference on January 31, 1991, beginning at 11:00 a.m., in the Commission's 12th floor hearing room in the American Building, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland. The purposes of the prehearing conference are to rule on petitions to intervene and to set dates for the filing of testimony and hearings with respect to PE's application to change its depreciation rates.

Parties who desire to participate in this case must file with the Commission three copies of a Petition to Intervene, addressed to Ronald E. Hawkins, Executive Secretary, Maryland Public Service Commission, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202-3486, no later than 4:30 p.m. on January 29, 1991.

Persons who desire to submit written comments regarding this matter may forward one copy of such comments to Ronald E. Hawkins, Executive Secretary, Maryland Public Service Commission, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202-3486.

Ms. Dillsworth Becomes Bride Of Mr. Thomas During June Event

Sandra Marie Dillsworth and Jeffery Robert Thomas were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony June 30, 1990, at the Sand Springs Church of God, near Friendsville, with The Rev. Vernon Witt officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Wilma Armstrong, Oakland, and Howard Dillsworth, Baltimore. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, Friendsville.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father.

The bride wore a gown made of white satin with a sweetheart neckline, with puffed full fitted sleeves, four-pointed petal peplum, with a chapel train, edged in Schiffli embroidered lace, scattered with appliques.

Serving as maid of honor was Mrs. Barbara Miller, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tammy Lawson and Miss Tracy Rumble, friends of the bride.

Serving as best man was Ron Friend, brother-in-law of the groom.

Ushers were Jack L. Thomas, brother of the groom, and Mike Thomas, cousin of the groom.

Kim Friend, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Elaine Koch, Bloomington, friend of the bride, played several selections on the piano.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Oakland fire hall. Tammy Thomas, sister-in-law of the groom, and Cristy Thomas, cousin of the groom, baked and decorated the five-tier cake, with a colored water fountain and stairways headng up to the miniature bride and groom, displaying the entire wedding court.

A buffet dinner was held an entertainment was provided by a local band, "Gary and The Knight Riders."

The couple went to Panama City, Fla., for a week-long honeymoon.

Jeffery is employed by Transettlements, Inc., Atlanta, Ga., and Sandra is employed as a nurse's aide for C.H.N.C. Riverdale, Ga.

The couple resides in Senoia, Ga.

To Be Crowned Valentine Queen

Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority has announced that Jennifer Dellinger will be crowned 1990-91 Valentine Queen at the February 16 Valentine dance.

Mrs. Dellinger resides in Bloomington with her husband, Bruce Dellinger, and their three children, Abbie, 12, Annie, 8, and Richie III, 6.

She is the daughter of Joan and John Browning, who reside in Nokomis, Fla.

Mrs. Dellinger joined the Beta Omicron chapter in October 1980. Through the years, she has held such offices as treasurer and chairman of the social, round robin, scrapbook, and telephone committees.

She also is a member of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, and an active member in the Bloomington School PTA. As a volunteer at Bloomington School, she helps with the fluoride rinse program.

She is also an active mother with her son in the Tiger Cubs.

Mrs. Dellinger is employed by Tom and Jackie Marsh as a waitress in the Gazebo dining room at the Chat 'n Chew Restaurant.

Graduating from Bruce High School, Westernport, in 1976, she had the honor of being named Queen Archives XXIV.

Among her other many activities that she enjoys are snow and water skiing, horseback riding, aerobics, and bike riding.

Mrs. Dellinger will be crowned during the Valentine dance at the Westernport Legion. The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with music provided by Crossroads.

Cost of the dance is $10 per couple if tickets are purchased before February 1. Tickets purchased after that date will be $12 per couple.

For more information or reservations, persons may call 788-2623 or 359-9861.

Kathleen Shaw And Michael Beard Exchange Vows In October Ceremony

Mr. John T. Shaw, Connellsville, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. David C. Beard, Swanton, announce the marriage of their children, Kathleen Susan Shaw and Michael Blaine Beard. Miss Shaw is also the daughter of the late Janet L. Shaw of Connellsville. The double ring ceremony took place on Saturday, October 27 at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland with the Reverend Robert P. Johnson officiating.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who also gave her in marriage. She wore a blush pink satin gown by J.P. Originals, which featured a fitted bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace, highlighted with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, with a wedding band collar and satin ballroom sleeves with cuffs of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The full circular satin skirt fell from a Basque waist and swept to a semi-cathedral train hemmed in re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bride's headpiece, made by the groom's mother, was a V-shaped band covered with pearls. It featured pink and white silk flowers and sprays of pearls and a double tier of pink bridal illusion outlined in seed pearls. The bride's jewelry consisted of a strand of pearls belonging to her mother, and pearl earrings, a gift of the maid of honor. Miss Shaw carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink roses and ivy highlighted with white ribbon streamers.

Serving as maid of honor was Jan Shaw, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Linda Michael and Joy Shaw, also sisters of the bride. All were attired in navy blue gowns of velvet and satin and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. The flower girl was Erin Oxford, Deer Park, who wore a pink taffeta dress, which was a replica of the bride's gown, made by the groom's mother.

Groomsmen were Mark Grimm, Brian Selders, and George Scheffel, all of Oakland and classmates of the groom. The ringbearer was Christopher Michael, nephew of the bride. All the men wore identical navy blue tuxes with pink boutonnieres.

Wedding music was provided by Martha Banks, cousin of the bride, who was the organist, and Wendy Hamann and Terry Richard, friends of the bride, who sang "The Rose" and "Suddenly."

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the McHenry House at the Wisp. The wedding party was transported by a stretch limousine provided by the groomsmen. A three-tiered, pink and white heart-shaped wedding cake was baked by Sherri Wilt of Oakland. Music at the reception was provided by Paul McCloud of WXIE Radio.

The bride is a graduate of Connellsville Area High School and West Virginia University with a degree in accounting. She is employed by M.S. Ginn's Company in Hyattsville, Md.

Mr. Beard is a graduate of Southern High School, Oakland, Md., and spent nine years in the U.S. Navy as a nuclear submariner. He is currently employed as a laboratory supervisor at Radiation Service Organization, Inc. in Laurel and is a senior at the University of Maryland.

Bridal showers were held by the bride's attendants in Connellsville, and by her coworkers in Falls Church, Va. A rehearsal dinner was held at the Oakland Country Club.

After a honeymoon in Hawaii, the couple established residence in Silver Spring, Md.

In loving memory of our darling
DARLA DIANE DEWITT
Little Angels

When God calls little children to dwell with him above,
We mortals sometimes question the wisdom of His love.
For no heartache compares with the death of one small child,
Who does so much to make our world seem wonderful and mild.
Perhaps God tires of calling the aged to his fold,
So he picks a rosebud, before it can grow old.
God knows how much we need them and so he takes but few,
To make the land of Heaven more beautiful to view.
Believing this is difficult still somehow we must try,
The saddest word mankind knows will always be "Goodbye."
So when a little child departs we who are left behind,
Must realize God loves children, Angels are hard to find.

Northern Grapplers Successfully Defend County Tournament Title

The Northern High School wrestling team successfully defended its Garrett County Tournament championship at Northern Saturday, as the Huskies amassed 180 points in the eight-team competition.

Central Preston recorded 142 and one-half points to place second, followed by Frankfort, 118 and one-half; Southern, 91; Allegany, 67; Westmar, 59 and one-half; East Preston, 56; and Hyndman, 42.

This was the second tournament title of the season for the Coach Lynn Brenneman's Huskies, who earlier won the University High tourney in Morgantown.

Capturing first place trophies for the Huskies were Chris Rowe in the 125-pound division, Allen Bittinger, 130; Tim Thomas, 135; Ron Sines, 145; Randy Dolan, 152; and Scott Beitzel, heavyweight.

Southern's Jason Burgess (103) and Gary Sweitzer (112) also placed first in their weight classes, while Anthony Scott and Gary Crippend of Central Preston won the 119 and 160 titles, respectively, Shane Fridley and Danny Cottrill of Frankfort won at 140 and 189, respectively, and Perry Moore of Hyndman won the 171-pound division crown.

Northern's Tom Haer won second place in the 160-pound class and Southern's Pete Strawser and Ed Philyaw were runners-up in the 119 and 171 divisions, respectively.

STATE RANKED — Northern heavyweight wrestler Scott Beitzel flattens yet another opponent enroute to the heavyweight class title during the Garrett County Invitational Wrestling Tournament last Saturday at Northern. The Maryland State Wrestling Association this week named Beitzel the sixth highest ranked Heavyweight in the state, as he improved his personal record to 14-1 last night against Beall. Beitzel, only a sophomore, joins teammates Allen Bittinger and Tim Thomas in making the list of state's best grapplers. Below, Southern High grappler Gary Sweitzer dominates his opponent in a 112-pound bout. Photos by Craig Speicher.

NHS Grapplers' Streak Stopped By Meyersdale

The undefeated season of the Northern High wrestling team came to an end last Thursday evening, as the Huskies were edged by Meyersdale, 34-25, at Meyersdale.

The Huskies came back Saturday to win the Garrett County Tournament and then defeated Beall last night (see separate stories).

Rich Wyland and Scott Beitzel won on pins for the Huskies against Meyersdale, while Todd Burdock recorded a technical fall and state-ranked Alan Bittinger and Tim Thomas each won on points.

Recording pins for Meyersdale were Brian Most and Doug Robertson. Carl LaRue, Ron Smeak, Todd Hutzell, Jason Moore, and Doug Robertson all won by decision.

Fantasy Baseball League Forming

An Oakland business is soliciting interest in forming a fantasy baseball league.

Also known as rotisserie league baseball, fantasy baseball is a game involving statistics compiled by real major league players. "Owners" of teams in the Crown cards leagues will "draft" players from the majors to form a 24-man roster, and will then select weekly line-ups which will be rated according to those players' statistics, in 12 categories, at the end of each week. Team owners make trades, pay salaries, sign free agents, and waive players, just like in the major leagues.

While there is a minimal cost to become a franchise owner, there are prizes available to the winning owners/managers.

Persons interested in learning more about the Crown Cards Fantasy League may contact Jeff Cooley at Crown Cards & More, Alder Street, Oakland, telephone 334-9688.

The League will also sponsor head-to-head fantasy football and possibly basketball in season.

Ram Wrestlers Whip Cavaliers

The Southern High wrestling team, under Coach Terry Kendall, upped their dual meet record to 2-2 Tuesday night by topping Central Preston, 39-34, in Kingwood.

Winning by pins for the Rams were Gary Sweitzer in the 112-pound class, Pete Strawser (119), Jason Rush (125), Mike DeWitt (130), and Ed Philyaw (171).

Earning a Southern victory on points was Josh Woods in the 135-pound division.

Recording a pin for the Cavaliers was Clint Radabaugh in the 140-pound class, while Rusty Miller won on points in the 160-pound bout. Four Central Preston grapplers won by forfeit.

The Rams, who also placed fourth in the Garrett County Tournament at Northern on Saturday, will compete in a tri-meet this Friday at Frankfort against the Falcons and East Preston.

Husky Matmen Whip Mountaineers And Improve In State Rankings

The Northern High matmen won eight matches out of 13 last night to defeat Beall for the first time in more than a decade, 37-22, at Northern.

The team's victory seemed particularly symbolic, as the Maryland State Wrestling Association this week ranked three Huskies among the top six contenders in their respective weight classes for all divisions (A through AAAA) statewide.

Since the start of the current season, Northern's Allen Bittinger has been ranked second at 130 pounds, while Tim Thomas has tied for fourth. This week, teammate Scott Beitzel joined the list of the state's elite, as the ranking committee named him Maryland's sixth top heavyweight.

The state ratings became particularly meaningful in one individual match last night, where Husky Rich Wyland upset Beall's Brian Thomas. Thomas first gained state attention in the 1989 Maryland State High School Wrestling Tournament (A-AA), when he placed fourth at 103 pounds. This season, he is currently ranked fifth at 119 pounds, and brought a personal record of 13-1 into his contest with Wyland, who won, 5-2. By doing so, Wyland improved his own record to 13-2, making him at least a possible contender for state rating himself.

At least one other Husky is also a candidate for the state's top-six list. Randy Dolan at 152 pounds improved his personal record to 14-1 by winning on decision last night. Dolan finished among the top eight contenders in his weight class at last year's State Tournament, being injured in the quarter-final round.

As a team, Northern is now tied with Lackey High for tenth place among schools of all divisions statewide.

Thomas (14-0) was awarded a forfeit win last night in the 135-pound division, as was Beitzel in the Heavyweight class.

Chris Rowe also won by pin in the 125-pound class, while Dale Fazenbaker and Tom Haer also won by decision.

Earning pins for Beall were Todd Vogtman and Jeremy Robison.

Both teams will compete in the 28-team Pepsi Invitational in Fairmont, W.Va., this Saturday, an event which Beall won last year and the Huskies placed second.

Northern is now 7-1 in dual meets, having lost only to Meyersdale (see separate story).

Huskies Crush Hancock, 64-33, For Fourth Win

The Northern Huskies got back on the winning track Tuesday night by crushing host Hancock in a Mid-Appalachian League contest, 64-33, and improving their overall record to 4-8. They are currently 3-1 in MML play.

Jon Houser and Dave Hinebaugh paced the Huskies' scoring, as each finished with 14 points. Ten of Houser's points came in the third period.

Also reaching double figures for Northern were Richard Schofield and Doug Brenneman, with 10 points each.

The Huskies led 11-6 after the first quarter, 37-20 at halftime, and poured it on both offensively and defensively in the third period behind Houser to lead 51-24 after three periods.

Andy McKenzie paced winless Hancock (0-9) with 10 points.

The Northern junior varsity recorded its eighth win in nine starts in the preliminary contest over the Hancock jayvees, 58-36.

Coach Dave Bender's team will be back in action this Friday night at East Preston.

LOOK OF DEFEAT — Beall High wrestler Ben Harman (with hands free) winces as Northern Husky Tommy Haer applies pressure during their 160-pound match last night at Northern, which Haer won, 14-10. For the first time in more than a decade, the Huskies defeated Beall, 37-22. The victory seemed particularly symbolic, as this week the Maryland State Wrestling Association named three Huskies among the top six contenders in their respective weight classes for all divisions statewide, while a fourth Husky, Rich Wyland, upset a state-ranked Beall grappler. Laker Women Win Third Straight Before Falling To Hagerstown JC

The Garrett Community College women's basketball team recorded its third straight win Sunday afternoon, defeating Dundalk 51-41 in a Maryland JUCO contest, but the Lakers' streak was halted last night by visiting Hagerstown, 80-54.

The Lakers, coached by Dennis Gibson, are 3-3 overall and 3-1 in JUCO competition. They will play at Prince George's Community College Saturday.

Marcia DeBerry paced the Lakers in their win over Dundalk by recording 19 points, as Garrett led throughout the contest.

After holding a commanding 27-9 halftime lead, the Lions grabbed the momentum with a full-court press in the second half and cut the Lakers' lead to six points with four minutes remaining.

A three-point shot by DeBerry gave Garrett another double-digit lead and they held on for the win.

GCC was playing without point guard Kenyatta Brown, who is out for the season with a knee injury.

Former Southern High standout Tracy Henline netted 12 points for the Lakers and grabbed 18 rebounds, while Kim Mackall pulled down 20 rebounds.

Heather Kotula led Dundalk's scoring with 12 points.

A new player on the Laker roster, Karen Gurrera, finished with a game-high 21 points last night against Hagerstown, but it was not enough against the bigger, more experienced Hawks.

Hagerstown led 34-24 at halftime and was never seriously threatened in the second half. They out-rebounded the Lakers, 46-37.

Stella Roberts led the Hawks' scoring with 14 points and also pulled six rebounds, Sandy Gilbreath finished with 12 points, and Kristi Hart netted 10.

For Garrett, DeBerry and Henline also reached double figures with 12 and 11 points, respectively. Henline also grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked four shots.

Southern Girls Whip Fort Hill, Fall To Campers

The Southern High School girls' varsity finally broke into the win column with a big 66-50 victory over host Fort Hill Monday night, but then dropped a 62-55 decision last night to a strong Allegany team in Oakland. The results left Coach Don Stemple's team with a 1-8 record.

Shelly Cannon was the big gun for the Rams against Fort Hill, as she scored a career high 28 points on 10 field goals and eight of 12 shots from the line. Michelle Duling also excelled for Southern, finishing with 20 points and nine rebounds.

Leading the Sentinels' scoring were Heather Shepherd and Michelle Clise with 15 points each. Kara Goldsworthy, who netted eight points, grabbed seven rebounds.

The loss evened Fort Hill's record 6-6.

The Southern junior varsity was also defeated in the preliminary game, 34-22. Kara Koch led Fort Hill with nine points and Ingrid Carlson netted nine for Southern.

Tina Kearchner was practically a one-woman wrecking team last night for the Allegany Campers, as she finished with 30 points against the Rams.

Southern won the first half of the contest, leading 19-12 at the end of the first quarter and 27-25 at halftime. But the Campers out-scored the Rams in the third period, 22-8, to take a 47-35 lead into the final eight minutes. The Rams cut the lead in the fourth quarter, but could not re-take the lead.

The win improved Allegany's record to 6-2.

The Southern jayvees won the preliminary game over the Camper junior varsity, 38-27. Ingrid Carlson led Southern with 10 points and teammate Carrie Newcomb added nine.

Southern will host powerful Westmar Monday.

Southern Mat Club Members Win At Fairmont

The Southern Mat Club, under Coach David Sines, traveled to the West Fairmont Wrestling Tournament on January 5. The Club sent 15 wrestlers to the tournament, and returned with 14 trophies.

Garnering first place honors were: Tommy Sweitzer, Jeremy Sweitzer, Nathan Rickman, Nick Dolan, Noel Smith, and Christopher "Moe" Hayhurst. Receiving second place trophies were: Andrew Rickman, Nicholos Sines, John Hayhurst, and Rodney Bird. Bringing home third place trophies were: Brandon Ford, Eric Rexrode, Jeremy Hayhurst, and Andrew Grant. Arthur Pysell received a participation award.

The tournament represented the first major outing for the Southern Mat Club in the 1991 season. The Club is composed of area youth from ages three through 8th grade.

MAT CLUB EARNS TROPHIES — The Southern Mat Club recently began its season of competition by participating in the Fairmont Tournament and the Hagerstown Holiday Tournament. They captured 14 trophies in the Fairmont tourney, which they display in the photo above. Rice, Beckman Lead Southern Rams To 74-59 Victory Over Allegany

The combination of strong outside play by Brett Rice and power plays underneath by Richard Beckman highlighted a big 74-59 victory by the Southern High Rams over host Allegany Friday evening. The Region I, Class 2A win gave Coach Tom Bosley's squad a 10-2 record, with all but one of those games played on the road.

The Campers came into the contest with a 6-1 record and a four-game winning streak, but the Rams led throughout the contest and took control in the second half.

Rice, a 6-1 junior who is leading the area in scoring, finished with 29 points, as he nailed 13 of 19 shots from the floor and also pulled down eight rebounds.

Beckman, a 6-4 senior, netted 17 points and grabbed a game-high 14 rebounds, as the Rams out-boarded the Campers, 42-27.

Also giving Bosley and Ram fans an impressive effort was junior Britten Martin, who recorded 10 points and eight rebounds, Jason Brenneman, who added eight points, and guards Greg Inglese and Jeremy Bosley. Southern shot 56 percent (31 of 55) from the floor.

Following a 6-6 tie in the early going, the Rams took the lead for good on an inside jumper by Beckman, which sparked a 10-point run by Southern. Alco cut the lead to 18-15 with buckets by Jim and John O'Neal, but Beckman and Rice answered with goals of their own to end the first period at 24-19.

The Rams began to pull away in the second quarter, as Allegany managed to hit just five of 16 shots. Southern was up by 12 at halftime, 41-29.

The Campers closed the gap to seven points several times in the third period, but could get no closer. The quarter ended with the Rams on top 55-44, even though the Allegany press forced six turnovers. One of two steals by Inglese at the end of the period resulted in a final lay-up by Jeff Spencer.

The Rams maintained a similar lead throughout most of the fourth quarter until buckets by Martin and Beckman, plus two free throws by Rice, gave Southern its biggest lead of the evening, 74-57, with a minute to play.

Johnnie Fields led a balanced offensive effort by the Campers, as he finished with 13 points. Rick Wallace and Jim O'Neal each netted 11 and Dan Bauer and Fred Wilson each contributed 10 points. Wilson and Wallace each pulled down eight rebounds and Wilson blocked four shots.

With their own gymnasium's renovation complete, the Rams will begin the second half of their season this Friday night at home against Mount Savage. They will play nine of their final 10 games at home.

The Southern junior varsity continued to struggle, as they dropped a 68-60 decision to the Allegany jayvees in the preliminary game. Leading the Rams' scoring were C.J. Getson with 17, J.D. Beckman with 16, and Mark Dawson with 10. Dave Shoemaker netted 29 points for Allegany.

Northern Girls Mash Hyndman For Seventh Win

The Northern High School girls' varsity won its seventh game in nine starts Tuesday afternoon by rolling over visiting Hyndman, 45-21.

Rebecca Fratz paced Coach Harv Speicher's team with 15 points, while Cara Wachter finished with eight.

Northern dominated the contest from the beginning, jumping out to an 11-3 advantage by the end of the first quarter, leading 20-9 at halftime, and 35-19 after three quarters.

Melissa Thomas grabbed eight rebounds for the Huskies.

Leading Hyndman's scoring was Jane Poland with 14 points.

The Huskies will go after win number eight this Saturday when they host Allegany in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Henry. Moats was found guilty of battery on a six-year-old juvenile also.

Police reports indicated that Mrs. Moats had struck the boy with a belt for "not going to sleep." Welts were found on the boy's body, according to reports filed involving the December 5, 1990, incident.

A charge of child abuse against Mrs. Moats was not prosecuted.

Probation before judgment was ordered for Michael L. Sisler, 26, Mtn. Lake Park, who had pleaded not guilty to a charge of battery on an eight-year-old minor.

Sisler allegedly struck the child with a belt on June 23, 1990, in Loch Lynn. He was placed on 30 days of unsupervised probation at which time judgment will be passed by Turney.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Michael S. Lewis, 23, Oakland, who pleaded not guilty but was found guilty of one count of battery, one count of assault, and one count of harassment. He was found not guilty of four additional counts of assault and a count of harassment.

Sisler had been charged by Mark. J. Wells and Nancy J. Gregg, both of Oakland, for various incidents that allegedly occurred between July and September.

On counter charges, Mark J. Wells, 26, Oakland, pleaded not guilty but was found guilty of one count of harassment. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Wells.

Wells was found not guilty on an additional charge of harassment. He had been charged by Michael S. Lewis, Oakland, who claimed he had been harassed by Wells from April through September of last year.

Ralph Park, 32, Mtn. Lake Park, who had been found guilty of battery in District Court on November 13, 1990, was sentenced last week.

Judge Turney handed Park a six-month suspended jail term, a $100 fine, and placed him on one year of supervised probation.

He had been charged with battery on Woodrow H. Tasker stemming from a July 31 incident.

Brian L. Davis, 21, Deer Park, was given one year of unsupervised probation before judgment after being found guilty of petty theft.

Davis had been charged with the theft of a $4.50 item from Sheetz, Inc. in Oakland on August 14, 1990. In addition to his probation, Davis has also been barred from Sheetz.

William Wilt, 27, Grantsville, had charges of assault with intent to murder and reckless endangerment placed on the stet docket at the request of the victim, Kathy Wilt.

Kathy Wilt had charged Mr. Wilt following a November 11, 1990, incident in which she told police that her husband had pointed a gun at her and threatened to shoot her.

Tony L. Friend, 29, Belpre, Ohio, was found not guilty of possession of a controlled dangerous substance.

He had been arrested by Deputy Murphy on September 8, 1990, after being stopped for failure to keep right of center on U.S. Route 219, north of Oakland.

In his report, Murphy stated that he smelled a strong odor of alcohol and marijuana in the vehicle. A search of the vehicle allegedly revealed marijuana and rolling papers.

Also arrested from that same incident was Joseph R. Kisselovich, 36, Oakland, who was a passenger in the Friend vehicle.

Murphy stated that he arrested Kisselovich because of reasonable proximity to the operator of the vehicle.

Judge Turney also found Kisselovich not guilty of a CDS possession charge.

A sentence was handed down to David M. Macellaro, 25, Pittsburgh, Pa., last week for possession of cocaine and driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Macellaro had been found guilty of the charges in District Court in October and was ordered a pre-sentence investigation at that time.

Macellaro was handed a six-month jail term (all but 48 hours was suspended), a $100 fine, and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. He had been charged with possession of cocaine and DWI on April 13, 1990.

At a sentence revision hearing last week, probation before judgment was given to David P. Mastej, Friendsville, on a charge of theft.

Mastej had been found guilty of the charge in October and given a 30-day suspended jail term, a $50 fine, and one year of unsupervised probation. His probation has now been extended to January 3, 1992, at which time judgment will be passed.

Charles E. Frye Jr., 27, Friendsville, also had a sentence revision hearing.

He had initially been sentenced to a 90-day suspended jail term, a $100 fine, and placed on one year of supervised probation.

He had been found guilty of battery on a four-year-old juvenile. He was found not guilty of child abuse and battery on Cathy J. Frye.

Charges had been filed stemming from March 29 and April 4 incidents.

Jody C. Gehring, 22, Deer Park, had a charge of malicious destruction of property against her placed on the stet docket at the request of the victim, Ira J. Martin III.

Gehring had been charged on August 23, 1990, after allegedly causing damage to a 1980 Chevrolet pickup that was parked at D'Atris Restaurant at Deep Creek Lake.

Lakers Fall To Catamounts, Chowan But Then Upset Hagerstown, 98-95

The Garrett Community College Lakers dropped a pair of games this past week, including a 75-69 JUCO Region XX upset by Potomac State College Saturday night in Keyser, followed by a 77-61 defeat by powerful Chowan Community College in Murfreesboro, N.C., Monday, but then came back last night to upset national power Hagerstown Junior College, 98-95, in McHenry.

The Lakers had a one-point lead over Potomac State at halftime, 41-40, and they received a 32-point performance by All-American candidate Chuckie Moore, but they could not hang on down the stretch for the win.

Moore, who was playing on a badly sprained ankle, netted 14 field goals and two of four free throws.

Marcus Chatman paced the Catamounts by scoring 20 points and grabbing 16 rebounds, while Scott Riggleman added 13 points, eight rebounds, and five assists. Bryan Martin finished with 14 points and Evan Saunders added 11 to PSC's total.

Also reaching double figures for the Lakers were Bruce Boldley with 12 points and Derek Young with 10.

The win improved the Catamounts' record to 7-1.

Against the Chowan Braves, the Lakers never led and tied the score only once at 14-14 after trailing 14-2 in the early going. After being down 35-28 at the half, Garrett came back to cut the gap to one point, 35-34. But they could get no closer, as the Braves moved out to a 51-42 advantage on a three-pointer by James Thompson.

Thompson led the winners with 17 points, Andy Kelly netted 14, O'Jay Hymans finished with 13 points and six assists, and Wilbert Hunter and Harold Tyson each added 10 points.

Moore again led the Lakers' scoring with a game-high 22 points, while Jesse York added 14 and Bruce Boldley finished with 12 points plus seven assists and seven steals. Moore also grabbed 10 rebounds and York was credited with nine.

GCC Coach Dennis Gibson was disappointed with the officials, stating they called "only about half the fouls" committed by the Braves.

All of that disappointment was wiped away last night on the Lakers' home court when Moore ripped the nets for 38 points and grabbed 11 rebounds to lead Garrett over Hagerstown in another JUCO American Division encounter.

It was only the third loss in 18 games for the Hawks, who had been nationally ranked earlier in the season.

After leading 46-40 at halftime, the Lakers expanded their advantage to as many as 16 points in the second half and then held on down the stretch for their 13th win in 18 games.

With their lead at 90-74 with four minutes remaining, the Hawks went to a fullcourt press that was primarily responsible for their rally.

"We didn't handle the press very well," stated Coach Gibson, "but our guys also took it for granted that we had the game won."

The Hawks came to within three points, 92-89, at the 1:29 mark and the score was 95-93 with 48 seconds remaining, but they could get no closer.

Boldley also had an outstanding game for Garrett, as he finished with 19 points, 10 assists, and three steals. Derek Young contributed 11 points and four shots, William Bowen came off the bench and scored 10 points all in the second half, and Clarence Morgan also finished with 10 points.

Keith Wood paced Hagerstown's scoring with 34 points, Walt Hunter recorded 19, and Sir McBryde added 10.

Pleads Guilty

dant was also charged with DWI at the time of arrest.

Sentencing is planned for Feb. 14, tentatively. Defense counsel for McDaniel was Alan L. Winik.

Brett M. Cosner, 18, McHenry, pleaded guilty to the count of storehouse breaking and stealing. The plea came after a plea agreement, according to the court document.

Thayer accepted the plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Bail for the defendant was continued.

Cosner's charge stemmed from a September incident at which time he reportedly forced open a window in the dwelling of Thomas Sanders, entered the home, and removed various bottles of alcoholic beverages, worth under $300. Maryland State Police investigated the incident.

John R. Toston represented Cosner.

Nancy C. Paugh, 45, Oakland, pleaded guilty after a plea agreement to counts of marijuana possession and driving under the influence of drug and/or alcohol (DUI). Thayer accepted the plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Paugh's bail was revoked by order of the court.

The defendant was stopped for the traffic violations of excessive speed and failure to dim lights in September, according to the report. At that time, the officer of the G.C. Sheriff's Office discovered her to be under the influence and to be in the possession of the illegal substance.

Paugh was represented by Robert Hesson.

A violation of probation charge was brought against Robert C. Glass, 20, Accident. He waived his right to be represented in the hearing, and the court handed down a guilty verdict.

Judge Thayer sentenced Glass to 25 days in the Garrett County Jail with no suspension. The defendant's original sentence was 30 days, 25 of which were suspended.

Glass was arrested in July on the charge of marijuana possession.

Ray M. Miller, 63, McHenry, pleaded guilty to one charge of driving while intoxicated. Judge Thayer accepted the plea and fined the defendant $500 plus court costs. He also ordered a one-year alcohol restriction on the defendant's license.

Miller was charged in July 1990 after a traffic stop by Maryland State Police on Rt. 219 and Mosser Road.

Defense counsel for the defendant was Robert Hesson.

Without community bloodmobiles, many would not receive the blood and blood products that are used on a daily basis."

People often give blood after they hear about a friend or relative who was in an accident, but according to Kutchman, that is often too late. "Blood has to be on the shelves before an accident occurs; if it's not, the victim may not be able to receive the treatment they need to live," she said.

While it takes about 45 minutes to an hour to go through the entire procedure, Kutchman said that giving blood is easy and virtually pain-free. "Once you register at the bloodmobile you progress through our 'belt-line' physical which includes blood pressure, temperature, and iron content of your blood. Then you are asked to answer a few questions about your health history. This is to protect you and any prospective recipient. The next step is the actual donation process, which takes about 10 minutes. After your donation, you are escorted to the canteen for refreshments," she said.

According to Red Cross officials, persons may donate blood once every 56 days up to six times in a 12-month period. Those who have specific questions about donating may call the Red Cross at 1-800-54BLOOD.

"We set the goal for the Oakland visit at 200 units," Kutchman said. "It was originally 155, until war broke out last night in the Middle East."

Jerome Walter Cox
Oakland

To the Editor:

George Bush has now threatened, cajoled, bullied or bribed virtually everyone from the Soviet Union to the United States Congress into acquiescence in his policy of aggression.

In August of last year, he vacationed on his boat in Kennebunkport while personalizing the complex issues of the Middle East crisis. He deliberately insulted Hussein, compared him with Hitler, lobbied the United Nations for the most rigid stand possible, and ruled out all compromise. This placed the United States in a position of total confrontation with no room for negotiations. Since then, he has pursued a policy of war at any cost, misrepresenting the issues to the American people, bullying and cajoling the American Congress, and bribing and bullying nations throughout the world to support him in this policy.

The President and the Israeli lobby took the ludicrous position during the congressional debate that by adopting a virtual declaration of war, Congress was "preserving the best chance for peace."

Does anyone really believe that George Bush wants peace? The charade of the so-called peace negotiations in Geneva leaves a sick feeling of disgust toward George Bush and of disappointment in America. Throughout the season of peace on earth and goodwill toward men, Mr. Bush continued his efforts at confrontation with Iraq. In order to get a Security Council vote from the United Nations approving the January 15th deadline for the "use of force" (a euphemism for war), Mr. Bush made promises to delegates from China, the Soviet Union, and other nations on the Security Council, that he would participate in peace discussions.

The next day he turned the entire peace process into a circus by announcing that although the United States had agreed to high level meetings with Iraq, these meetings would involve no negotiations, no compromises, no linkage to other Middle East problems such as the persecution of the Palestinians, and no face saving for Iraq.

Mr. Bush and members of his administration have continually repeated these parameters for the so-called peace negotiations throughout the entire process, making meaningful peace discussions impossible. This was done deliberately in pursuance of Mr. Bush's preconceived plan to take the United States into war for the express purpose of destroying the Iraqi military.

It is a wonder to me that Iraq even sent its delegate to attend the Geneva talks, under these insulting conditions.

It is also clear from the voluminous press reports on Iraq's attempts to find the solution to the crisis, that Saddam Hussein would accept almost any reasonable compromise which would allow him to withdraw from Kuwait without complete humiliation. By insisting upon a policy of personal insult toward Hussein, confrontation with the Iraqi diplomatic corps, and a rigid policy of no compromise, Mr. Bush has deliberately scuttled talks which could have avoided war. The United States, facing a deepening depression, with a failing economy, in the midst of a multi-billion dollar savings and loan crisis, with its banks teetering on the brink of collapse, now faces a million man battle-hardened army which possesses every conceivable means of modern destruction except nuclear weapons.

This ain't bean bag.

It would seem to me that America, which has represented itself to the world as advocating a peaceful solution to international crises, would pursue to the last syllable, every opportunity for talks for avoiding war.

It may be that the United States' superiority in air power will prevail in this conflict, and give Mr. Bush a quick victory in his war. But air strikes are not selective. Such a victory will still be bought at the cost of the lives of thousands or hundreds of thousands of innocent Iraqi and Kuwaiti citizens.

If, on the other hand, this conflict cannot be settled by fire power from the air, and the United States engages itself in an effort to overcome an entrenched Iraqi military, the results will be catastrophic. Even if victory comes in a relatively short time, there will be thousands of casualties on both sides, and economic woes at home will certainly be exacerbated.

It is inconceivable to me that the American people have sat back and allowed one man to decide whether to commit that nation to a major war. The arrogance of the Bush Administration in its dealings with the United Nations, foreign powers, and popular dissent is horrifying.

It is difficult to see, also, how this war could benefit Kuwait, except to restore the corrupt Emirs, and put them back in control of their vast income from oil royalties. The Iraqis have vowed to destroy and burn the Kuwaiti oil fields. World environmentalists have said that if Iraq carries through on this threat, the ecological damage from the fires that would result could threaten the entire earth's ecosystem, and could remain an ecological problem for decades to come.

During the past two years, we have seen great progress in the world, with the collapse of Soviet militarism, the end of the Berlin Wall, the hope of freedom for the eastern European nations, and for the Soviet republics themselves. We have seen the end of the Cold War. This has happened largely because of the forbearance and patience of American foreign policy in the face of aggression. But all of this progress is now jeopardized by Mr. Bush's warmongering. The reactionary right wing in the Soviet Union, alarmed at the threats of the Baltic Republics, Georgia, and others to secede, have forced the resignation of Eduard Shevardnadze, a friend of peace. Mikhail Gorbachev himself has the unpleasant choice of facing the mounting wrath and resistance of the right wing, or moving further toward a reactionary dictatorship himself.

The United States' policy during this period should be one of forbearance. It should be a policy of matching the Soviets' withdrawal from militarism. Instead, Mr. Bush has sallied forth into the valley of aggressive war, thus placing additional pressure on the Gorbachev regime. If this results in a right wing takeover in the Soviet Union, the confrontation in the Middle East could become a nuclear confrontation overnight. Shevardnadze has already said that had this crisis occurred five years earlier, it would have resulted in World War Three. Of course, no American leader would have dared to pursue such a policy of aggression toward a Soviet ally in the Cold War for a threat of a world war. But that threat still remains today, though the Bush Administration may be too shortsighted to understand it.

I have been a conservative Republican my entire life. I voted for George Bush. I did not expect him to go back on his promise to hold the line on taxes or his promise to support my right to purchase and own a firearm, much less his rush to war.

This war is a ruthless act of aggression, and a shame to all of the shining values for which America is supposed to stand.

Sincerely,
Robert E. Watson

Education Board

Board Member Mikal Moomau is a member of the food advisory, and stated that she agreed with Mrs. Sherrard. Mrs. Moomau explained that it was a logical proposal, mainly because of the difficulty in keeping attendance up in the volunteer committees and because of the inherent problems of having two groups with no common members attempting to achieve the same goal.

Ryscavage suggested that Mrs. Sherrard and Buckingham be on both committees in order to create a liaison between the groups, and to keep Buckingham abreast of the food advisory's recommendations as well as the menu-planners goals. Mrs. Sherrard would be needed on both committees as the registered dietitian. The menu-planning group will also consist of one cafeteria manager, one parent, and one student, perhaps on a rotating basis.

Mrs. Moomau argued that Mrs. Sherrard's volunteered time was already limited, and the current menu-planning committee has not been functioning as well as it had been planned. To make separate committees, Mrs. Moomau explained, may weaken the achievements of the Food Advisory Committee because so much time will have to be used to re-inform each group after meetings.

The topic was then voted on by board members. The proposal to keep the two committees separate carried four to one with Mrs. Moomau opposed.

In other food service discussions, the board considered the Food Advisory's recent recommendation of reinstating fresh fruits, whole wheat bread, and fresh vegetables. Member Rodney Durst expressed opposition to the proposal and read letters from two cafeteria managers which stated that students "like white bread better that wheat" and that they "like canned fruits better than fresh." Durst asked if the board should be concerned about better food for students or better education in this time of budget problems.

Mrs. Moomau stated that the board did not need to be negative about the Changing Course Program, which was adopted last year by the members, and that the group has made an important step in merely being aware of a nation-wide problem of non-nutritional meals for school students. She explained that there are other things the board can do to attempt to adhere to the recommendations of Changing Course, the main goal of which is to introduce healthier foods.

Mrs. Moomau brought sweet rolls to the meeting which were made of 50% white flour and 50% whole wheat. Her aim was to introduce to the board one of the many ways that whole wheat can be incorporated in the school menus rather than simply giving students slices of whole wheat bread, which are unpopular. She explained that the purpose of Changing Course was to educate people about good nutrition, and to introduce the new foods gradually.

When asked if the white/wheat flour sweetrolls would be incorporated in the county menus, Buckingham said that the food service currently has 100-150 pounds of white flour, and that it would not be financially wise to purchase wheat flour at this time. He did state that the recipe will be considered in the future. He said that while he must practice good fiscal management, he will "definitely tailor (his) goals to fulfilling the objectives of the Changing Course program."

SPRING CLEANING

With the Cooperative Extension Service's emphasis on proper use and disposal of toxic household products, the following article will help in reducing the use of toxic residential materials.

The six most common and useful cleaning products in the home are vinegar, baking soda, salt, chlorine bleach, ammonia and washing soda.

Sinks, tubs, ranges: For non-abrasive cleaning, use baking soda or washing soda on a damp sponge. To remove rust or mineral spots, try vinegar or lemon juice.

Ovens: Place a bowl of ammonia into oven overnight to loosen baked on soil. Do not use in self-cleaning oven.

Refrigerator: Clean in and outside with solution of 1 tablespoon of baking soda or washing soda to 1 quart of warm water.

Chrome: Rub with baking soda or washing soda or vinegar on a damp cloth. Polish with dry cloth. Rubbing alcohol works, too.

Grout: Clean grout between tiles with an old toothbrush using a solution of ¾ cup chlorine bleach with 1 gallon of water. Rinse.

Tiles: Rub with cloth moistened with vinegar or mix 1 cup detergent, 1 gallon water and 1 cup bleach. Scrub with brush, let set 2 hours. Rinse. May need to be repeated.

Windows: Use a solution of ½ cup vinegar to ½ gallon of water. Dry with crumpled newspapers.

Aluminum: To remove discoloration from aluminum pans, place a solution of two tablespoons of lemon juice and one quart of water in a pan, boil 10 minutes.

Copper: To remove tarnish from bottom of copper pans, mix 1 cup vinegar and ¼ cup salt. Rub pans with cloth dipped in solution. Store unused portion of mixture in covered jar.

Plastics: Mix ¾ cup bleach, ¾ cup baking soda and 1 cup vinegar. This solution will bubble when mixed. Pour into stained container and let stand 5 minutes.

Wax Removal: Wipe floor tiles or linoleum with a solution of 1 cup of ammonia and 1 gallon of water.

Caution: DO NOT MIX ammonia with chlorine bleach. This combination produces dangerous fumes.

For more information or a program on use, storage and disposal of dangerous household products, please contact Irmgard R. Koscielniak, Home Economics Agent, Cooperative Extension Service, 202 S. Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

AHA Launches "Save A Sweet Heart" Project

Hopefully, the more than 8,000 students in Allegany and Garrett counties' schools are starting the 1990's thinking about the rest of their lives — as nonsmokers, according to the American Heart Association.

It's part of the Association's "Save A Sweet Heart" program in the two school systems and, according to G. Paul Sagal, Jr., chairman of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division, it's a positive reinforcement for a healthy lifestyle.

"Nonsmoking is becoming more and more popular as Americans learn the dangers of smoking," Sagal said. "Save A Sweet Heart uses positive peer pressure to encourage teenagers to either stop smoking or not begin. Since teenagers tend to want to be like their friends, it's important that the decision to be a nonsmoker is positive for the individual, as well as the group."

Of the nearly 47 million smokers in the United States, approximately three million are teenagers. Sagal says "Save A Sweet Heart" (SASH) takes an important step to combat that trend.

"Save A Sweet Heart" is a student-run program that covers up to 11 school weeks beginning in January. The program's activities include an advertising campaign using posters with positive images of non-smoking and public address announcements. The main focus of the program is on student collecting pledges from smokers not to smoke on "Save A Sweet Heart Day," a designated day of no smoking, and pledges not to start smoking within a year from nonsmokers.

This year a writing program/contest including radio public service announcements, news articles, and posters is being co-sponsored by WTBO/WKGO, Cumberland; WMSG/WXIE, Oakland; WKHJ, Mt. Lake Park; Cumberland Times/News, Cumberland; The Republican, Oakland; and the Garrett County Weekender, Oakland. For more information on the rules and guidelines for these SASH contests, persons may contact the SASH coordinator at your middle or high school. In many schools, the home economics or health education teacher is the faculty advisor for the SASH program.

According to the AHA, cigarette smoking is the leading preventable cause of death in the United States. About 390,000 deaths each year are attributed to smoking. Of those, about 36% are because of diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

For more information on the American Heart Association or on "Save A Sweet Heart," persons may contact the local American Heart Association Office at (301) 724-4011.

The American Heart Association is the nation's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to the reduction of disability and death from heart and blood vessel diseases, which annually kill almost one million Americans. Last year the AHA spent more than $150 million for research support and public and professional education and community programs.

SASH MATERIALS DONATED TO SCHOOLS — Thousands of dollars of free American Heart Association schoolsite materials have been donated to Garrett County middle and high schools for the Save A Sweet Heart (SASH) program over the past five years, according to Dr. Walter K. Naumann, chairman of the Garrett County Branch of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division. Pictured left to right are American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division Garrett County Branch volunteers Patrick Gregg, public information co-chairman; Frankie Greise, division director of the AHA; William Baker, development chairman; Luther D. Parrack, Jr., director of middle and secondary education, Garrett County Board of Education; Dr. Naumann, branch chairman and chairman elect for the Division.

FRIENDSVILLE NEWS

REGISTRATION

There will be a voter registration for the citizens of Friendsville at the Town Hall on Tuesday, January 22, from 4-6 p.m. for all those citizens who have not previously registered to vote in the town election in February 1991. Persons must be 18 years of age, a citizen of Maryland for at least a year, and a citizen of Friendsville for at least six months.

PRIMARY ELECTION

A primary election will be held Monday, January 28, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Friendsville Municipal Building (Town Hall) to select six council candidates for the February 12 general election.

OBITUARY

Evelyn G. Frazee, 90, died Sunday, January 6, 1990, at the Putnam Memorial Nursing Home in Palatka, Fla., after a long illness.

Born Dec. 25, 1900, she was a former resident of Friendsville. She was the daughter of the late John and Katie Hoff. She grew up in the Blooming Rose area, where she was married to Richard Frazee, and then moved to Canton, Ohio, in 1920. Mr. Frazee died in 1963.

Mrs. Frazee resided in Ohio until 1971, when she moved to Florida.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William (Patricia) Snee, Rocky Mount, N.C.; one son, Ralph V. Frazee, Palatka, Fla.; three sisters, Martha Kinsinger, Louisville, Ohio, Susan Miday, Dellroy, Ohio, and Dorothy La Chat, Massillon, Ohio; one brother, John Hoff, of Indiana; seven grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Following a funeral service, interment was in Canton, Ohio.

Mikulski Objects To Cutting Home Heating Program

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski (D-Md) sent President Bush a letter expressing her outrage at proposed cuts in the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program by Health and Human Service Secretary Dr. Louis W. Sullivan. Secretary Sullivan's new policy would totally eliminate the State of Maryland from the federal home heating program.

"This proposal is unacceptable, especially since the proposed cuts to Maryland come at a time when the demand and the need is greater than ever," said Mikulski. "More than 80,000 households in Maryland will receive federal home-heating aid this year. Without this assistance, Marylanders may have to choose between food for their families and heating for their homes. No one in Maryland should be faced with this dilemma."

Applications for grants were up 7 to 10 percent this year. According to the Office of the Maryland Energy Assistance Program, the state of Maryland, which is facing budget deficits, is not confident that they can replace the federal aid.

On Dean's List

Four Garrett County residents were named to the dean's list at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, W.Va., in December, according to Dr. H. Dean Peters, vice president for academic affairs.

Receiving a perfect 4.0 grade point average was Scott Andrew Rolf.

Those obtaining a 3.2 average were Tracey Ann Frazee, Erica Shayne Couch, and Jodi Linn Wilt.

Carbon Monoxide Warning Issued

"Maryland employers and workers should be on the alert for increased danger of exposure to deadly carbon monoxide gas during the winter months," warned Henry Koellein Jr., Maryland's Commissioner of Labor and Industry and an official of the Department of Licensing and Regulation. The risk of accidental poisoning increases when doors and windows are closed. Current concerns over energy conservation can further decrease ventilation, raising levels of gas already present in the atmosphere.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless and tasteless gas which gives no warning to its victims. Produced as a by-product of combustion, it is commonly found in many commercial and industrial facilities. These include warehouses which operate gasoline or propane powered equipment, auto repair shops, foundries, blast furnaces, commercial laundries and bakeries.

Symptoms of exposure to carbon monoxide poisoning can be headaches, fatigue, nausea and dizziness. Continued exposure leads to muscle weakness, confusion, unconsciousness, collapse, and even death. Large doses can kill in minutes or cause permanent heart or brain damage in victims who recover. Because co-workers can be easily overcome while rendering assistance to a victim, immediate ventilation and first aid are vital. "All workers who face the danger of exposure to this potentially lethal substance should be trained to recognize the symptoms and be able to respond quickly and appropriately in an emergency," stresses Commissioner Koellein.

1990 marks the 10th year that Maryland Occupational Safety and Health (MOSH), an agency of the Department of Labor and Industry, is sponsoring its annual winter months' educational campaign stressing prevention and treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning. Free fact sheets, available to the public by request, contain valuable information of special interest to affected employees, employee groups and service organizations, labor unions, trade associations and management. Employers can obtain a free consultation to evaluate the worksite for carbon monoxide hazards by calling 333-4210. For additional information, or to request publications, persons may contact MOSH, 501 St. Paul Place, Maryland 21202, 301-333-4164; or toll-free in Maryland 1-800-492-6226, ext. 4133.

Demo Club To Meet Tuesday

The Garrett County Democratic Club will meet Tuesday, January 22, at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College in McHenry, in the Continuing Education Building, Room 306. Prior to the business meeting, representatives of the Garrett County Board of Elections have been invited to participate in an informal question and answer session regarding the Garrett County election process, how election judges are selected, etc.

At the last meeting, a slate of officers was presented and were unanimously elected to serve for the next two years. They are: president, Phyllis Trickett; vice-president, Bruce Opel; secretary, Doris Goldsborough; and treasurer, Harold Trickett.

All interested Democrats are urged to attend. Light refreshments will be served.

Committee For Logger/Forestry Field Day Meets

The Maryland Forests Association Planning Committee for the Second Annual Logger/Forestry Field Day, scheduled for June 14-15, met January 10 at the Holiday Inn in Grantsville.

Approximately 70 businesses were contacted by the committee as exhibitors. Letters were sent to each business place soliciting their attendance at the Field Day.

The purpose of the Field Day is to provide information and education to loggers, forest landowners, and the general public on the management of natural resources.

Information on the Field Day will also be sent to many information and crafts groups to get their partcipation in the program. Information or crafts groups interested in participating in the program should contact the Maryland Forest, Park & Wildlife Service office at Mt. Nebo, telephone 301-334-3296.

Post Offices To Be Closed Monday

Post offices, stations and branches will be closed on Monday, January 21, in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Birthday, Baltimore Division General Manager/Postmaster Richard W. Rudez has announced.

Delivery services will be limited to Express Mail and Special Delivery at offices having receipt of mail. One collection will be made from collection boxes located in front of main offices, stations and branches, self-service postal centers and designated business and residential areas in the Baltimore Metropolitan area. All scheduled firm pickups will be provided.

Local customers may purchase stamps from vending units which are open 24-hours daily at the Oakland and Mtn. Lake Part post offices.

Oakland Chapter Of OES Holds Advance Night

Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star met Tuesday, January 15, at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple in Oakland.

Judy Travis, worthy matron, opened with a reading, "That Woman is a Success" after which Dick Travis, worthy patron, led the Pledge of Allegiance and all joined in singing the National Anthem.

Mrs. Travis greeted Mildred Martin and Rosalie Shobe, past grand matrons; Mary Alice Millholland and Wilda Hile, deputy grand lecturers of Maryland; Juanita Bosley, deputy instructor of West Virginia; Joy Lou Fogle and Charles Thomas, worthy matron and worthy patron of another chapter; Archie Minor, grand representative; all officers, members and visitors.

Mrs. Millholland was invited to be seated in the East, after which Mr. and Mrs. Travis were escorted to the West. Wilma and Archie Minor advanced to the East and the degrees of initiation were conferred on Earl Rinker.

Programs were presented for the deputy grand lecturer's official visit, "Hearts for Our Deputy," and "The Pathway of Love & Light" for Mr. and Mrs. Minor.

Gifts were presented to each by the Travises. The Minors presented gifts, greeted their counterparts and thanked them for coming.

The next meeting will be February 5, honoring past matrons and past patrons of Oakland Chapter, a Valentine's Day program, election of officers for the ensuing year, and grand sessions to be held in Hagerstown at the Ramada, April 28 through May 1. Mrs. Travis closed with a reading "That Man is a Success" and refreshments were served by Mary Clark and her committee.

On Dean's List

Megan Grace Mathews, a resident of McHenry and a sophomore at Bethany College, Bethany, W.Va., has been designated "distinguished in scholarship" and named to the Dean's List for the fall semester of the College's 1990-1991 academic year.

Mathews, a political science major, is the daughter of Linda Mathews, McHenry, and a graduate of Cameron High School in West Virginia.

To be designated "distinguished in scholarship," a Bethany student must have a grade point average of 3.65 or better (on a 4.0 scale) and have completed at least 12 graded hours during the semester.

Bethany is a private, liberal arts college located in the northern panhandle of West Virginia. Founded in 1840, Bethany is the Mountain State's oldest degree-granting institution of higher learning.

Spinach is a member of the goosefoot plant family. Surprisingly, it is first cousin to the beet. Eating spinach is a good way to build up iron in the blood.

HEARING AIDS
DO YOU HAVE FEEDBACK OR WHISTLING WITH YOUR HEARING AID?
ARE YOU CONTINUALLY ADJUSTING THE VOLUME?
This is a common complaint that we hear from many hearing aid users. With the new Cleartone hearing aids you will not have feedback once the hearing aid is completely in your ear. You will not have to continually adjust the volume control, because the hearing aid will automatically reduce the loud noises for you.
We have found that it even helps those who have Tinnitus "ringing ears".
Come in today for a no-cost hearing evaluation and demonstration of the hearing aid!

March Of Dimes Opposes Criminal Action Against Pregnant Drug Users

The March of Dimes announced this week that it opposes the criminalization of substance abuse by pregnant women and advocates treatment on demand for such women. "Pregnant substance abusers are not likely to seek prenatal care at the price of their freedom," said March of Dimes President Jennifer L. Howse, Ph.D. "The threat of imprisonment will only drive away those we seek to help. Only with treatment can these women change their lives and give their babies a fighting chance for a healthy birth."

Dr. Howse then called on the American people to work together to support efforts that will:

•Harness and coordinate community and governmental resources necessary to eliminate the social dynamics that spawn and contribute to the abuse of substances by women of childbearing age.

•Assist the pregnant woman in making the appropriate behavioral choices that are consistent with her best health and that of her developing child.

•Make available upon demand the comprehensive therapeutic interventions which meet the specific needs of the pregnant woman suffering from the disease of addiction.

•Develop model treatment environments that provide the best opportunities for successful outcomes and that support the best interests of the entire family.

•Advance the level of scientific and clinical knowledge in the medical management of this disease and the special considerations of its management during pregnancy.

The Allegany/Garrett County March of Dimes is part of a national voluntary health agency whose mission is to help babies be born health by preventing birth defects, low birthweight and infant mortality. Through its Campaign for Healthier Babies, the March of Dimes funds programs of community service, advocacy, research and education. For further information on the March of Dimes programs, persons may call Trish Morgan, community director, at 301/722-5818.

Child Support Tax Intercept Program Begins

Tax time is here again and parents delinquent in their child support payments beware. The Department of Human Resources' Tax Refund Intercept Program is in effect and some persons' federal or state tax return could be garnished.

The Tax Refund Intercept Program (TRIP) is available to families who are owed child support, but are unable to collect it.

The Internal Revenue Service will intercept a federal income tax refund if a person is in arrears $500 or more. The Maryland Comptroller of the Treasury will intercept a state income tax refund if a person is in arrears of $150 or more.

Last year, 18,601 state income tax returns, totaling $3,958,321, were intercepted. Through November, 24,270 federal income tax returns totaling $14,833,580.14 were intercepted.

In order for TRIP to help a person to collect back child support, the support obligation owed must be payable through a court or public support collection agency.

A $25 fee will be deducted from any federal income tax refund and $10 from any intercepted state tax refund.

Serve As Pages

regional art contests, in photography, held by the church.

Susan is the daughter of John and Virginia (Rosie) Cupler, Grantsville.

Jennifer Dawn Thorn, a senior at Southern High School, was selected as an alternate page but recently learned she would be serving as page because the student selected was unable to serve.

In addition to being selected as the 23rd annual Autumn Glory Queen, Thorn is a member of the National Honor Society, the Quill and Scroll Honor Society, the SHS Mock Trial Team and the Ski Club. She was previously a member of SHOP (Students Helping Other People) and the Girls' Athletic Association.

Thorn served as a page girl (one of two girls with the highest academic average in grades 9-11) for the SHS 1990 graduation exercises. She is editor-in-chief of the school yearbook, treasurer of the Student Council, and has most recently been selected as the Southern High School winner of the National Honor Society Scholarship Program.

She has also received the U.S. Achievement Awards in science, leadership and student council.

Jennifer is the daughter of Donald and Carolyn Thorn, Mtn. Lake Park.

As pages, the selected students throughout the state will be assigned duties in either the House of Delegates or the State Senate. The program is designed to interest youth in state government, more specifically, the proceedings of the legislature; increase participation in government and foster leadership among youth, and provide students with worthwhile experiences in state government, especially the legislature.

Did You Know?

by Karen F. Spiker

On January 3, Governor Schaefer joined with the entire Maryland Association of Realtors and proclaimed the months of January and February for "DO IT NOW! BUY A MARYLAND HOME!"

During the news conference immediately following the proclamation, the reasons for buying "NOW" were simplified into three "I's."

Interest Rate — Right now we have available the lowest mortgage interest rates in over a decade.

Inventory — There is currently a wide selection of homes from which to choose. A homebuyer is not limited in his choices, but may thoroughly evaluate many offerings according to family desires and needs.

Investment — Homeownership is still the best investment and the most consistent type of investment an individual can make. For permanent homes, in addition to the continuing appreciation of real estate, our homes provide for our families basic needs and are the center for our whole family life.

For second homes, just contrast a vacation home investment with stocks or bonds. Can your family enjoy their weekend skiing on a stock investment? No, your second home provides many days of quality, family activities.

My challenge to you — if you have considered buying real estate, then do so now. Everything is right to make the best deal on selection, price, and interest.

Part I

GENERAL ALL-PURPOSE STIR-FRY RECIPE

"Stir-frying" is cooking vegetables and meats over very high heat while constantly stirring and tossing them. This causes the ingredients to sear on the outside and cook very quickly so vegetables retain much of their color and firmness. Also, very little nutrition is lost in the cooking process, so Chinese food is very healthful.

This is a simple stir-fry recipe that you can make up yourself, choosing which ingredients you or your guests like the most.

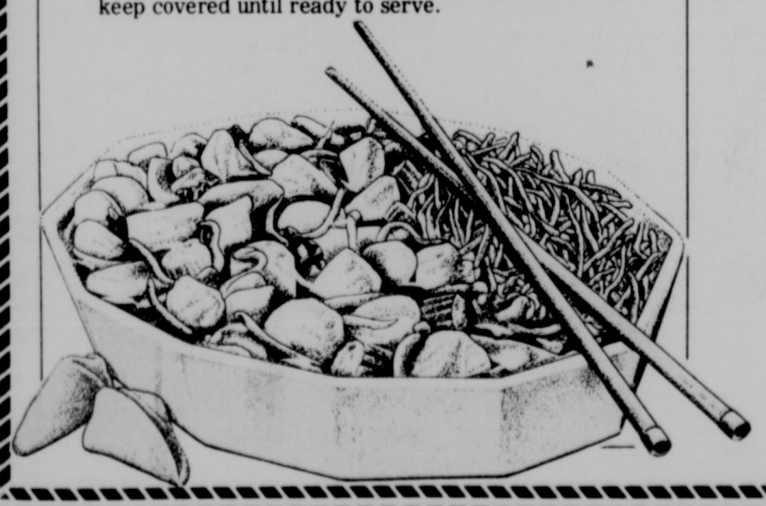
List 1:
Pork
Beef
Chicken
Shrimp

List 2:
Button Mushrooms
Fresh Mushrooms
Straw Mushrooms
Chinese Dried Mushrooms

List 3:
Broccoli
Carrots
Bean Sprouts
Snow Peas
Green Onions
Green Peppers
Bamboo Shoots
Water Chestnuts
Roasted Peanuts

Soy Sauce Mixture: Mix together 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¼ cup water, and ½ teaspoon sugar.

Choose one item from list 1, one or two items from list 2, and two or three items from list 3 above. Use as much of each item as you like, but figure on at least one-half pound of uncooked meat and one-half cup each of chopped vegetables per person (if your prefer a vegetarian dish, omit list 1). Clean all vegetables and chop into bite-sized chunks or strips. Trim fat from meat and chop. If shrimp is used, devein. Prepare soy sauce mixture, set aside.



Heat a wok or large skillet over high heat, add 1 tablespoon cooking oil. Stir-fry 1 clove minced garlic until fragrant, about 30 seconds. Add meat and stir-fry until cooked through. Remove meat from wok to a warm platter; add more oil if necessary.

Add all vegetables to wok except peanuts. (Note: "hard" vegetables, like broccoli, carrots, or snow peas, may be blanched or steamed for a few minutes before stir-frying in order to soften up a bit. If this is not done, they should be added to the wok first and fried for a few minutes before adding other vegetables.) Stir-fry vegetables until tender-crisp, no longer than five minutes.

Return meat to wok. Stir soy sauce mixture, add to wok. Stir until thickened and bubbly. Reduce heat to medium, cover and cook about 1 minute longer. Stir in peanuts now, if desired. Serve immediately over hot cooked rice.

PERFECT RICE EVERY TIME

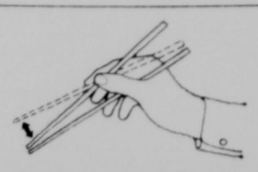
Many people have trouble getting rice to come out well. It sticks, it burns, it boils over . . . Well, here's an easy way to get perfect rice every time: figure on a ratio of one part uncooked rice to one and one-half parts water (for instance, one cup rice to one and one-half cups water). Put rice and water together in a saucepan and bring just to a boil. When boiling just begins, reduce heat to simmer and wait until boil dies down. Cover and cook about 20 minutes, until rice is fluffy and white. Remove from heat immediately, but keep covered until ready to serve.

PORK WITH MANY-FLAVOR SAUCE

1 pound lean pork, shredded
1 egg white
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
Peanut or vegetable oil for deep frying
1 slice fresh gingerroot, minced
1 clove garlic, minced
4 scallions, minced
2 tablespooons hoisin sauce
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 tablespoon dry sherry
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 teaspoon sugar
1 cup shredded bok choy
½ cup shredded sweet green pepper
2 tablespoons red pepper flakes
½ cup shredded bamboo shoots
4 dried Chinese black mushrooms, soaked and shredded
1 teaspoon sesame oil

Marinate the pork slices in the egg white, cornstarch, and soy sauce for 1 hour. Heat oil to 375F. Deep fry pork until done, about 1 minute. Drain and set aside. Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a small saucepan. Stir-fry the gingerroot, garlic, and the scallions until fragrant. Add the hoisin sauce, vinegar, sherry, soy sauce, and sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Keep warm. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in a wok or large skillet. Stir-fry the bok choy, green peppers, pepper flakes, bamboo shoots, and mushrooms for 1 minute. Add the pork and seasoning sauce. Stir to mix. Stir in the sesame oil. Serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHINESE FRIED RICE



2 beaten eggs
3 tablespoons cooking oil
½ cup finely diced fully cooked ham or raw pork
¼ cup finely chopped fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons thinly sliced green onion
4 cups cooked rice
Soy sauce

In a 10-inch skillet cook beaten eggs in 1 tablespoon of the oil, without stirring, until set. Invert skillet over a baking sheet to remove cooked eggs, cut into short, narrow strips. In the same skillet cook ham or pork, mushrooms, 3 tablespoons soy sauce, and green onion in remaining oil about 4 minutes or until mushrooms and onion are tender. Stir in cooked rice and egg strips, heat through. Serve with additional soy sauce. Garnish with fried egg strips and sliced mushrooms, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHICKEN WITH WALNUTS

1½ pounds whole chicken breasts, skinned, split, and boned
3 tablespoons soy sauce
2 teaspoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1 teaspoon grated gingerroot
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon crushed red pepper
2 tablespoons cooking oil
2 medium green peppers, cut into ¾-inch pieces
4 green onions, bias-sliced into 1-inch lengths
1 cup walnut halves

Cut chicken into 1-inch pieces. Set aside. In small bowl blend soy sauce into cornstarch, stir in dry sherry, gingerroot, sugar, salt, and red pepper. Set aside. Preheat a wok or large skillet over high heat, add cooking oil. Stir-fry green peppers and green onions in hot oil 2 minutes or until crisp-tender. Remove from wok. Add walnuts to wok, stir-fry 1 to 2 minutes or until just golden. Remove from wok. (Add more oil, if necessary). Add half of the chicken to hot wok or skillet, stir-fry 2 minutes. Remove from wok. Stir-fry remaining chicken 2 minutes. Return all chicken to wok or skillet. Stir soy mixture, stir into chicken. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Stir in vegetables, cover and cook 1 minute more. Serve at once. Garnish with fresh kumquats and serve with hot cooked rice, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

EATING WITH CHOPSTICKS

Before your next Oriental party, try this simple practice with chopsticks or pencils to impress guests with your chopstick dexterity. Place one chopstick, about two-thirds of its length from the narrow tip, in the hollow between the base of the thumb and index finger. Let the chopstick rest on the end of the ring finger or little finger. Close the base of the thumb over the chopstick to hold it securely. In the same hand hold the second chopstick firmly between the tip of the thumb and the index finger, with the middle finger resting on the first chopstick. Hold the chopsticks about an inch apart and parallel to each other. To pick up food, the index and middle fingers move the chopstick with the thumb steadying it. You move only the top chopstick, the bottom remains stationary. Hold the chopsticks at an angle to the plate and pick up food with the narrow tips. While eating, occasionally tap the ends of the chopsticks to keep the tips even.

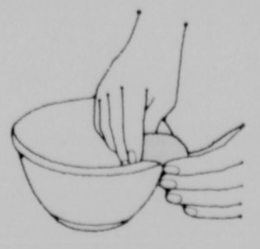
SZECHWAN BEEF

1 pound beef flank steak or beef top round steak
3 tablespoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons Chinese rice wine or dry white wine
2 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon cooking oil
2 cloves garlic, minced
6 to 8 dried whole red chili peppers, crushed, or 1 to 1½ teaspoons crushed red pepper
2 teaspoons grated gingerroot
2 carrots, thinly bias sliced
4 green onions, cut into 1-inch pieces
Fried Rice Sticks

Partially freeze beef. Thinly cut, across the grain, into ¼-inch-thick slices. Stack slices and cut into thin strips. For sauce, in a bowl stir together soy sauce, rice wine or white wine, water, cornstarch, and sugar. Set aside. Preheat a wok or large skillet. Add oil. (Add more oil as necessary during stir-frying). Stir-fry garlic, dried peppers, and gingerroot in hot oil for 30 seconds. Add carrots and stir-fry for 1 minute. Add green onions and stir-fry for 1 minute more. Remove from wok. Add half of the beef to the wok. Stir-fry for 2 to 3 minutes or until done. Remove meat from wok. Stir-fry remaining beef for 2 to 3 minutes. Return all meat to wok. Push meat from the center of the wok. Stir sauce, add to center of wok. Cook and stir until mixture is thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir for 1 minute more. Stir in vegetable mixture. Serve over rice sticks or rice. Makes 4 servings.

Fried Rice Sticks: In deep hot cooking oil (375F) fry 2 ounces rice sticks about 5 seconds or until puffed. Drain fried rice sticks on paper towels.

SLICE MEAT THE EASY WAY



Once you learn to slice meat thinly, you're well on your way to becoming a skilled Oriental cook. The trick to mastering this technique is to partially freeze the meat (or partially thaw frozen meat) and then thinly slice it across the grain. Allow 45 to 60 minutes to partially freeze a 1-inch-thick piece of meat.

FORTUNE COOKIES

¼ cup sifted cake flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Dash salt
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 egg white
1 tablespoon water

Sift together flour, sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Add oil and egg white, stir until smooth. Add the water, mix well. Make one cookie at a time by pouring 1 tablespoonful of the batter on lightly greased skillet or griddle, spread to 3½-inch circle. Cook over low heat about 4 minutes or until lightly browned. Turn with wide spatula, cook 1 minute more. Working quickly, place cookie on pot holder. Put paper strip printed with fortune in center, fold cookie in half and then fold again over edge of bowl. Place in muffin pan to cool. Makes 8.

Preparation tip: Before you start making the cookies, write fortunes with predictions of good health, prosperity, and/or happiness on small strips of paper for enclosing in the cookies as instructed above.

Winter's Silent Majesty

A gentle stream winds lazily through the alabaster meadow, a mirror etched in the snow, reflecting the trees' barren branches frosted in white. The bright winter sun caresses the trees, casting bluish gray shadows while the snow sparkles like diamonds on this clear and frosty winter day.

Ecclesiastes 3:1 tells us that "For every thing there is a season and a time for every matter under heaven."

As we worship our Heavenly Father this week, let us thank Him for winter's silent majesty, and for the panoramic kaleidoscope of all of the seasons as each one passes before us, displaying a unique sensuality and beauty beyond compare.

BEWARE OF AMATEUR MEDICAL ADVISERS

It seems that almost everybody is eager to practice medicine. Mention having an ailment of any kind and everyone from helpful friends to advertising medicine men offer a treatment. They are like the blind leading the blind.

The fallacy of amateurs is that they only treat symptoms of sickness, not the cause. Only a physician has the knowledge to diagnose what is causing the trouble. The physician prescribes the particular medicine his long studies and experience decides is best. That is why prescriptions are more effective than over the counter medicines. We can fill any prescription.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE CRY AT MIDNIGHT!
January 13, 1991

Background Scripture:
Matthew 25:1-13.
Devotional Reading:
Ephesians 6:10-20.

Have you ever noticed that sometimes the New Testament is surprisingly understanding of human failure, while at other times equally harsh. The answer, I suppose, is that Jesus often had rather different standards. He took a very liberal interpretation of the sabbath laws, but he could also be very uncompromising in judging hypocrisy.

The parable of the wise and foolish maidens is a good example for here we find a rather harsh judgment rendered on that which is usually regarded as a minor character flaw rather than an important sin. The five maidens who failed to provide for themselves enough oil for their lamps were not only late in getting to the wedding celebration, but they were refused admission: "Truly, I say to you, I do not know you," said the bridegroom and he did not open the door.

That seems somewhat strict, doesn't it? After all, these five maidens hadn't meant any harm. They just came to the feast unprepared. They had forgotten to check their lamps to see if they had enough oil for the evening. Yes, that's a social faux pas or even a stupid mistake—that's why they were called the "foolish maidens"—but hardly a sin or an offense.

CONSEQUENCES!

But the bridegroom wasn't punishing or penalizing the five foolish maidens. He simply didn't recognize them for he knew how rude it was for anyone to try to gain admission to the marriage feast after the door was closed. Jesus, it would seem, is saying, then, that there are certain consequences for unpreparedness. If you're not ready when the cry comes at midnight, that's your problem because you know better. To fail to prepare when we know better is really a callous disregard for others. Sometimes people will say, "I'm sorry, I forgot," as if that is a justification. But the question is: why did you forgot? We rarely forget something that is really important to us.

That's the clue right there, isn't it? If something is important to us, we are not caught unprepared. If we are unprepared, it is legitimate to assume that it was not important to us. The five "foolish maidens" were more than just foolish—they had an attitude problem. They didn't count this important even important enough to them to make the proper preparation.

In Jesus' day the wedding feast was one of the most important social and religious celebrations in any village. The high point of the celebration came when the bridegroom escorted the bride from her father's house to the couples' new home. The 10 maidens went on ahead to wait for the bridal party at their new home. But the bridal party was delayed and so the maidens fell asleep as they waited. Midnight hardly seems a decent hour for a wedding party, but that's when the bridal party came to their new home. It wasn't until the bridegroom and bride arrived that the five foolish maidens checked their lamps for oil. They waited until the very last minute.

Although Matthew related this parable strictly to the second coming of Jesus—"Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour"—it has broader implications for all of life, too. Many of the best opportunities and challenges come to us like the cry at midnight in the parable. When that cry comes is no time to begin to check on our preparedness. The time to make ourselves ready is before the cry.

Maryland Farm Bureau Delegates Adopt Wide Variety Of Resolutions

Maryland Farm Bureau delegates adopted a wide range of resolutions as the organization's 1991 policy at their annual convention held in Ocean City last December.

According to Garrett County Farm Bureau Vice President and convention delegate Brooks Hamilton, major discussions centered around the report of the Governor's 2020 Commission, proposed greenways, such as the "rails to trails" legislation, and limiting the terms of state legislators.

The 2020 Commission, officially titled the Governor's Commission on Growth in the Chesapeake Bay Region, exists to provide recommendations to Gov. William Donald Schaefer for the management of the state's growth and environmental resources. Its draft report, released in the form of a proposed bill, calls for extensive state control of land-use planning to concentrate development and protect environmentally-sensitive areas.

"This kind of legislation would have a big effect on Garrett County farmers," Hamilton said. Maryland Farm Bureau delegates considered the 2020 Commission's recommendations a threat to farmland equity.

Public Affairs Director Jack Miller expressed his concern to delegates that there is a move afoot in the state government to ramrod the 2020 Commission report through the legislature before all the implications it carries are examined.

"I hope nothing is done this year with an issue of this magnitude," Miller said. "It's going to take time to study this."

Farm Bureau delegates voted to recommend that more time be given the state legislature and the public for consideration of the 2020 Commission's report and its implications.

Delegates voted to oppose the development of greenways in rural areas. The resolution states: "We oppose public access to private land without the permission of the landowner. We recognize the value of urban greenways, but oppose greenway designation in rural/agricultural areas of Maryland due to the potential for trespass, vandalism, or other interference with productive agriculture. Any legislation for the study or designation of greenway corridors must include a requirement for notification to all owners of private property that adjoin the proposed greenway before a study commences."

Greenways are designed to allow people to hike from place to place without walking on highways, while they enjoy natural surroundings. Greenways can be connecting parks, or simple strips of land several feet across. Prime targets for greenways are abandoned railways. According to Hamilton, delegates from the Eastern Shore, where a number of greenways have already been established, reported numerous problems with trespass, vandalism, and littering, and a general lack of respect for private property.

MFB delegates got into a heated dialogue on whether to support a resolution limiting the term of state legislators.

Opposition to the proposal was based on the idea that with issues such as wetlands regulations and the 2020 Commission report on the legislative agenda, the Farm Bureau does not want to be sending a message that could be interpreted as an attack on the legislature.

"There are about 13,000 members of the Farm Bureau (in Maryland)," said Howard County delegate Martha Clark. "There are 13,000 people in a single housing development in Charles County. You don't carry the weight that you think you do." Clark said it was important to keep agriculturally-minded legislators in office and not limit their terms.

Robert Miller, a delegate from Wicomico County, gave a different opinion. "I don't think there is a thread of evidence to indicate that there is a connection between the amount of pay and the performance you get. The biggest agriculture state, California, asked for a limitation of terms. I don't think that a limitation of tenure is going to hurt agriculture," he said.

The delegates defeated the resolution to limit the tenure of state legislators. However, they did vote to "recommend that no retirement benefits accrue to any elected official as a result of service in that elected position." And they voted to oppose pay increases for state legislators unless they are approved by a popular referendum.

A resolution was approved to mandate that the state's nontidal wetland regulations not be more stringent than federal regulations. And the delegates urged local control of regulations and permits limiting use of wetlands.

Delegates debated additional wording to MFB's current policy opposing interference with livestock and poultry production. The wording, which delegates later voted to add, reads: "We encourage our county, state and federal government to take immediate steps to bring an end to the animal rights activists' disturbance. Some have labeled this group as animal rights terrorists."

Don Hoppes, a Harford County delegate, said the additional wording would "wave a red flag" in the face of animal rights groups.

Gene Umbarger, also of Harford County, said: "You don't try to bully people into doing something. People have a right to say what they believe and support groups they believe in."

Charles Wiles, a delegate from Washington County, countered: "The word 'terrorist' is a label. They are holding us hostage. That wording was intentional."

In other state resolutions, the body voted to:

•recommend the MDA place phragmites on the noxious weed list;

•recommend the state use open space money to increase funding for the Maryland gypsy moth program;

•oppose the recommendation of the Maryland State Board of Education to extend the school year to 200 days and recommend the 180-day school year be retained;

•encourage the Maryland Department of Agriculture to continue the services now offered at regional veterinary laboratories and not to charge a fee for services;

•urge that the Extension Service place an agent in any county where a position is vacated;

•support continued and additional state and federal funding of best management practices to reduce runoff and groundwater contamination;

•requested that sewage sludge spread on agricultural land be sampled in the field, and a composite test be taken and recorded each day, and recommended that local governments keep a permanent record on land deeds of properties where sludge has been applied;

•urge legislation requiring beverage containers be made of recyclable materials, and recommend that a sufficient deposit be charged to assure return for recycling; urge expanded research with biodegradable agricultural crops, such as corn, to supplement or replace petroleum-made containers;

•endorsed the Maryland Agriculture Education Foundation in its endeavors to upgrade agriculture education for Maryland students as well as increase the public awareness of the importance of agriculture and its career opportunities, and supported the foundation's effort to secure a grant from the Maryland Legislature to help fund their programs;

•supported the expansion of integrated pest management programs in the state, and encouraged research to develop biological pest controls.

Among many other resolutions passed was one encouraging a ban on various non-degradable plastic products. They suggested county, state and national laws to prohibit the use of non-degradable six-pack rings by Jan. 1, 1991; the sale of non-degradable grocery bags and trash bags by Jan. 1, 1992; and the sale of non-degradable disposable diapers by Oct. 1, 1993. They supported research in cost-effective alternate uses for agricultural commodities that would increase demand and, thus, improve marketing potential.

The resolution continued, "We request that our governor, secretary of agriculture and treasurer require all state vehicles use gasoline with ethanol to help improve the air quality of our region."

Lastly, they recommended that the Bay Bridge Authority be requested to use CMA, a de-icer that can be made from corn, on one bridge, and regular de-icing material (salt) on the other, to test the value of CMA, and if it causes any damage to the metal and concrete of the bridge.

MARYLAND FARM BUREAU CONVENTION — Members of the Garrett County Farm Bureau attended the annual Maryland Farm Bureau Convention in Ocean City in December. At the state convention, county delegates from across the state proposed and voted on resolutions which formed the 1991 Maryland Farm Bureau policy. Much of this policy advanced for a national vote to form national Farm Bureau policy at the American Farm Bureau Federation's 72nd annual meeting held last week in Phoenix, Arizona. Those attending the state convention, pictured above left to right, were: front row, Leona and William F. DeWitt, president; Dove DeBerry, Women's Committee co-chairperson; and Clark Kolb, secretary/ treasurer; back row, Delegate Leslie and Betty Guard; Karen Engel, Women's Committee co-chairperson; Melissa Thomas, second-runner-up, Maryland Farm Queen Contest; and Brooks Hamilton, vice president. Also attending the Safemark banquet, but not pictured, was Lowell Merrill. Below, Garrett County Farm Queen, and second-runner-up in the Maryland Farm Queen Contest, Melissa Thomas, stands by the Maryland Farm Bureau display at the convention showing the motto: "Strength through service; Service through strength."

Weight Watchers NEW! PERSONAL CHOICE PROGRAM

Norma Male Area Director

Wouldn't you love a weight-loss program that lets you enjoy the foods you like — when and where you like — right from day one? That lets you choose the amount of food you eat? That lets you go from a structured format to complete flexibility whenever you want?

The new Personal Choice Program is the easiest Weight Watchers plan ever — an innovative weight-loss program featuring three levels that differ in amount of food and eating flexibility. You lose weight at your own pace by choosing the level that best meets your needs.

Three ways to thin.

Level One provides the fastest healthy weight loss. It's designed for people who are highly motivated to lose weight and who can follow a structured program.

Level Two, for moderate weight loss, is for those who prefer more food choices and more food plan flexibility.

Level Three is a gradual weight loss plan which allows people to eat the most food and enjoy the widest variety while continuing to lose weight.

You move, you still lose.

Now, you no longer have to abandon your weight-loss program to go to a party, take a vacation or eat in a restaurant. You simply move to a different food plan level that particular week.

All's fare in the Personal Choice Program.

On each level, you'll enjoy an incredible variety of real food.

Delicious, nutritious food is critical to eating healthy. So Weight Watchers doesn't have powdered drinks, or make you buy pre-rationed, boxed meals.

Join now. Pay only $15

Sign up today and save $13 off the regular $28 joining price. The new Personal Choice Program makes losing weight simple, even when life isn't.

Garrett Farm Bureau Members Attend 75th State Convention In Ocean City

Hundreds of delegates, guests, exhibitors and press assembled in early December for four days of educational and entertaining activities at the Maryland Farm Bureau's 75th annual convention in Ocean City.

Highlights included election of officers, a wetlands panel, new resolutions, workshops and the celebration of the annual awards banquet.

Attending from Garrett County were: Delegate Leslie and Betty Guard; President William and Leona DeWitt; Vice President Brooks Hamilton; Secretary/Treasurer Clark Kolb; Safemark Dealer Lowell Merrill; Women's Committee Co-Chairpersons Karen Engel and Dove DeBerry; and Garrett County Farm Queen Melissa Thomas, who was also second-runner-up in the Maryland Farm Queen Contest.

Maryland Farm Bureau President Edward Allen continues to serve the second year of his two-year term. Re-elected as first vice president was Wade Dudrow of Talbot County. Re-elected vice president was Oscar Grimes of Anne Arundel County. Elected as the other vice president was C. William Knill of Carroll County.

Mark Eck of Queen Anne's County was elected as the new chairman of the MFB Young Farmer Committee. Raymond Harrison III was elected as vice chairman and W. Michael Phipps will serve as Young Farmer secretary.

Wilma Mallow, of Allegany County, continues her two-year term as Farm Bureau Women's chairman. Fay Baase was re-elected as first vice chairman and Cora Widdowson was re-elected as second vice chairman.

Carroll County FB swept the awards banquet, receiving the Award of Excellence silver bowl for Outstanding County Farm Bureau and Outstanding County Farm Bureau Women's group. County President C. William Knill accepted the silver bowl award for his county. The honor is awarded annually to the county Farm Bureau that has attained the highest level of achievement in program development in eight categories.

The state Young Farmer group honored its top performers with the Outstanding Young Farmer and Rancher Award. This year's recipients were Stephen and Missy Hopkins of Anne Arundel County. The Hopkins traveled to Phoenix to vie for the national title at the annual AFBF convention Jan. 6-10.

MFB Director of Public Affairs Jack Miller was honored for his 15 years of service to Maryland Farm Bureau.

Delegates debated policies. See separate story for important resolutions passed at the annual meeting.

Safemark dealers earned top awards and were treated to a luncheon and presentation by Kelly-Springfield on Monday afternoon. Many Nationwide Insurance agents were present to be honored for their contributions to Maryland Farm Bureau over the past year.

The public and national affairs committee presented a panel on wetlands to help ease the confusion over property values and implementation of laws.

Entertainment for the convention was provided by the '50s band, "The Hubcaps," on Monday evening, followed by "J.R.'s Express" on Tuesday.

Other highlights included the inspirational vesper service on Sunday night with R.T. Hancock and featured speakers John Jarrett of Charles County, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr. and president of the Farm Credit Bank of Baltimore Gene Swackhamer.

BST Still on The Battleground

Controversy has again erupted over the use of Bovine Somatotropin (BST), the growth hormone that promises up to 25% more milk production per cow once it comes on-stream commercially. When that happens is anybody's guess right now. A National Institute of Health panel of doctors and scientists have given BST a clean bill of health, but that won't silence the voices of protest. There are concerns among some scientists over the effects of BST on animal health; some opponents say smaller dairy operations will be forced out of business as large operations expand production through BST; and others worry about residual drugs in milk if cows must be treated more frequently for such ailments as mastitis.

In a related development, the Foundation on Economic Trends, headed by consumer advocate Jeremy Rifkin, along with dairy farms from eight states, has brought suit against the National Dairy Promotion and Research Board. The suit charges the NDB and BST manufacturers with collusion to influence the Food and Drug Administration's decision on BST. FDA may be forced, simply by controversy, to delay BST's arrival on the commercial market until all issues can be settled and consumer acceptance is virtually assured.

More on the Upcoming Fish Workshop

Daniel Terlizzi, Aquaculture Specialist, will present a program on: 1) Environmental Requirements of Trout and Catfish; 2) Facilities Requirement (Ponds & Tanks); 3) Economics of Production; 4) Information for Planning and Determining the Potential of a Fish Raising Project; 5) Marketing Your Product; 6) Construction of Cages, Buildings, etc.

The workshop will be held on Tuesday, February 5, 1991, 7:00 p.m., at the Extension Office. Reservations are necessary by January 31 so we know the amount of material to prepare. Call 334-1990 to make reservations.

Tax Issues Affecting Farmers To Resurface During 102nd Congress

When the 101st Congress adjourned last year, it was in a tailspin over budget and tax issues. After a grueling series of debates, a budget reconciliation bill was finally passed.

Now that the 102nd Congress is ready to get down to business, other issues will take priority but several tax issues of importance to farmers will surface in the coming months.

One of those issues is the reinstatement of capital gains treatment, which remains a possibility for passage this year, according to American Farm Bureau Federation tax specialist Grace Ellen Rice. But its passage will require a great deal of work on the part of Farm Bureau members.

Although supported by a majority in Congress, last year capital gains was translated "into an issue of wealth and tax fairness," explained Rice. "Its congressional supporters were never able to get it to the floor."

Farmers and ranchers still have an opportunity to reclaim capital gains as a critical issue for the middle income business and homeowner, Rice stated.

"But we have to convince the public and Congress that capital gains is important to all taxpayers, not just to those who are wealthy," she said.

Sen. Bob Kasten (R-Wis.) is expected to reintroduce the capital gains bill he introduced in 1990 with Sen. Connie Mack (R-Fla.) and Sen. Richard Shelby (D-Ala.).

The 25 percent health insurance tax deduction for self-employed taxpayers will expire on Sept. 30. Farm Bureau will push for a permanent 100 percent deduction, as well as extension of the current exemption, Rice said.

"Extension may be made more difficult by the new pay-as-you-go system, which means that if a tax provision is enacted that will lose revenues, an offsetting amount must be generated from tax increases or spending cuts," she said.

Rice noted that legislation to cut Social Security taxes also may be introduced. Social Security tax cuts would not be subject to the offsetting revenue requirements, because Social Security is a separate system.

The new budget law contains significant revisions. It imposes caps on discretionary spending and puts entitlement and revenue legislation on a pay-as-you-go system. For the first three years of the agreement, fiscal years 1991 to 1993, discretionary spending is divided into three categories: defense, international and domestic.

"If spending caps are breached in a particular category, an across-the-board cut would be imposed on all items in that category," Rice explained. New tax provisions that cause a revenue loss must have an offsetting tax increase. In the last two years of the budget agreement, the three spending areas would be combined into one spending category, subject to one overall division.

Farm Bureau did not support the budget reconciliation bill because it contained increased taxes. Rice said technical corrections to the budget package probably will be introduced in the spring.

Foreign ownership of U.S. farmland actually comes to a little less than one percent of the total, and the foreign-owned land is scattered.

SCD Supervisors Schedule Meeting Dates For 1991

Regular meetings of the Garrett Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors will be held at the Garrett Soil Conservation District office at the Garrett County Courthouse, Room 355, Oakland, on the following dates in 1991: Tuesdays, February 19, March 19, April 16, May 21, June 18, July 16, August 20, September 17, October 15, November 19, and December 17.

All dates are subject to change if weather conditions, workload, or other factors make it necessary. Meetings held during the months of November through February will begin at 7 p.m. All others normally begin at 8 p.m. The time is also subject to change.

Anyone having an item to discuss with the supervisors is invited to attend any of the meetings.

Carson Promoted By Furst-McNess

Alum Bank, Pa., resident Delmas Carson has been promoted to livestock feeding consultant for Furst-McNess Company based in Freeport, Illinois. Delmas covers Somerset County in Pennsylvania, Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, and 15 counties in central and eastern West Virginia for this nationwide manufacturer of livestock feed premixes.

Carson has been with the company for three years. His responsibilities include recommending and maintaining profitable livestock feeding programs for his customers. He represents a full line of top-quality vitamin and mineral premixes plus animal health products for hogs, dairy and beef. Some of the services he provides to producers include forage testing, commodity sourcing and free ration balancing. His nutrition expertise and ability to provide professional service to livestock producers in his area have earned him this promotion.

Founded in 1908, Furst-McNess has manufacturing plants in Freeport, Illinois, Statesville, North Carolina and Storm Lake, Iowa.

Prices Received By Maryland Farmers Up For December

The index of prices that Maryland farmers received for all farm products during December was up two points to 127. Prices were higher than in November except for milk, hogs and apples. The index for the U.S. slipped one point as the decreases for milk, hogs and lettuce were partially offset by higher prices for cattle, peanuts, and eggs. However, prices for December were collected prior to the cold weather in California. Vegetable and fruit prices are expected to be higher when the entire month price is reported.

Mountain Fresh Producers Plan Jan. 24 Meeting

Mountain Fresh Producers will hold their first meeting of the year Thursday, January 24, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office in Oakland.

Business on the agenda to be discussed includes last year's market successes and failures; new products for this coming growing season; procedures in operating the new Mountain Fresh building; new methods of marketing; educational workshops; budgeting and any other topics members bring up for discussion.

Some up-to-date information will be presented on a new meat processing business which is moving into the Oakland area (Mt. Fresh Meats), which has requested the organization's participation.

Members are reminded that the West Virginia Direct Marketing Conference will be held on January 25 and 26 at the Ramada Inn in Morgantown. Those wishing more information may call West Virginia Extension Agents Tom McConnell or Jim Stiles or Garrett County Extension Agent Jim Simms.

New producers are invited to attend this first meeting of the year. If the weather happens to be bad on the 24th, persons should call the Garrett County Extension Office, 334-1990, for cancellation information.

Census Shows Changes In Rural, Farm Population

About 66,211,000 people, or 25 percent of the U.S. population, lived in rural areas in 1989, compared with 64,798,000 in 1988. During the same period, the number of farm dwellers, who make up 1.9 percent of the nation's total, went from 4,951,000 to 4,801,000, not a statistically significant difference.

The farm population consists of people living on farms in rural areas; it does not include the relatively few farms in urban areas. Farms are defined as places that sold at least $1,000 in agricultural products the preceding year. Rural areas are considered to include the open countryside and places with under 2,500 residents that are not in the suburbs of large cities. The farm population definition is based on residence only. Many people reside on farms but do no farm work, and many farmers and farm employees do not reside on farms.

While the rural population has grown faster than the urban population since 1986, some of this growth will appear as urban growth when the results of the 1990 census are used to reclassify rural and urban places.

The largest share of the rural population (about 44 percent) lives in the South. Although the regional distribution of the rural population changed only slightly in the last 40 years, the regional distribution of the farm population shifted markedly. In 1950, a third of all farm residents lived in the Midwest and slightly more than half lived in the South. A rapid decline in the Southern farm population, rather than growth in the Midwest's farm population, reversed the regional rankings. Half of the total farm population now lives in the Midwest and less than a third in the South.

These data, obtained from the Census Bureau's 1989 current population survey, came from a sample and are subject to sampling variability and other sources of error.

Cold Weather Affects End Of December Crop Conditions

Extremely cold temperatures hit the California citrus and vegetable growing areas during the week of December 24-30, 1990. Snow cover provided insulation to fall-seeded crops in the central and northern plains. Winter wheat in Arkansas and Tennessee was in mostly good condition, but it was too early to determine any cold weather damage.

Nebraska winter wheat was mostly fair to good, with spotty snow cover across the state. Some wheat fields in the high plains of Texas sustained light freeze damage, but dry conditions were more of a concern for producers. Snow provided insulation for the Kansas winter wheat crop, while the cold weather was detrimental to the greenbug population.

'Season' a gripping true Klan drama

'L.A. Law' attorney lands weighty role

By Amy Schmidt

L.A. Law star Corbin Bernsen considers himself fortunate to have crossed over from daytime television to prime-time television, and finally from TV to film.

He began his career on the ABC soap Ryan's Hope and became best known for his role as heartbreaker Arnie Becker in primetime on L.A. Law. Bernsen then made the crossover to film, a feat few TV actors ever accomplish, starring in Major League, Hello Again and Disorganized Crime.

Monday, Jan. 21, the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr., marks another milestone in the fair-haired actor's career. For the first time ever, Bernsen will star in a made - for - network - TV movie, which airs on NBC. Titled A Season for Justice: The Morris Dees Story, it is the real-life drama of a white Southern lawyer who counters the Ku Klux Klan on a daily basis — quite a departure for Bernsen, a guy who's become accustomed to playing a shallow, self-serving womanizer.

"I feel fortunate," said Bernsen of his career transistion, "But part of it is because I dream of it. It's my goal."

Even though Bernsen speaks of acting, the talkative celebrity with a thousand ideas to pitch does seem to have something in common with those who can see the larger picture. Martin Luther King Jr. had a dream; Morris Dees Jr. has a dream.

Dees made headlines when, in the spring of 1981, a young black man, Michael Donald, was murdered and hung from a tree in Mobile, Ala. On behalf of Donald's mother, Dees, founder of the Southern Poverty Law Center, filed a civil suit against the United Klans of America and won. The landmark case proved the killers carried out a policy advocated by the Klan and, therefore, the Klan itself was responsible.

L.A. Law's Corbin Bernsen takes on a more serious legal role when he stars in the premiere of A Season for Justice: The Morris Dees Story. Based on a real-life lawyer's confrontation with the Klan, the NBC drama airs Monday.

"There's a certain breed of people — you've got 250- or 400,000 over in the Gulf right now," said Bernsen, "And Morris' life, as you may or may not know, is pretty much threatened day in and day out; yet he's still out there defending human rights, and these kids over in the Gulf are defending freedom.... I'm very impressed by people who do that. And yes, he (Morris) is an impressive human being."

Bernsen did say he was a little worried making the picture. In fact, he had a bodyguard with him at all times during the shoot. Part of the reason he was cast was because he bears a close physical resemblance to Dees, and it has crossed his mind radical racists could mistake him for the activist.

Bernsen also said the film challenged him to exorcise his own prejudices — prejudices which all of us possess: "It's in there, whether you talk about women being created equal or blacks created equal. There's a definite kind of white male supremacy thing that's kind of been inbred for years and years and years."

Perhaps behind the dream, the fantasy, the gauze of television, that is the very real challenge A Season for Justice presents for us all.

Carolyn Dunn and Rob Stewart star in CBS' new late-night drama series Sweating Bullets, Monday.

Boyish capers are on par for comic Chris Elliott

By Christy Bergslien

Who is that crazy guy posing as a prepubescent riding a bike and delivering newspapers on Fox's Get a Life?

The man behind the boyish antics is comedian Chris Elliott. Elliott portrays 30-year-old Chris Peterson, a free-spirited, young-at-heart man who refuses to grow up. His father, played by his real-life dad, Bob Elliott (of the legendary comedy team Bob and Ray), wishes his son would become something other than head paperboy, and possibly, someday, even move out.

It all began in 1983 for the younger Elliott, then an NBC tour guide, when he recognized David Letterman taking his mother on a tour of the studios and joked with the talk-show host.

When Late Night With David Letterman was launched, Elliott was hired on — to make coffee and run the office copier, that is.

"I almost left after the first month," said Elliott. "I was screwing up the coffee, and I wasn't answering the phones. I was scared I was going to be fired."

But Elliott's antics would eventually take him out of the office and put him in front of the camera. He became famous for his "Panicky Guy," "Fugitive Guy" and Marlon Brando and Morton Downey Jr. parodies. He also won four Emmy Awards for his writing contributions to the show, and in 1989 he published a book called Daddy's Boy.

'Lonesome Dove' gets a second showing

By Amy Schmidt

If you missed any part of it the first time around, you have another chance to catch Lonesome Dove. CBS is rebroadcasting the eight-hour miniseries, which made its TV debut two years ago to the raves of critics and audiences alike.

Based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel of the same name, the TV epic itself garnered more than a few awards — seven Emmys, notably, for best directing, casting, costuming, music, makeup, sound mixing and sound editing.

Tommy Lee Jones, Robert Duvall, Danny Glover, Anjelica Huston, Robert Urich, Rick Schroder and Diane Lane head an all-star cast.

Here's a brief synopsis of the cattle drive drama to air in four parts, beginning Sunday, Jan. 20, and continuing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 22, 23 and 24.

Part I: Two cattle outfitters, Call and Gus, are convinced by their friend Jake to herd their cattle to Montana.

Part II: The group sets out and is besieged by kidnappings, murders and desertions.

Part III: Gus reunites with his long-lost love Clara. Call and Gus hold a hanging, and the cattle drive hits a dry spell.

Part IV: Gus is critically wounded and taken to a Miles City doctor; the cattle drive comes to an end; and Call returns to Lonesome Dove to tell his tale.

OK, everybody, set your VCRs!

Richard Lewis calculates risks in three-hour PBS show

Anything But Love comic Richard Lewis will host the PBS special Living Against the Odds on April 3. The three-hour program will calculate the daily risks each of us take and tell us what we can do to minimize them.

CBS Sports announcer Tim McCarver and CBS This Morning co-anchor Paula Zahn have been named co-hosts of CBS' prime-time coverage of the 1992 Olympic Winter Games in Albertville, France. The Games will take place Feb.8 through 23, 1992.

NBC's hit comedy series The Golden Girls received the Celebration of Achievement Media Award, given by the Edward R. Roybal Center for Applied Gerontology at California State University in Los Angeles.

Loretta Swit will star with Barbara Eden in a new made-for-TV film titled Smithereens. Swit is going to blow Eden to smithereens, that is, when she plays a psychotic murderer who dreams of killing Jeannie. (Make a wish. Maybe Hawkeye can piece her back together.)

Film star Burt Lancaster is recovering from a stroke that left his right side partially paralyzed on Nov. 30. The 77-year-old actor with the legendary physique is participating in speech and physical therapy at a Los Alamito, Calif., hospital.

Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev has launched an attack on TV pornography in his country. Soviet stations broadcast programs originating in other countries that are somewhat more explicit than those seen on American television.

Saddam Hussein reportedly is a huge John Wayne fan. Rumor has it he's got 16mm prints of Wayne films stockpiled in various locales all over Iraq.

The life story of rainforest activist Chico Mendes is being developed into a feature film. A 22-year-old rancher's son, Darci Alves Pereira, confessed to a surprised Brazilian courtroom last month that he had killed Mendes.

Tommy Morrison, the great-nephew of John Wayne, made his film debut in Rocky V, but is currently turning down other acting roles. Morrison is training to become a world heavyweight boxing champion — then he may pursue his acting career, he says.

HBO is producing The James Brady Story chronicling the former press secretary's fight for survival after being shot by would-be presidential-assassin John Hinckley Jr. nine years ago. Beau Bridges will star.

Parochials Tom Bosley and Tracy Nelson star in Father Dowling Mysteries, Thursdays on ABC.

Whatever happened to "The Fonz" Henry Winkler? Find out Friday on Entertainment Tonight.

'Time,' 'MacNeil-Lehrer' team up for documentaries

By Steven Alan McGaw

This sounds like a great idea. Time magazine has, as an experiment, joined forces with Public Broadcasting's MacNeil-Lehrer News Hour. Time will produce an array of short documentary features to be aired during the newscasts, with Time correspondents sometimes appearing on camera. Time will also lend support in covering events or breaking stories from time to time.

Word is rampant that Bruce Beresford (Driving Miss Daisy) will direct the film version of Les Miserables.

Kris Kristofferson and Kim Cattrall will star in Miracle on the Wilderness for TNT. The telefilm is based on the novella by Paul Gallico. Knots Landing's Kevin Dobson will direct.

Linda Ellerbee may return to NBC in a new daytime information series.

Cher may star in the film version of Gypsy and Me, about the later life of Gypsy Rose Lee.

Alec Baldwin will definitely star in the film version of Glengarry Glen Ross, David Mamet's scathing comedy about real estate agents. He may also appear in the movie Prelude to a Kiss.

Viveca Lindfors has joined the cast of the feature film The Linguini Incident, starring David Bowie and Rosanna Arquette.

Tom Berenger and Daryl Hannah are in South America (or were, until very recently) filming At Play in the Fields of the Lord.

Dionne Warwick made impact on cousin Whitney's career

By Polly Vonetes

Q: What is the relationship between Whitney Houston and Dionne Warwick? —Toni Gary, Coachella, Calif.

A: They are cousins, and very close ones at that. Dionne Warwick began her career singing at recording sessions in New York with sister Dee Dee and cousin Cissy Houston, Whitney's mother. Dionne has been a big influence on Whitney's career.

Dionne Warwick

Q: Was Christopher Plummer knighted by the Queen of England? I say he was, others think I am wrong. —Lillian Belcher, Shawano, Wis.

A: Sorry, Lillian, I'll have to join those "others." Arthur Christopher Orme Plummer, born Dec. 13, 1927 in Toronto, has not been knighted by the Queen. He is, however, officially known as Christopher Plummer, C.C. — Companion of the Order of Canada. The title is designed to honor special achievements, humanitarian contributions and distinguished service to Canada and is bestowed by the governor general. Plummer was honored with the title in 1968.

Q: I would like to know if* Anything But Love *will be coming back. The show is so great and stopped without explanation. —Connie Goren, Ft. Pierce, Fla.

A: I wouldn't hold my breath, considering the way the networks schedule their programs, but I have been told it will be coming back in January.

Q: Please set my husband straight about this. I say that Rex Harrison starred in* The Ghost and Mrs. Muir; *he says "no." Who is correct? —Donna and Bill in Milburn, N.J.

A: I am not a very good diplomat, but in this instance you both could be right. It depends on whether you're talking about the movie in 1947 or the TV series in 1968. Rex Harrison and Gene Tierney starred in the movie. Edward Mulhare and Hope Lange were the television stars.

Q: I am a great fan of the series* Quantum Leap, which airs on NBC, and I would like to have an address where I could write to its two stars. Scott Bakula is a very versatile and talented performer, and I have been a devoted Dean Stockwell fan for many years. Could you also tell me of any Quantum Leap *fan clubs? —Debra La Valley, Claremont, N.H.

A: Write to: Scott Bakula and Dean Stockwell, c/o Quantum Leap, Universal Television, 70 Universal Plaza, Universal City, CA 91608. To inquire about fan clubs, you can write to the National Association of Fan Clubs, 2730 Baltimore Ave., Pueblo, CO 81003.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered.

Original 'Dark Shadows' shows available on video tape

By Steven Alan McGaw

I lived with my grandmother a large part of my childhood, and I'm amazed (and a little embarrassed) sometimes when I think back on some of the things I asked of her, like my tearful demand, at age 8, that she call ABC and demand a replay of Batman because I'd missed it. (No dice.)

One outrageous demand, which she actually met, was to render a daily synopsis of my favorite TV show, Dark Shadows, which aired before I got out of school. The other kids in our carpool had to maintain a reverent silence each day as that little woman updated me on the latest ghoulish goings-on in spooky Collinsport, Maine. But you know what? I think she liked it. And with good reason; Dark Shadows was a genuinely terrific show — thoughtful and atmospheric — made all the better because everyone involved took it absolutely seriously.

Dan Curtis' skillful direction, that incredibly evocative music by Robert Cobert and the acting by performers like Joan Bennett and Shakespearean actor Jonathan Frid all combined to make Dark Shadows a true TV milestone.

Now, many episodes of the series are available on cassette, courtesy of MPI Video. Look for Dark Shadows Vol. 1-14, at your local video vendor. (And check out the new Dark Shadows on NBC. It could be good, since Curtis is overseeing the production.)

Eva Marie Saint hosts Primary Colors: The Story of Corita, a portrait of an artist and activist who left her mark on the '60s, Sunday on PBS.

PBS premieres cover worlds of art, science

Eva Marie Saint hosts special

By Anne Wheeler

PBS has two invigorating premieres on tap for Sunday, Jan. 20.

First up is the debut of The New Explorers, a 13-part weekly series examining innovative discoveries in science, nature and the environment.

Journalist Bill Kurtis hosts the show, which focuses on the personal struggles and achievements behind the discoveries as well as the discoveries themselves. Among the topics to be explored in the series are the resurgence of the bald eagle, the theories behind strange shapes etched into the Peruvian desert, the use of modern technology in fighting crime, the recovery of Yellowstone National Park from fires that swept the area in 1988, and the ways in which filmmaker George Lucas' special effects crew is enhancing medical imaging.

Later on Sunday, catch Primary Colors: The Story of Corita, a one-hour documentary about the vibrant artist who left the convent to pursue her creativity in the 1960s.

Creator of the world's largest painting (The Boston Gas tank) and the smallest (the "Love" postage stamp), Corita Kent used primary colors, advertising slogans of the day and words to stir emotions of hope and love.

"I was always fascinated by the fact that at the age of 50, after 32 years as a nun, Corita left the convent," said actress Eva Marie Saint, host and narrator of the program. "It was a period of American history that covered civil rights, the flower children of the '60s, the Vietnam war; a time of turbulence and change, a reformation of sorts."

Louisville meets UNLV in hoops competition

By Steve Paschal

The Louisville Cardinals could take a giant step in the direction of the NCAA Basketball Tournament when they face the top-ranked Runnin' Rebs of Nevada-Las Vegas on CBS Saturday, Jan. 26.

Louisville won two national championships and made three trips to the final four during the 1980s, but coach Denny Crum is rebuilding this season after the NBA and academic problems robbed his team of most of its veteran players. With All-Metro Conference center Felton Spencer passing up his final year of eligibility and super-sub Jerome Harmon sidelined by grades, the Cardinals have at best an outside shot of making it to this year's sweet sixteen.

Nevada-Las Vegas, on the other hand, is a team with a mission. A year ago the Rebs proved beyond a doubt they were the top team in the country when they pounded Duke 103-73 for the national championship. They seemed destined to watch this year's tournament from the stands until a miracle ruling by the NCAA in November. Faced with a lawsuit, the NCAA, in effect, allowed Coach Jerry Tarkanian to dictate when the Rebels would have to face the music for recruiting violations. As a result, Nevada-Las Vegas will be back to defend its title.

Following basketball, CBS football commentator John Madden will take a look at the AFC and NFC champions as they prepare to do battle in Super Bowl XXV from Tampa, Fla. Madden, who coached the Oakland Raiders to a victory over Minnesota in Super Bowl XI before switching careers, will return after two hours of live coverage of the Phoenix Open to unveil his "All-Madden Team." © TV Listing Inc

'Young Riders' strives for authenticity

Series takes lore of Old West abroad

By Mary Ann Townsend

ABC's western series The Young Riders strives for authenticity.

Set in the 1860s, the series follows a group of daring young men who brave the untamed West to ride for The Pony Express. One of those characters is a half-breed Indian named Buck Cross, played by Gregg Rainwater.

Rainwater, whose real-life grandfather is a Cherokee-Osage Indian, plays the offspring of a Kiowa Indian mother and a white father. The character provides balance by seeing things from two different perspectives. He said the role lets him explore the Indian culture.

"One time we had an Indian medicine man on our show. He's one of the last three people who speak his language — three people left. His medicine will probably die with him," Rainwater explained. "He was probably in his 70s or 80s, and he said it takes decades to truly understand the medicine and work it. So there's one ceremony that may be gone. It's definitely been an education."

The series has been noted for its authentic depiction of the Old West with an Emmy for costuming and an American Western Heritage Award. Currently the show is taking Western lore to 38 countries outside of the United States. The prospect of Buck's lines being dubbed into a foreign language is intriguing to Rainwater.

"You know, I'm trying to get a tape. I would desperately love to see our show dubbed into a different language," he said. "I would love to see Buck talking Swahili or whatever." © TV Listing Inc

Realtors, GCC To Hold Seminar; Willis To Speak

Rick Willis

"How to Build Your Business in Today's Economy" will be the topic of an afternoon seminar to be presented Monday, January 21, at Garrett Community College, McHenry. The guest instructor of the 1 to 4:30 p.m. session will be Rick Willis, sales manager of a large real estate agency in Columbia.

The seminar, which is open to the public, is being sponsored by the Garrett County Board of Realtors and Garrett Community College.

Willis has been in the real estate business since 1971 and is one of the most sought-after speakers in the nation today. He is sales manager of a company which sold over 277 million dollars of real estate in 1989. He has been a G.R.I. and C.R.S. course instructor and a five-time NAR National Convention speaker, as well as a frequent speaker at board of realtors and state conventions throughout the country.

Among the sub-topics Willis will lead during the seminar are: Dealing with Change, Preparing a Business Plan, Creating New Customers and Clients, Customer Service, Customer Satisfaction, and Obtaining a 100 Percent Repeat and Referral Business.

The registration fee is $50 per person. If two or more persons from the same company attend, the first must pay $50 and each of the others will be required to pay $39. Checks should be made payable to the Garrett County Board of Realtors. To register or obtain more information, persons may call the Board at 334-8405 and ask for Verla or Barb.

Free Seminar For Realtors And Builders Slated

A special free seminar for realtors and builders is being sponsored by the Garrett County Board of Realtors on Thursday, January 24, at the Garrett Community College, beginning at 7 p.m.

Edgar Harman, county director of environmental health, will be the speaker. His topic will pertain to recent changes in regulations, misconceptions, and correct procedures for compliance.

A short update on recent information obtained on the Homeowners Warranty program will also be made available to builders. This will pertain to the disclosure law regarding new home construction that became effective January 1, 1991.

In order to assure adequate seating and accommodations, persons are asked to R.S.V.P. to the Garrett County Board of Realtors office at 334-8405 regarding the number of people attending.

Responsibility For Community Colleges To Be Transferred

Governor Schaefer has announced a plan to transfer responsibility for Maryland's 17 community colleges to the Maryland Higher Education Commission.

The plan would make it possible to shift $500,000 in new funds to community college challenge grants in FY 1992.

The commission, which already has responsibility for approving academic programs at community colleges and reviewing community college budget requests, would take over the administrative duties of the State Board for Community Colleges (SBCC).

"Community colleges play an increasingly important role in Maryland higher education. They are a critical component of the state's education and training efforts so important to economic development. It is appropriate that they report directly to the commission," the governor said.

Schaefer said the transfer was contemplated during the reorganization of higher education in 1988, but not addressed in the law which mandated sweeping changes in the state higher education system.

In the reorganization, the commission was given authority for coordinating and planning for all of higher education in Maryland. As a result, there is substantial duplication of effort by the commission and the community college board.

Eliminating the SBCC would speed up review of community college programs, making it possible to deliver education and training courses required by business and industry on a timely basis. Management decisions and academic policies would continue to be the responsibility of local boards of trustees.

Maryland's highly rated community college system enrolls half of all students attending public colleges and universities in the state. Community college enrollment is 109,000 this year.

For the third year in a row, more freshmen students are enrolled in community colleges than at four-year institutions.

Film Course Set At GCC Campus

An opportunity to experience various cultures of the world by viewing films of different countries will be offered in a three-credit course given by Garrett Community College during the spring semester.

The course, HUM 292 Films Around the World, will be given on Monday afternoons from 3 to 6:30 p.m., beginning February 4 and ending April 29. Instructors will be Dr. Gail Herman and Jack DuBose.

Students in the class will view a different film each week and discuss aesthetic, cultural, and literary aspects of it. Each session will have an introduction to the film, followed by the viewing and discussion of it.

Some of the films to be included are "The Woman in the Dunes" (Japan), "The Seventh Seal" (Sweden), "World of Apu" (India), and "Babette's Feast" (France).

Students may take this course for credit or audit. Tuition is waived for persons 60 years of age or over. Anyone desiring further information about the course may call DuBose at the college, 387-6666.

SHERMAN HAROLD SHOCKEY JR.
Defendant
NO. 1400 CIVIL

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

ORDERED, By the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland:

The Defendant, Sherman Harold Shockey Jr., is hereby notified the Plaintiff, Diana Lynn Shockey, has filed a Motion for Contempt. The Motion alleges in substance that the Defendant, whose last known address is stated as c/o William Shockey, 6050 Central Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21207; that Plaintiff and Defendant were divorced by Final Judgment of this Court dated October 27, 1989. In said Final Judgment the Defendant was ordered to pay to the Plaintiff the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) on or before forty-five (45) days from the date of the Judgment in return for which the Plaintiff would deed to the Defendant her interest in certain real property owned by the parties. That although the Defendant has paid the sum of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00), he has failed to pay the remaining balance due her.

Defendant, Sherman Harold Shockey Jr., is hereby warned that failure to show cause, if any there be, why said monies have not been paid as ordered, on or before March 8, 1991 may result in the case proceeding against him by default and a contempt order being issued against him, and he may be deprived of any further rights he may have in said matter for his failure to show cause.

Loving Memories of Father and Mother
Your gentle face and patient smile, with sadness we recall,
You had a kindly word for each, and died beloved by all.
The voice is mute, and stilled the heart that loved us well and true,
Ah, bitter was the trial to part from one so good as you,
You are not forgotten, loved ones, nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last, we will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL PROPERTY

situate near White Church, Election District No. 8, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, passed on December 19, 1990, in the proceedings in No. 1960 Civil Action in said Court, wherein Potomac Valley Bank was the Plaintiff, and Walter E. Dawson and Virginia R. Dawson, his wife, were the Defendants, the undersigned, being authorized and directed to sell the property hereinafter described, does hereby give notice that on Friday, the 8th day of February, 1991, at the hour of 10:00 a.m.

in the Rotunda of the Courthouse, in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, I will sell at public auction all of that parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 8, Garrett County, Maryland and described as follows, to wit:

BEGINNING at a stone corner of Lot No. 224 on the line of Bear Range, thence by land of Norman Shillingburg, South 40 degrees 30' East 380-9/10 feet to a stake, thence by same and land of Mrs. Harvey, South 15 degrees 36' West 2,335 feet to a white oak tree, thence by land of Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company, North 77 degrees 34' East 2,117-2/10 feet to a post, thence by same, North 4 degrees 30' East 2,230 feet to a stake, thence by same, North 85 degrees 30' West 1,856-4/10 feet to a stone in the line of Lot No. 224, thence reversing said line, South 4 degrees 30' West 181-6/10 feet to the beginning, containing 103.7 acres, more or less.

SUBJECT to conditions, restrictions, exceptions and reservations as fully set forth in a deed dated April 21, 1915 from Manor Mining and Manufacturing Company to Charles Emory Shillingburg, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland in Liber No. 68, Folio 313.

BEING the same as conveyed by Robert B. Burton and Hazel Marie Burton, his wife, to Walter E. Dawson and Virginia R. Dawson, his wife, by deed dated May 23, 1983, and recorded in Liber No. 434, Folio 615 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The above described property is improved by a dwelling house in poor condition and is located approximately 1½ miles from the White Church and is located off the Audley Riley County Road.

TERMS OF SALE: Fifteen percent (15%) cash on the day of sale and the remaining eighty-five percent (85%) upon ratification of the sale and delivery of a deed for the property, or all cash, at the option of the purchaser. All taxes and other public charges will be adjusted as of the day of sale. The cost of documentary stamps and transfer tax will be shared equally. The property is being sold in an "as is" condition.

STANDING TIMBER FOR SALE

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service is offering for sale the following timber on 28 acres of Compartment #29 of Savage River State Forest. Said timber is estimated to cut 167,264 board feet of sawtimber according to the International ¼" Saw Kerf Rule, more or less. All trees 11" DBH and larger with at least one 16' log to a 8" top DIB with less than 50% defect were tallied as sawtimber.

Timber is located on the North Side of Fairview Road, 3.5 miles East of the Intersection with New Germany Road. Timber is offered for sale subject to the following conditions:

1. Timber will be shown at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, January 21, 1991. Anyone interested in seeing this timber may meet at the Intersection of New Germany Road and Fairview Road at the above date and time.
2. Contract/Bid Forms will be available at the showing or from the Savage River State Forest Headquarters, Route 2, Box 63-A, Grantsville, Maryland 21536 or phone 301-895-5759.
3. A Security Bond in the amount of 10% of the Bid Submitted must be posted upon submission of the Bid to the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service.
4. The Operator must be a registered Forest Product Operator in Maryland for 1991 to be awarded successful bidding.
5. A Performance Bond in the amount of 10% of the Bid Submitted must be posted upon acceptance of the Contract by the State of Maryland. The Security Bond may be applied to cover the Performance Bond.
6. All timber volumes in this offering are estimates. Parties bidding on this timber should determine such volumes to their own satisfaction. No adjustments on the basis of volumes will be made with buyers.
7. Bidder may pay 50% of Bid Price on acceptance of the Contract, with the remaining 50% payable within 90 calendar days from Bid acceptance. If Buyer selects this option, the delayed payment must be covered by a payment surety bond in a form acceptable to the State.
8. Bids will be received up until 1:00 p.m. on Monday, January 28, 1991.

NOTICE

OF DETERMINATION OF NO SIGNIFICANT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT.

OAKLAND WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

Notice is hereby given that the Farmers' Home Administration has made a determination of no significant environmental impact in regard to the proposed Oakland Water System Improvement Project. The project is located throughout the corporate limits of the Town of Oakland, Maryland and involves the rehabilitation and/or replacement of the Town's water distribution system, water treatment facilities and storage tanks. The intent of this project is to provide an adequate supply of potable water for residential and commercial use as well as to provide adequate fire protection to the customers of the Oakland Water System.

The application for the proposed water system and the Environmental Assessment are available for review at the Farmers' Home Administration District Office, 198 Thomas Johnson Drive, Frederick, MD 21701. Any person interested in commenting on the application or the proposal's feasibility and alternatives to it may do so by providing such comments to the Farmers' Home Administration within 15 days following the date of this publication.

CUSTOMER GUARANTEE OF SATISFACTION
GUARANTEED LOWEST PRICE
Nobody beats THE FURNITUREMARKET'S Fair Value prices on QUALITY MERCHANDISE. In the unlikely event you should find an identical item in stock at any other retail store in our trading area (50 mile radius) for less than THE FURNITURE MARKET'S price with the same terms and conditions of sale within 30 days of your purchase, THE FURNITURE MARKET will return the difference. Offers to Special Order Merchandise do not apply. Verifiable confirmation required.
SHOP IN STYLE
at THE FURNITURE MARKET. No other furniture, electronics or appliance store does what we do to satisfy you. You don't have to hunt around for someone to help you at THE FURNITURE MARKET. We know your time is important to you, so our staff is always available when you visit our store. Our people are available to demonstrate the features and benefits of our products to help you make the best possible decision.
BRAND NAMES YOU CAN TRUST
The Furniture Industry has few recognizable brand names because there are so many manufacturers. At THE FURNITURE MARKET we carry those name brands, as well as lesser known quality brands that must first meet our rigid quality standards before we offer them to you.
YOU MUST BE SATISFIED WITH YOUR SELECTION
If you are not satisfied with your selection for any reason, you may return your item within thirty (30) days of delivery and make a new selection.
FREE DELIVERY AND IN HOME SET UP
Because we want everything to be just right when you purchase from THE FURNITURE MARKET, we'll deliver your purchase at no charge, up to 50 miles (one way) from our store.
In addition, we want our customers to know that we back each purchase with a commitment from our Management.

School Materials Collection To Be At Southern Middle

The Library/Media Center at Southern Middle School will host the Traveling Materials Collection, Monday, January 14, through Thursday, January 24, hosted by Jack Rickman, principal, and Ms. Sue Kisner, library/media assistant.

The collection is sponsored every year by the Maryland State Department of Education and is made up of current books, filmstrips, and computer software from many different publishers, and is provided to each school system in the state for a two-week period. This allows principals, teachers, and library/media personnel, as well as the general public, to view and evaluate books and other media for possible purchase for their respective schools. Last year's collection was housed at Northern Middle School.

The collection may be viewed during regular school hours. For further information, persons may call Gary "Dusty" Stanton at the Garrett County Board Office at 334-8910.

Revco Pharmacists: The Revco Difference

There are so many things that make the pharmacy at Revco different from any other pharmacy. Like our helpful, professional pharmacists. Our pharmacists do much more than just fill prescriptions. You can trust a Revco pharmacist to give you advice on prescription and over-the-counter drugs and products, including answering questions on how to take medications, drug interactions, and possible drug side effects.

Revco pharmacists also stay abreast of the latest developments in medicine by talking with physicians and completing continuing education courses on a yearly basis.

Seems like too much to expect from other drug stores. But exactly what you get from Revco.

NO. 48

Local Resident Indicted By Feds On Drug Charges

A Deep Creek Lake man was arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department on the strength of a federal indictment by the Grand Jury. The indictment charged James Blount, 47, with two counts of conspiracy to distribute cocaine.

Blount was reportedly involved in incidents in November 1990 in Florida at which time, according to the indictment document, he and three other defendants did unlawfully, willfully, and knowingly conspire and agree together to possess with the intention of distributing 500 grams of cocaine.

After the Jan. 18 arrest made by Dep. J.P. Pratt, Blount was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail, and then was released into the custody of the United States Marshall, according to an office spokesperson.

In a separate arrest, Dep. J. Murphy stopped a vehicle driven by Paul L. Sweene, 60, Accident, in the early hours of Jan. 20 on Bear Creek Road. The officer observed Sweene operating the vehicle in an erratic manner, and discovered while interviewing the driver that he was apparently intoxicated and that he was driving with a revoked license.

The officer then charged him with driving while intoxicated (DWI). Shortly after the arrest, a warrant was issued for Sweene on

Gregory Schrock, Burn Victim, Dies Saturday

Gregory Alan Schrock, 22, Oakland, who sustained burn injuries in a fire at his apartment last Wednesday, died Saturday, January 19, 1991, in the West Penn Hospital Burn Center, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Born July 6, 1968, in Oakland, he was the son of Gary N. Schrock, Oakland, and Louise (Metheny) Davis, Deer Park.

Mr. Schrock was a carpenter.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandmother, Jean Shaffer, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metheny, all of Terra Alta, W.Va.

Friends were received in the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland.

A service was conducted Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Crellin Assembly of God with the Rev. Ray Beahm and the Rev. Oscar Hull officiating.

Interment followed in the Oak Grove Cemetery, Terra Alta.

The family suggests that memorials take the form of contributions to the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department or to the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

ALL OVER TOWN — Kitzmiller residents are showing their support for the troops involved with Operation Desert Storm in the mid-east by placing yellow ribbons all over town. The extensive yellow ribbon project is sponsored, in part, by the Civic Association, but many citizens are also making and hanging the ribbons. They are still accepting donations to purchase more ribbons for the entrance road into the town. The town will also be flying 30 U.S. flags every Sunday throughout the war.

GCC Board Of Trustees Eye Effects Of Financial Cuts For Colleges

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees met Tuesday, January 15, and among the topics discussed was the impact the state's deficit would have on college funding.

Board Chairman Wayne Hamilton told the board members that Governor William Donald Schaefer had changed his plans regarding "the umbrella community colleges would now fall under."

He said he felt the State Board for Community Colleges may have a short life and that community colleges may now be under the jurisdiction of the Maryland Higher Education Commission. He noted that such a plan would require legislative action.

Hamilton also said the move may amount to a considerable sum for additional monies in the form of student grants.

While budget cuts will likely result in $13,000 less than what GCC normally receives from the state, that figure equates to less than one percent of the total state allocation.

Board member Charles "Bus" Bender stressed that the college was very sound financially at this time. That statement was echoed by Comptroller John Culp who said college staff and administration have been supportive in budget matters.

"We are fortunate to have budgeted in a way that will compensate the small recision," Culp said.

"THE MARRIAGE-GO-ROUND," a comedy in two acts will be presented January 25 and 26, Friday and Saturday, at 8 p.m., at the Garrett Community College auditorium. The play depicts a happily married couple who face a problem (in the form of a young beautiful blond "with high hopes") and try to resolve the problem, sometimes by involving the audience. The play is being directed by Greg A. Holtschneider, a 1988 graduate of Northern High School, who is currently a junior at Frostburg State University where he majors in theatre. Shown above are the central actors in the play, left to right, Megan Mathews, Greg Gerhard, Alex Hicks and Christina Grant. Admission to the play is $2 per person. Reservations are not necessary.

Laurel Run Mine Announces Layoff Of 38 Employees

Lay-off notices were received Monday by 38 employees of Laurel Run Mine, Mt. Storm, W.Va., according to Joe Dreuning, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, Local 1829, who also reported that the lay-offs were not unexpected.

According to Jerry McPhee, director of government relations for Island Creek Coal Company, "The mine has been making an effort to streamline operations and make the most efficient use of our people and equipment in order to ensure that we maintain a competitive position in the marketplace."

Laurel Run was purchased from Vepco by Occidental Petroleum Company, at which time employees considered the possibility of buying the mine. It was then learned, however, that all the equipment formerly owned by the mining company had also been purchased by Occidental.

The lay-offs leave a total of 84 union men still employed at the Laurel Run Mine.

Pedestrian Dies After Being Struck By Coal Truck On U.S. Rt. 48

A pedestrian walking in the passing lane of U.S. Route 48, approximately one-half mile from U.S. Route 219 south, was killed early last Thursday morning when he was struck by a coal truck which was passing a tractor-trailer.

Thomas Ryan Jones, 19, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., was pronounced dead at the scene following the 6:30 a.m. accident, according to Tpr. S.H. Anderson of the Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack.

Jones was reportedly struck by a coal truck operated by Larry Joseph Matthews, 35, also of Bruceton Mills. The investigation revealed that the Jones and Matthews were next door neighbors.

The police report indicated that Jones was walking in the passing lane and that his companion, Scott Edward Hunter, 21, also of Bruceton Mills, was walking along the shoulder of the eastbound lanes.

In his report, Tpr. Anderson stated that the two men had run out of gasoline and pulled their vehicle off the roadway before they walked to the Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop to fill a can with gas. The accident occurred when they were walking back to their stranded vehicle.

The operator of the coal truck reportedly swerved to avoid striking the victim and collided with the tractor-trailer, operated by Edward R. Fairhurst, 51, Marietta, Pa. The coal truck traveled over an embankment and the tractor-trailer jackknifed before stopping and blocking the eastbound lanes of the highway.

Hunter told police that he repeatedly warned Jones to get off the road, but that he failed to respond.

Anderson said visability was poor at the time of the accident because of heavy snow and wind.

The 6:20 a.m. accident is still under investigation by the Maryland State Police.

Commissioners Oppose Closing Of New Germany State Park

The Garrett County Commissioners last week announced they would send a letter to Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer requesting that the decision to close New Germany State Park on March 1 be reconsidered.

Commissioner John G. Braskey stated that the county office has received many calls, requests and complaints concerning the announcement made recently that the park would be one of many in the state to be shut down because of state budget cuts. Several petitions are also reportedly being directed to the governor's office.

Braskey stated that the park is to be closed from March 1 to July 1, at which time its re-opening would be considered based on state budgetary allowances. "We are concerned about that re-opening date," he said.

He continued, "New Germany is a good park, and good for the northern area of the county. It is used year-round and most people patronize it during the winter months. March 1 is not the end of winter in Garrett County."

Braskey noted that the board of commissioners failed to see any major savings by closing New Germany State Park. Lack of personnel to maintain and collect garbage from the park were cited as reasons for having to close it down, but, Braskey stated, "In the winter, not that much maintenance goes on — except snow plowing and garbage collection. If necessary, we can get someone to take care of that."

Braskey reported that the decision to close the park was also made on the basis that the same functions take place at Herrington Manor State Park.

"We just don't see where the savings will be. In fact," said Braskey, "the state will probably lose money by closing the park. I know the county is going to lose money."

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II explained that Garrett County receives a 25 percent share of all the revenue generated in the state parks and forests.

Construction Contract Awarded

The commissioners also announced last week that they have awarded a construction contract in the amount of $379,500 to MSG Associates of Roseto, Pa., to construct a meat processing plant in the Southern Garrett Industrial Park, Oakland.

The plant, when built, will be occupied by Mountain Fresh, Inc., which is affiliated with an existing meat products distributor, H & G Meats, Inc.,

Recommendations Of Recycling Comm. Heard; Program To Start

"Hopefully, by summer 1991, we will have a county-wide recycling program in place and running," stated Garrett County Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II last week after hearing recommendations from the Garrett County Recycling Committee, chaired by Gary Yoder, McHenry.

The Board of Commissioners met with the committee to hear conclusions and recommendations made by the committee as the result of a six-month review of the Garrett County recycling plan.

Groves also stated, "We're going to take the recommendations of the recycling committee, which have been submitted to Maryland Environmental Services (MES). We hope to resolve all the details of the issue and have it in place when we do our budgetary process in the spring."

Specifically, the main recommendation from the committee was that the commissioners "seriously consider adopting the plan that has been produced with the assistance of MES and that as soon as possible, if not immediately, consider placing recycling bins at the six dumpster sites in the county," according to Yoder.

Yoder explained that the goals of the committee were to respond to Maryland House Bill 714, which mandates a 15 percent recycling of all refuse by 1994, and to respond to the specific needs of the people of Garrett County; to implement the program in an affordable manner, one which is "financially responsible," according to Yoder, and to develop a plan that is expandable or contractible to suit the county's needs.

"The committee has met those goals," stated Yoder.

Yoder went on to explain that the plan has two components, the first of which is collection of the recyclable materials and items. "But just pulling the items out of the trash stream is not enough," said Yoder, adding, "Recycling has not occurred until you turn that item into a usable product."

The challenge then, he said, was not so much the collection of the items but the marketing of them, which is the second component of the program. "How do you get the goods to the market once they've been collected?" he asked.

According to Yoder, the committee concluded that the most economic and efficient means of collecting the materials at the beginning of the program is to allow the county residents to deposit their recyclables at the Community Participation Sought In Area "Support Our Troops" Projects

Cake Slices For Sale In Grantsville

The owners and staff of the Grantsville Foodland have planned to bake a large cake in honor of the soldiers, and then sell the cake slice by slice at a $1 per slice. The store will then match each dollar, and the total amount will be used to purchase items for care packages, which will be sent to the troops in Saudi Arabia and the surrounding areas.

Every person who buys a slice of the cake will then be invited to sign a large card for the soldiers, which will then be sent overseas.

The cake slices will go on sale tomorrow, Jan. 25, at the Grantsville Foodland.

"Candle In The Window" Project Proposed By FOP

The Garrett County Fraternal Order of Police (FOP), Lodge #99, has proposed a project to honor and support the troops currently serving in Operation Desert Storm. The project is called "Candle in the Window," and a spokesperson from the FOP stated that the group would appreciate the participation of all area citizens in the endeavor.

Persons are asked to place a white light in a window of their home, and to keep it lit every evening throughout the war. Through "Candle in the Window," community members will have the opportunity to display their support for the United States soldiers, as well as their hope for peace.

Former Oakland Police Chief Hobe Shillingburg suggested the project for the county, according to John Sines, current Oakland police chief.

Drop-Off Point For Care Packages

The owners of the Family Rental Center, located in Oakland, have offered a section of their store to be a drop-off point for care packages that citizens may wish to send to the troops in the war zone. Although a spokesperson for the U.S. military advised that no more packages be sent to the soldiers because of the enormous response, the army recruitment office in Cumberland told an employee of the Family Rental Center that packages may still be prepared for the 101st and 82nd Airborne.

Items needed by the soldiers are as follows: cigarettes and tobacco products, hard rolled candies, gum, stationary, all types of toiletries (hand cream, soap, deodorant) in non-breakable bottles, artificial tears (lubricating eye drops), non-prescription pain and cold remedies in plastic bottles, store-bought cookies and other snacks, and hometown literature such as newspapers, newsletters,

THE ONES THEY LEAVE BEHIND — Two local National Guard Armory members of Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion, left Oakland early this morning to join the allied forces in Operation Desert Storm. David H. Ringer Sr. and Marvin "Dino" Guthrie volunteered their services some months ago, and were notified on Tuesday that those services were needed. The men will report to Savannah, Georgia, where they will remain for an undetermined length of time until deployment overseas. Guthrie, 21, is the son of Marvin and Sylvia Guthrie, Oakland. Ringer is the son of Donald J. Ringer, Terra Alta, W.Va., and the former Emma Ringer. Ringer leaves behind his wife, Dora, and six children. A tearful goodbye is pictured above, as Ringer hugs his daughter, April, while his wife, brother, and children console one another at this most difficult moment. Two other members of Company C, Dan Fearer and Bobby Hensley, have also reported for duty in the Persian Gulf.

Thayer Sentences Several For DWI In Circuit Court

Judge Fred A. Thayer of the Garrett County Circuit Court recently sentenced several defendants on charges of driving while intoxicated (DWI) and other traffic violations. The judge also presided over hearings involving defendants charged with reckless endangerment, illegal drug possession, and forgery.

Michael M. McRobie, 32, McHenry, prayed a jury trial in circuit court, and at the trial pleaded not guilty to DWI, DUI (driving under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol), driving with a revoked license, and exceeding the posted speed limit.

The court's verdict for McRobie was guilty on all counts except DWI. Judge Thayer then sentenced the defendant to a total of three years in the Maryland Department of Corrections and handed down a combined fine of $1,050.

The judge proceeded to suspend all but one year of the jail term on the conditions that McRobie undergo three years of probation, two years of alcohol rehabilitation, and that he pay court costs. The defendant will receive credit for time served.

The charges against McRobie reportedly stemmed from a June 30, 1990, traffic stop executed by police on Rt. 219 South near Oakland. Defense attorney for the defendant was John R. Toston.

Clinton S. Mahaffey, 33, Mtn. Lake Park, pleaded guilty to DWI at a recent circuit court hearing. Judge Thayer accepted the plea. He committed the defendant to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail and fined him $500 dollars. The jail term was then suspended, and Mahaffey was placed on one year of supervised probation.

The defendant was also ordered to attend alcohol rehabilitation and school, and to abstain from alcohol completely during probation. He will receive a one-year alcohol restriction on his driver's license.

The charges against Mahaffey stemmed from a traffic stop on Weber Road in May 1990. A Maryland State Police officer executed the arrest, according to the court document.

Representing Mahaffey was Robert C. Hesson.

Franklin P. Polce Jr. pleaded guilty at a recent hearing to charges of DUI and driving with a revoked license. Judge Thayer accepted the pleas and sentenced Polce to one year and 30 days in the G.C. Jail, and fined him a total of $1,000.

Thayer suspended all but 30 days of the defendant's sentence on several conditions, including the placement of an alcohol restriction on his driver's license for two years. Polce was also ordered to pay court costs, and to practice absolute abstinence from alcohol during his two-year probation term.

Polce was arrested and charged with the violations in March 1990 on High Street by a Garrett County Sheriff deputy, according to the report.

Polce's defense attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

Kevin W. Bowman, 28, Waynesboro, Pa., pleaded guilty to DWI during a Jan. 17 hearing. Thayer accepted the plea and fined the defendant $500 plus court costs.

Bowman was reportedly arrested in August 1990 by a Maryland State Police officer on Deep Creek Drive. A charge of failure to dim headlights was not prosecuted.

Robert C. Hesson represented Bowman.

William E. Cramer, 45, Friendsville, pleaded guilty to reckless endangerment during a Jan. 10 hearing. Judge Thayer accepted the plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The defendant's bail was revoked.

Other charges against Cramer not prosecuted were assault with intent to murder and assault and battery. The charges stemmed from a September 1990 domestic incident. According to the court file, Cramer and his wife, Beverly Cramer, were at their home on the evening of Sept. 22, and were both apparently intoxicated. An argument developed between the couple, and Cramer picked up a .22 calibre rifle, aimed it at Mrs. Cramer, and pulled the trigger, striking her with a bullet in the upper left arm.

Cramer stated that he did not think the gun was loaded at the time.

Maryland State Police officers responded to the scene of the shooting, and Mrs. Cramer was transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

Sentencing for Cramer is tentatively scheduled for February 14. Defense counsel for the defendant was John R. Toston.

Michael S. Patrick, 26, Washington, Pa., pleaded guilty to the charge of possession of marijuana. Judge Thayer accepted his plea and sentenced him to the G.C. Jail for 30 days. Thayer suspended all but five days in jail, and ordered the defendant to be placed on six months of unsupervised probation. Patrick will also pay court costs.

Patrick was charged with the offense after a traffic stop in April 1990 on U.S. Rt. 40, west of Grantsville. The motorcycle being operated by the defendant was stopped for a traffic violation at that time, and a baggie containing marijuana was found in Patrick's possession, according to the court document.

Representing the defendant was Robert C. Hesson.

Brian E. Ahlfield, 21, Crellin, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. Thayer accepted the plea and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The defendant's bail was continued.

Ahlfield was charged with the violation after an October 1990 incident at which time he reportedly forged a check for $100, and cashed it at the Starlite Motel in Oakland.

Ahlfield reportedly forged the name of Robert Tasker on the check. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department made the arrest, according to the report.

Ahlfield was represented by John R. Toston.

Shown above, left to right, are Brian Paugh, who is serving his first term as a board member; Mikal Moomau, elected for the third time; Beverly Sines Murphy, elected for the fifth time; and David K. Martin, clerk of the Garrett County Circuit Court. Mrs. Murphy was also re-elected by the other board members to continue her service as board president. The term of office for education board members is two years.

Friendsville Rotary To Host AHA Dinner

The Rotary Club of Friendsville will host the American Heart Association — Western Maryland Division's 19th Annual Heart Educational Dinner on January 28 at 6:30 p.m.

The luncheon will be held at the Old Mill Restaurant in Friendsville.

Amy Shuman, R.D., L.D., director of nutrition services at Allegany County Health Department in Cumberland, will serve as the guest speaker this year and her topic will be "Munching Toward the 21st Century — Choices for Health."

The American Heart Association diet for the general public calls for reducing the intake of high-fat meats, whole milk dairy products, egg yolks, and other foods high in saturated fats and cholesterol. The diet encourages eating more "heart-healthy" foods such as poultry and other lean meat, fish, fresh fruits and vegetables, grains and cereals, low-fat dairy products.

The diet also recommends limiting cholesterol intake to no more than 300 milligrams a day. Only 30 percent of the total food intake should be fat and no more than a third of the fat should be saturated fat. The American Heart Association recommends a modest increase in carbohydrates and a reduction of salt. "If you follow the American Heart Association diet plan faithfully, you may be able to reduce your blood cholesterol by five-ten percent," stated an AHA spokesman.

This program is open to the general public and the cost is $7.50 per person, which includes dinner.

For more information on the 19th Annual Heart Educational Dinner or to receive a free pamphlet on diet and cholesterol, persons may call the local American Heart Association Office at (301) 724-4011.

GCC Receives State Grant For ABE Program

Garrett Community College has recently been notified that a grant to continue the Adult Basic Education program has been awarded by the Maryland State Department of Education, according to a college spokesperson.

This program enables adults who have not completed high school to study the basic subjects required for a high school equivalency diploma. Through the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, the ABE program is offered at 11 different sites throughout the county. Classes are run from September through June. Currently, 124 students are enrolled in these classes.

Anyone desiring further information about the program or about times and locations of classes should call the Oakland Center of the college, at 334-8304.

Three Taken To Local Hospital Following Mishap

Three persons were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital Monday as the result of a two-vehicle accident that occurred on the Sand Flat Road.

Treated were Donna L. Morgan, 19, Franklin, W.Va., operator of a 1983 Pontiac; Bernadette Buckley, 21, Morgantown, W.Va.; and Gayla Matthews, 22, Morgantown, passengers in the vehicle.

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, the accident occurred when the Morgan vehicle skidded on a curve in the icy roadway, traveled across the center line, and struck a 1978 Chevrolet pickup truck, operated by Thomas R. Dale, 48, Elk Garden, W.Va., head on.

Neither Dale nor a passenger in his vehicle, Lynwood Sharpless, 32, Swanton, were reportedly injured in the 4:20 p.m. mishap.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported the injured to the local hospital.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated and charged Morgan with failure to reduce speed in dangerous weather conditions.

An Oakland man was admitted to the local hospital as the result of an early Saturday morning accident on U.S. Route 50.

Ricky L. Ahern, 30, was taken to the hospital by private vehicle and admitted. He has since been released, according to a nursing supervisor at the hospital.

According to a report filed by Sgt. G.F. Johnston, the 4:00 a.m. accident occurred when the 1982 Nissan Stanza Ahern was operating went out of control and ran off the right side of the road before overturning and striking a tree.

Ahern was charged by Tfc. John Foley with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

DWI ARREST

One additional arrest for driving while under the influence of alcohol was noted by the State Police this week.

Samuel J. Hochard, 25, Falls Church, Va., was charged Sunday with DWI by Tpr. Hare.

GOVERNOR SCHAEFER APPEARS ON THE STREETS OF OAKLAND — Almost out of nowhere, Governor William Donald Schaefer made an unannounced visit to Oakland Saturday morning, where he momentarily paused for a photo opportunity with Constance E. Margison, president of the League of Women Voters of Garrett County. While here, Governor Schaefer visited several member stores of the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA), including Marvin's Men's Wear, Grand Central Station, The Small Pedlar, Flinns' Family Store and The Book Mark'et. He also reportedly purchased GOBA's newest "Garrett County Memory" replica building of Friend's Store in Sang Run.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF MARYLAND

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF THE POTOMAC EDISON COMPANY FOR CHANGE IN DEPRECIATION RATES.	* * *	BEFORE THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF MARYLAND CASE NO. 8322

NOTICE OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE AND OF TIME TO FILE PETITIONS TO INTERVENE

The Potomac Edison Company ("PE") has filed an application with the Maryland Public Service Commission ("Commission") for authority to change PE's depreciation rates and to reflect higher depreciation costs in the next base rate case to be filed by PE (at some undetermined future time).

The Commission will hold a prehearing conference on January 31, 1991, beginning at 11:00 a.m., in the Commission's 12th floor hearing room in the American Building, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland. The purposes of the prehearing conference are to rule on petitions to intervene and to set dates for the filing of testimony and hearings with respect to PE's application to change its depreciation rates.

Parties who desire to participate in this case must file with the Commission three copies of a Petition to Intervene, addressed to Ronald E. Hawkins, Executive Secretary, Maryland Public Service Commission, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202-3486, no later than 4:30 p.m. on January 29, 1991.

Persons who desire to submit written comments regarding this matter may forward one copy of such comments to Ronald E. Hawkins, Executive Secretary, Maryland Public Service Commission, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202-3486.

New Postage Rates Effective February 3

The Governors of the U.S. Postal Service on Tuesday allowed under protest a general rate increase as recommended by the independent Postal Rate Commission (PRC) including a rise in the cost of a First-Class stamp from 25 cents to 29 cents. Most of the new rates will be effective on February 3, 1991.

In lodging the protest and returning the recommendations to the PRC, Board of Governors Chairman Norma Pace said that in the judgment of the Governors, the rates recommended by the PRC may not provide sufficient revenue. The Governors decided to implement the recommended rates while asking the Commission to reconsider its recommendations in light of the Governors' concerns regarding insufficient revenue and that in some cases, the PRC may have overstepped its authority.

"With all the financial pressures we are facing, we cannot afford to gamble on whether the Rate Commission has correctly estimated volume and revenue," Postmaster General Anthony M. Frank said. "If they erred -- and we believe they have -- the recommended rates may well prove to be "penny wise and pound foolish."

Due to increased efficiencies from automation and resultant work force reductions through attrition, the Postal Service slashed its Fiscal Year 1990 net loss from an anticipated $1.6 billion to $874 million, Pace said. Nevertheless, coupled with the rising costs of the two preceding years in operations, transportation, supplies, labor, health and retirement benefits, the Postal Service financial condition is such that the rate increase could not be delayed.

For the average consumer the new First-Class letter rates of 29 cents for the first ounce and 23 cents for each additional ounce will mean $8 to $10 more per year in postage costs.

The increase in rates to be implemented will average 18 percent, overall, and 15 percent for First-Class Mail. Other average increases include 22 percent for second-class regular, 25 percent for third-class regular, 19 percent for Priority and 15 percent for Express Mail.

While agreeing to implement the general rate increase, the Governors also allowed the so-called 27-cent First-Class "public automation rate" to take effect under protest, but delayed implementation of this category. "We are concerned that management have sufficient time to establish procedures for verifying the quality and accuracy of bar codes generated by customers and individuals who would seek these discounts as well as allowing individuals to understand this option," Pace said.

The rate changes include a new flat "envelope rate" for both Priority and Express Mail. Users may include as many documents as possible in specially-designed envelopes for a flat fee, with the added convenience of not having to weigh the envelope to determine the correct postage.

In making the announcement, the Postal Service offered these reminders:

*The Postal Service must establish rates that allow it to break even financially over time.

*The Postal Service receives no tax subsidies for its operations.

*Each class of mail, by law, must cover its costs.

*Rate incentives offered to mailers reflect their efforts in advance sorting and preparation of the mail, which lowers the Postal Service's costs of processing and delivering the mail.

*The 29-cent First-Class rate is still among the lowest in the industrialized world.

The Postal Service also announced an increase in international rates to more closely reflect the actual costs of delivering mail within the destinating country, a requirement based on international postal policy. International rates are exempt from Postal Rate Commission review.

Highlights include a one-ounce letter rate of 40 cents to Canada; a new half-ounce rate of 35 cents to Mexico; and a half-ounce air rate of 50 cents to all other countries.

GROUNDBREAKING HELD FOR NEW MEAT PROCESSING PLANT — Groundbreaking ceremonies were held this week for Garrett County's newest business in the Southern Garrett Industrial Park in Oakland. The meat processing plant will be occupied by Mountain Fresh, Inc., where a variety of meat products will be manufactured. The facility, scheduled to be operational by mid-summer, will provide a market for the local agricultural community. The Garrett County Commissioners last week announced the awarding of a construction contract in the amount of $379,500 to MSG Associates of Roseto, Pa., to begin construction of the plant. Shown above at the groundbreaking ceremony are, left to right, Harry Filemyr, project coordinator; Garrett County Commissioners Elwood L. Groves II and John G. Braskey; H. Dale Miller, H&G Meats, Inc.; Tom Jones, Garrett County Department of Economic Development director; Ed Kemp, MSG Association, and Mark Arnold, Frank Arnold Contractors.

Card Of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends and family for the moral support, cards, gifts and any other acts of kindness during my recent stay in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the following time of recuperation.

A special thanks to Dr. Fedde and his staff, the second floor nurses that attended my room, and to Pastor Rutkauskas.

House Saved By Quick Action Of Fire Fighters

Quick action by Oakland volunteer fire fighters last Thursday evening saved a Rosedale house after fire erupted in the loft of the small wood frame structure.

The Garrett County Office of Emergency Management received a call from Christine Knox at 8:07 p.m. after the blaze was discovered by a member of the Knox family. Upon their arrival, firemen entered the house and quickly contained the blaze. Some articles of clothing, a stereo, and a few pieces of furniture were destroyed; however, fire damage to the house was limited to a small area of the roof. The cause of the fire was determined to be an overheated flue.

Also called to the scene were the Deer Park Community VFD, the county air cascade vehicle, presently housed at Bittinger VFD, and the Southern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

Firemen remained on the scene for about one and one-half hours.

Registration At GCC Continues

Registration for spring semester classes at Garrett Community College is continuing through this week and early next week, according to Deloris Edgar, administrative registrar. The Registrar's Office of the college will be open weekdays, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and until 6:30 p.m. Monday, January 28.

In accordance with established college policy, students may register for a course up to the equivalent of the beginning of the second week of class. Students wishing to register for a two-credit course may do so up to the beginning of the third hour of class; for a three-credit course, up to the beginning of the fourth hour of class; for a four-credit course, up to the beginning of the fifth class hour, etc.

Because of the cancellation of some classes during this past week because of adverse weather conditions, registrations for certain courses can still be done during the early days of next week.

Students desiring to register for any of the three Saturday morning credit courses starting January 26 may still register through Friday, February 1. These classes are CS 105 Introduction to Computers, SPC 101 Basic Speech, and PSY 102 Human Growth and Development. They will meet from 9 a.m. to noon each Saturday, excluding Easter weekend.

Area Thefts Being Investigated By Md. State Police

The Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack, are currently investigating numerous thefts reported in the area this past week.

Elizabeth E. Doerr, McHenry, told police that someone had stolen a Canon AE-1 35 mm camera from an office at Garrett Community College on Tuesday. Cpl. R.S. Farrell is investigating.

Tpr. G.S. Becker is investigating the theft of two pairs of K-2 skis from an unattended area at the McHenry House at the Wisp Resort. Donald S. Gilbert and Marga M. Hellebrekers reported the thefts on Monday.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is looking into the reported Monday thefts of two snowboards at the Wisp Resort Hotel.

John P. Clinton, Chevy Chase, and Emmanuel A. Papageorgiou, Washington, D.C., told Broadwater that a Look Grinder S snowboard and a Barfoot twin-tip, freestyle snowboard, each valued at $400, were taken from the sixth floor of the hotel between 9:15 and 10:15 p.m. The investigation is continuing.

Kenji Sugiura, 17, Salem, W.Va., reported the theft of one pair of Rossingol 7's skis and poles from an unattended area at the Wisp Resort. The theft occurred Sunday between 3 and 4 p.m. Tpr. Robert W. Cuthbertson is investigating.

Another pair of black and white Rossingol ski poles were taken from an unattended area of the Wisp Resort on Saturday between 9 and 9:30 p.m. according to a report filed by Patrick C. McCorkie, Columbia. Tfc. P.R. Brown is the investigating officer.

Persons with any knowledge of the aforementioned thefts are asked to call the Maryland State Police at 387-5511.

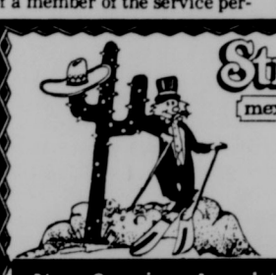
Local Red Cross Seeks Volunteers

The Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking volunteers to work for the organization's Service to Military Families.

According to local Red Cross representative, Cindy Kutchman, the current mission of this particular Red Cross program is to support troops presently stationed in the Middle East with Operation Desert Storm. The type of assistance provided is primarily in the form of communications between the military personnel and their families at home, particularly regarding medical or other family crises. This is accomplished through the Red Cross network of community chapters and stations at military installations. Local volunteers are needed to expand services available to Garrett County families.

The only messages permitted by the military to be sent to U.S. troops in the Persian Gulf are those regarding the birth of a service member's child; the serious illness, injury, or death of a member of the service person's immediate family; and/or the breakdown in a child-care plan involving a service member's child or children.

The military defines "immediate family" members as parents, step-parents, a person acting in loco parentis, spouse, son, daughter, sister, brother, and/or only living relative.



There are currently 67 Red Cross staff in the Persian Gulf area providing emergency communications services to soldiers there. Through the end of November, more than 45,000 messages had been relayed to ground units and ships assigned to the Gulf area.

Local persons interested in volunteering for this program are asked to call 334-9480 or 387-4770.

In Loving Memory Of
WILLARD THORTON SHEALLY
Who passed away on Jan. 23, 1990

Daddy, you were always there to lend a hand and say a prayer.
There has not been a day gone by since you left that we have not cried.
To heaven, God sent you up above to dwell with Him and His adoring love.
The voice of Pap-Pap still remains, for life without you shall never be the same.
To you a new grandchild is on the way to brighten up even the saddest of days.
And Daddy, time shall never erase the loving smile upon your face.

Bold, Interesting Proposal

The state superintendent of schools in Maryland recently presented a bold and interesting proposal to Governor William Donald Schaefer, a proposal that was totally unexpected from a person in his position.

Dr. Joseph L. Shilling says he believes that one of the essential ingredients to making significant improvement in our public school system is to drastically cut his own bureaucracy of "education specialists." He is proposing that his staff of 1,400 be slashed 70 percent, to just 400! He believes that the present system of the state bureaucracy handing down mandates to Maryland's 1,200 schools has severely restricted local initiatives by teachers and principals. He also believes something we have known here in Garrett County for a long time, that many of the requirements and restrictions that are appropriate and work well in Baltimore City are inappropriate and do not work well in Garrett County.

It is Dr. Shilling's belief, and ours, that each school should be permitted and encouraged to design its own learning program that best suits its needs, as long as the program is comprehensive and can be proven effective. Such an approach has been referred to lately as "school-based management." Our schools are loaded with talented teachers and administrators who have innovative ideas that are not being utilized because of state mandates.

This proposal by Dr. Shilling also seems to reinforce another suspicion that we have had for a long time -- that our government agencies, such as our boards of education, are top-heavy with administrative and supervisory personnel, who are receiving hefty salaries for doing little, while our budgets for materials and educational programs continue to be slashed.

It is past time that the heads of Garrett County's various agencies, not just the board of education, follow Dr. Shilling's proposal and begin combining and eliminating various administrative positions, or at least see to it that the people in these positions are really putting in the time and doing their jobs the way they should be done. The tax-paying public deserves nothing less.

PROMOTION

"The secret of success in marketing is to out-yell the guy next door." Having said this, the marketing consultant proceeded to slice a corner off a dollar bill. "This is what we're here for," he continued, "just a piece of what people have left to spend after paying their bills -- which usually ain't much." The competition, he added, is no longer just the guy next door but everyone who has anything to sell. How can we outyell everybody else?

The key is effective promotion. Having covered product, place and price, the last "P" of marketing is promotion. Promotion is anything you do to communicate favorable information about your product or service to potential buyers. It is a broad concept that includes advertising, sales, and public relations. This article is a promotional device for the SBDC!

Your strategy depends on so many variables that it might not be a bad idea to invest in hiring a consultant. If customers aren't beating a path to your doorstep, you have to determine if promotion can pay for itself with increased volume. If so, you need to develop a flexible strategy and some kind of theme. One well-known local businessman can be seen each week clowning around in $500 suits and tennis shoes, not only getting attention but also suggesting that buying his products will be fun.

In this rural county word-of-mouth is the undeniably important. A reputation for honesty is paramount everywhere, but here sound travels faster than light. Besides, the customer is also your neighbor. The "moment of truth" you and your employees have with each customer can confirm or undo not only your expensive advertising campaign but your reputation as well. Nordstrom's, a tremendously successful department store chain in the Northwest, gave a customer back his money, even though they did not sell that item in any of their stores. The CEO of the number one rated airline in the world asks that his employees break the rules at least four times a day, but always in the customer's favor. He knows that returning customers are 80% of future business, so he trains his employees to treat them like family. They tell a friend and the profits pour in.

Networking is vital. Join every club and civic organization that will have you. Remind everyone you meet that you are the one to see. Henry Ford bought a multi-million dollar insurance policy for his executives not from his best friend and golf partner, but from a guy who had come by his office every month for two years. Henry forgot his friend was in insurance.

In a recession it is only by increasing your promotional efforts that you can maintain traffic. It can actually be an opportunity to gain market share. Your consultant can help you with advertising, direct marketing, coupons, contests, rebates, premiums, samples, etc., all aimed at the final consumer. Using The Yellow Pages ineffectively is an expensive mistake. Newspaper and radio ads can be extremely effective depending on your product's target market. Contests are great for developing a mailing list of "preferred customers." In wholesaling you may want to consider "pushing" your product through channels with sales contests, cooperative (shared) advertising, free merchandise or discounts. If your competition is doing it, you may have to join in, especially if your product is new.

The selling process -- getting attention, building interest and desire to such a degree that people will give you a slice of their precious discretionary dollar -- is both art and science. Whether you hire a consultant or get free advice from the SBDC you need to make sure that your voice carries to the customers you want to reach.

One of the most wonderful persons we met in Garrett County is David L. Bolinger, D.C. Unfortunately, my husband, Ed, became ill the Saturday before New Year's and was in great pain. I called two local chiropracter services in the area and, to my disappointment, was told to call back on Monday to make an appointment -- they were getting ready to close. I felt so helpless and concerned because of the pain Ed was suffering.

I found Dr. Bolinger's name in your directory and called him about 6:00 p.m. Dr. Bolinger was the kindest and most patient person I have ever talked with. He calmed me down and explained how to treat my husband. He was so concerned and said he could see Ed the next day if he was any worse. This doctor is so "special" as he took time from his own family and called me as soon as I returned from church to check on Ed. He told me I was doing everything possible to help the healing process; if Ed's condition worsened he would be glad to treat him or hospitalize him for therapy if necessary. Thank the Good Lord and your very SPECIAL DOCTOR, Ed recovered very well.

Misfortune hit our family again yesterday; Ed slipped on the ice and hurt his back. The very first person we called was Dr. Bolinger and he treated Ed today. He is confident that Ed will be well soon with a lot of "TLC," as Dr. Bolinger calls it. it.

The most amazing thing I found was that we were never charged a penny for his time and help the first time Ed hurt his neck. You could walk many a mile before finding someone as caring as Dr. Bolinger. He truly treats his patients very special. We are very fortunate to have someone like him in our county. Our hats are off to you (and our hearts), Dr. Bolinger. Thanks for being so kind and special.

Ed and I would like to contribute to being good people in Garrett County also and will do our best to fulfill this wish. I have participated as Raggedy Ann in your Autumn Glory Festival parade for the past three years (along with my friend "Andy" from Baltimore). This past week I dressed up in my "good old clown outfit" and visited our local hospital -- Garrett County Memorial -- to spend a few moments with the patients. This is something I have done at Johns Hopkins Hospital (Kennedy Institute), Children's Hospital, and many nursing homes in my home town for seven years. I hope I can continue to bring a little happiness and a smile to those in need in our "new town." By the way, my clown name is "Ssenippah" (backwards, it spells "Happiness"). A little kindness goes a long way, especially when you happen to be hospitalized or lying in bed in a nursing home. Hopefully, I will be able to get out more in the spring and summer to visit the local nursing homes in our area to spread a little sunshine there.

We are also so fortunate to have very special neighbors like Rick, Joan, Brian, and Michael Chaney. They have welcomed us and made us feel as though we are part of their lives. It's very hard to leave your family, friends, and especially our grandkids and move so far away. The Chaneys have made this transition so much easier. God bless them and people like Dave Bolinger, D.C.

Thanks for listening to YOUR new neighbors and hopefully long-time friends of Garrett County. We are very proud to be here and join your team.

Your friends,
Freda and Ed Quintero

The Mind Wanders

by Sherry Frantz

I will always need the garden.

Beyond that, I will always need to be an active part of the garden, putting to rest the plants that stubbornly refuse my nurturing hands, planting new specimans, rearranging the companions that have thrived and multiplied, and encouraging the upstarts still struggling for a firm foothold.

I will always live with the garden, giving it its rightful option of living or dying (or any mutation, retardation or genetic inconsistency in between). That is, I will provide what I can reasonably provide -- as the garden does for me, in return -- and then give it its choice, never feeling that it must perform to any prescibed human expectations.

There will never be -- at the appropriate harvesting time -- a lack of fresh flowers in my house stolen from the more prolific bloomers in the garden. Moreover, the house will display a wide array, year-round, of all the annuals, perennials, branches, leaves and weeds gathered to eventually be arranged into wreaths or baskets of dried flowers.

I will never stop searching for the kindred spirit who will be naturally inclined to look at the garden through the same senses as my own. Yet, I know full well that I have set myself up for failure in that dream; knowing that no one other person can truly look at the concepts, the process or the interaction that has occurred between me and the garden.

The garden will always provide me with energy, comfort and a spiritual awareness that is difficult to achieve in most other arenas through which I travel.

It is "home," and keeps me tied to a sub-standard house that is a perpetual financial, physical and emotional burden, but is accompanied by enough acreage for the likes of my gardening propensities.

The garden is my work, one which I take seriously; it is my therapeutic hobby, taken just as seriously; and it is my dream, which provides hours of earthly delights.

I will always stay close to the garden.

P.S. It might seem odd that I have chosen this time to share my thoughts of the garden because a)I have quite strong (and not so popular) thoughts concerning the war that now rages in the Persian Gulf -- thoughts that consume and challenge my sanity, and b) it is the dead of winter when I must spend more time tending fires, shoveling steps, and removing snow from and heating up my car, just to then go out onto the slippery roads and do the work I'm paid to do.

Perhaps the harsh weather and the harsher war are reason enough. S.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In response to a letter that appeared in this column last week, the League of Women Voters of Garrett County would like to state that, according to national, state, and local policies, we are a non-partisan organization. It is not our purpose to propose, support, or endorse any candidates. It is our purpose to inform the voters about all candidates and issues through public forums, public service radio programs, and the Voters' Guide which is published by The Republican.

We regret that more candidates did not choose to run for elective office and that so many candidates ran unopposed. We feel sorry that more Americans do not exercise their political rights to run for elective office and become a part of the governmental process. We deeply regret that so many Americans do not even exercise their right to vote for candidates. How can we be a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" if the people choose not to exercise the rights that our forefathers (and foremothers) fought so hard to win for us?

Sincerely,
Constance E. Margison
LWV of GC President

To the Editor:

Why is it so hard for some people to understand that "Majority Rule" is the essence of democracy? Could it be that they're really not interested in democracy, but only in forcing their views on others; or does it have more to do with the hidden agenda of an existing "mind-set," that would give this anomaly the exulted status of a national movement?

A wise man once said, "Every absurdity has a champion to defend it." I appreciate the wisdom of this sentiment every time I see the "Professional Left" of our open society galvanize its minions to action on prime-time TV news shows across this great land of ours.

The way it's presented and talked about in our ultra-liberal news media, you would think their sanctimonious posturing, and their pacifistic banners represent a majority or, at the very least, a "near" majority view in this country; when in fact they can't even master enough votes, including innocent dupes, to qualify as a respectable minority.

There is a well founded response to the often asked question, "What ever happened to the 'Dissident Movement' of the 60's?" and it goes like this: "They all got tenure!" The halls of academia are full to overflowing with graying leftists, still preaching their flawed and failed vision of a "socialistic" Utopia; where there are no bad guys and body treats one another as brothers and sisters . . . we all know brothers and sisters have no disputes, don't we?

The most recent polling on the President's actions in the Persian Gulf indicate that less than 14% of the total population disapprove of his actions on behalf of world sanity, yet if you read or watch the news media in this land of ours, you would think the populace is split down the middle. I am one of the growing number of people in our "democracy" who believe that many of the distortions that premeate, and often paralize, the political process of our country, can be laid at the door of the liberal news media as a direct result of their propensity to "shape the news" to suit their ultra-liberal agenda, instead of just reporting the facts as they know them. If the media in this country, with its liberal tilt (and they're proud of it), could somehow be forced to hold their liberal political brethren to the same high standards they insist on for the conservative right, most, not all, of the divisive problems that confront us as a nation would disappear; including a large number of the present members of the "body politic."

The "Professional Left" in this country must be shown in very positive terms that "demonstrations" and "their" brand of "civil disobedience" will not be allowed, through the auspices of an ultra-liberal media, to inflict their views, warped, or otherwise, on the will of the vast majority. In a "democracy," their unencumbered "freedoms" are supposed to end where the majority's begin.

Most thinking Americans firmly believe there are some things worth fighting -- and yes, dying -- for; for without such a manifest belief, there would be no beacon of liberty known as the United States of America.

The really sad commentary in all of this is that the "Professional Left" would have us all believe that "World" freedom has already prevailed, and that Gorbachev, the ex-KGB apparachec and Nobel "Peace" Laureate, is proof-positive of that fact.

"For Freedom's battle once begun, Bequeath'd by bleeding sire to son, Though baffled oft is ever won." -- Lord Byron: 'Giaour'*

To the Editor:

After waiting a few weeks to "cool off" I must add my words of criticism for the action by the Board of Directors of the Oakland Country Club for firing of Jim Kreyenbuhl. We have a grave injustice right here at home in Oakland, and do not have to view the Keating Affair or the Invasion of Kuwait for sordid examples. Yes, it seems "something is rotten in Denmark -- Oakland!"

The public will probably remember us: Gig and Ruby Sylvester as long-time former residents. My husband managed a sizeable industry here which gave employment to many of our citizens. He served for a time as President of the Country Club and both of us were active in it, enjoyed its facilities.

Jim Kreyenbuhl was born and raised in Oakland. In his youth he served as caddie at the Club. Then, for years and years, 34, he was our golf pro. He dedicated his working life to the Country Club, encouraged and supervised many improvements, such as adding 9 holes, and he made the whole enterprise work.

He was also grounds keeper and kept the fairways in excellent condition. He organized and managed many tournaments, the most recent in August 1990, for Western Maryland. He worked hard to secure large participation.

His work days were often 12 to 16 hours long.

Summer visitors came and returned, bringing friends. He dealt with the nitty-gritty, the usual golf-course criticisms, solving the on-going problems.

My husband, Gig, was once President of the Country Club and they always put money earned from the course for its care and improvement. He voted against the new Club House, feeling that Oakland is too small to warrant it. But the Board, not the membership, voted for it. It is beautiful but it never made money. Jim has kept things going as the golf course still paid its way.

Now everyone is trying to blame everyone else for the financial predicament. Firing Jim isn't the answer to your problems.

I lived in Oakland for 20 years. I always enjoyed playing golf on the course. I have visited each summer and played often and found the course in good condition. Why in the world did the Directors pick Jim as the "fall guy?"

After Jim's 34 years of faithful service and right at Christmas time: HOW MEAN CAN YOU GET!

Ruby Sylvester,
Winter Haven, Fla.

To the Editor:

My husband and I moved to McHenry in early October from Baltimore County, full of anticipation and happiness to make Garrett County our permanent residence after visiting for the past 14 years.

We love our new home and the warmth of the wonderful friends we made through our church -- Zion Lutheran. They have welcomed us with open hearts and made us feel as though we never left our home town and Bethany Lutheran, in Violetville.

culture building. Morris said that in a verbal interview several months ago, to fire marshal stated that sprinklers were not needed because the voag area was only being partially renovated, and partially renovated areas do not need to be brought up to the building code, Morris was told. But at the December meeting, the recommendation was changed.

Morris told the board members that the installation cost of the sprinklers would be $11,000. He then asked them if they wanted to pursue any other avenues before agreeing to the project. The members quickly answered that they did wish for more options.

Morris then spoke with the fire marshal's office and asked for a waiver, or a delay, in the project. His request was granted, and although the work must be done in the future, the sprinklers do not have to be installed immediately. Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of schools, said in a later interview that the system will most likely be installed in two years.

The fire marshal noted another problem concerning the sprinkler system. He stated that in the main part of the school, sensing devices must be attached to the sprinkler heads which will be wired back to a circuit board. In the event of a fire, the board will indicate which sprinkler has been activated. The sprinkler heads can be gathered into groups of three to four heads per sensor, which would mean the installation of seven sensors.

Morris stated that the sensors alone will cost $8,400. That amount does not include wiring costs.

Board Member Carol Clark asked why these sensors were not included in the original package, and Morris told her that the architect had simply not mentioned the need for them during the planning stage.

Morris then told the group about wiring problems in the school's main gymnasium. The electrical system is apparently inadequate, and the problem will escalate when tied into the new wiring system, Morris explained. The gym currently has a two-power system; however, the existing system overheats often.

Morris told the members that several years ago, the fuse panel box melted after an overload. The breakers are oversized, he said, making the system a fire hazard. Since the gym cannot be safely tied in to the electrical system, there will be no electricity, which means the exit signs cannot be lit. This factor will cause the closing of the gym, Morris said.

The cost of updating the system is estimated at $10-11,000. Ryscavage said that he hoped the re-working of the system can be accomplished by local electricians, which will possibly bring the cost down. He said the gym will probably be closed down in mid-March, and arrangements will have to be made for any sports group that would normally be practicing during that time, namely the baseball team.

Morris ended his report by praising the Carl Belt Construction Company. He said that the workers are "extremely conscientious," and that they often work into the night to insure the safety of students and teachers who must conduct classes in the midst of the construction.

Morris also stated that no one can understand the complexity of the project without seeing it, and offered to arrange tours in the school for any interested persons.

LWV THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Health Care Meeting For General Public to Be Held

The League of Women Voters of Garrett County will be host to Dr. Rex Archer, Garrett County Health Officer, who will present the history of public health in the United States, Monday, January 28, at 7:30 p.m., at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

The presentation by Archer will cover America's health care system from the beginning to the current status. A question and answer period will follow Dr. Archer's presentation.

The League of Women Voters' 1990 Convention adopted a health care study to examine the policies for funding and delivering health care in the United States.

The public is encouraged to attend.

Regional Blood Supplies Currently Adequate, But Giving Is Encouraged

In the wake of the recent outbreak of hostilities in the Persian Gulf, officials of American Red Cross Blood services, Johnstown Region; have announced that blood supplies in its 40-county area (including Garrett County) are adequate to meet both needs of patients in its 64 participating hospitals and current Operation Desert Storm needs.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be collecting blood at the National Guard Armory in Oakland this Friday, January 25, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. It should be noted that ONLY 200 pints will be collected because of the reasons presented in this story.

"Due to the current profile of military action in the Persian Gulf, the Department of Defense is not experiencing increased blood needs at this time," commented Marianne Spampinato, public relations director and Operation Desert Shield coordinator. "We do not have an emergency appeal for blood donors at this time.

"We understand and appreciate the great outpouring of public support to 'do something' to help our armed forces. We value this support, but remind the public that blood donations will be needed over a period of time, and not just in the first days or weeks of hostilities," she said.

She explained that the Johnstown Region has implemented a plan to limit collections at its sites throughout its area in Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia to those units (pints) of blood needed by regional hospital patients and requests of the Department of Defense. "Given the limited shelf-life of blood — 42 days — this is the most prudent action to take in the current situation," Sampinato said.

The Region's emergency plan calls for a reallocation of its staffing to blood drives goaled at 50 units or more. "We are cancelling or consolidating small blood drives to be able to expand larger drives. This schedule gives individuals throughout the region an opportunity to donate blood in support of Operation Desert Storm," she said.

The Johnstown Region collects an average of 600 units of blood each weekday, or 3,000 units a week, to meet the needs of regional hospital patients.

"At most, we can process 800 units each weekday," Spampinato said. "Collections above this amount may affect our ablity to ensure the highest quality supply, due to the limitations of our human and material resources. Donor and patient safety is a primary concern."

Currently, the 54 Red Cross regions across the country are committed to supplying 1,000 units of blood a week to support the Department of Defense in Operation Desert Storm. Fifty percent of Desert Storm needs are for type O blood. "At this time, Department of Defense blood needs have not increased with the outbreak of hostilities," Spampinato said.

This past week, the Johnstown Region was requested to ship 100 units toward this effort. The distribution and transportation of Red Cross blood supplies to the Gulf is being handled by military airlift from McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

Red Cross Blood Services acts as a back-up to the military blood program through an agreement created after World War II. "Red Cross national headquarters staff communicate regularly with the Department of Defense to determine their blood needs. We stand prepared to provide additional support if requested by the Department of Defense," stated Spampinato.

Individuals age 17 or older, who weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health, can donate blood only every 56 days. "We need public support beyond today, but over the coming weeks to maintain a consistent supply for both local patients and the Department of Defense.

"We will keep the media and public informed of any increased blood needs and requests by the Department of Defense, and how they can support our efforts to maintain a balanced, consistent blood supply," Spampinato concluded.

NHS VICA Club Seeking Donations

The Northern High School VICA club is participating in a VICA competition on January 26. Persons who have any donations, such as wood or electrical supplies, are asked to send them to the club by January 26.

Play Auditions Scheduled At GCC Campus

A spokesperson for the Garrett Community College theatre department announced that auditions for the play "Crimes of the Heart" will take place on Thursday, January 24, at 7 p.m., and on Friday, January 25, beginning at 1 p.m. in the GCC auditorium.

The cast requirements are for two men and four women, the spokesperson said. Performance dates are February 28 and March 1 and 2.

Frances Acton of the Act IV Players will direct the show, and the set design will be created by Ben Sincell, GCC assistant professor of speech and theatre.

"Crimes of the Heart," written by Beth Henley, revolves around three sisters from the south who are involved in a suspicious murder. The yarn unfolds mainly in the kitchen of one of the sisters, and is told by means of comedy as well as suspense and poignancy.

The production of "Crimes of the Heart" is made possible by a special arrangement with the Dramatist Play Service, Inc., New York, New York.

Education Board Hears Status Of SHS Renovation

John Morris, supervisor of administration for the Garrett County Board of Education, recently presented to the board a progress report on the renovation project at Southern High School. Morris noted the latest changes in the effort, and informed the board of some difficulties that have arisen in the process.

The auxiliary gymnasium was occupied on January 2. The heat in the building was operational at the time of occupation, Morris stated in answer to a question by a board member.

The construction crew did receive a response from the Garrett County Commissioners concerning the temporary closing of High Street for the hook-on to the water system. The street was barricaded on Dec. 26 and 27, during which time the work was completed.

Morris noted several problems that arose after a Dec. 13 meeting with the State Fire Marshall of the Maryland School Construction Program. The first difficulty noted by Morris, involving the school's sprinkler system, has since been rectified.

The fire marshal advised that sprinklers must be installed on the second floor of the vocational agri-

Goldstein Wants Tax Breaks For U.S. Soldiers

As he was sworn in for an unprecedented ninth consecutive term as state comptroller on Monday, January 21, Louis L. Goldstein said he would be sending the governor "draft emergency legislation to extend various Maryland income tax filing deadlines for the servicemen and women involved in Operation Desert Storm.

"This will reflect legislation now moving through the United States Congress to provide benefits to our fighting men and women, and it incorporates federal combat zone provisions into Maryland law. The legislation goes beyond what we have already done administratively," he said.

"Today," the comptroller told the crowd gathered in the House of Delegates Chamber in the State House in Annapolis, "I accept the challenge of continuing to provide efficient tax administration, responsible fiscal management and effective customer service to the people of Maryland. I accept the challenge of maintaining Maryland's high standards in each of those areas in the face of our current uncertain economic conditions.

"We in the Comptroller's Office haven't waited to meet the challenges that the current national economic situation has created. Our experience tells us that the tax man has to work harder for his money during times of economic downturn. Taxpayers sometimes will keep putting off paying the tax bill until they have dug a tax delinquency hole thay can't climb out of.

"That's why we began shifting our work force to step up our delinquent income tax collection efforts as early as mid-July," Goldstein said. "By shifting more income tax employees into the individual income tax collection effort, we have already brought in more than $3 million.

"In addition," the comptroller added, "we started an effort called 'Return Roundup' to pursue unfiled business tax returns, assigning personnel from our various devisions to rotating shifts in our sales tax collection section. This program has been a tremendous success, bringing in over $5 million from 25,652 businesses since mid-October.

"I accept the challenge posed by the current economic situation because I am confident that the Maryland State Comptroller's Office has a strong foundation on which to build — a foundation made stronger by our achievements of the past four years.

"We have expanded our capabilities with a new state-of-the-art Annapolis Data Center Building, which provides improved service to state agencies and our taxpayers. Our computerization and other efficiencies have helped us to actually reduce the cost of collecting each $100 of the income tax and sales tax. Those costs are below what they were ten years ago.

"To keep businesses informed about their tax registration requirements, we initiated an innovation taxpayer registration assistance center where 450 business taxpayers come each month to personally set up the proper tax registration accounts," the comptroller said.

"After the invasion of Kuwait, we used our experience from previous energy crises to act quickly along with the governor and the General Assembly, to protect the best interest of Maryland's motor fuel consumers. And we will continue to stay on top of this situation as events continue to unfold," Goldstein said.

Goldstein shared the credit for these successes with his employees, citing one man whose incentive-award winning idea will save the state $30,000 a year while reducing disposable waste products and the "hundreds of my co-workers who receive thank-you letters from Maryland taxpayers."

The comptroller read from one letter he received commending a woman in the Income Tax Division where the taxpayer said, "She did just what you said every taxpayer can expect — provide helpful information and give courteous and fair treatment.

"You can't ask for a better endorsement than that," Goldstein said.

On Dean's List

Daniel Webster College, Nashua, N.H., has announced that Donna Smith, Route 1, Swanton, has been named to the Dean's List for the fall 1990 semester. Dean's list students are recognized for achieving a 3.5 or higher grade point average based on a 4.0 scale.

New Academic Programs Approved At Frostburg State University

Frostburg State University has recently received notification of approval for four new programs from the Maryland Higher Education Commission. The programs, a Bachelor of Arts in actuarial science, a Bachelor of Fine Arts in visual arts, a Master of Science in applied ecology and conservation biology and a Master of Science in human performance, will begin in Fall, 1991.

"We are proud that all the program proposals we submitted under the new, and more stringent Commission guidelines were approved," commented Frostburg State University President Herb. F. Reinhard. "The positive response to these initiatives during the year-long process, including reviews by the Frostburg State University Senate, the University of Maryland System and the Maryland Higher Education Commission, underscores the high quality and cost-effectiveness of these new efforts. We carefully assessed the need for these programs, and documented the educational and economic development benefits they will provide for the citizens of Western Maryland," he said.

The baccalaureate program in actuarial science will be one of only 43 programs in the United States and Canada listed by the Society of Actuaries. The Bureau of Labor Statistics projects that the demand for actuaries will grow by 40 percent over the next five years. Students will have the option of earning a double major in mathematics, and will be prepared to sit for the examinations required for actuarial society membership. The program is the cornerstone of a five-county effort to encourage insurance firms to relocate their headquarters to Western Maryland, and already has attracted student scholarship support from the BGS&G Companies. Interested students should contact Dr. Richard Weimer, Department of Mathematics, (301) 689-4384.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts in visual arts enhances Frostburg State University's ability to meet its mission in the performing arts. The BFA degree is the recognized, studio-based certificate for students planning professional careers or graduate study in the visual arts. The program will allow artistically talented area students to remain in Western Maryland to finish their education, and the high quality students it will attract will enhance programming in the visual arts available for the enjoyment and education of the community. For further information, persons may contact Ms. Nancy Rosnow, Department of Fine Arts, (301) 689-4797.

The Master of Science in applied ecology and conservation biology is a joint commitment of Frostburg State University's Department of Biology and the Appalachian Environmental Laboratory. The program responds to the critical shortage of research scientists in conservation biology trained to address the significant global and regional issue of the loss of biodiversity. The program will be one of a handful of graduate programs in conservation biology in the country. In addition to a focus on conservation issues that are critical to Western Maryland and to its ecologically responsible economic growth, the program will utilize existing exchange agreements in Africa and Central America to introduce North American students to global conservation issues, and to train entry to mid-level biologists from Africa and Latin America on the Frostburg campus. Interested students may contact Dr. Jim Howard, Department of Biology, (301) 689-4166.

The Master of Science program in human performance builds on existing internationally recognized programs in health and physical education. The program will educate students interested in promoting physical fitness in settings outside of schools, such as health fitness centers, hospitals, community centers and businesses. Faculty have already developed a wellness program for the University community, which is being initiated this month. In the health-conscious '90's there are significant opportunities for employment for students with expertise in physiology and wellness. For further information, persons may contact Dr. Ken Ecker, Department of Health and Physical Education, (301) 689-4461.

Dr. Daniel C. Pantaleo, Vice President for Academic Affairs, emphasized that "approval of these programs is a compliment to the creativity and responsiveness of the Frostburg State University faculty, qualities that have received strong encouragement and support under President Reinhard. This University will continue to plan responsible programmatic growth that enhances educational opportunities for citizens and addresses issues critical to the needs of Western Maryland in the context of the University's mission statement and planning process."

Laura Sanders, Craig Myers United In Marriage In December Ceremony

Laura Estelle Sanders and Craig Alan Myers were united in marriage on December 29, 1990, at the Ronk Memorial Chapel of Ashland Theological Seminary in Ohio. The officiating minister was James R. Show while Dr. Jerry Flora preached. Preludes were presented by Miss Jane Chaing and Mrs. Emily DePriest, piano; and Ms. Lori Lower, flute. Accompanist for the service and flute was Ms. Twila Bach.

The bride is the daughter of Sylvia and Leslie A. Sanders, Grosse Pointe, Mich. The groom is the son of Fern and Fred W. Myers, Markleysburg, Pa.

The bride was attired in a tea-length gown of ivory taffeta, styled with a princess-line bodice. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline, as basque waist, three-quarter-length sleeves and a full, gathered skirt. She sported a fingertip veil of illusion on her mother's Juliet cap and carried a self-fashioned arm bouquet of silk roses in ivory, maroon, and dark pink, accented with ferns and ivory and maroon bows with flowing ribbons.

The maid of honor was Rebecca Benson, friend of the bride, who was attired in a tea-length gown of cranberry taffeta, styled with a princess-line bodice which featured a sweetheart neckline. The gown had a basque waist with a full, gathered skirt and three-quarter-length sleeves. The gown was fashioned by the bride's mother. The maid of honor carried an arm bouquet of ivory and maroon silk roses with ferns and matching bows. Her bouquet was also fashioned by the bride.

Greeters were Diane Snyder, friend of the bride, and Emily Sitterley, aunt of the bride, from Brazil.

The best man was Rod Grafton, friend of the groom. Ushers were Garry Stephanson, friend of the bride from Ottawa, Canada; and Bruce Thomas, friend of the bride.

A buffet luncheon followed the ceremony at the Ashland Assembly of God Church. The blessing was given by the Rev. El Akuchie, friend of the bride. Hostesses included Ms. Pauline Chiang, Ms. Linda Weaver, and Ms. Dawne Cribbs. The cake was served by Danielle Myers, niece of the groom.

Following another reception with the groom's family and friends in Markleysburg, the couple traveled to Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School and a 1986 graduate of Hope College. She has been studying at Ashland Theological Seminary and will continue New Testament studies.

The groom pastors the Blue River Church of the Brethren, Columbia City, Ind., and is a member of the Brethren Revival Fellowship Committee. He graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1985 and earned the master of divinity degree from Ashland Theological Seminary in 1990. He was ordained January 6 at the Asher Glade Church of the Brethren in western Pennsylvania.

The couple now resides in Columbia City, Ind.

Miss Mellott Becomes Bride Of Mr. Buchert In Spring Ceremony

Lavinia Christine Mellott and Richard Roy Buchert Jr. were united in marriage Saturday, May 19, 1990. The double-ring ceremony took place at the Crellin Assembly of God Church with Pastor A. Ray Beahm officiating.

Edna Hollopeter, DuBois, Pa., was pianist and Harold Hudnall played baritone. Vocalists were Gerry Marizona, Rochester, N.Y., and Leona Scheffey, Dundee, N.Y. Chris Martin, Keyser, W.Va., cousin of the bride, was acolyte.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Mellott, Swallow Falls. Mr. Buchert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buchert, Boyertown, Pa.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of shimmering satin, featuring a modified sabrina neckline. The short puffed sheer sleeves were accented with wire ruffles as was the edging of the skirt and train. Her bridal hat trimmed with gold braid and pearls held a four-tier cathedral length veil.

The bride carried a floor length arrangement of peach and ivory daisies, Lily of the Valley, ivy, stephanotis, and peach and ivory streamers tied in love knots and attached to a large lace fan.

Serving as maid of honor was Connie Christenson, Atlantic City, N.J. Bridesmaids were Autumn Mellott, sister of the bride; Sarah Buchert, Boyertown, Pa., sister of the groom; Carol Hensley, Clear Spring, cousin of the bride; and Erin Dintaman, Hagerstown, cousin of the bride. Flower girl was Caitlyn Skeweris, Hagerstown. She is the daughter of Barb and Rick Skeweris.

Bridal assistant was Cheryl Fenstermaker, Marion, Ohio.

The attendants wore matching Southern Belle gowns of aqua satin, a peach hair halo, and carried fans with peach and ivory silk flowers. The flower girl carried a parasol, with daisies and streamers. The flowers for the wedding party, including the bride's bouquet, were designed and made by Autumn Mellott, sister of the bride.

Serving as best man was Richard Peacock, Bogota, Columbia. Groomsmen were Norman Buchert, Boyertown, Pa., brother of the groom, Alex Mellott, brother of the bride, David Holdridge, Rochester, N.Y., and David Eidle, Boyertown, Pa. Ring bearer was T.J. DeWitt, nephew of the bride.

Michelle Alexander attended the guest book. Jackie Mayle distributed programs. Rice packets were given out by Charlene Sterne and Karen Mayle.

A reception was held at the Deer Park Fire Hall. Introduction of the bridal party and their escorts was given by Dave Russell, Lima, N.Y. A sit-down buffet dinner was organized by Hallie Snyder, assisted by Rick Skeweris. Those helping to serve included Sharon Decker, Cheryl Mellinger, Sylvia Donnley, Bev Hensley, Pat Martin, Diane Knotts, and Sue Smith. The seven-tier cake with bridges and tiered side cakes was decorated with peach roses and featured twin lighted fountains. Cake was served by Cathy Chapman and Hallie Snyder. The punch was served by Kathy Martin, aunt of the bride, and Denise Gastor, Hampstead, cousin of the bride.

The bouquet was caught by Autumn Mellott and the garter was caught by Bradley Geingrich, Reading, Pa.

Dr. Ron Williams videotaped the wedding and Brett Chambers videotaped the reception. Photographer was Thomas Geasey, Thurmont.

The bride is a graduate of Swallow Falls Dunkard Brethren Academy. She attended Oshey School of Music, Muncy, Pa., and Elim Bible Institute, Lima, N.Y.

Mr. Buchert is a graduate of Boyertown Area High School and Elim Bible Institute. He is employed with Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchert are the directors for children's church at Crellin Assembly of God.

The bride was guest of honor at a shower given by Autumn Mellott, a pound shower by Michelle Alexander, appliance shower by Robin North, and a linen shower by Sarah Buchert. A rehearsal dinner at "The Encore" was hosted by the groom's parents.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and South America.

Bowman-Klobucar Engagement Noted

The engagement of Debra L. Bowman and John C. Klobucar, both of Annapolis, has been announced.

Johnson-Martin Vows Exchanged

Jennifer Lynn Johnson and U.S. Navy Ensign Lawrence Dean Martin were united in marriage recently at the United States Naval Academy Chapel in Annapolis, with Chaplain Ollis Jon Mozon Jr. officiating the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Offutt Johnson, Annapolis, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Martin, Glendora, Calif.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attended by maid of honor Cathy Ropp, friend of the bride, bridesmaids Kristin Karwoski and Concessa Freinek, friends of the bride, junior bridesmaid Brooke Lown, cousin of the bride, and flowergirl Tori Lown, cousin of the bride.

Rick Martin, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Troy Martin and Trent Martin, brothers of the groom.

A reception was held at the Ramada Inn.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of St. Mary's High School and a 1990 graduate of Anne Arundel Community College, where she majored in music and early childhood education.

The groom is a 1990 graduate of the United States Naval Academy and a 1990 graduate of the University of Maryland, where he earned a master's degree in aerospace engineering.

After a wedding trip to Maui, Hawaii, the couple established residence in Orlando, Fla.

In Loving Memory Of
My Husband and Our Father
DOYLE MOATS
Who passed away three years ago on January 25, 1988.

God saw you getting tired, so he put his arms around you and whispered come to me.
A golden heart stopped beating, hard-working hands at rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

Sadly Missed By His Wife, Jenny & Children

Thank You

Thanks much for all labor and cash donations for King-Ours Cemetery. We need more fence, shale, and maintenance! Anyone who wishes to donate, call or see Mrs. Orval Dodge on Route 135.

Mid-Winter Bird Count Slated For February 9

A mid-winter bird count is scheduled for Saturday, February 9, according to Fran Pope, project coordinator. The count will last 24 hours, from midnight to midnight, Ms. Pope said.

Persons interested in participating in the count may contact Connie Skipper at 387-5227, or Sheila Hughes at 334-3996. Participants may count anywhere in Garrett County. Ms. Pope stated that many persons enjoy counting at their own bird feeders. Those interested must also tell Ms. Skipper or Ms. Hughes where they will be counting birds.

Participants in the project are needed, Ms. Pope said, and more information may be obtained by called the numbers above.

NATIONAL VOLUNTEER BLOOD DONOR MONTH has been proclaimed nationwide and this week, by the Garrett County Commissioners, it was proclaimed countywide for the month of January. In part, the proclamation by President George Bush read: "National Volunteer Blood Donor Month provides a wonderful opportunity to pay tribute to the eight million Americans who have donated to this crucial supply in the past year and to encourage others to join their ranks... In our neighborhoods, schools, and places of employment across our country, we can all lend a hand in blood drives. This simple act of kindness can help to save a life." In the photo above with Garrett County Commissioners Brenda Butscher, Elwood Groves, and John Braskey are Debbie Frantz, left, and Lucy Burnett, R.N., representing the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross, which conducts local blood drives. The Bloodmobile will be at the National Guard Armory in Oakland this Friday collecting blood from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CHURCH NEWS

The recent intern pastor, Ricky Mason, and Pastor Louise Knotts attended a retreat for interns and pastors at Romney, W.Va., from January 7-9. Further meetings of interns will take place during the month.

The Youth group of the Parish was responsible for 15 fruit baskets which were made and delivered before Christmas. A parish youth will be attending the National Youth Gathering in Dallas in July and the pastor suggested that the churches give monetary help. It was decided that the joint service offering be given for that purpose and that one or two free-will offerings on the third Sunday of the month, if needed, be given to help with the expenses. The Youth group planned to help with his food expense.

Synod Assembly will be held at Davis and Elkins College on May 31, June 1-2. A man and a woman from each congregation are being asked to volunteer to attend. The pastor is to be contacted concerning this.

At a recent joint council meeting, the following officers were elected to serve: Ruth DiPaolo, vice-chairman; Nickey O'Brien, treasurer; and Floyd Baker, secretary.

It was announced that midweek Lenten services will begin February 13 with Ash Wednesday services at Emmanuel and alternating among the three churches.

A report was recently given on the building committee's progress. Final plans will be back by February 1. Financial commitment in the form of pledges will need to be made soon so that bids can be requested in the spring.

Emmanuel's Women of the ELCA reported that items given to Lutheran World Relief were: four school kits, five sewing kits, one layette, four boxes of clothes and 19 comforters.

COUNCIL MEMBERS INSTALLED

All council members were duly installed on Sunday. Emmanuel's are: Leora Yaste, Ruth DiPaolo, William Hady, Don Sealing, William Buckel, Lucinda Stanton, Russell Teets, Phyllis Buckel, and Joseph Buckel. St. John's Council members are: Shirley and Bob Harkins, Carole Peck, Barbara Herbert, Nickey O'Brien and Marvin Beckman. Zion's Council members are: Clara Durst, Lonnie Broadwater, Darrell Stahl, Glenne Burow, Floyd Baker, and Edgar Resh.

ZION'S WOMEN MEET

Zion's Women of the ELCA held their monthly meeting at the church on January 3, with an attendance of five.

Leota Baker led the topic, "Gifted in Stability." The principal endeavors of the program were: to help the women discover how stability played a substantial role in the lives of four black women who became leaders; to remember persons who have been a stabilizing presence in their lives and how they have been able to stabilize their own and others' lives.

Mrs. Ruthella Resh presided over the business meeting. Plans were made for sewing as the first quarterly project.

The Annual Stewardship report was completed and sent to the Women of the ELCA, Chicago, and also to Mildred Marshall of the W.Va.-West. Md. Synodical unit.

Subscriptions were submitted for the magazine, Lutheran Women Today.

A quantity of cancelled postage stamps have been received for the project of the National Lutheran Home.

Announcement was made that used greeting cards may be sent for recycling to St. Jude's Ranch for Children, P.O. Box 985, Boulder City, Colorado, 89005.

Plans were made to attend the tea held at the Bittinger fire hall for Pastor Knotts on her birthday.

A quarterly offering was sent to the American Bible Society for the Bible-A-Month ministry.

The next meeting was tentatively set for Feburary 5.

Missionary To Speak Sunday At Loch Lynn Church

The Reverend Larry Jaffrey, missionary with ABMJ/Chosen People Ministries, will be speaking at the Loch Lynn Evangelical Free Church on the topic of "The Sound of the Trumpet" on January 27 at 7 p.m. The church is located at 107 W. Third Avenue, Loch Lynn.

Jaffrey is the director of the Southern Region of the United States for Chosen People Ministries. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and the Conservative Baptist Theological Seminary in Denver. He also attended the University of Judaism in Los Angeles for one summer term. Prior to his present position, he served as missionary-in-charge of the Philadelphia area office.

Besides conducting Bible studies and services for Jewish people in the Washington, D.C. area, Jaffrey's responsibilities include the coordination of mission activities in the fifteen-state area from Delaware to Texas. He also travels extensively throughout the region speaking in churches and training Christians in how they can share their faith with Jewish people.

"The Sound of the Trumpet" presentation emphasizes that the trumpet is mentioned many times in the scriptures, and explains why the trumpet plays such a prominent role. Understanding the use of the trumpet in the Old Testament will help one better appreciate its mention in the New Testament, according to Rev. Jaffrey.

For additional information, persons may contact Pastor Russell Hamilton at 334-4172.

Northern Middle Students Visited By U.S. Soldier

A U.S. soldier who served with Operation Desert Shield in the Persian Gulf recently paid a visit to students of Northern Middle School while he was on leave from the U.S.S. Reasoner.

OS3 John C. Montgomery, a cousin of Tammy and Melissa Cage, twin sisters in the seventh grade at Northern Middle, had just completed a double tour of duty in the Middle East and was on leave. He was among many U.S. troops who had become pen pals with the students in Doris Cooper's language arts classes.

During his recent leave, he decided to spend a day in Mrs. Cooper's classes to explain his job, the job of the U.S.S. Reasoner, and answer questions about the Middle East. He was also available one class period to speak to several sixth grade classes.

"You'll never know how important your letters are to those in the service," he told the students. "Mail is the high point of the day. Everyone should continue to write as often as possible."

Montgomery promised to return to the Middle School in five months when his four-year term of duty will be complete. He left Monday of this week to return to the U.S.S. Reasoner, now stationed off the coast of California.

Several other soldiers who have become pen pals with the Northern Middle students have stated they intend to visit the school upon their return to the States.

OS3 Montgomery is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, Cumberland.

LOCAL GRAPPLERS CAPTURE TITLE — The Southern Mat Club was one of 15 teams that participated in the Central Preston Mat Club Junior Wrestling Tournament on January 12, and the local grapplers came home from that event with the championship, their first ever as a team in tournament competition. Of the 35 Southern Mat Club members who participated, 28 of them earned trophies. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are: John Hayhurst, Brad Palmer, Jeremy Sweitzer, Shawn Shiflett, Andrew Grant, Nicholas Sines, Geoff Tressler, Caleb Shomo, Nathan Sines, and Christopher Hayhurst. In the second row, same order, are: Adam Park, Tommy Sweitzer, Brandon Ford, Todd Tasker, Rodney Bird, Eric Rexrode, Steven Shiflett, Andrew Rickman, and Paul Tepper. In the third row, same order, are: A.J. Fleming, Noel Smith, Nathan Rickman, Steven Jones, Mike Liller, Shawn Strawser, and Coach Dave Sines.

Southern Mat Club Captures Tourney Title

The Southern Mat Club topped 14 other wrestling clubs to emerge as champions of the Central Preston Mat Club Junior Wrestling Tournament on January 12. Of the 35 local wrestlers who traveled to Kingwood, 28 returned home with trophies.

The Southern Club, with 64 total points, edged out West Fairmont to be named champions. This was the first championship ever for the Southern Mat Club as a team.

Earning first place trophies for the Southern Club were: Brad Palmer, Andrew Grant, Shawn Shiflett, Jeremy Sweitzer, John Hayhurst, Tommy Sweitzer, Paul Tepper, Noel Smith, Nathan Rickman, and Mike Liller. Garnering second place trophies were Nicholas Sines and Steve Jones. Winning third place trophies were Geoff Tressler, Andrew Rickman, Eric Rexrode, Todd Tasker, and Shawn Strawser. Placing fourth in the tournament were Nathan Sines, Chris Hayhurst, Caleb Shomo, Brandon Ford, Rodney Bird, Steve Shiflett, A.J. Fleming, and Adam Park. Receiving participation awards were: Matt Vecchioni, Rusty Strubin, Jeremy Hayhurst, Christopher Matras, Arthur Pysell, John Shelton, Rick Vecchioni, Jeremy Shelton, David Jones, and Jared Fike.

The Sourthern Mat Club dedicated the first place trophy to Tom Peterson, who is currently serving in Saudi Arabia. Peterson was president of the Mat Club last year.

The next tournament for the Southern Club will be the Conemaugh Wrestling Tournament in Pennsylvania.

Over-30 Teams To Begin Play

The Over-30 Basketball Association, sponsored by Rob Michael Insurance, Oakland, will begin competition February 4 at the Southern Middle School, according to Rob Michael, president.

Teams include Shaffer Ford, Garrett Construction, Beachy Lumber Company, Bausch & Lomb, Garrett Mine Service, and Coors. Prior team members should contact their team captains for more information.

Husky Matmen Win In Fairmont For Third Tournament Championship

The Northern High School wrestling team continued its dominance in area competition this past weekend by placing first in the A-AA division of the Fairmont Pepsi Invitational in Fairmont, W.Va.

The Huskies were one of 25 teams in the event and their 127 total points gave them first place in their division and fifth place overall.

This was the third tournament win for Coach Lynn Brenneman's team, which captured first in the University High Tournament in Morgantown and the Garrett County Tourney title held on the Huskies' mats.

Although the Huskies won their division, none of them was able to come home with an individual championship. Placing second in their weight classes were: Allen Bittinger (130), Tim Thomas (135), and Scott Beitzel (heavyweight). Randy Dolan finished fourth in the 152-pound class.

Bittinger lost in the finals of the 130-pound division to undefeated Doug Moore (17-0) of North Marion. Thomas, who also went into the tourney undefeated, was topped by North Marion's Jason Rinehart (15-2) in the 135-pound finals. The losses were the first of the year for Bittinger and Thomas, who are both ranked in the Maryland state ratings.

Also competing in the tourney from this area were Beall and Central Preston. Beall, who won the A-AA title last year, finished with 76 and one-half points to place fourth in their class and 13th overall. Central Preston placed third in the A-AA division.

The overall winner of the tournament was North Marion, with West Fairmont finishing second.

The Huskies will be back in action this evening at home in a 7:30 match against Westmar.

Huskies Continue To Struggle, Fall To Mount Savage And East Preston

The Northern Huskies staged a furious rally in the final quarter of Tuesday night's game against host Mount Savage, but the Indians hung on to record a 49-44 win and drop the Huskies' record to 4-10.

The Huskies were also downed Friday night by East Preston, 68-55.

Northern trailed by seven (14-7) after one quarter, were down 28-17 at halftime, and fell behind by 20 by the end of the third period, 45-25. The Huskies then out-scored the Indians in the final stanza, 19-4, but it was not enough.

Nathan Goebel and Joe Shimko led the Indians' scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively, while Brian Brehm and Goebel each grabbed nine rebounds. Brehm was also credited with seven assists.

None of the Huskies reached double figures. Aaron Morris and Mike Fike led with nine points each.

The win improved the Indians' record to 3-7.

The Northern junior varsity continued its winning ways in the preliminary game by rolling over the Mount Savage jayvees, 44-24. Billy Younkin paced the Huskies with 13 points, Derek Mason finished with 12, and Brian Kamp netted 10. Rodney Stafford led Mount Savage with 11 points.

In Friday's night's game at Terra Alta, Brian Spiker finished with a game-high 28 points to lead the Eagles over the Huskies. Seventeen of his total came from 18 attempts at the free throw line.

The Eagles led 14-10 at the end of the first period and 35-26 at halftime. The Huskies trailed by only five after three periods, but could get no closer. Spiker connected on all 11 of his free throws in the final period to preserve the win.

Dave Hinebaugh paced the Huskies' scoring with 12 points, Jon Houser netted 11, and Mike Fike and Doug Brenneman each contributed 10.

Also reaching double figures for the Eagles were Chad Helmick with 17 points and Rich Kelly with 10.

The Huskies, coached by Dave Bender, will play at Flintstone this Friday in a Mid-Appalachian League encounter.

Lakers Out-Gun Owls From The Floor, But Lose At The Foul Line

The Garrett Community College Lakers dropped a 90-80 decision Saturday night to Prince George's Community College in a match-up that was apparently tainted by questionable officiating.

Although the Lakers outgunned the Owls from the floor by a 38-30 margin, the home team connected on 26 of 29 free throws, while the Lakers were afforded only three shots from the line, of which they made good on two. The loss dropped Garrett to 12-6 overall and 4-1 in the Maryland JUCO standings.

The Lakers were on top by nine, 37-28, at the 2:27 mark of the first half, but the Owls cut their advantage to 41-36 by halftime. Then just two minutes into the second half, Prince George's knotted the score at 45 apiece and then went ahead 50-45 by the 15:30 mark.

The Lakers came back to tie it at 52, but then the Owls went on a 21-8 scoring spurt to lead 73-60. Garrett still wasn't finished and rallied once again to cut the home team's lead to one, 79-78, with 3:33 to go.

Then Morris Mercer, who led the Owls with 26 points, recorded seven straight points to give his team an 86-78 advantage with 1:33 remaining.

Also reaching double figures for the Owls were Jimmy Walker with 13 points, and Price Williams and Scott Stewart with 10 each.

Chuckie Moore paced the Lakers' scoring with 21 points, Derek Young finished with 16, and Bruce Boldley added 13. Moore also grabbed a dozen rebounds, blocked four shots, and had five steals, while Boldley added six assists and seven steals. Young also blocked four shots.

The Lakers will attempt to get back on a winning track this evening when they host Mount Aloysius in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Laker Women Fall To Owls, Top Catamounts

The Garrett Community College women's basketball team split a pair of contests this past week, losing to host Prince George's Community College Saturday afternoon, 55-48, and then coming back Tuesday night to top Potomac State College in Keyser, W.Va., 61-54. The results left the Lakers with a 4-4 record.

Yolanda Lee and Katie Kelley paced the Prince George's Owls in scoring, as they finished with 19 and 18 points, respectively.

The Lakers were down 31-25 at halftime and then falling behind by as many as 13 in the second half.

Marcia DeBerry and Karen Gurrera each netted 15 points for Garrett, while Tracy Henline was close behind with 14 points. All of Gurrera's points came on five three-point buckets and 12 of DeBerry's were from the three-point range. Henline also grabbed 14 rebounds and blocked five shots, while DeBerry was credited with four assists.

Kim Copeland was the Laker standout in Tuesday's game at Potomac State, as she recorded 17 points, 11 rebounds, and five blocked shots. A dozen of her points came in the second half, when the Lakers took the lead for good after trailing by one at intermission, 21-20.

Kim Mackall and DeBerry also finished in double figures for the Lakers with 13 and 11 points, respectively. Henline again led in rebounds with a game-high 15, Gurrera dished out six assists, and DeBerry had five assists.

Leading the Catamounts were Curtissa Kerns and Jody Hockensmith, who sunk 21 and 20 points, respectively.

The Laker women are coached by Dennis Gibson, who is also head coach for the GCC men's team.

Dr. Palmer Wins Wisp Memorial Slalom Trophy

Dr. Jan Palmer, Morgantown, W.Va., was the overall winner of the 1991 Wisp Memorial Slalom, held this past weekend at the Wisp Resort, McHenry.

Palmer, competing in the men's 30-39 division, completed the course in a time of 81.16 seconds. Palmer's name will be engraved on the Wisp Memorial trophy which remains on display at the Wisp Resort.

Others capturing first places in their various age groups were: Mandy Geisler, Kristen Ehringer, Rachel Leverenz, Kristin Heslop, Danielle Heselbach, Geoffrey Ehringer, Dustin Swiger, E.J. Scofield, Matt Sluss, Tim Hare, Sam Ingram, and Jack Alvarez.

The event is held in memory of former racers at the Wisp, including Andre Fortin, Bill Ravenscroft, Preston Savage, and Mike Vitez.

Rice Leads Rams Over Indians, 62-46, To Record 11th Victory

The Southern Rams continued to roll this past week by recording a 62-46 win, their 11th in 13 starts, over visiting Mount Savage Saturday night.

Brett Rice, the area's leading scorer, led the Rams with 26 points on 11 field goals and four of five at the line, while Richard Beckman added 15 points and Jeremy Bosley netted 12.

The Rams led 14-10 by the end of the first period, stretched that advantage to 33-21 by halftime, and led 48-34 after three quarters. They led by as many as 18 points in the third period and Mount Savage chipped away at the margin, but Southern maintained an eight to 10 point lead the rest of the way.

Joe Shimko led the 2-7 Indians with 18 points.

The win was the fourth in a row for the Rams, who will play all but one of their 10 remaining games at home.

The Southern junior varsity was also victorious in the preliminary game, topping the Mount Savage jayvees, 51-38. J.D. Beckman and Mark Elliott each finished with 14 points to lead the Rams.

Coach Tom Bosley's Rams will return to action this Friday night in a big match-up at Frankfort, the area's top-rated team. The Rams will be looking to avenge an earlier loss to the Falcons in Oakland.

Elks Hoop Shoot Winners Named

Three boys and two girls will represent Garrett County in the district finals of the annual Elks Hoop Shoot, slated for February 2 at Saint Maria Goretti High School in Hagerstown. The five earned that opportunity by winning the Garrett County Hoop Shoot, sponsored by the Oakland Elks Club, Saturday afternoon at the Southern High School gym.

Winning the local championship in the the various age groups were the following: Nathaniel Panther, boys, 8-9; Heather Shahan, girls, 10-11; Chad Warnick, boys, 10-11; Carrie Uphole, girls, 12-13; and Matthew Sincell, boys, 12-13.

The participants were judged on the number of foul shots they made on 25 attempts. Each champion and runner-up was presented a plaque, while all participants received certificates.

Runners-up were: Josh Bosley, boys, 8-9; Matthew Cook, boys, 10-11; Jessica Getson, girls, 10-11; Laurie Newcomb, girls, 12-13; and Scott Shahan, boys, 12-13.

Registration at the district event on Feb. 2 will begin at 9:30, with competition slated to begin at 10 a.m. The Garrett County champions will compete against those from Frederick, Westminster, Hagerstown, Cumberland, and Frostburg. Winners continue to compete at a total of five levels, culminating in the national finals.

The Elks' Hoop Shoot, which was begun as a local program by an Oregon Elks club in 1946, is in its 19th year of national competition. It is anticipated that over three million boys and girls will participate in the program this year.

Ram Grapplers Edged By Falcons, Get By Eagles

The Southern High wrestling team was nipped by Frankfort, 36-34, but then edged East Preston, 34-30, in a tri-meet Friday night on the Falcons' mats.

Against Frankfort, Southern's Jason Burgess, Gary Sweitzer, Mike DeWitt, and Ed Philyaw all earned pins in their respective weight classes, while Pete Strawser recorded a decision win.

Earning pins for Frankfort were Ed Roby and Shane Fridley.

Against East Preston, DeWitt, Sonny Livengood, and Philyaw earned pins, while Sweitzer, Strawser, and Shane Skipper won on points.

Frankfort also defeated the Eagles, 39-29.

The Rams, coached by Terry Kendall, will host Allegany and Clay-Batelle in a 7:30 p.m. tri-match this evening at Southern Middle School. Then on Saturday they will host the Potomac Valley Conference Tournament at the Southern High School gym.

The PVC tourney will be a round-robin dual meet event and competition will get underway at 11 a.m. The schedule is as follows: 11 a.m., Berkeley Springs vs. Frankfort and Keyser vs. Petersburg; 12:15 p.m., Frankfort vs. Keyser and Petersburg vs. Southern; 1:30 p.m., Berkeley Springs vs. Southern and Frankfort vs. Petersburg; 4 p.m., Berkeley Springs vs. Petersburg and Keyser vs. Southern; and 5:15 p.m., Berkeley Springs vs. Keyser and Frankfort vs. Southern.

Zumpano League Begins Regular Season At NHS

The Zumpano Memorial Basektball League opened its regular season Saturday at Northern High School with a double-header.

The ZML is a boys' league for 7th and 8th graders in Northern Garrett County. Fundamentals of individual and team play are taught in twice-a-week practices and each team plays two games a week through the end of February.

"Our goal is to get a larger group of young people participating than in our old Tri-County set up," stated ZML Director Dave Bender. "Despite last year's success, the lengthy season and travel problems made unfair demands on our young student athletes and their families. I'm excited about the competitiveness the boys have displayed so far and the fact that we now have 25 young people all playing rather than eight or nine."

The League is named in memory of the late Aaron Zumpano, a basketball and baseball star at Northern High School who lost his life in an automobile accident in December 1988. The proceeds from the 1989 Western Maryland All-Star Basketball Classic, played in Zumpano's memory, were donated to the Zumpano Memorial Fund and were then made available to the League by the Zumpano family — Patsy, Gene, and Steve Zumpano — to help finance the first year of operation.

GCC Board

Herman began his report by presenting a GCC jacket to Richard "Dick" Peake, board member who recently resigned because he is leaving the area.

"Dick's contributions to GCC are highly regarded by us all," said Dr. Herman. "We applaud his loyalty and wisdom during sometime stormy periods."

Peake responded, "I'm sorry I won't be around to see what happens, but I'll be watching from afar and I have great expectations for Garrett Community College. It has been a privilege to serve on this board"

Dr. Herman also reported on the Interim Strategic Plan, the Characteristics of Excellence, the Organization and Salary Committee, and the Academic Council on Excellence.

He commended the various committees and said the college community was in the process of reviewing the reports.

ACADEMIC REPORT

Dean of Academic Affairs Dr. Lillian Mitchell reported a successful intersession. Comparitively, there were 86 students enrolled for this intersession and 69 enrolled in the last intersession. That resulted in a two-point increase in FTEs (full-time equivalency points).

Figures, thus far, for the spring semester show 496 students enrolled, compared to 488 students enrolled last spring. That equates to over a five-point increase in FTEs.

Dr. Mitchell noted that 22 sections were already filled for the spring semester. She also announced that two on-site college courses will be offered at Southern High School. This allows seniors and eligible juniors to earn college credits while still in high school, said Mitchell.

Dean Mitchell informed the board that a provisional faculty appointment had been made for the vacant assistant professor of business.

Pramod Kapoor will begin his duties at GCC effective July of this year. He received his bachelor of science degree in accounting and earned his master's degree at the University of Minnesota. Most recently he taught at Graceland College in Iowa and has vast experience in program development.

The board approved Kapoor's appointment.

Financial Report

Comptroller John Culp reported even spending and predicted modest expenditures over the next few months.

Bender complimented the financial department of the college. "In all my years as a board member, this is the first one where we haven't had a minus cash balance."

Board member Marjorie Fratz added, "I feel I am able to trust the figures and I commend the financial department as well."

Culp said his cooperative staff made his job "much easier."

FEE REJECTED

Also last week, the GCC board took action on the state's suggestion to institute a fee for senior citizens enrolled in non-credit courses.

While the board appreciated that many colleges across the state were in financial straits and needed to institute the fee, they felt such a fee was not necessary at GCC at the present time.

Dr. Herman stated, "We serve a community of senior citizens and a fee may prevent some of them from availing themselves to what we have to offer. I am asking the board not to impose such a fee."

The board took Dr. Herman's statement to heart and rejected a fee at this time.

BAND STUDENTS PROMOTING COUNTY — Southern and Northern high school band students have joined together in a project to promote their county and, hopefully, to raise funds to support their programs. The members of the bands are now selling a new pictorial book entitled "Celebrate the Majesty of Garrett County." The campaign will continue through February 17. A regular edition of the book sells for $29.95 and deluxe editions are $39.95 each. Band members who sell the most books will receive cash bonuses and gift certificates. Pictured above are the officers and director of the Southern High Band. From left are Kim Wampler, drum major; Jason Barr, treasurer; Richard Clever, director; Ashley Smith, president; and Alayna Beahm, secretary. Not present for the photo was Janice Cassidy, vice president. Below, representing the Northern High School Band, are Mrs. Jerry Teats, president of the Northern Band Boosters, left; James Board, director; and Mildred Wucik, school principal.

located in College Park.

The new facility is expected to employ approximately 20 persons initially, and eventually about 35 persons. The livestock used by the facility will come from local sources, "thus the facility will be a direct stimulant to our farm economy," according to Commissioner Groves.

A variety of meat products will be manufactured at the facility, which is expected to be operational by mid-summer.

Airport Expansion Plan

Plans were also announced for the first phase of the Garrett County Airport expansion, a multi-million dollar project to be implemented in three phases over a three-year period.

The project will provide for a 500-foot runway extension, 300-foot runway safety areas beyond each end of the runway, rehabilitation of the existing runway, a new apron area with connecting taxiway more central to the runway, and a new MIRL system to replace the inadequate LIRL system.

According to Commissioner Braskey, "The existing 2,500-foot runway is inadequate to safely accommodate the aircraft that are currently using the airport. Consequently, some aircraft must operate without full fuel or passenger loads, or must divert to alternate airports." He also noted that the aircraft must sometimes operate under marginal safety conditions.

Braskey stated that the improvements would considerably enhance the safety of aircraft operations. "Aircraft will be able to operate more efficiently, and a greater number of aircraft, with larger propeller and turbo propellers, will also be attracted to this rapidly developing resort area," said Braskey.

He added that the improved facility will also attract new industry, as well as complement existing industries in the county.

Recycling

present six dumpster sites located throughout the county.

"It is an existing collection system that is easily adapted to that purpose," he said. He also noted that it has been observed at the dump sites that people have taken their recyclable materials to the dump site and placing them in the trash bins there because they do not know what else to do with them.

Regarding the eventual storage of the items, Yoder stated that the committee has suggested the commissioners consider a holding facility being placed at the new landfill. He noted that if the existing contract for the new landfill were adapted for that purpose, it would also represent a monetary savings for the county.

Yoder concluded his presentation by stating that the market for recyclables is currently expanding to meet the demands of the public, whose awareness, he said, is also growing "by leaps and bounds."

"The schools are way ahead of us, and various businesses and associations around the county have been expressing more and more interest," he said.

Commissioner Groves responded to the committee's report by stating, "We're very excited about the recycling program as it has been developed. Many people have expressed interest and support for the program and are looking forward to seeing the commissioners develop a county-wide effort that will not only be environmentally sound but will be something that will benefit the county in the long run with regards to our landfill."

Groves asserted that the start of the program using the dumpster sites "will not be the extent of the effort in the future."

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Airman Brock H. Yommer has graduated from U.S. Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Yommer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Yommer, Route 1, Grantsville. The airman is a 1990 graduate of Northern High School.

Among the U.S. troops stationed with Operation Desert Storm in the Persian Gulf is SPC Wahneta Rohde, U.S. Army, a former resident of Garrett County.

SPC Rohde, who attended Southern High School, is the daughter of Judy Rohde, of Ohio. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Casteel, Oakland.

Her address is: 590th Trans. Co., Operation Desert Storm, A.P.O. New York, N.Y. 09750.

Airman David M. Lipscomb II has graduated from U.S. Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Lipscomb is the son of David M. and Carolyn L. Lipscomb, Route 5, Oakland. The airman is a 1990 graduate of Southern High School.

U.S. Army Pvt. 2 Martin Scott Finch was deployed in December from Stuttgart, Germany, for Operation Desert Storm.

Upon completion of basic training at Fort Dix, N.J., he was transferred to Fort Jackson, S.C., for advance training, then transferred to Germany.

He is the son of Kathy Meyers Helbig and Robert Finch, both of Oakland. He is a 1989 graduate of Southern High School.

church bulletins, and other written materials.

Items that cannot not be sent are alcoholic beverages, pork and pork products, pornography, weapons, or narcotics.

Persons may bring their packages to the rental center, and the boxes will be sent on from there.

The recruitment office spokesperson also said that letters are highly appreciated by all soldiers. Valentine's Day cards, humorous cards, or simply letters of support would be a boost for any soldier serving in the war.

Walt Renner is the owner of the Family Rental Center.

Operation Desert Storm Bracelets

An national organization named "Voices for Freedom" is offering an opportunity for persons to obtain an "Operation Desert Storm" bracelet, similar to the bracelets made to support previous prisoners of war.

The money collected from the sale of the bracelets, which are priced at $9.95 each, will go to a fund set up to supply an 800 number for soldiers to use. The line has been arranged because of the lack of adequate phone services between the service personnel and their families. By using the phone line, soldiers may leave messages, in their own voices, to their families here in the United States.

Persons may purchase the bracelets by calling 1-800-284-4USA, or by writing to: Voices for Freedom, P.O. Box 77037, Washington, D.C., 20013.

Drug Charges

the charge of violation of probation, according to the police record.

A DWI charge was given to Steven H. Kitzmiller, 30, Oakland, on Jan. 19. Dep. Murphy made the arrest at 2:30 a.m. on Rt. 135 in Deer Park. Kitzmiller was released after signing the citation.

A warrant was issued for Kenneth Thompson, 53, Delaware, Ohio, for the charge of violation of probation. The warrant was reportedly served to Thompson on Jan. 19.

Calvin C. Love Jr., 27, Swanton, was served a bench warrant for failure to appear in Garrett County District Court. Love was served an additional bench warrant for failure to pay a $680 fine.

The defendant received the bench warrants on Jan. 18.

BEST MESS IN MARYLAND — Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion (CBT), Maryland Army National Guard, of Oakland, recently received the Philip A. Connelly Award for excellence in Army Food Service and being named "best field mess" in the State of Maryland. Pictured left are Specialist William J. Rishell, 2nd Lt. Greise, Sgt. Roscoe W. Bray, SFC Lawrence E. Dawson, Specialist Oliver L. Guthrie, SSG Joe Mechem, and Sgt. Allen Winebrenner. Other members not present for the photo were Sgt. Bill Winebrenner and Specialist Rodney Fultz.

A destruction of property and theft incident was reported to the Sheriff's Office by Jeffrey L. Simpson, Oakland. Simpson told police that the passenger side vent window of his 1990 Ford truck was shattered and his radar detector was stolen on Jan. 20.

The incident apparently occurred while Simpson was at a movie at the Mid-Towns Cinemas, having left his vehicle parked in the mall lot.

The damage done to the truck will cost $100 to repair, and the worth of the radar detector was estimated at $220. Dep. R. Sines investigated the crime at the scene, and reported that the culprit apparently shattered the window with a spring-loaded punch.

There are no suspects in the crime. An investigation is continuing.

Pedestrian Dies

Jones was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a Newman Funeral Home ambulance, according to police reports.

Born August 18, 1971, in Morgantown, Jones was the son of Kenneth Ray and Donna (Feather) Jones, Bruceton Mills.

He was a 1989 graduate of Bruceton Mills High School.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a sister, Stephanie Jones, Bruceton Mills; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Jones Sr., Bruceton Mills; and maternal grandmother, Ellen Feather, Bruceton Mills.

Friends were received at the Carl R. Spear Funeral Home, Brandonville, W.Va., where a service was conducted Sunday at 1:30 p.m. with the Rev. Charles Berkshire officiating. Interment was in Webbs Chapel Cemetery, Hazelton, W.Va.

IS3 JOSEPH P. EVANS has been a participant in "Operation Desert Shield" (now "Operation Desert Storm") in the Persian Gulf since August. He is aboard the USS John F. Kennedy, an aircraft carrier. A 1987 graduate of Southern High School, Evans completed his basic training at Orlando, Fla. He was promoted to Intelligence Specialist, Class A, in 1988, and graduated from Imagery Interpretation in 1989.

OPERATION DESERT STORM

MAIL CALL

As American forces continue their assignment in "Operation Desert Storm" in the Middle East, mail becomes even more important as a morale builder and an expression of public support of their service.

The Republican proudly lists the names and addresses of those local service personnel who are now stationed there, either in Saudi Arabia or other Middle East nations. We hope local residents will take a few moments to drop a line to these young men and women. It is not necessary to be personally acquainted with these local soldiers or with anyone else in the armed services to send him or her a letter. Expressions of upbeat support, humor, and words of good cheer will mean a lot.

Letters to anyone in the Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps, land-based in Saudi Arabia, may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Storm
APO New York 09848-0006

Letters to anyone in the Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps at sea may be addressed as follows:

Any Service Member
Operation Desert Storm
FPO New York 09866-0006

We will publish this list periodically over the next several weeks. Names and addresses of other local service personnel not listed here are welcome and will be added for future publication.

AURORA-EGLON

HOMEMAKERS MEET

"Health and Exercise" was the discussion subject led by Dean Sisler at the January 15 meeting of the Aurora Extension Homemakers. Compared were the causes of death in 1900 and 1988, also those leading causes in West Virginia as compared with the National ones. The four factors affecting the change are unhealthy life styles, inadequate health care, environmental influence and biological/genetic factors.

Opening devotions were provided by Wilda Wilt who used "Trust" as her theme.

The group contributed six grocery bags of food for the Food for Preston program. The total contributions were distributed to 480 plus families in the county. They also shopped for gifts for five names from the Homemakers' Tree.

Discussion was held as to whether the club would be interested in participating in a Tannenbaum Festival next year, but no decision was made. Women's Day at the Legislature will be held February 13; it was reported that an interesting program is planned. Sites for the Preston County Driving Tour were prepared by Mary Jane Hanline. Ernestine Sisler will compose devotions to be submitted for an all-county book. Opal Myers will prepare a list of recycling sites. It was suggested that the club plant a tree on Arbor Day. On January 25, a training lesson will be held for February, March, April and May lesson leaders.

PERSONAL MENTION

Elaine Wotring returned last week to her Aurora home from a three-week visit in Fayetteville with her daughter, Joyce, and Page Ledford and family.

Louessa Harsh of Parsons is visiting in Eglon with her sister-in-law, Lectie Bonner, and Mrs. Bonner's brother, Willie Pennington.

Daniel Moats has returned to West Virginia Institute of Technology at Montgomery where he is a sophomore majoring in mechanical engineering. He had spent the holiday vacation at Brookside with his parents, Milford and Mary Moats.

Martha Bolyard returned to Aurora last Friday after a lengthy visit in Kingsport, Tenn., with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolyard. While there, her brother underwent surgery.

Charles Teets of Eglon was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Wednesday evening where he was admitted for tests. He remains a patient there this week.

Mrs. Lester (Dorothy) Knotts of Lantz Ridge was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Noah Waybright returned last week to his home near Brookside to recuperate from surgery at Garrett County Memorial.

Tamara Fauber of Aurora traveled Saturday to Kentucky where she visited her husband, Albert "Buddy" Fauber, and they arranged for transport of their trailer to his next assignment in Georgia. She returned from Hopkinsville later in the week.

Alan and Mary Teets of Springfield, Va., were weekend visitors in Aurora with their parents, Homer and Marguerite Myers and Ross and Naomi Teets.

Frank and Wilda Blamble and son, Charles, visited during the Christmas holidays in Ohio with their children. They returned to Stemple Ridge but went to Ohio, January 5 and 6 for their daughter's graduation from Akron University. A pinning ceremony was held January 5 with graduation ceremonies on January 6. Doris Watkins received a B.S. degree in nursing, graduating cum laude.

While there they also visited with their other children, Gary, Sherry, Erica, Emily and Elisha Blamble; Brenda, Jeff and Ryan Thayer. Their daughter and husband, Doris and David Watkins, returned with them to Stemple Ridge and visited January 7-11.

Visiting Saturday with Bruce, Mary, Shawn and Craig Rembold at Eglon were his parents, J. Robert and Eileen Rembold, of Pittsburgh. They all visited also with Mr. and Mrs. George Roth and Mr. and Mrs. David Teets at Horse Shoe Run.

Other Saturday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Roth were Mrs. Roth's brother and sister-in-law, Grover and Nada Evans of Elkins, their daughter, Nancy Blamble, and her children of Red House.

PTO NEEDS HELP

Aurora School is participating in the Jif Children's Education Fund again this year and is asking the public to help in collecting cash register receipts from the grocery store after purchasing a Jif peanut butter product or Duncan Hines baking mix or frosting. The encircled item and cost are required. The campaign begins January 15 and continues through May 15. Persons should circle the items designated and send their receipts to the school by May 15. The school will realize a return of 25 cents for each item purchased and the funds may be used as needed.

DEER HUNTERS' DINNER

There were about 40 present for the annual deer hunters' dinner held Sunday at Maple Spring Church. Venison was prepared in at least five different ways and accompanied by other good foods of many kinds. Coming from a distance were John Harsh of Bridgewater, Va., and Gay and Ruby Rembold of Cumberland.

MOUNTAINEERS MEET

President Mark Utterback called to order the January 14 meeting of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club with opening devotions being presented by the Music Committee: Becky Snyder, Regina Shaffer and Michelle Shaffer. Sarah Snyder led the pledges. Reports on recent activities were made by Elizabeth Wotring, Mark Utterback, and Rebecca Wotring.

Because of an emergency, Carolyn Wotring was called to present an item at the Board of Education meeting and was unable to be present for the program on "Story Telling."

Announcements made: the Photo and Poster contest is February 15 which several members plan to enter; Dance Camp is February 15-17, Craft Weekend March 1-3 and Teen Leaders' Weekend March 8-10, all at Jackson's Mill. Donations were made both to the Preston County 4-H Foundation and to the IFYE program.

Amanda Teets had two talks, one on "Rabbit Care" and another on "Types of Rabbits." Rhett Beckman demonstrated "Do You Like to Take Pictures?" "Principal Operations of a Two-cycle Engine" was a talk by Matt Utterback. Rebecca Wotring told about "Reading to Children." "This is 4-H" was Grant Harsh's talk and Sarah Snyder demonstrated "The Proper Way to Say the 4-H Pledge." "How a Color Talks for You" was Becky Snyder's presentation and Mark Utterback concluded with a talk, "The People Who Make 4-H Tick."

Singing and games were followed by refreshments provided by the Wotring and Beckman families.

The next meeting will be held February 11 at the Eglon Memorial Building with Regina Shaffer, Beth and Melissa Evans as hosts. Talks and demonstrations are planned and the teen leaders will be in charge of devotions.
